How Batista Lived Last Hours

By GEORGE SOUTHWORTH
Herald Latin America Editor

HAVANA — He had been the master of millions. Now only a handful of servants stared at him in curious pity mixed with fear.

They awaited a decision only he could make.

The time: The eleventh hour of the last day. The last day of 1958. The last day of a dictatorship.

The place: The living room of a stronghold home protected by the towering walls of his country's biggest war camp.

The man: Fulgencio Batista.

The decision: To flee or die.

Those last, fateful hours Batista spent in Cuba were recalled Monday by one of the ex-strongman's servants.

Only hours before on that night of Dec. 31, Batista and his family had abandoned the vulnerable Presidential Palace to seek security in the shadows of his Camp Columbia fortress.

As always, a staff of 15 servants stood by to tend the strongman's whims.

Among them was Robert Diaz, a civilian servant, who is still in service at the captured army quarters.

"There was Batista, his wife, his son Jorge, 15, and his daughter, Marta, about two.

"Some top government and military officials were present. Batista gave some last-minute instructions, then stood by himself in the living room.

"Batista was calm and quiet. His wife and son seemed excited."

"Later, Batista shook hands with each of the servants. He was obviously moved. It was a sad moment," Diaz said.

It was the final moment.

Batista reluctantly made his decision. He had lost his power, but he still had wealth — and life.

Quickly, he summoned his family.

As the party filed out of the house and into the dead of night, a waiting line of limousines drove them to Havana Airport.

Two days later, long-haired and bearded rebel mountain fighters were using the barber chairs in the house where Cuba's fallen Samson had been shorn of his most prized possession — power.

Will Stay Separate Paper

Chicago News Sold to Field by John S. Knight

Control of The Chicago Daily News was sold Monday to Field Enterprises Inc., owners of The Chicago Sun-Times.

This was announced jointly by John S. Knight, editor and publisher of The Daily News since 1944, and by Marshall Field Jr., editor and publisher of The Sun-Times.

Sale of the majority interest in Daily News stock, at $50 a share, has been completed.

Total shares outstanding are 481,293, with more than 75 per cent held by Knight Newspapers, members of the Knight family and executives and employes of the Knight Newspapers. Field said the same offer of $50 a share is being made to the minority stockholders.

Field, who at 42 becomes the sixth publisher of The Chicago Daily News since it was founded 83 years ago, said it will be continued as "a seperate and independent newspaper."

He said there are no plans for changes in personnel, that the executive staff is being asked to continue in charge of The News, and that "for the forseeable future we shall go on producing each paper as at present."

Knight, who bought control of The Chicago Daily News Oct. 18, 1944, for $2,151,537 cash, said his reasons for selling the paper "at the time of its greatest progress are entirely personal. They arise from a desire to curtail my administrative responsibilites after nearly 40 years in journalism." Knight will be 65 next Oct. 26.

"In no sense," he said, "does the sale of The Daily News mean that I am retiring from journalism.

"Knight Newspapers—owners of The Akron Beacon Journal, The Detroit Free Press, The Miami Herald, The Charlotte Observer, a newsprint mill, a newspaper supply company, TV and radio interests and two Florida weeklies—will continue to expand in areas where the demands upon my personal supervision will not be as insistent."

He said that at Field's request he has agreed to assist The Daily News in an advisory capacity during a period of transition, and that his "Editor's Notebook" will continue to appear in The News as a Saturday column.

Field paid tribute to Knight as "one of the greatest publishers of America" and said, "I feel fortunate to have his assistance during this period of transition." He added:

"The Daily News under the outstanding leadership of John S. Knight since 1944 has reached new heights in circulation, advertising and distinction.

"When he bought control of The Chicago Daily News, it was said that Mr. Knight had 'purchased an opportunity.' He has made the most of the opportunity. In the past 15 years, he has enhanced that paper's traditional greatness and prestige, increased its influence and strengthened its financial structure immeasureably.

"He has earned a reputation as one of America's great editors and most articulate exponents of a responsible free press. As an active leader in the civic life of this community, he has made an invaluable contribution to the progress of Chicago."

Knight said he made his announcement "with mixed emotions: A sense of sorrow in relinquishing control of a great and successful newspaper; a comforting knowledge that Marshall Field Jr. will maintain the editorial independence and enterprise which have made The Daily News a shining example of the best in American journalism."

He said other offers had been made for The Daily News but that he considered none of them except Field's.

He said he is convinced Field will conduct the paper with "intelligence, responsibility and courage," and said he has been assured that The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service will be maintained and expanded.

He recalled that when he took over The Chicago Daily News it was "burdened with debt and suffering from a sense

Hialeah's Founder Dies at 93

By EVELYN DeTARDO
Herald Staff Writer

James H. Bright, developer of Hialeah, founder of Hialeah Race Track and pioneer Florida cattle and dairy man, died Monday of pneumonia. He was 93.

Mr. Bright, of 45 Olive Dr., Hialeah, led a campaign to get Hialeah its first school; was first president of the Hialeah-Miami Springs bank, and is credited with helping make Florida a top cattle producing state.

He brought the first Brahman and Holstein cattle to the state, then imported South American sod to give his purebred herds prime forage.

Frostbite Reigns in Northeast

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — A sub-zero cold wave, so bitter it knocked out public utilities for whole cities and sparked murderous home fires, numbed most of the nation Monday.

The arctic air mass was breaking up in the southwest and relented a little on the Middle West. But the East was still to feel its full power.

Record lows of 10 to 20 degrees below zero were in store for Pittsburgh, 53-mile-an-hour winds raked Washington, D.C., and four to six-foot snow drifts blocked highways in western New York and northern Pennsylvania. In upstate New York and Maine, weathermen predicted temperatures 20 to 30 degrees below zero.

Another vicious storm howled out of the Pacific and into the Rockies. Winds clocked up to 100 miles per hour, smashed small boats and piers in the San Francisco bay area, while snow blocked U.S. 99 at Redding, Calif., and piled up 14 inches deep at Craer Lake, Ore.

The three day cold wave, which held many Midwest temperatures to zero or below for more than 24 hours, was blamed for at least 29 deaths attributed to exhaustion, freezing, weather-caused traffic accidents and cold-sparked fires.

Meanwhile Rebel Leader Fidel Castro, marching triumphantly toward Havana, promised there would be "no more censorship like that imposed by tyranny."

One of Urrutia's first acts was to order suspension of martial law an hour before it was to have gone into effect in Havana. He then began forming a cabinet.

Urrutia, who flew here from Santiago hours before his presence was officially announced, promised in a statement that his regime would be "honest and democratic" under the principles of Cuban Liberator Jose Marti.

Within an hour after Urrutia moved into the offices of ousted Dictator Fulgencio Batista, members of the diplomatic corps — including U.S. Ambassador Earl E. T. Smith — began arriving to pay their respects to the quiet-spoken former exiled judge.

Mexico, Ecuador and Bolivia have already recognized Urrutia's government.

Urrutia ordered martial law suspended at 8 p.m. It was to have gone into effect at 9 p.m.

The provisional president told The Herald he is especially grateful to the people of Miami and South Florida for their "assistance" in bringing about a "free Cuba."

He did not elaborate, but presumably referred to exiled Cubans and other revolutionary sympathizers who helped get arms to the rebels.

Stock Market Weathers Profit Taking, Closes High

NEW YORK — (AP) — The stock market weathered profit-taking and ended at a new record high for the sixth straight trading session Monday.

Rails, coppers and chemicals led the upturn, which ran from a few cents to $1 or more in leading issues. American Telephone and Telegraph was outstanding with a $3 gain, closing at $228.50.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks closed at $216.90, up $1.10. Based on this average the gain added an estimated $1,400,000,000 to the quoted value of all stocks listed on the New York stock exchange.

After showing strength early, the market slipped back in the afternoon. Demand renewed itself at the close, when the ticker lagged behind floor transactions. It was late five other times during the day. (Details on financial pages 6-11B).

'Small World' Falls Short

Balloonists Found Alive

Arrive At Goal In a Boat

BRIDGETOWN, Barbados—(AP)—Three men and a woman who set out on a transatlantic balloon trip reached their goal Monday — as shipwrecked mariners. A fisherman rescued them from the Atlantic.

Capt. Costa Brathwaite, 62, and his 32-year-old son found the four Britons adrift and weary in the 15½-foot gondola-lifeboat of the balloon Small World. He brought them to the comforts of a Barbadian hotel.

That meant fresh fruit, baths and solid footing for Mrs. Rosemary Mudie, 30, and her three companions after 24 days of austerity and tossing by wind and wave.

Mrs. Mudie promptly shampooed her hair.

"Can anyone lend me some hair clips?" she asked.

The balloonists set out from the Canary Islands Dec. 12. They charted a 3,000-mile course to this island in the British West Indies. Radio signals from them were heard for several days, then no definite reports for 19 days.

The Britons said they had cut the balloon from the gondola. They declined to say how long ago they cut the balloon loose, or how long they had been afloat.

"Sorry, chaps, the story has been sold," was the explanation.

The London Daily Mail sponsored the expedition, intended to make a scientific survey of Atlantic trade winds, and Daily Mail Reporter Arthur Cook was here to sew up their account.

Aside from Mrs. Mudie, the co-pilot and cook, the rescued group was made up of her husband, navigator Colin Mudie, 32; the expedition's pilot-captain, Arnold Eiolart, 51 and Eilart's 21-year-old son, Timothy, radioman.

The Brathwaites were fishing four hours offshore when they sighted the gondola.

Last of Struck Airlines

American Nearing Peace with Pilots

WASHINGTON — (AP) — American Airlines and its striking pilots neared an agreement Monday to end a 17-day walkout.

Leverett Edwards, chairman of the National Mediation Board, said tentative agreement had been worked out on most major issues. He said the company and the Air Line Pilots Association were working on final details.

Edwards said a hitch could develop "but I'm a persistent optimist."

"We've got agreement on a whole lot of things," Edwards told newsmen. He indicated this included major wage issues.

End of the American strike would wind up a series of lengthy walkouts that have plagued the airline industry for the last several months.

American furloughed about 20,000 of its 22,000 employes Monday. They previously had been carried on the pay roll despite the strike.

A group of 16 furloughed office employes later picketed the building where the negotiations were being conducted. They carried signs saying, among other things, "My Christmas Bills Are Not Paid—Pilots Go Back to Work."

About 1,500 pilots are striking for more wages and fewer work hours on new jet airliners that American plans to put into service soon. It was reported American plans four-man jet crews consisting of three pilots and a flight engineer.

'We Had a Useful Exchange,' Says Russia's Mikoyan
. . . met with Secretary of State Dulles for 95 minutes

No. 2 Red Will See Ike Next

Prelude to Nikita? 12A

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The Kremlin's second in command predicted after a 95-minute meeting with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles Monday that "there will be peace."

Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan said after the parley that he and Dulles discussed the Berlin crisis, Germany, disarmament and trade.

Mikoyan also disclosed that he would confer with President Eisenhower after he returns here from a swing around the country Jan. 19 or 20. The State Department confirmed that the meeting would take place.

The State Department said Mikoyan "brought an oral message of greeting" to Dulles from Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev. Mikoyan is second only to Khrushchev in the Soviet leadership.

Mikoyan told reporters after leaving Dulles' State Department office that "I think it was a useful talk."

Later, speaking before television cameras, he said he believes discussions with Dulles and other American officials should improve prospects for peace and easing of cold war tensions.

"We'll see how it turns out," he said. Then he said through his translator, "there will be peace."

Mikoyan said he and Dulles "discussed in general terms in a preliminary manner areas of common interest."

"We intend to meet again when I return from my trip around the country," Mikoyan said. He planned to leave late today or Wednesday.

Mikoyan declined to express his views on the Berlin crisis. The U. S., Britain and France have rejected Soviet demands that they withdraw their troops and allow West Berlin to become a "free city."

Mikoyan, asked whether he made any suggestions to Dulles on this issue, replied that "I think I have said enough."

Meanwhile, Millionaire Cyrus Eaton, chairman of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, disclosed in Cleveland that Mikoyan had accepted his invitation to visit the city Wednesday.

Eaton, a sharp critic of U.S. foreign policy, said he does not know how long Mikoyan will stay or what he wants to see. Eaton recently was the guest of Khrushchev on a visit to Moscow.

The conference with Dulles took place despite the fact that the secretary was suffering from a virus infection. Dulles was forced to cancel a trip to Ottawa Monday and left for home immediately after the meeting.

Mikoyan and his aides left the State Department through a cordon of police and state department security officers who were brought into the lobby to hold back a crowd of 300 to 400 persons.

GOP Bloc Aims Guns At Martin

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Insurgent Republican congressmen mounted an apparently powerful drive Monday to end the 20-year reign of House GOP Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr.

Martin, obviously surprised by the size of the revolt, quickly offered a compromise in an effort to stem the tide. But it was turned down by rebel House members who said they had the votes to beat him at the GOP organizational meeting today.

The insurgents picked Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana to oppose Martin. Halleck, after a day of hurried meetings on both sides, formally announced his candidacy.

The anti-Martin surge began earlier at a secret meeting of about 35 GOP congressmen in a hotel. Forces opposing the veteran House leader agreed to unite behind Halleck.

When this development became known, Martin offered to step down from his secondary post as head of the GOP Policy Committee in favor of a member of the rebel group.

Martin also offered to create a new post of assistant leader which the insurgent group would be permitted to fill.

But the rebels stood firm behind Halleck. Halleck issued his statement only after rebels took a careful nose count and decided they had enough votes to put him across.

Rep. William H. Ayres of Ohio, who helped organize the anti-Martin drive, said that "after losing three consecutive congresses a number of members feel it is time to try a new approach."

When he came to Miami in 1909, he bought 17,000 acres of what is now Hialeah, and part of Opa-locka.

The first Brahman cattle in South Florida were brought here by Mr. Bright in 1911. Because grazing was poor, he also introduced para grass for his cattle, then brought a herd of Holstein cattle from Missouri to start the first dairy farm for the 7,000 residents then living here.

Business prospered, so Mr. Bright brought meat producing Herefords to the area.

While riding out to his ranch, his horse struck marl which Mr. Bright knew would be ideal for a race track. He kept the idea in the back of his mind, and campaigned for the track.

Mr. Bright donated 160 acres, now worth well over a million dollars, for the project. He accepted a $10 payment, "to make it legal."

He later founded the Florida Breeders Assn., and was associated with Glenn H. Curtiss, aviation pioneer, who later founded Miami Springs.

Mr. Bright, who was on the Hialeah Track board of directors, is said to have never missed a Hialeah opening. He believed that the track should be run on a high plane, and should prove second only to Miami sunshine as a tourist lure.

When Hialeah was incorporated in 1925, he selected the first mayor and councilmen. From 1925-29 he served as first president of the Hialeah-Miami Springs bank.

He interested Joseph Widener in digging lakes and putting flamingos in the oval at the center of the track.

Mr. Bright was a member of the Mahi Shrine, the Oleta Masonic Lodge in Hialeah, the Flat Tires and the Jesters. He was a former member of the Centry Club of Coral Gables, the Committee of 100, and was former chairman of The Florida State Livestock Board.

Surviving are his wife, Lulu Tinsley Bright; a daughter, Mrs. John H. Cheatham, Coral Gables, and two grandsons.

Services will be at 4 p.m. Wednesday at Philbrick's Hialeah-Miami Springs Funeral chapel, with burial in Louisiana, Mo.

Speed Causeway, Speaker Urges

Plans for a Miami Beach-Key Largo Causeway must be speeded up before costs go sky high, Frank Smathers, president of the Miami Beach Taxpayers' Association, said Monday.

Speaking at a Delano Hotel luncheon, Smathers said the original estimate for the causeway was 25 million dollars and now the estimated cost is 47 million.

Gus Geiger, Miami Beach architect, backed Smathers and said expansion has been pushed northward instead of toward the Elliott and Virginia Key area, which, he said, "has great potential."

ed over to hailing distance," the captain said.

"I said, 'Are you the Small World?'

"Eiloart shouted back: 'Yes. Wil you tow us ashore?'

The fishing boat took the gondola in tow at 8 a.m. It reached Crane Beach, on the island's southeast coast, at noon.

The gondola, still heavily stocked with food and water, was anchored offshore until the balloonists were landed, then was towed into harbor by another fishing boat.

Witnesses reported the hull had no moss on it — an indication it was not in the water overlong.

A week ago it was feared that the Small World was down at sea. Shortly before that, a hoax radio message touched off a widespread search for the balloon in the huge Orinoco delta of northeastern Venezuela.

Flynn Says He Fought With Fidel

HAVANA, Cuba — (AP) — Actor Errol Flynn, nursing a wound he called a scratch, said Monday night he campaigned with Rebel Leader Fidel Castro in a real-life episode of his swashbuckling film career.

Flynn, 50, told reporters he shared the field hardships and dangers with Castro's forces since Christmas Day because "all my life I've wanted to see what makes an idealist tick."

The actor said he found Castro "one of those men who come along occasionally in human history and fight for ideals."

"And I think he also has lizard blood," Flynn said with a laugh. "I never saw a man jump around with such energy."

Flynn said he got his wound eight days ago at Central Palma Sugar Mill in Oriente Province. He said he did all his campaigning with the Rebels there.

"When bullets fly," Flynn said, "sometimes people get hurt. I was hiding behind a post — as usual — when a bullet hit the post and then my leg."

He pointed to his right leg and added:

"I lost a little skin and a little blood. Now I am getting queries on whether I lost a leg.

"The only thing that really wounded me was not being able to get anything to eat except tangerines."

Flynn declined to say how he arranged his rendezvous with Castro, but said he had been interested in the rebel leader for eight years.

City Employes Accused

Miami Looking Into Batista Pay Roll Here

The Miami City Commission Monday ordered a full-scale probe of charges that city employes were on the pay roll of Fulgencio Batista, deposed Cuban dictator.

The commissioners instructed City Manager E. A. Evans to investigate the charges to determine if Miami city employes were involved.

Mayor Robert King High initiated the move after Cuban Consul Oscar Ramirez charged that local officials — including a police captain — had been receiving money from the Batista regime.

"Ramirez should come forward and identify these people," Mayor High said.

The new Cuban officer here told a reporter that such a step would be "a matter for my government to decide."

A city ordinance requires that municipal employes must clear outside employment with their department heads. Federal regulations require registration of persons on the pay roll of other governments.

Cuban Bar Association, as prime minister. He chose Manuel Ray as public works minister and Armando Hart Davalos, released from political prison on the Isles of Pines, as education minister.

Humberto Sori Marin was named minister of Agriculture and Julio Martinez Baez was designated minister of health.

Meanwhile Castro, who sparked the revolution that toppled Batista, left Camaguey with his army to travel another leg of his slow, triumphant march into Havana. All along the way he was greeted with wild and passionate celebrations.

Castro has turned down a post in the new Urrutia cabinet, but has been named commander-in-chief of the Cuban army.

Castro told a crowd of some 30,000 in Camaguey that Batista warplanes now under his command will be used to "bomb the Sierra Maestra with toys for children."

"We want the press to be here," Castro shouted. "There will be no more censorship like that imposed by tyranny. Only a government with something to hide would censor news."

Castro also said that when full order is restored the beards of his rebel warriors will be shaved off "because now that we have to find work we cannot leave the barbers without work."

Martial law had been ordered in Havana before Urrutia arrived. A Castro spokesman here said the decree — which didn't take effect — resulted from a mob attack late Sunday night on the Colombian Embassy, where several Batista followers had taken refuge.

Apparently the discord between the Revolutionary Directorate of University Students and Castro's men was settled by the time Urrutia held his first press conference.

Reports were that Urrutia refused after landing at the airport to proceed to the palace until it had been evacuated.

The students finally left the palace after a compromise under which Maj. Rolando Cubela, commander of Directorate forces, took over command of the palace guard.

But the guard itself was made up of leaders from other revolutionary organizations, principally Castro's 26th of July movement.

Thousands of people lining the route to the airport to welcome Urrutia had to wait while the palace squabble was settled.

Shortly after the new tension broke out Monday, the American embassy issued renewed warnings to Americans in Cuba to continue to be cautious in their activities.

Also, Pan American World Airways and National Airlines, which had resumed service to Havana, abruptly cut it off Monday afternoon.

National Summary

The cold wave that drove to the Atlantic coast during the last 24 hours dropped temperatures in many areas of the east as much as 40 degrees with readings close to zero at mid-day through the mountains of Pennsylvania.

The bulk of arctic air centered in the middle of the country is continuing to drive cold winds across the Great Lakes with snow showers along the eastern shores deep into Michigan and into the northern Appalachians.

The Pacific storm that swept through the northwest during the night has spread snow into the northern Rockies to give moderating temperatures in eastern Colorado.

Some easing of the frigid weather is expected over most sections from the Rockies to the Appalachians by tomorrow. However, the mercury should dip to 20 or 30 degrees below zero in northern New York and Maine with sub-zero levels in the mid-atlantic states.

Intermittent snow advancing eastward over the Plateau to the Rockies will expand precipitation over most states west of the Continental Divide during the next 24 hours and snow should reach the Dakotas Tuesday.

Court Crackdown On Hoffa Prepared

Monitors Draw Up Orders At Request of U.S. Judge

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Teamsters Union monitors Monday proposed a tough federal court order to make Teamster Boss James R. Hoffa toe the mark in carrying out union reforms.

Martin F. O'Donoghue, chairman of the three-man, court-appointed monitor board, prepared the order for the signature of U. S. District Judge F. Dickinson Letts. The court ordered a hearing Friday.

Judge Letts held on Dec. 11 that Hoffa and fellow Teamster leaders have been giving the monitors a run-around and thwarting union reforms recommended under the unique monitoring system. Letts asked O'Donoghue to prepare appropriate orders for his signature.

Hoffa's lawyers will appear in court before Letts Friday in an effort to get the court to tone down the proposed findings prepared by O'Donoghue. Failing that, they are expected to ask for a stay against the orders going into effect pending an appeal to a higher court.

O'Donoghue's proposed findings for Letts reportedly will crack down hard on Hoffa and the corruption-tainted Teamsters Union, ousted from the AFL-CIO after repreated Senate rackets hearings disclosures.

O'Donoghue's proposals would require Hoffa, on penalty of contempt of court proceedings, to obey the monitors. The Teamsters would be required not only to carry out reforms already suggested but to obey strictly all such reforms proposed in the future.

Additionally, the Teamsters would be obliged to cancel plans for a special Teamsters convention next March in Chicago, a step Hoffa has planned to vote the monitors out of business.

Letts' decision less than a month ago noted that Hoffa is serving as Teamster president only provisionally and implied the court may order him to abandon the union's helm in the event there is continued thwarting of monitor reform orders.

Clearwater Gets Two New Plants

CLEARWATER —(AP)— The newly-organized Florida Culvert Manufacturing Co. will build two factories at Pine Forest Industrial Park south of here.

E. H. Holcomb Jr. of Clearwater president of the new firm, announced plans for a $225,000 plant to manufacture coated culverts of corrugated steel and a $150,000 factory to make concrete pipe and culvert in all sizes.

U.S. Denies Red 'Firing' Charge

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The U.S. has rejected a Soviet charge that an American aircraft fired first in an air incident over the Baltic Sea nearly two months ago.

The clash was one of two which occurred Nov. 7. The other took place over the Sea of Japan.

The first U.S. protest note was sent to the Kremlin last Nov. 13. In it, the U.S. complained strongly that Soviet fighters had fired on a U.S. reconnaissance plane over the Baltic and had dangerously buzzed another over the Sea of Japan.

No damage was caused in either incident. In both cases, the U.S. said its planes were more than 60 miles from the nearest Soviet territory.

Jubilant Cubans Take First Boat Home

. . . children danced at dockside, everybody hugged everybody

It was jubilation day Monday at Miami city docks when a shipload of Cuban exiles sailed for their native land.

This was the first ship to sail for Havana since the Batista regime took to its heels Dec. 31.

For many of the 400 passengers on the SS Yarmouth, this was the first trip to Cuba in more than three years.

"Daddy is in Cuba," said Johnny proudly. "With Castro." He said he, his mother and brother fled to Mexico more than three years ago, then came on to Miami.

The Baamonde family, papa Aurelio and little Aurelio and mama Ana and little Ana sat quietly in a downstairs corner of the ship.

They spoke no English. But Baamonde understood "exile," nodded his head and drew his finger across his throat in a swift slashing motion.

Miamian New Head Of Pharmacy Board

Often honored as a leader in his profession, Stadnik has served as vice president of the state board during the past year.

STADNIK

Elected to serve with him as vice president was Walter S. Griffin, Jacksonville pharmacist.

Stadnik succeeds Don S. Evans of Orlando in the post.

Outlining plans for his term, Stadnik said he will seek to require registration of all drugstores under the Board of Pharmacy; to establish an apprentice training program for college pharmacy students who begin their five-year courses in 1960, and to make a study of complaints arising in connection with hospitals and institutions which do not maintain a registered pharmacist on duty.

Stadnik operates a drugstore and pharmacy at 45 Curtiss Parkway. He lives at 485 Deer Run.

Airlines Pass Cash to Struck Colle agues

Pact Gave Eastern $151,042 in Relief

By DOM BONAFEDE
Herald Staff Writer

BONAFEDE

Eastern Air Lines received more than $151,042 from a mutual aid strike pact among six major airlines during the first seven days of its 38-day strike, the Civil Aeronautics Board reported Monday.

In all probability, Eastern will receive considerable more money for the other 31 days of the strike, which ended New Year's Eve.

However, Eastern shelled out $50,423 to other struck pact members, leaving a net gain of $100,619.

The CAB is checking into the pact, whose members, besides Eastern, are Pan American, Capital, American, Trans World and United airlines. They fly two-thirds of all U.S. air passenger traffic.

Airline unions, they said, "have become so strong that individually the airlines have steadily been losing the economic capacity to deal with them on terms approaching equality."

During the past 12 years, the airlines said, labor shutdowns in the industry totaled 1,415 days, or almost four years of operation.

Payments made through November by the six carriers:

By Eastern — $50,000 to Capital and $423 to TWA.

By Capital — $45,660 to Eastern and $40,041 to TWA.

By American — $46,382 to EAL, $911,256 to Capital, and $415,558 to TWA.

By Pan American — $59,000 to EAL, $179,000 to TWA.

By United — $868,292 to Capital and $495,000 to TWA.

By TWA — $418,424.

Man Injured By Parked Cars

Eugene Soroski, 28, of 3400 NW 36th St., suffered back and leg injuries Monday when he was sandwiched between two parked cars rammed together by a third — which was first struck by a truck.

Police said truck driver Jack Keegan, 34, of 720 NW 58th St., was charged with driving while his license was under suspension. The accident occurred at 81st St. and Biscayne Blvd.

There'll Be A Rousing Time

Enter, Sharply: The 86th

"ALL legislative powers herein granted," says the very first sentence of the very first article of the Constitution, "shall be vested in a Congress of the United States, which shall consist of a Senate and House of Representatives."

In Washington Wednesday these two bodies, one of them "continuing," meet as the 86th Congress. The problems before the national legislature in the dawning space age are, like the stars, vast and illimitable.

One of them is the relationship between a Republican President and Democratic Congress. In the last congressional hitch of his term of office, Mr. Eisenhower finds a Senate divided 64-32 against him and a House stacked with 284 Democrats and 152 Republicans.

No off-year election of a Presidential incumbency in recent times ever produced such a contrary majority. Quite as noteworthy, the "liberal" predominance is more pronounced than at any time since early New Deal days — and this extends sharply and vocally into the President's own party.

Just ahead, too, is the 1960 Presidential election. One will get you two that it's likely to be the liveliest session in many years.

A BRIEF look at some of the issues and a few of the probabilities may not be amiss:

PROCEDURE — The Senate, which neither dies nor fades away, will be embroiled — perhaps for weeks — in efforts to amend Rule 22 which countenances the filibuster. Unlimited debate protects the minority, but its net could be rule by the minority. A compromise between the extremes is likely.

BUDGET — The big issue in '58 was "spending." On paper, the people elected a "spending" Congress. President Eisenhower will submit a $77 billion budget, up considerably from the first budget he sent in last year but short of what is being spent now. The prospects are for hemming and hawing, little trimming, and some additions, particularly in areas of defense and foreign aid. We commend Voltaire's definition of government: a device for taking money out of the pocket of one man and putting it in another's.

FOREIGN POLICY — Hardly anybody is happy with Mr. Dulles, who may come to know the path up to the Hill as well as he knows the world airlanes.

AGRICULTURE — The new budget asks for $6.9 billion, or $4 billion more than the first Benson year, with crop surpluses reaching clear up to Lunik. Who has the answer?

VETERANS BENEFITS — Now $5 billion, ranking in cost right after defense, debt and agriculture. The President will ask for some cuts, forgetting the election year ahead.

SCHOOL AID — Another fight is in prospect for school construction grants, with the votes on the side of those who want them.

CIVIL RIGHTS — Congressional liberals want more "teeth" in the 1957 law, and the Administration has ready a full set of the store-bought variety. The prospect is hardly for moderation in debate, and the issue may not be resolved until 1961.

Add to this a new passport law, gasoline taxes, a ceiling (as it was gaily called) on the national debt, Hawaiian statehood and a minimum wage law, and you have the ingredients for a rousing session. Whether or not it will make sense, certainly it will make news.

Well, It's What It Stands For

DO YOU know anyone who's pleased with the new version of the national flag?

Adding a 49th star for the State of Alaska necessitated a change, but it isn't surprising that hardly anyone seems to like the design chosen. The reason may be that, at heart, most people would have liked to keep the flag unchanged.

The blue field, with its six rows of eight stars each, all in straight lines, has been familiar for 46 years. It was in 1912— more than a generation ago—that Arizona provided the 48th star.

Beginning on the Fourth of July, the new banner with seven staggered rows of stars, will start appearing on government buildings. Everyone will get used to it in time.

The Unwelcome Mat Is Right There

RACKETEERS on the lam from Cuba or elsewhere with any notion of opening gambling joints in Greater Miami had better land here running and keep their feet in motion.

This community never will go back to the shameful era which ended less than 10 years ago. That disgrace was blazoned before the world in the 1950 report of the Senate Crime Investigating Committee:

"Groups of known gangsters from diverse sections of the country, many of whom have long criminal records, assemble primarily at Miami Beach . . .

"These racketeers operate various gambling and bookmaking establishments, openly and notoriously in clear violation of Florida law and apparently with the full knowledge of the entire community, including the law-enforcement officers, who in some cases incredibly insisted to the committee that they had no knowledge of the operations."

THOSE were the evils foisted upon Greater Miami by persons who stood to profit from lawbreaking and "sold" the idea that eyes should be shut to bookie joints, gambling casinos and so on.

They called it "the liberal policy" of law enforcement. It blunted the public conscience—at least, the official conscience— and lowered the whole moral tone of the community.

Public hearings conducted here by the committee headed by Sen. Estes Kefauver reversed the trend. They shocked people into realizing the corruptive and destructive effects of condoning or conniving at lawbreaking.

By public demand, the underworld's strangle-hold on local government was broken then, forever.

Mr. M., With Something In Mind

RUSSIA'S No. 2 man, Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan, is in this country on an undisclosed mission designated in the doubletalk and triplethink of Soviet diplomacy as an "American holiday."

Though Mr. Mikoyan did his best on the first day to act like a tourist, gawking at cigaret machines and packaged doughnuts and a motel — three typical American institutions that his country lacks — he had the air of a man with something on his mind.

Mr. Mikoyan is as high in the Soviet hierarchy as anyone who ever visited us but in Russia the distance between No. 1 and No. 2 is as vast and wide as the steppes. The deputy premier will speak with the voice of Mr. Khrushchev just as any other Russian, however exalted or lowly. The difference is that the deputy is closer to Mr. K and has more to lose if he fails to satisfy his boss.

IT IS interesting to speculate on the line the Soviet deputy premier will take in Washington. If he uses the propaganda advantage Russia has gained from its sun-circling satellite to bluster and threaten about West Berlin he will be wasting his breath. The course of the United States and NATO is firm and clear and there will be no back-down on Germany.

But Mr. Mikoyan may try to make more sense, to throw clarifying light on stalemated talks over the control of nuclear weapons and guarantees of all nations against sneak attacks. He will find we are ready to listen and discuss the move toward constructive conclusions, with world peace ever in mind. If that turns out to be the case, Mr. Mikoyan will find a welcome.

The trouble is that the Reds usually speak with deceptive voices and, like crabs, move in devious ways toward their goals. And Mr. Mikoyan is not a free man but a puppet whose strings are controlled by Mr. K from the Kremlin.

Whatever he says, it will be difficult to trust him or his master. In this troubled state of world affairs and of Russia's temporary — we hope — advantage in rocketry, there is always the disquieting memory of a fateful day in 1941, in a similarly troubled atmosphere, when two high-ranking Japanese conferred in Washington at the very moment when the bombs were launched on Pearl Harbor.

A Visitor: His Creed And Creel

AN OLD friend of South Florida's, Mr. Herbert Hoover, is in our midst again. As always, he is welcome. Folk hereabouts will put political quarrels and any past disagreements aside in making their manners to an 84-year-old fisherman (that's what he's about) who seems to mellow with every passing month and who never lives cooped up in yesterday.

By coincidence, a pamphlet from Public Service Administration comes to hand. It is called "Public Officials and Their Heritage," and it contains memorable utterances ranging in time and substance by everyone from the 31st President back to Pericles. The 1958 quotation attributed to President Hoover is, we think, worthy of setting down here in these pessimistically troubled times:

> Since the dawn of history there has existed in the minds of men the longing and the hope for national independence and for individual freedom. That spark has many times broken through oppression and burst into victorious flame. Tragically, it has been crushed not once but many times . . . That spark again sprung to flame in the new world—never since to be extinguished . . . our founding fathers consecrated a new republic "under the protection of Divine Providence." They dedicated it as a stronghold for the dignity of the individual and his rights to religious, economic, social and political liberty under the rule of law . . . The American method is not perfect, but for 182 years it has sustained stability in our country through every crisis, and, in the main, brought an orderly progress . . .

And now for that bigger-than-ever bonefish, Mr. President!

Mason would have U.M. Coach Andy Gustafson thrown to the wolves because Andy's team had an unfortunate 2-8 record this season.

I agree that Andy had a bad year. Perhaps Mason has not yet learned that a coach is only as good as his material. Did Mason applaud Andy when he had winning teams? Mason must have been the co-author of the well known saying, "Do right 1,000 times and you won't hear about it once; do wrong once, and you will hear about it 1,000 times!"

Fuller Can Turn Neat Phrase, Too

Editor The Herald: Mark Twain, Will Rogers and other picturesque penmen of the past seldom wrote anything so funny and fascinating as the piece by John Pennekamp about a long ago New Year's parade and football game.

This archaeological essay on an unremembered era of this area is abundant with alliterative epigrams and alluring aphorisms; e.g. (1) "successful candidate for the kingship," (2) "the queen swayed, stumbled and fell," (3) "pioneer preludes," (4) "the performers were unsteady," (5) "young woman who made her living modeling silk stockings," (6) "that part of the world which would listen was told," (7) "she (the parade queen) tripped on her falling stockings."

It may well be doubted that Dr. Samuel Johnson, the learned English lexicographer, or Oscar Wilde himself, ever uttered so many matchless epigrams in so little space.

Fears Of Mind Can Be Real

By SYDNEY J. HARRIS

"DON'T BE afraid — it's only in your mind." We hear this admonition every day. "Only" in the mind; as if the mind were something not quite real.

Actually, the fears that exist in the mind are stronger than the fears that are in the body alone. A child's physical fear of the water (which is reasonable) can be reasonably overcome; his mental fear of the dark (which is unreasonable) may persist throughout life.

Harris

It is never the physical fears that are crucial. The man who is afraid of dogs knows that not one dog out of a thousand will bite. The man who is afraid of heights knows that he will not fall while peering over a precipice.

Soldiers who have faced death gallantly in battle have been known to faint at the sight of a hypodermic needle about to be plunged into their arms. Mothers who have stoically suffered the pangs of childbirth become hysterical at the sight of a mouse or a spider.

* * *

THE VITAL fears are precisely those fears we cannot rationalize or justify. The child who panics in a dark room is not afraid of something as realistic as burglars, but of something as irrational as ghosts.

It is cold comfort (and stupid, besides) to tell a person that a fear exists "only in the mind" — as though this makes it less terrifying. But nothing is more terrifying than a fear we cannot explain.

Millions of men who secretly thought they were cowards have learned in battle that they were as brave as the next man; and in shipwrecks, and in fires, and in all the physical catastrophes that are real and tangible, they rise to a courage that they thought was beyond them.

The core of terror — that nameless terror that may grip us in a deep pit or on the edge of a gaping crevice or in a tiny elevator — is deeper than the quite sensible fear of battle or shipwreck or fire. These things are facts; but crucial fear is not founded on facts.

* * *

TO BE AFRAID of high places, for instance, is a common reaction among ordinary people who may otherwise be brave. They are ashamed of it, but they cannot control it. And they cannot control it because the root of their fear is buried beneath layers of consciousness.

What they really fear is some repressed impulse within themselves, which has nothing to do with the precipice, or the pit, or the elevator, or the spider.

Until they can drag this fear into the light, and understand its true significance, the dark terrors of the mind remain more real to them than the statistics on biting dogs.

Behind The Front Page

Mr. Mac Kept Pace With City's Growth

By JOHN PENNEKAMP

THERE NEVER WAS a time when Thomas B. McGahey couldn't adjust himself to progress.

In that he was much like the electrifying city of which he was a part nearly all of his, and its life.

"Tom," "T. B." or "Mr. Mac" as his friends variously called him, helped to build Miami with hand and mule power in the early days and when he died last week he could count by the thousands the modern automobiles he had put on its streets.

Pennekamp

All four of his sons, Ben, Bob, Tom and Willard, were fliers who had won their wings in war service.

Tall, gaunt and softspoken, T. B. remained a leading citizen and widely known after Miami became a metropolis. The obscurity that is brought by growth and years never overtook him while the city's population rose from 5,000 to nearly a million.

* * *

McGAHEY came here in 1902 looking for a job. He got one selling groceries, many of his customers being Seminoles.

The friendships he made with them helped to initiate his interest in the outdoors, with the fishing and boating activities of those days stimulating his participation.

Key West then was the "big city" of which Miamians spoke. It could be reached only by boat, and such trips were a favorite summer vacation sail for the not too busily occupied Miamians.

As Miami builded, the demand for lumber grew. McGahey, by now a salesman of haberdashery, started a sawmill "out in the sticks" at what now is NW 36th St. and 10th Ave.

* * *

BRIDGES and other public projects all over the county used his product.

About that time a healthy and stimulating competition developed between the city and county to build roads.

McGahey went into the business of surveying, grading and building them. Some old timers insist that the road building era helped to bring about the boom of the 1920s with such developments as Coral Gables, Miami Shores and others.

When Carl G. Fisher, the developer of Miami Beach, became interested there (in a measure because John Collins was building a bridge where the Venetian Causeway now is, from Miami to the mangrove swamp) Fisher looked up McGahey.

He hired him to build streets in his development. It was then that McGahey transported the mules needed in his operations across the bay on barges.

Subsequently he paved the Venetian and County (now MacArthur) causeways.

In 1930 he quit the paving business and began selling automobiles. The road building equipment which he sold was as modern as any of that day.

* * *

HE ALWAYS had a deep interest in public life, and several times was urged to seek office. In 1947 membership on the city commission was tentatively offered him.

"I wouldn't have the job on a Christmas tree," he said, thus ending any further efforts to interest him in running for an office.

"I have told my friends that I am not interested.

"That job requires considerable time, and I have a business to look after.

"Also, I think I am entitled to a little rest and recreation when the demands of my business have been met.

"There's just nothing about the job that appeals to me."

McGahey's most recent public activity was in the "buy now," campaign, sparked by automobile dealers last year and which is credited with having much to do with reversing the recession which had the country's business interests worried.

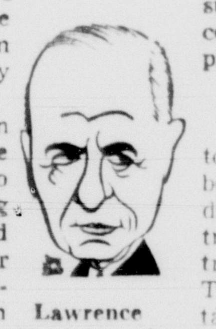
Required Arbitration May Be Strike Answer

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—The American people are unhappy about the strikes that have been depriving them of essential services. Members of Congress are hearing from the country about it.



Lawrence

Just what can be done? The "right to strike" has long been considered inherent in our constitutional system because the individual has the right to work or to quit work as he pleases. But where the public interest is damaged, the law can properly step in and restrict the right of any organized group to act concertedly in preventing others from working.

The remedy heretofore applied has been government seizure of an essential industry. But this has never proved a satisfactory solution. It has in it elements of coercion, distasteful to a free society.

* * *

FOR YEARS, students of the problem have examined a variety of proposed solutions. The Taft-Hartley act provides for a no-strike moratorium for 80 days during a so-called "cooling-off" period. But a President can ignore it rather than antagonize those labor leaders who supported him.

In wartime, there have been laws providing for seizure when a serious strike is threatened. Seizure as a last resort is probably one answer, even in peacetime, to a deadlock. But there have been other suggestions in the last half century which would seem to promise better results.

* * *

THUS, THE idea of mandatory arbitration has always been given moral support by disinterested observers. The trouble is that impartial arbitrators are not easy to get. There has been in the past talk in Congress of setting up a labor court for strike emergencies, to be composed of judges selected from a panel of federal jurists regularly on the bench.

The labor unions have not liked this approach because they have believed it legalistic and that the decisions are not likely to penetrate the human questions that frequently give rise to deadlocks in negotiations — matters of holidays and pensions and other fringe benefits.

Employers have feared that arbitrators would ignore the financial capacity of a smaller company competing with a larger one.

* * *

IF LAWS were passed providing some system whereby a permanent panel of arbitrators, comprising outstanding persons in every industry, were established — with all three arbitrators assigned by the government — there might be a better chance for the principle of arbitration to be accepted.

Union labor has more to gain than to lose in finding some substitute for the strike weapon. The economic losses to the country from recent strikes were staggering. The amount gained by the unions is infinitesimal compared to the indirect losses they have suffered. Also, as public opinion becomes irritated and antagonized by frequent strikes, the whole cause of self-organization may be impaired by hostile legislation.

* * *

"PUBLIC INTEREST" in labor disputes is far-reaching. Some day real statesmanship will have to be displayed in Congress to find a solution that is fair to the worker and to the employer and to the public, which the government represents.

What seems logical is a system of arbitration, made mandatory perhaps only after federal mediators have reported that one side or the other in an essential industry has adopted an unreasonable and arbitrary position which can severely damage the public interest through a prolonged strike.

Bi-Partisan Bloc Sets Attack

Filibuster Fight First on Agenda

By WILLIAM McGAFFIN
Miami Herald-Chicago News Wire

McGAFFIN

WASHINGTON — A fight is going to break out on Wednesday, the opening day of the new U. S. Senate session, between senators favoring a new rule to curb filibusters, and senators opposed to this.

A bipartisan group — Democratic Senators Douglas of Illinois and Humphrey of Minnesota — and Republican Senators Case of New Jersey and Javits of New York — is leading the fight to curb filibusters.

He says that the filibuster "led directly to the death of two anti-lynching bills in 1938, anti-poll tax bills in 1942 and 1944, a Fair Employment Practices Commission in 1946, an anti-poll tax bill in 1946, and the death on two occasions in 1950 of legislation to establish a Fair Employment Practices Commission."

He adds that in 1957, Part III of the Civil Rights bill "was removed under the threat of a filibuster."

Douglas points out that in the Senate there is now unlimited debate, except that it can be limited under Rule 22 to one hour per senator if two-thirds of the entire membership of the Senate agree.

With Alaska fully admitted, it would take 66 out of 98 votes to accomplish this.

In past years, the requirement has been 64 out of 96, and it has been so tough to muster this it has been impossible to limit debate on a civil rights bill.

DOUGLAS

JAVITS

* * *

UNDER ITS present rules, the Senate is a unique debating body where a determined member with a good pair of lungs can carry on a filibuster or talkathon to prevent a vote from being taken.

Nor has there been any chance, under ordinary procedures, of doing anything about the filibuster rule. This is because of the provision in Rule 22 that there can be no limit on a motion to consider a change in the rules.

The only time when an attempt can be made to change the filibuster rule, according to Douglas, is when a new Congress assembles.

The opponents of change, led by Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas, contend that the Senate is a "continuous" body and therefore, that its rules automatically carry over from Congress to Congress.

But the advocates of change insist that the Senate has a constitutional right to adopt new rules at an opening session — guaranteed by Article I, Section 5 of the Constitution which says that "each house may determine the rules of its proceedings."

So they are going to present a motion Wednesday that the Senate proceed to consider the rules of its proceedings.

The same motion was offered in 1953 and again in 1957. In both years, it was tabled by a coalition of southern Democrats and conservative Republicans, and the Senate continued to operate under its old rules.

But the tabling motion was only carried by a small margin in 1957—55 to 41.

If another nine votes can be added to that 41, the advocates of curbing the filibuster will have the 50 they need to win their first battle—that the Senate has the right at a new session to adopt new rules.

"We feel almost certain that we can win that vote this time," says Douglas. "The chances have never been so favorable as now."

* * *

IF AND WHEN the first battle is won, there will be the question of what kind of a substitute rule is going to be offered for the present Rule 22.

Majority Leader Johnson's proposal, if the rule must be changed, is that debate could be limited by two-thirds of the senators present — instead of, as now, two-thirds of the entire membership.

The Douglas group, however, is against this as they say such a rule was in force from 1917 to 1949 and "proved unworkable."

What they are advocating instead is a proposal which would allow debate to go on for a maximum of up to eight weeks, and then be shut off by a simple majority vote.

Martin Wants Three Aides To Block GOP House Rift

By DREW PEARSON

PEARSON

WASHINGTON — House Republican leader Joe Martin plans to appoint several—probably three—assistant leaders to help him on the House floor after the 86th Congress gets under way.

The revolt against Martin came out into the open Monday. Martin offered to appoint an assistant but the compromise was rejected.

Actually, he's been considering appointing three assistants, although he hasn't decided who they will be.

One likely to be chosen is Rep. Charles Halleck of Indiana, who has been functioning as the House's No. 2 Republican without title.

While no love is lost between Martin and Halleck—due to Charlie's designs on Joe's No. 1 job—friends say that Joe is willing to let bygones be bygones.

At all costs he wants to avoid an open split in House GOP ranks similar to the party rift in the Senate.

However, he wants more time to devote to his office duties, without being chained to the floor while the House is in session.

* * *

DEMOCRATIC REP. John Blatnik of Minnesota and other liberals appear to have won a compromise victory in their drive to prevent the seating of Dr. Dale Alford, write-in segregationist victor over Rep. Brooks Hays of Arkansas, as a Democrat.

With the approval of Speaker Sam Rayburn, the following plan has been worked out with regard to Alford:

He will not be invited to nor will he attend the caucus of House Democrats the day before Congress convenes.

Nor will anyone move to seat him as a Democrat, at least with the approval of Rayburn.

The next day, when the full Congress convenes, Alford will be asked to stand aside while the rest of his colleagues, Democrat and Republican, are being sworn in.

The Arkansas segregationist will later be sworn in just as a congressman.

It will then be up to Democratic members of the House Ways and Means Committee to decide whether Alford is entitled to Democratic affiliation in his committee appointments and other privileges as tentative House member until the matter of fraud charges in his election victory over Hays is fully investigated by the House Administration Committee.

* * *

MOST SIGNIFICANT move in the battle of the Senate liberal Republicans was not their much-publicized session to nominate sincere Sen. John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky as their leader, but a very hush-hush visit to the White House by Vice President Nixon and Republican National Chairman Meade Alcorn.

They warned the President that he was facing a very serious rift in the Republican party. The liberal Republicans, they reported, felt very strongly and were not going to stop their fight. They would continue battling all during Congress whether they won or not.

The President was reminded that Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois was a symbol of the Old Guard and that the Senate liberals would never take him as their real leader.

Finally the Senate liberals were reported to Ike as believing very firmly that the November elections proved the Republican party needed to present a new liberal face if it is to triumph in 1960.

Nixon and Alcorn not only reported these arguments to Eisenhower but went further and told the President they were in sympathy with the liberals.

The most significant part of the interview, however, was Eisenhower's position. He refused flatly to budge from his previous private support of Sen. Dirksen.

Mikoyan Trickery Familiar

By DAVID M. NICHOL
Miami Herald-Chicago News Wire

BONN, Germany — A great many Americans in the next two weeks will become familiar in person or through their TV screens with one of the most remarkable characters of the Soviet Union.

Given a derby hat and some baggy trousers and a cane, Anastas I. Mikoyan would look more like Charlie Chaplin in his earlier films than Chaplin does himself.

Nikita S. Khrushchev's first deputy, at 63, has flashing eyes, a ready smile, a penetrating wit, and a manner that is ingratiating to men and flattering to women.

* * *

IF THERE is anyone in the Soviet pantheon who can convince the U. S. that Khrushchev's newest grab for West Berlin is both plausible and justified it is Mikoyan.

This, in the eyes of the Germans who know him best, is the great danger.

Several times in the past the Germans have believed they had the better of Mikoyan in a hard bargain only to discover they had come out on the short end.

* * *

MIKOYAN, as the Soviet Union's foreign trade expert, negotiated the commercial agreements in 1939 that led directly to the Hitler-Stalin treaty that touched off World War II.

Six months later, when Germany and the Soviet Union had cut up the prostrate corpse of Poland, Mikoyan negotiated a new trade agreement with Berlin.

In practice, its provisions were so rankling that it contributed to the Nazi decision to invade the Soviet Union in 1941.

* * *

HAVING BEEN sold themselves on several occasions, the Germans' great concern is the United States may be persuaded by Mikoyan to make some "deal" at German expense, specifically at the cost of West Berlin's liberties.

* * *

NO ONE HERE who follows Soviet affairs closely believes that Mikoyan represents an opposition or is out of sympathy with Khrushchev's growing power.

Bavarians Seek Data on Subway

Miami Herald-Chicago News Wire

BONN, Germany — Traffic experts in Munich have recommended that the Bavarian capital construct subways as the only possibility of solving its traffic problems. In a tour of European cities they were impressed most with Rotterdam's planning, least with that in Brussels.

The Last Word

By Dr. Bergen Evans

QUESTION: Why is a turnpike called a turnpike? And how does it differ from an expressway or a throughway or a parkway?

ANSWER: A pike was a weapon, consisting of a pointed iron head on a long wooden shaft. A turnpike was something like such a shaft mounted on a vertical pin in some way so that it could be turned. Such shafts obstructed toll roads at definite intervals and were turned, to let the traffic by, when the toll was paid. They were later replaced by toll gates.

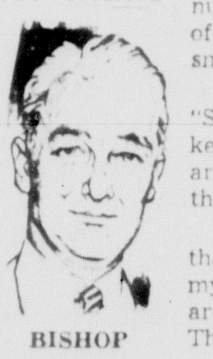
The name was transferred from the stopping device to the road it characterized. Then turnpike, shortened to pike in America, became the name for any main road.

I am told by engineers that no peculiarities of construction are marked by any of the various words now used in various parts of the country to designate the new superhighways. It is to be assumed, however, that where they are called toll roads, tolls are collected and where they are called freeways no toll is required. The other names offer no clue, except that the Pennsylvania Turnpike, one of the first of these great roads, does exact toll and apparently chose the old name turnpike to indicate that fact.

Mother Started a Fine Custom

Sunday Afternoon Socials Are a Lot of Fun

By JIM BISHOP



BISHOP

MY MOTHER inaugurated something she called a Sunday afternoon social. At the time, I was 14.

Sunday dinner occurred around two o'clock. The dishes were cleaned by about four.

At five, the "social" began, and I was allowed to have fellows and girls — real girls, that is— to the house.

It seemed daring to me. My mother baked a layer cake and put some cold cuts and some seeded rolls on the dining room table.

We were permitted to be in the living room by ourselves. Someone was always pumping the player piano, or strumming a ukulele.

The girls giggled on one side of the room. The fellows growled man-talk on the other side.

We sang Linger Awhile and Till We Meet Again and Remember and Stumbling and we gorged ourselves with cake.

Once in awhile, we played spin-the-bottle or post office and we kissed the girls in the hallway outside the living room door, but they were chaste kisses and, looking backward, I can see that we were good children. Dopey, but good.

* * *

OF COURSE, it required a number of years and a family of my own to realize how smart my mother was.

Her mother used to say "Show me the company you keep and I'll tell you what you are." Mother wanted to see the boys and girls I liked.

I can say, without boasting, that the boys and girls adored my mother. The girls fussed around the table with her. They said that she was "so understanding."

The highest praise the boys could think of was: "Your old lady is regular. I mean regular."

We had the social every Sunday, and, in time, my mother knew more about the inner dreams of the gang than I did.

She never intruded in the living room. She kept my brother and sister out of the room, and my father was told to read his Sunday paper in the kitchen or the bathroom, whichever was more comfortable.

He played a B flat cornet in the Police Band and sometimes, in desperation, he'd sit in the bathroom and close the door and set the music stand up and sit and rap out a little of The Stars and Stripes Forever.

Afterward, all the pictures on the wall would be slightly askew and he'd stand, blowing out the valves and glaring at us if we wanted to use the bathroom while his stand was still set up.

The social broke up around 8 o'clock and sometimes the fellows wrote notes on the weekdays to the girls. They would try to say the things they didn't have the nerve to say on Sunday.

* * *

Now, within the past month, I have started a Sunday social of my own.

Gayle is 15 and I am the mother and father and it is difficult to keep from holding her down too much.

On Sundays, she brings her gang in and they go down to the cellar game room, or out in back to the guest house, and they play these atrocious records and dance their tribal rites.

Once, I wanted to call her to the phone and a boy named Butch was holding her hand and as I walked into the room, he looked as though he had been shot between the eyes.

I must learn to whistle or hum or knock.

UPSTAIRS, I have my own Sunday Socials. My gang is pretty gray — some of it is bald — and our housekeeper, Rennie Matthews, puts up a buffet.

We play Hi-Fi records — mostly piano — and I set up some drinks at the bar and the men and ladies all start to talk at once. Everyone is permitted to have his say on any subject.

The conversation is free wheeling, the stories are rich, the laughter is deep.

Penalty Looms For 'No Show'

By DAVID KRASLOW
Of Our Washington Bureau

KRASLOW

WASHINGTON — The $3 penalty for "no-show" air travelers may come back.

If it does, a major reason for it will be what has been happening during the Eastern Air Lines strike.

National Airlines' inaugural jet flight from New York to Miami on Dec. 10 was a sellout far in advance of the trip. Yet the plane took off with eight empty seats.

The jet flights are booked solid for weeks in advance. But there are empty seats on many of the trips.

The problem is even more pronounced on National's regular flights. NAL says it has been averaging a 70 per cent load during the Eastern strike.

* * *

THE "NO-SHOW" is a guy who makes a reservation and then doesn't bother canceling it when he changes his mind.

"No-shows" are a problem for South Florida during any winter season. It has become more acute with the Eastern tieup.

People make multiple reservations and then use the one that suits them best without canceling the others.

This sort of thing, if it's done by a lot of people at the same time, will hurt an airline in the pocketbook.

But a far more important consideration from a public standpoint is that many people who want those seats aren't getting them.

People are understandably reluctant to check out of a hotel and lug their bags out to the airport on the chance they will make a flight as a stand-by passenger.

* * *

CHANCES ARE MANY of the empty seats would have been occupied if the penalty rule were now in effect.

The rule was tried for two years with great success. The number of "no-shows" was reduced substantially once travelers understood it would cost them $3 for not canceling a reservation.

The penalty went into effect on all airlines in the fall of 1956 and was dropped last August when one major airline refused to go along.

Airlines say the $3 penalty was not a money-maker and was never intended as such.

"It cost us just about that much or more for the extra bookkeeping and accounting," one official said. "we wanted the penalty only as a deterrent, and it worked fine."

* * *

THERE IS NO EVIDENCE as yet of a concerted campaign within the industry to reinstate the penalty.

But there is talk, the kind of talk that can build up into action if airlines continue to be plagued by a vast number of "no-show" customers.

DECLINE OF THE DOLLAR: A third office building for the House of Representatives, scheduled for completion in 1961, will cost about 64 million dollars.

The second House office building, completed in 1933, cost less then 8 million dollars.

U.S. Lunar Shots To Probe Planets Expected This Year

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Aircraft Industries Association said Monday there are strong indications that U.S. lunar shots during 1959 will be extended to probes of the planets.

The Air Force has conducted three lunar-aimed launchings and the Army has attempted one but they succeeded in reaching only about one-third of the distance to the moon. One more Army try remains in the original program. The Air Force reportedly has been authorized two more attempts.

The association, to which major aircraft and missile manufacturers belong, made these additional forecasts in a summary of industry outlook for 1959:

1—Development and production of new and better intercontinental ballistic missiles will be carried forward.

A "highly adanced" ICBM—not identified, but presumably the Martin Titan—will reach advanced development, the association said. A solid propellant ballistic missile (presumably the Lockheed Polaris) capable of being launched from a submarine will reach the stage of production in volume. Tests will continue on long range missiles that can be launched from aircraft.

2—The Defense Department will take delivery of a cluster of rocket engines capable of more than one million pounds of thrust. Development of a single chamber rocket engine producing 1½ million pounds of thrust will be accelerated.

3—An experimental rocket-powered, manned aircraft (the North American X15), designed to penetrate the fringe of space, will make its first flight. Advanced development of a capsule for a man in space will be accelerated.

4—Two teams of aircraft manufacturers will continue development of the Dyna-Soar manned bomber-reconnaissance spacecraft capable of orbital flight around the earth.

5—The first operational bomber capable of flying twice the speed of sound—the Convair B58—will enter the inventory of the Strategic Air Command.

Six fighter models capable of similar speeds will be in operation with the military services. Advanced development of a bomber capable of three times the speed of sound—the North American B70—will continue.

6—Development of a nuclear powered aircraft and a nuclear propulsion system for missiles will continue.

7—Turbine-powered helicopters will be delivered to the military services in quantity, and commercial operators also will receive turbine models. Airline jet transport deliveries will increase greatly.

Dog Guards Crash Scene

BITTERNE, England — (UPI) — When the four members of the John Parmenter family were involved in a collision between their sidecar-equipped motorcycle and a car a month ago, their pet dog Tina disappeared.

Tina was found Monday, sitting patiently beside the road near the spot where the accident took place. Residents of the area said the scotty had evaded all attempts at capture since it showed up at the spot shortly after the collision.

Critical Letters Bring Jail Term

BUDAPEST — (AP) — Communist Hungary's Supreme Court has upheld a 33-month prison sentence against an unidentified man who wrote letters abroad telling of police intimidation, a cut in real wages, deportations and the execution of strikers.

An account of the case in a lawyer's journal of court decisions said nothing of the truth or falsity of the statements but charged they were "slanders and incitement against the people's democratic order."

8 Iraqis Held In Pipeline Plot

CAIRO —(AP) — The newspaper Al Akhbar reported that eight Iraqis have been arrested for plotting to blow up the pipeline which carries Iraqi oil from the Kirkuk field to the Mediterranean.

The report from Baghdad said those arrested included an Iraqi officer and two women and that dynamite and weapons were found in their possession.

How To Cut Up A Dead Whale

Blubber Splatters 300 Feet High

BRANT BEACH, N. J.—(AP)—What do you do when a 20-ton whale, quite dead, washes up on the beach? Cut it up, of course.

But how do you cut it up? Ah, there's the rub.

When the 59-foot seagoing monster came ashore residents first tried shotguns to deflate the bloated hulk. The skin was too thick.

Then they tried axes. Like chopping trees with a butter knife. So Monday police called in demolition experts, who stuck half pound dynamite charges in the carcass and set them off.

That was a little better. Then they tried bigger sticks. Blubber splattered 300 feet into the air.

Some 2,000 onlookers retreated from the flying gristle and the odor of the obsolete whale.

Then workers tried to tow off a 10-foot piece of the tail. The chains broke. Now they'll bring up chain saws to dissect the rest of the hulk and cart it away. Residents are hoping for an offshore breeze in the meantime.

Mothballs Ahead For Carrier Leyte

QUONSET, R. I. —(AP)— A handful of Navy officers braved near zero weather and high winds here Monday to bid the aircraft carrier Leyte farewell as she headed for decommissioning and mothballs.

The 33,000-ton carrier is scheduled to arrive at Norfolk, Va., this morning. There she will unload supplies and then head for the Brooklyn Naval Shipyard where she will be decommissioned.

5 Million to One Battle; Baby Wins

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. — (UPI) — Rita San Carlo has apparently won a five-million-to-one battle, doctors reported Monday.

The infant weighed only one pound, nine ounces last Oct. 8 when she was born three months prematurely at Hollywood Presbyterian Hospital.

Doctors said at the time her chances of survival were only one in five million.

Today the daughter of Mario and Leonora San Carlo weighs six pounds, two ounces and is a zestful, hungry baby who eats every three hours.

Plane Collides With a Horse

Robert Goodyear, 49, glided in for a landing in an open field after his light plane ran out of gas. A horse galloped into the craft's path and they collided.

The horse was killed, Goodyear's plane was wrecked, and the pilot and his wife, Mary, 46, suffered cuts and bruises.

School Board Puts 'Hex' on Voodoo Teacher

By Herald Wire Services

A LONGTIME Negro school teacher in Wetumpka, Ala., has been asked to resign because officials said she taught a subject not approved in Alabama schools—voodooism.

Trustees of Cathmagy Elementary School requested the dismissal of Mrs. Frances Webb Smith, who is also principal of the school.

The trustees said "Inasmuch as Frances Webb Smith has created undesirable confusion and discord in the school as a result of her voodoo activities, we feel that it is definitely to the best interest of the school . . . that she be relieved of her position as teacher and principal."

Officials said Mrs. Smith, in her 31st year as a teacher, plans to retire.

Brigitte May Wed Later in Month

MILLIONS of ardent French hearts are palpitating in dismay because of reports that actress Brigitte Bardot is planning an early wedding.

Friends of the French "sex kitten" and her fiance, jazz-guitarist Sacha Distel, say the couple have set Jan. 29 as the wedding date. This date is Distel's 24th birthday. Brigitte is also 24.

However, the actress refused to confirm reports that a date had been fixed.

"Right now," she said, "I have more important things to do than get married. I am starting a new movie next week."

Adenauer 83 And Optimistic

WEST GERMANY'S Konrad Adenauer, who turned 83 Monday, is looking forward to the future with a certain measure of optimism.

ADENAUER

"I've been hearing a lot of talk about the bad year that's ahead of us," the chanceller said, "But for my part I am by no means pessimistic."

Of the crisis over Berlin, he observed: "If we all stand together in seeking to fulfill the great aims of the West, we shall be successful."

Strip Tease Party Figures Face Trial

A STATE prosecutor has completed investigation of modern Rome's most celebrated strip-tease act and plans to demand trial for a Turkish dancer and five Roman noblemen, court sources said Monday.

The sources said Assistant District Attorney Antonio Corrias wound up his investigation after questioning 22-year-old dancer Nana Kaish and many of the 200 socialites who watched her strip or be stripped at a private party Nov. 6.

The party was given in a Rome restaurant by Peter Howard, stepson of American millionaire George Vanderbilt, to mark the 25th birthday of Italian Countess Olghina di Robilant. Howard has since complied with an "invitation" by Italian authorities to leave the country.

The sources said Corrias planned to ask Rome magistrates in the next few days to send to trial Miss Kaish, Count Andrea Hercolani, 32, Duke Nino Torlonia, 27, Prince Meme Borghese, Count Prandino Visconti, 26, and Prince Niki Pignatelli, 35.

Miss Kaish has been charged with "obscene acts in a place open to the public." The five young noblemen are charged with "concurring" in the obscene acts by throwing their coats on the ground for her to dance on.

The party was attended by film stars Anita Ekberg and Linda Christian, Italian paintress Novella Parigini and the cream of Roman society.

Columnist Starts 10-Day Sentence

NEWSPAPER Columnist Marie Torre surrendered Monday to begin serving a 10-day jail sentence rather than disclose a news source.

MARIE

Miss Torre, who writes a syndicated column for the New York Herald-Tribune, appeared before Federal District Judge Sylvester J. Ryan in New York and was remanded to custody of a marshal.

"I have great hope that this action will lead to legislation which will protect a newsman's sources," she told reporters.

Ryan found the 34-year-old mother of two children in contempt for refusing to disclose the source of a story she wrote in 1957 concerning movie star Judy Garland.

Pushbutton Telephone Can Even Talk Back

NEW YORK — (AP) — The Bell system is introducing this month a new pushbutton telephone for business people who make or take a lot of calls.

It is unlike any previous telephone in looks and performance.

Named the Call Director, it is a low, compact, button-studded instrument with hand receiver cradled at its side. At the touch of a button, it can provide interoffice communication, arrange conference calls or add on other extensions to incoming calls.

The clear plastic buttons light up to show incoming calls, lines in use, or lines on which calls are being held.

The Call Director comes in two models, one with up to 18 buttons, a larger one with up to 30, and in four colors — grey, green, ivory and beige.

Miamian Extradited

Elisha W. Barhitte, 51, a Miami washing machine repair service operator, was ordered extradited from Honolulu to face charges of fraud.

He is accused of using international and interstate communications between Hong Kong and Miami to obtain $3,000 fraudulently from Mr. and Mrs. Emil Banet of Miami, and of using false information in obtaining his passport.

Barhitte is expected to be returned to Miami within the next two weeks.

Comedian's Father Hurt

Charles Amsterdam, 67, father of Comedian Morey Amsterdam, suffered head cuts and a back injury Monday when he was struck by a car on Collins Ave. in Miami Beach.

Police said the elder Amsterdam was hit at 26th St. by a car driven by Edward Racine Hersey, 48, 404 Euclid Ave. Hersey was charged with driving while intoxicated.

REVERSAL of fortunes appears to be in store for Leon Herbrard, 45, who is blind and nearly destitute. Herbrard will become one of the richest persons in Belgium, where he now lives with a friend in Brussels, if he inherits the 20 million dollars left by his grandfather. The grandfather died last March in Luxembourg.

Rockefeller Blames Harriman

You'll Pay More Taxes, N.Y. Told

ALBANY, N.Y. — (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller launched his administration Monday by telling New Yorkers they must pay millions more in state taxes.

The new Republican governor declared in his first annual message to the Legislature that the state's fiscal affairs had fallen into "a serious condition of deterioration" under Democrat Averell Harriman.

"Much as we deplore the facts," he said, "conditions require additional tax revenues now."

Rockefeller contended that, during the last two years, the state "has spent far beyond its income." He said he was struggling with a deficit of "at least 230 million dollars" in the new budget.

Although he is known to be considering boosts in the gasoline and cigaret taxes and a withholding plan for the state income tax, Rockefeller did not discuss his revenue plans Monday.

He said he will spell out his tax proposals in the budget message, which he must submit to the GOP-controlled Senate and Assembly by Feb. 1.

The governor's relatively brief, 7,000-word message hewed strictly to state problems, unlike his inaugural message, which carried strong international overtones and prompted new speculation on Rockefeller's White House potential.

He linked virtually all of the state's problems to its economic climate, which he said had grown stale during Harriman's four-year tenure — an era marked by constant battling between Harriman and the Legislature.

The state's economy, Rockefeller said, should — but currently can not — return enough tax revenues so that government programs can be expanded.

Rockefeller reported that, during the last four years, state spending climbed 46 per cent, while revenues increased only 35 per cent. He observed that Harriman balanced his last budget — a $1,800,000,000 spending plan — by dipping deeply into reserve funds, which are nearly exhausted.

Some Better

FAIRFAX, Vt. — (UPI) — When Guy Butler, 85, retired as doorkeeper of the Vermont House of Representatives, he said, "I've seen nine governors come and go and they're like rum. They're all good, only some are better."

Blackbirds Are Culprits

MADISON, Wis. — (AP) — Entomologist E. L. Chambers surveyed damage done by European corn borers and found that blackbirds did more damage than the borers.

In some fields the birds and borers combined to do damage. Chambers said the blackbirds often clustered in such large groups they broke off the cornstalks weakened by the borers.

Is Mikoyan Paving Way for Visit by Nikita?

By WILLIAM H. STONEMAN
Chicago Daily News Foreign Service

LONDON — Anastas I. Mikoyan's visit to the U.S. may be designed to pave the way for a later visit by Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev himself, it is believed here in London.

Although it has been commonly reported that the Soviet first deputy premier may want to discuss trade matters with American leaders, the London Times points out that "trade provides not only a substantial cause for the journey but also a useful cloak for other activities."

"There is no doubt, it continues, that the Russians still want four-power summit talks very urgently. And there is not much time left. In May, the six months laid down by Khrushchev — after which the Russians would evacuate Berlin — will be up.

WHAT CAN Mikoyan do? One thing certainly — he can spy out the land and possibly blaze a trail for Khrushchev.

The intention is probably not to separate the Americans from their allies — this the Russians must realize would be a hopeless task.

The Times also expresses the belief that Mikoyan may do something about "softening harsh opinions about Russia not only in the White House but in America generally. In that case, it concludes, when Berlin comes to the point of decision in May there is less chance that there will be an explosion."

The London Daily Telegraph, in commenting on Mikoyan's visit, expresses the view, "if it works it could well pave the way for another even more exalted Soviet holiday-maker to visit the U.S."

MIKOYAN'S CALL on Secretary of State John Foster Dulles certainly wasn't motivated by any personal feeling of friendship or admiration on the part of the Russian sharpshooter.

Khrushchev only recently made a joke of Mikoyan's personal hostility toward the secretary.

"Mikoyan and I agree about just about everything," Khrushchev told Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota on his recent visit to Moscow. "But there is one thing we completely disagree about — Dulles. He regards him as a dangerous enemy of the Soviet Union. I think that his activities have helped us enormously."

* * *

AT THE SAME TIME, Mikoyan is not the man to let personalities interfere with business.

He was a red-hot Stalinist way back in 1926, yet he was the man chosen to denounce Stalin at the 20th party congress. He went to Belgrade with Khrushchev and the then Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin, in 1955, to patch things up with Marshal Tito and was in charge of trying to save the situation later the same year when things went wrong.

In July 1956 he went to Budapest to throw out arch-Stalinist Rakosi in an attempt to placate the Hungarian workers. But when the revolt occurred he was sent to Hungary again to help repress it.

* * *

AS AN ARMENIAN with all that race's gifts for smart dealing, Mikoyan was also singled out to help Khrushchev formulate Russia's relations with Communist China.

His enemies and friends are agreed on one thing, "they don't come any smarter."

Police Hit For Mass Car Stops

"Police have no right to stop a driver unless they have reason to believe he's violated some law," said Commissioner Otis W. Shiver who led the attack on the blocks.

The commission authorized City Manager E. A. Evans to summon police officials, municipal judges and commissioners to discuss the issue—but no date was set for the meeting.

In other actions, the commission:

APPROVED appointment of an appraiser to evaluate a small tract of city-owned land within the site of the new 20-million dollar Miami Herald on Biscayne Bay between MacArthur and Venetian Causeways.

The Herald has asked the city to exchange the tract for Herald-owned land outside the site.

ACCEPTED a proposal by the city manager that no future building permits be issued on the old golf course site until Metro has platted the area, submitted plans for utilities and other improvements.

Church Facing Pastor Shortage

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The Episcopal Church, traditionally proud of its highly-trained ministry, may soon face a shortage of clergy.

This warning was issued by Dr. Clifford P. Morehouse, editor of the Episcopal Church Annual. The yearbook showed that the number of baptized persons in the Episcopal Church grew 3.5 per cent in 1958 to 3,274,867.

But the number of clergy increased only two per cent to 8,234 and of these, 1,073 are on the retired list.

Earl Warren Quits Bar Association

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Chief Justice Earl Warren has dropped his membership in the American Bar Association after 28 years.

Joseph D. Stecher, executive director of the legal organization, said Monday he received a letter from the office of the chief justice last month which said the jurist no longer is a member.

Stecher said he wrote back that the chief justice would be carried on the rolls automatically until Dec. 31, the final day for dues payment.

When the deadline passed, the chief justice was dropped for nonpayment of the $16 yearly dues.

Stecher could give no reasons for the jurist's action. Stecher said that while individual members of the association had criticized certain court decisions, the association as such has backed the court and the chief justice.

Southern Demos Ready for Fight

17 Pledge Filibuster Support

See Story Page 7A

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Seventeen Southern Democratic senators pledged themselves Monday to an extended fight against a move to make it easier to choke off filibusters.

The pledge was given at a closed-door strategy meeting presided over by Sen. Richard B. Russell (D., Ga.).

Russell said the Southerners' objective "is not to avoid a vote, but to make a record" of their arguments against the move.

He said the southern group is hopeful of winning in an ultimate test of voting strength.

The fight, led by a bipartisan group of Northern senators, is to get under way shortly after Congress convenes Wednesday. This group plans a motion to adopt new Senate rules, including one to relax the present Rule 22 which requires the votes of two-thirds of the Senate's elected members to invoke a time limit on debate.

A time limit on debate could mean the death of a filibuster — the parliamentary tactic of talking a bill to death without ever letting it come to a vote.

How long the fight would run before the first real test vote, Russell declined to predict.

He acknowledged that the Southerners had discussed many items of strategy, but said it would be premature to go into any of the details now.

He said some of the senators present "very strongly expressed the feeling that we had been delinquent in not presenting our views" to the Senate and to the people. He predicted the debate on the motion to adopt new rules would take care of that.

Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D., N.M.) has announced he will make the motion to adopt new Senate rules on the theory that the old ones have expired.

Sen. Spessard L. Holland of Florida was among those who attended the meeting. Russell said Sen. George A. Smathers of Florida had not yet arrived in Washington.

Moscow's Rocket Goes Mute

By Herald Wire Services

MOSCOW — The Soviet cosmic rocket Mechta (Dream) lost its voice Monday on its plunge toward an orbit around the sun.

Radio signals of the 1½-ton projectile faded out as it passed the 370,960-mile mark and its 62nd hour aloft, in a headlong dash from the earth into man's greatest conquest of space.

Soviet scientists lost track of their brainchild.

But mute or not, they expected it to streak into a solar orbit Wednesday or Thursday on a pear-shaped course that possibly — barely possibly — might one day swing it back to earth.

It is due to enter an elliptical course between the Earth and Mars, they said, taking 15 months to complete the swing around the sun that the earth completes in 12.

The Russians originally announced the rocket would take 447 days to circle the sun. Monday they said there had been a minor miscalculation, that one revolution would take 450 days.

The name Mechta (Dream) was applied to the rocket Monday by the Communist Party newspaper Pravda. That name replaces the original Lunik, a combination of luna (moon) and Sputnik, which became outdated when the rocket zipped past the moon at a speed of 5,472 miles an hour Sunday.

Tass announced that depletion of power killed the radio signals.

The news agency said "the program of observations and scientific investigations of the rocket has been completed."

That meant that the scientific usefulness of the rocket had ended and it had been reduced to a space curio.

Powerful telescopes may be able to pick it up 15 months from now when it completes its first journey around the sun but it will not be heard from again.

Tass said that as the results of the information sent back from the rocket are processed they will be published.

The closest the rocket will come to earth will be in five years time, but even then it will be millions of miles away like any other planet.

Unless it is struck by a meteor which breaks it up, it will continue on its oval path around the sun indefinitely.

Rebels Armed Daniel Bennett With Gun
. . . and told him to keep it cocked

'Fidel Still Thinks, Acts Like General'

By TOM LOWNES
Herald Staff Writer

Cuba's triumphant but cautious Fidel Castro is "still thinking as a general, not as a political administrator" as he moves slowly toward Havana, a Miami pilot said Monday.

Flier Daniel Bennett, among the first Americans to talk with the victorious Castro in battle-scarred eastern Cuba, explained that Castro wants to see for himself that the revolution is complete.

"As Castro pushes his way toward Havana, he's making sure that everything is all right behind him," said Bennett, who spent several hours with the rebel leader Saturday and Sunday before returning to Miami.

Castro was reported late Monday in Santa Clara about half-way to Havana from the eastern end of the island.

"Castro is working harder than ever," said Bennett. "Apparently, he is not particularly relieved by Batista's departure. He's still taking his military work very seriously."

Bennett flew his light American Air Taxi plane into the eastern town of Holguin late Saturday and found Castro pouring over maps and charts in a crowded little office near the airfield.

Some 30 rebel soldiers, from unshaven privates to unshaven commanders, milled about the dimly lit room, the principal's office in a small college.

"There was no false diplomacy, no bowing and scraping," said Bennett, who speaks only a little Spanish. "The situation seemed more fraternal than official—the lowliest privates call Castro by his first name."

The picture, said Bennett, was that of a battle camp where every moment counted and every man knew his job. "There was no visible chain of command—but Castro was unquestionably the leader."

Castro relaxes his air of urgency only when greeted by the natives of each and every small town he passes on his way to Havana, Bennett said.

"As he goes up the island, he's organizing — making sure that all guns are stockpiled and checking to see if each area is secure from armed resistance."

Late Saturday night Bennett flew to Camaguey to rejoin the advancing Castro motorcade which wound its way along narrow roads toward Havana.

Because of delirious welcoming parties spotted all along the road, the 180-mile trip from Holguin took nearly eight hours.

Castro rode in an unmarked car midway in the motorcade, but stepped out during several pauses to accept the embraces of tearful well-wishers, Bennett learned.

Bennett rejoined Castro's task force near Camaguey's air base Sunday morning and rode in a jeep behind the bearded hero as he rolled tank-borne into the city.

Israel Must Have Cash, Says M. P.; Points to Refugees

Israel, with a present population of two million in its 8,050 square-mile-area, can hold "at least three million more refugees comfortably."

That was the observation Monday of the Hon. Barnett Janner, member of the British Parliament and one of Great Britain's outstanding Jewish leaders.

"Thousands continue to migrate to Israel from the Iron Curtain countries and the need for more financial aid has never been greater," said Janner, here to address the first meeting of the 1959 Combined Jewish Appeal Fund Drive at Miami Beach Auditorium Wednesday at 8:15 p.m.

"Many of these present refugees have been separated from their families and held behind the Iron Curtain since World War II.

No one must fall by the way, and if the necessary funds are not made available it will be a waste of human resources," he said.

Janner said there are about three million Jews in Russia today and about 900,000 in other Iron Curtain countries.

The local goal of this year's Combined Jewish Appeal Drive, to be kicked off at the Wednesday night event at which the British M.P. will speak, is $2,018,000.

Where's Fire?

BLENHEIM, Ont. — (AP) — A powerful siren purchased jointly by this town and Harwich Township, will tell citizens in what area a fire is burning. A long blast means a town fire; an undulating wail means a township fire.

Rip Van Winkle Couldn't Sleep with Nagging Backache

Now! You can get the fast relief you need from nagging backache, headache and muscular aches and pains that often cause restless nights and miserable tired-out feelings. When these discomforts come on with over-exertion or stress and strain—you want relief—want it fast! Another disturbance may be mild bladder irritation following wrong food and drink—often setting up a restless uncomfortable feeling.

Doan's Pills work fast in 3 separate ways: 1. by speedy pain-relieving action to ease torment of nagging backache, headaches, muscular aches and pains. 2. by soothing effect on bladder irritation. 3. by mild diuretic action tending to increase output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes.

DOES MORE THAN JUST "SHRINK" PILE TISSUES!

No Surgery Needed to Stop Pain of Swollen Pile Tissues While They Heal!

Pain, itching of swollen piles are torture. You may think there's no relief without an operation. Yet...thousands have discovered how to stop this nagging discomfort in minutes—and without surgery! A remarkable compound you use at home makes you feel worlds better, right away! Not only reduces swelling but stops pain at once, promotes healing of inflamed tissues too!

Preparations that just act to "shrink" piles can't offer complete symptomatic relief. For real comfort, fast, you need this more complete medication, called Stainless Pazo. In doctors' tests, patients reported immediate relief of discomfort. That's because Stainless Pazo combines the most effective ingredients known for piles. Thus works 3 ways at once: 1. Anesthetic action stops pain, itching in minutes . . . puts rectal nerves to sleep, thus relaxing muscle spasms that cause discomfort. 2. Reduces tissue swelling, congestion . . . protruding parts shrink. 3. Promotes healing of raw tissues. You get immediate new comfort while Nature's own healing magic goes to work.

Don't suffer needlessly one more day. To sit, stand, walk without pain again, get Stainless Pazo Suppositories or Ointment at druggists. Get glorious relief without surgery or money back!

Police Halt 'Arrest' of Mamie Kin

Finn Twins Fail To Pinch In-Law

MOORE

Airport police charged George Finn, 42, with being in a restricted area. He posted $25 collateral and was released.

The second of the Finn twins, Charles, told reporters and police George wanted to hold Col. Moore in connection with evidence he said they had concerning violation of banking statutes.

Charles said George telephoned the FBI in advance announcing he was going to make a citizen's arrest. He said the FBI advised against it.

The Finns have been involved in several such arrests before in their years-long battle to recover a surplus government airplane seized when they put it into flying condition.

Airport Director L. W. Burton said George Finn boarded an Eastern Airlines plane, over the objection of attendants, and attempted to put handcuffs on Col. Moore, bound for New Orleans.

Dog Lover Freezes

Nine dogs, mostly hounds, were in the shack with Tilton's body.

Peace justice Clifford Roberts ordered an autopsy. He said the body "was frozen stiff and he apparently had been dead for several hours." Temperatures had dropped to below zero.

East Germans Flee

BONN, Germany —(AP)— A total of 3,428 refugees fled Communist East Germany for West Berlin and West Germany in the last 10 days of 1958, the refugee ministry reported Monday.

Troops Open Fire On Congo Rioters

LEOPOLDVILLE, Belgian Congo —(UPI)— Troops opened fire on charging native mobs in this Belgian Congo capital Monday in new rioting by Abako Congolese agitating for independence from Belgium. The governor-general declared a "state of alert."

Two Abako Congolese were reported killed when the troops fired on rioters who defied the governor's orders. At least 40 other persons, including 12 Europeans, were reported injured in clashes since Saturday night. Among the Europeans injured were two Roman Catholic missionaries and two police commissioners.

At least 12 Abako leaders were arrested.

Several of the Abako leaders are reported to have visited Cairo recently. Cairo radio broadcasts have been inciting the Abakos to "rid themselves of their native masters."

Fugitive From Reds Discovers He Has Family

WUERZBURG, Germany —(UPI)— A silent embrace between a brother and sister in Wuerzburg's drab, smoky railway station has brought a partly happy end to one of the strangest human stories produced by the migration of refugees from East to West.

Meeting in the railway station as crowds pushed past them were Franz Woitas, 48, and his sister, Mrs. Margarethe Lippke, 60. It was the first time that Woitas, a crippled World War II veteran, had met one of his six brothers and sisters.

This is the story that led up to the meeting:

Woitas' father died shortly before his seventh child, Franz, was born, and his mother died in childbirth.

The baby Franz was put into an orphanage, and the six sisters and brothers were put up with various families.

After World War II, Woitas settled down and got married in the Soviet zone of Germany. But when the Reds insisted that his children take part in Communist "youth initiation" ceremonies, he fled with his family to West Germany.

By coincidence, a cousin of Woitas fled to the West at the same time. In the refugee camp, the cousin's wife noted a surprising likeness between Woitas' children and the children of a cousin living in Wuerzburg — Mrs. Lippke, who was one of the sisters and brothers Woitas had never met.

Soon it became apparent to the two refugee familes that they were related. It did not take long for Woitas to get into contact with two sisters and a brother whose addresses were known to the cousin.

The pre-arranged meeting at the railway station was the first time that Woitas was united with a member of his family — although one could not say that it was the first time he saw his sister.

For, as a result of war injuries, Woitas is blind.

Red Chinese Build Air Lines

TOKYO — (AP) — Peiping Radio claims a local aviation network is being built up over the Communist Chinese mainland because "advances in industry and agriculture" have boosted demands for transport facilities.

The broadcast said 18 locally run civil airlines were operating in widely scattered provinces with Chinese-made planes.

Publishers Sign Papers Transferring Control of Newspaper . . . Marshall Field Jr. of Sun-Times, left, John S. Knight of Daily News

of demoralization following the death of its publisher, Col. Frank Knox."

Since then The News has won 124 awards for editorial excellence including the coveted Pulitzer prize for public service in 1949 and 1957, and several individual Pulitzer awards by staff members.

Average earnings after taxes for the past 14 years have been $1,250,000 a year, said Knight.

Today, he said, the debt has been entirely paid off, there is no funded debt or outstanding bank loans, and the total equity in buildings, real estate and the newspaper is represented by the common stock.

Basil L. (Stuffy) Walters, executive editor of The News, will continue his association with the Knight Newspapers, but has agreed to remain for an indefinite transition period as executive editor of The Chicago Daily News wire service.

The Sun-Times is an outgrowth of the morning Chicago Sun, founded by the late Marshall Field on Dec. 4, 1941. He bought The Chicago Times in 1947 and merged the two. Marshall Field Jr. succeeded his father in 1950.

The Chicago Daily News was first published as a four-page paper on Jan. 1, 1876, by Melville E. Stone. Soon after, Victor F. Lawson acquired control and continued Stone as editor until 1888 when he bought Stone's remaining interest. The two helped start the Associated Press.

In an era of political domination of newspapers, The News from the beginning has been independent, with "no ax to grind, no friends to reward, no enemies to punish."

Lawson in 1898 founded The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service, an act which soon placed The News in the front ranks of the country's influential journals.

Lawson was publisher until his death in 1925, when The News was sold to a group headed by Walter A. Strong. Frank Knox purchased control after Strong died in 1931. Col. Knox died at his post as secretary of the Navy in April, 1944, and six months later John S. Knight acquired The News.

Circulation increased by 200,000 a day in 10 years, and new record highs in advertising volume have been set.

Emphasis has been on journalistic independence, coupled with accurate, factual reporting and a challenging action in "investigating everything" on behalf of the welfare of citizens on all levels.

Twice honored with Pulitzer awards for public service, The Daily News and its staff under Knight have won an enviable worldwide reputation for courage and resourcefulness in exposing wrongdoing in high places.

The Daily News won the Pulitzer prize in 1949 for its expose of Illinois newspapermen on the state payroll during the administration of the late Gov. Dwight E. Green.

In 1957 The News won another Pulitzer prize for the investigation that led to the conviction of State Auditor Orville E. Hodge for misuse of public funds.

The Chicago Daily News was the first major newspaper to make a great success of a big weekend edition published on Saturday. It has kept modernizing with such innovations as the Second Front Page, the Thursday zone sections, and it developed a new style of significant interpretive reporting for its Foreign Service which serves 58 domestic and overseas clients.

The business accomplishments have been equally impressive under Knight, who has a reputation for publishing highly successful and profitable newspapers in four other cities.

Company debt of $12,800,000 was paid off. About $2,500,000 was spent on plant and equipment additions, of which $1,879,654 was spent completing the South Side plant and installing the latest four-color presses.

The Daily News acquired outside real estate worth more than $1,000,000, including the site for a projected North Side plant and a lot at Monroe and Canal for future expansion.

Pro-Soviets Get Break in Belgrade

BELGRADE — The state prosecutor has withdrawn charges of anti-state activity against a group of pro-Soviet Yugoslav Communists indicted last month.

The action apparently was taken to avoid the impression that Yugoslavia, now at odds with the Soviet bloc, is persecuting pro-Soviet elements.

The 25, known for their sympathies for the Soviet Union, were arrested last June and had been expected to go on trial this month.

Dancer Tells of Fight to Overthrow Batista

Cuban Beauty Bares Secrets of Underground

By M. W. NEWMAN
Miami Herald-Chicago News Wire

Alicia Alonso
. . . Castro backer

CHICAGO — Alicia Alonso, famous ballerina, played one of her greatest roles in the Cuban revolution — as a member of the underground.

The brown-eyed Latin beauty was one of the symbols of the resistance movement. But she spoke modestly and reluctantly of her part in the five-year crusade.

She defied Batista's bid to take over Cuba's national ballet, and has not danced in her native country for four years in protest against the regime.

But she is on her way back to Cuba and wants to dance as soon as possible.

"I wept for joy when I heard the news that Batista had run away. It is something we have wanted for so long," she said.

"It is so hard to believe. I am all tensed up. We simply are not used to saying these things openly."

Miss Alonso pictured the Castro victory as the climax of a great popular movement embracing all types of people.

Her part in the movement was many-sided. Four years ago, she said, she joined other artists in denouncing Batista, and made little effort to keep her feelings secret.

"Twice they threatened to lift my passport," she said. "It was a warning to keep my mouth shut when I went abroad."

She shrugged. Evidently the warnings did not take effect.

Miss Alonso has a husband, daughter and other relatives in Havana. She said she telephoned and learned they all are safe.

"But my husband was out on the streets, shouting and laughing," she said. "It is wonderful."

"You know I am not interested in politics. I am an artist. I am for the people. They rose up because they want the right to speak and think freely."

Miss Alonso said that the underground bulletins helped to counter Batista's propaganda.

"Another thing that helped was what we called 'lip radio,'" smiled the flashing-eyed beauty.

"You know . . . bzz, bzz, bzz, people whispering the truth to each other. According to the government, Castro was killed three times. We had to counteract such stories."

Wept for Joy
. . . dancer in costume

"Lip radio" helped to keep the rebels aware of Batista troop movements, she said.

Another device used by pro-Castro peasants was to take off their hats when government soldiers were around. That was a warning signal for guerrillas, she disclosed.

She revealed that Castro fighters wounded in jungle fighting often were patched up in Havana by top physicians.

But the dancer did not tell the secrets of this medical underground railway.

"There are many secrets that eventually will be told," she said.

"And many things probably never will come out. The world will shudder when the full story of the tortures and starvation is told.

"Cuba now needs the world's help. Many of its people are hungry and wounded.

"There is hardly anyone in Cuba who did not have a friend or relative imprisoned by Batista. And there was hardly a family that did not have some contact with the Castro movement.

"Castro is a hero. But this was not a one-man affair. It was the people making their voices heard.

"We suffered so long. We want to make sure now that it cannot ever happen again."

Secret Castro Agent Tells How He Got on Batista's Pay Roll

MONTREAL —(AP)— A. R. L. (Andy) McNaughton, Montreal consulting engineer and son of one of Canada's most distinguished men, let it be known Monday he served as an international agent for Fidel Castro.

McNaughton, 42, told Reporter Bill Bantey of The Montreal Gazette he traveled throughout North and South America collecting information and arms for Castro. He said he used the code name Esquimal — man from the North.

"I received no pay for what I did," he said. "It cost me thousands of dollars in expenses as well as many thousands which I contributed directly to the (rebel) cause."

He said Manuel Urrutia, named provisional president of Cuba, had rewarded him by naming him an honorary citizen of Cuba.

McNaughton, a specialist on Latin America, said he worked his way into Fulgencio Batista's good graces and became his purchasing agent in Canada.

"To help Castro, I had to know what Batista's government was doing," he explained.

"As his purchasing agent in Canada, I could find out what materials Batista was getting in Canada. If he was successful, it was my job to arrange for their hijacking."

McNaughton's father, Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, was chief of the Canadian general staff before World War II, a Canadian army commander in Europe, minister of defense 1944-45, Canada's permanent delegate to the United Nations 1948-49 and since 1950 has been Canada's top member of the U.S.-Canadian International Joint Commission.

The son was in the Canadian air force during World War II. He also helped Israel obtain arms when it became a state in 1948 and was presented with a torah signed by Premier David Ben-Gurion.

Smallpox Hits West Germans

BONN, Germany —(AP)— All U.S. embassy personnel have been asked to get smallpox booster shots as a result of the outbreak of the disease in West Germany.

Minister William C. Trimble in a memo suggested the vaccinations as a protective measure and said there was nothing to be alarmed about.

First passenger report on jet flight to Europe!

You've heard how fast jet travel is, how much safer it is, how much more luxurious. Now in this week's Saturday Evening Post you'll read an exclusive report of what passengers themselves say about jet flight.

You'll feel their awe as they board a plane so huge it looks like an ocean liner on wheels. Share their excitement as they take off at 2,000 feet a minute climbing skyward. Learn what jets mean to their business as well as pleasure. And you'll get answers to your own questions about jet flight. Is it tiring? What's the food like? Is it true the flight is so smooth you can balance a coin on the table? So quiet you can't even hear the engines?

Don't miss this firsthand report by a Post editor, who tells you exactly how it feels, step by step, to fly New York to Paris by jet!

Alabama Yields On Vote Records

MONTGOMERY, Ala. —(UPI)— The state of Alabama reversed its stand Monday and agreed to let the federal Civil Rights Commission examine voting records in three Alabama counties to determine if the rights of Negroes had been violated.

The agreement came after federal attorneys and Governor-elect John Patterson, now State Attorney General, and other legal advisers had conferred for more than an hour in the court of U. S. District Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr.

The state had been ordered to show cause Monday why local registrars should not reveal information on the Negro vote to the Civil Rights Commission.

The agreement requires:

1. Commission agents have a right to inspect vote records in Macon, Barbour and Bullock counties "in a manner consistent with the preservation of state records" and at the site where the records are kept.

2. Examination of the records "will not interfere with the judicial processes of the counties and state."

3. Examination of the records shall be made before Jan. 9.

The accord paves the way for a subcommittee of the commission to hold a scheduled hearing here Friday.

Chairman John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State University, abruptly closed the commission hearings here Dec. 8-9 when Circuit Judge George Wallace and five county registrars refused to produce records.

Integration Fight Set By Church

NEW YORK — (AP) — A major U.S. Protestant denomination has offered financial help to any of its churches whose treasury is imperiled by steps toward racial integration.

The unusual move by the Congregational Christian Churches was aimed in part at countering pressures by pro-segregationist local contributors.

In announcing the action, the denomination's board of home missions said it was determined to achieve "a racially inclusive church life at the local and regional levels."

At the same time, the board made public results of a nationwide study of its metropolitan churches, showing 27 per cent of them are integrated and 63 per cent still are segregated.

This is an improvement over 1944, when a similar survey showed only 17 per cent of the churches integrated, the report said, but it "gives us scant basis for complacency."

The report, made by Dr. Herman H. Long of Nashville, Tenn., the board's secretary for race relations, said:

"Whatever beginnings we have made in breaking down racial segregation in our churches, we have much yet to undertake in order to live up to our commitment as Christians and our reiterated statements that racial segregation is a sin."

Settlement Sought

Strike-Lockout Hits Food Marts

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Labor and management Monday agreed to organize subcommittees to attempt to settle the Los Angeles food market strike-lockout.

Announcement of the subcommittees was made jointly by both sides. It was the first such joint announcement in six weeks of negotiations.

After bargaining failed to achieve agreement, the retail clerks union called a token strike New Year's Day against one market.

In retaliation, the food employers council shut down 1,000 Los Angeles markets where the contract with clerks had expired.

The markets handled 70 per cent of the food sold in Los Angeles. Shoppers faced long lines in independent and family-operated markets not affected by the tieup.

Main issue in negotiations is wages.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

Is All That Golf All Right For Ike?

By DR. T. R. VAN DELLEN

J. A. M. writes: Golf is a strenuous game and I have heard of many persons who collapsed and died on the links.

Dr. T. R. Van Dellen

Some had suffered previous heart attacks and others were healthy.

I feel the President's physician is making a mistake in permitting him to engage in too much golf, considering his past illnesses. Do you agree?

I would if you had as much experience in treating heart patients as Dr. Paul Dudley White, the President's cardiologist.

There is no harm in exercising after recovering from a heart attack provided it does not lead to shortness of breath, chest pain, or a decided increase in heart beat.

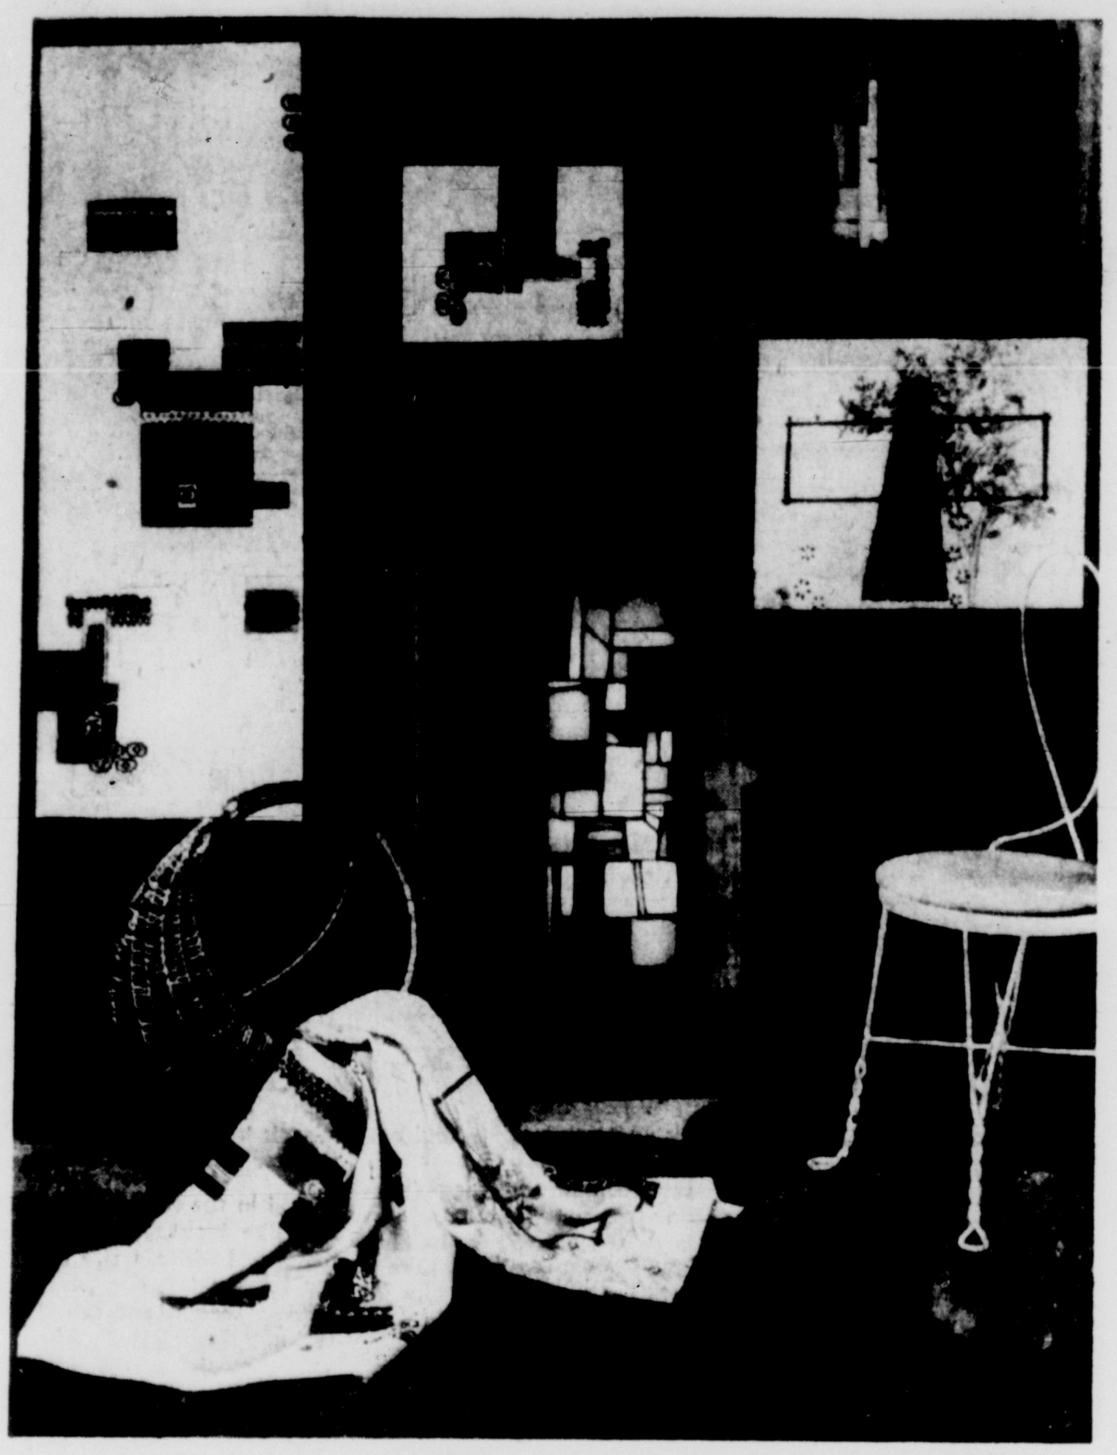
Golfers with ticker trouble should avoid hills and play only when the weather is equable.

The electric golf cart minimizes exertion; it has been a boon to many golfers who develop symptoms from this activity.



IT'S A TOSS-UP, between the realistic and the abstract, in fabric patterns at the winter home furnishings market now underway in Chicago. The abstracts are based on geometric figures. The realistic are inspired by nature — flowers and foliage. The latter are less inclined to clutter up the fabric. A single spray suffices as the nucleus for an all-over print. Fabrics pictured are by Riverdale and are made of avisco rayon. They're on display in Chicago's Merchandise Mart.

No More Shoving Furniture -- Now It 'Hangs' From Walls

By MARGUERITE DAVIS

CHICAGO — (UPI) — Designers finally decided to do something for women who are tired of tugging furniture about each time they clean house, and for apartment dwellers who must conserve space.

The result is a wide display of "hanging" furniture at the annual January International Home Furnishings Show. Cabinets, desks, consoles, bars, chests — even a high fidelity speaker which can be used in pairs for stereophonic sound or singly, attached to a television set or record player — are made to install on the wall.

Robert Stone Jordan of Audio Artists Ltd. Designed the "decrosonic sound system" to eliminate bulky and often unsightly speakers. Jordan's speaker is contained in an easy-to-hang panel screened by handpainted silk or grass cloth.

This handling sacrifices nothing in sound, for it has a rated frequency response of 40 to 15,000 cycles per second, and the washable screen is porous enough to let sound through without distortion.

The back of each piece is slotted to fit on a 24-inch metal rod which Peabody said any amateur can install without calling in a handyman. Once in place, the furniture can be moved sideways along the bar and the total effect is one of greater space because the floor is left clear.

A handsome two-piece console has as its only decoration an apparent wood sculpture in the middle of the table top. Lifted, the sculpture turns out to be the top of a clothes brush.

But most of the collection features the metal in a wide variety of colors, as sculptured trays which slide out easily on shallow walnut shelves, and as sides and bottoms for deeper wood-backed shelves.

Radical Operation Can Cure Cancer

By ELEANOR DIXON
Herald Club Editor

Many women who would have died from cancer of the cervix are alive today because of "a fairly recent application of radical surgery of the treatment of cancer."

This operation, said Dr. Brunschwig, consists of the removal of the uterus and surrounding tissues, and "sometimes including the bladder and rectum." It is performed when the "standard treatment of cancer of the cervix — radium and X-ray" has failed and the cancer has reoccurred.

"A second attempt to control the growth by radiation with exceedingly rare exception fails, and often the patient is made worse because of limited tissue tolerance of radiation."

Dr. Brunschwig, who is professor of clinical surgery at Cornell University's medical college and attending surgeon at the Memorial Center for the Treatment of Cancer and Allied Diseases in New York City, illustrated his talk to the surgeons with colored slides, including pictures of patients who have returned to an active, normal life.

* * *

How effective is the operation as a "cure"? Dr. Brunschwig explained that of 350 recurrent cases he saw between 1947 and the end of 1952, about 150 "were so advanced that nothing could be done."

"But among the remainder there has been a 'cure' rate of 20 per cent. The term 'cure' means surviving five years. It's an arbitrary yardstick," said the doctor.

Dr. Brunschwig said that in operations where the bladder and rectum are removed, artificial openings are made for the patient's elimination. "Even this radical process has been well tolerated by the patients, and they have returned to full physical activity and a happy existence."

This extreme form of operation was not without criticism when it was first developed. Critics said "it would be better to be dead, than to 'live live that.'"

But Dr. Brunschwig countered that in 600 of these most radical forms done in the last ten years, "I've never met one who regretted this operation which offered another chance at life."

Among the slides he showed of recovered patients was an attractive woman who modeled clothes for mature women, in spite of having an artificial opening for elimination.

* * *

"THESE EXTREME OPERATIONS are not without risk and carry an appreciable mortality rate, but these patients have nothing to lose."

He stressed that the patient and her family should make the decision as to whether she should have the operation, after the chances of a cure have been explained by the physician.

The number of women whose lives could be saved by this operation could be increased, he said, if a greater number of them were seen more promptly after the recurrence of cancer is detected.

Cervical cancer occurs most frequently "after early middle age, and particularly among married women who have had children. There is a direct relationship between incidence of cancer of the cervix and the incidence of reproduction."

Dr. Brunschwig stressed that "since both cancer of the breast and cervix are in a sense superficial (they can be readily detected on examination in a doctor's office), check-ups at "not too long intervals" are very important.

Cervical smear tests have "tremendous importance" in detecting unsuspected fresh cancer. "When this is possible and adequate treatment is given the cure rate is over 80 per cent."

But in cases where cancer of the cervix reoccurs after radiation treatment, Dr. Brunschwig said the smear tests have "very limited value."

Luncheon Talk Sticks to One Topic—Golf

By NORA OPHULS
Herald Staff Writer

PERSON TO PERSON

If you couldn't talk golf, there was no use in being at Indian Creek Country Club for luncheon Monday. In the lounge first and at a huge squared circle table in the dining room later over 100 women of the club's golfing set made plans for their winter and spring greens activities.

Ladies Golf Committee chairman Mary Jean (Mrs. Clarke) Hardwicke, her deep tan and flaxen hair shown off by her demure pink embroidered organdy dress, greeted her fellow golfers. Most enthusiastic were fellow committee members Lois Osten, and Mrs. Harry M. Stevens II, she in a pretty beige and yellow flowered silk suit dress.

Mrs. Daniel F. Rice, whose name is usually associated sportswise with horses, brought her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Daniel F. Rice Jr. With them were Mrs. Fredericka Peterson, Mrs. Robert McKay, and Mrs. J. Bradley Streit.

"We're all Detroiters," claimed Mrs. C. Wesley Ebling as she motioned to the other women sitting with her in the lounge. They included her daughter Joyce, Mrs. Conrad Langfield, Mrs. Eugene Welker, and Mrs. M. M. Burgess, Mrs. George Walker's guest from Bloomfield Hills, Mich.

The little yellow books that all the women were engrossed in contained ladies' golf events from Monday's lunch until the Last Round-up April 1 and included such events as the Mr. and Mrs. George E. Whitten Tournament, Mr. and Mrs. George B. Storer Tournament and the Mr. and Mrs. Bradford Foote Tournament. The distaff half of these sponsors all were at the luncheon.

With Mrs. Whitten were Mrs. Don Allen, Mrs. Albert Penn, Mrs. George Obrecht and Mrs. Prentice B. Mangus. Mrs. E. Drexel Rutherford, looking fully recovered from the debutante season, Mrs. G. E. Gunderson, Mrs. F. William Harder, she in a smart red, white and blue sweater appliqued with golf insignias, were with Mrs. Foote.

Looking spring like in navy blue was stunning Mrs. Joseph J. Lannon. Also making notes in their schedule books were Mrs. C. J. Hand, Mrs. W. E. Wiegand, Mrs. John Shippmann, Mrs. Dalby Stonebraker and Mrs. Fred Obrecht.

'The Worst Was Not Knowing'

Mr and Mrs. Sydney Weintraub are back in Miami after a harrowing experience in Havana, where they had gone for a quiet holiday.

"As I watched from the balcony of the Havana-Hilton Hotel," said Claire, "I saw men shoot and kill and for the first time in my life fully realized what a wonderful country we live in. I never would want to go through it again, but I am glad I was there because it made me sit up and realize how much we have to be thankful for here in America.

"The worst of the whole experience was the not knowing."

Mrs. Weintraub echoed complaints about the lack of action from the American embassy. "We sat on our packed bags in the hotel lobby for four days."

Like others, she also praised the courtesy of the rebels. "One of them wanted my autograph," she said. "I gave it to him in return for his. He then presented me with his rebel armband, the one that he had worn during the past year he had spent in the hills."

Silvery Party at Moores'

Silver and white — naturally! That was the color scheme Mr. and Mrs. James Willis Moore used for their silver wedding anniversary open house Sunday. More than 200 guests called at their Ponce de Leon Rd. home in the Gables which they had decorated with white gladioli, orchids, stephanotis and chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Moore's sisters, Mrs. George Henry Turner of Gainesville and Mrs. Thomas Colcock Bailey of Orlando, were hostesses, directing guests to the silver punch bowl and coffee service. The silver and white three-tiered cake, under a horseshoe arch of silver flowers, was topped by white roses and a silver 25.

Native Floridians, the Moores are the parents of four children Mary Ellen, John, Tom and Martha Anne. Among their out of town guests were Clewiston residents Mrs. John Willis Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Markette, Mr. and Mrs. John Kettl, Mrs. Thomas C. Moore and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Minor.

Mr. Lehrman Is Married

It's not often a couple is fortunate enough to have the bridegroom's father AND his grandfather perform their marriage ceremony. But Sandra Rich and David Lehrman did at their New York wedding before Christmas.

The candlelight service in the Waldorf Astoria was performed by the bridegroom's father Dr. Irving Lehrman and a blessing pronounced by his grandfather Dr. Israel Goldfarb who recently celebrated his 50th anniversary as spiritual leader of Brooklyn, N.Y.'s, oldest synagogue. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rich of New York.

After a wedding trip to Mexico the newlyweds will live here since David is in his first year at University of Miami medical school. He and his bride are graduates of Brandeis University. The senior Lehrmans live at 2925 Flamingo Dr., Miami Beach.

Just a Day Late

If he had been just a wee bit more eager to join us, Duane Wendell Christmas could have been born the day of his name. As it happened, he arrived weighing 10 pounds on Dec. 26. Duane's parents are Edith and Howard Christmas, formerly of Miami, now of Wauchula.

* * *

Another in a series of cocktail parties at the Coral Sea Towers apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Harry P. Cain took place recently. The Cains entertained in honor of Sen. Mike Monroney of Oklahoma and Mrs. Monroney.

* * *

Among Our Visitors

Former Miamians Ann and Clark Smith who recently moved to Eau Gallie, spent the holiday season in Miami with their parents, the Frank Dillards of SW 13th St., and the H. G. Smiths of SW Fifth Ter.

There was a double celebration on Christmas Day when the junior Smiths' son Mike celebrated his sixth birthday. Carl graduated from University of Miami in June with a degree in engineering.

Houseguest of Dr. Bertha Foster at the Musicians Club in the Gables for the holidays was Miss Eilan DeTong Winifield, dean of women at Brenau College in Gainesville, Ga.

IF CHILD IS ROUGH

Are You Just a Slave to a Brat?

Column with a Heart

DEAR ELEANOR HART:

I am full of sympathy for No Violence, as I have encountered the same situation many times.

I have six children, ages six years to 10 months, so they have been taught to be extra careful and loving to babies.

We also had a fenced-in yard, and kept them home where hitting, pushing, biting, etc., was severely punished.

Thought For the Day

—Martial.

Then we moved, neighbors visited and my eldest started being pushed around quite badly. He was shocked, being only three at the time, when someone socked and knocked him down for nothing.

The offender's mother would laugh and say, "Isn't David rough? Just like a boy!"

What recourse could I take? My son had to learn to stick up for his rights and not run to Mommy.

But be assured, his previous good training still tells. To this day, when he is bullied, he will good-naturedly avoid a fight until the end.

Your good training can prevail, No Violence. Your judgment can tell a bully, and you can give the order to hit back when necessary. Soon, and quite easily, your child will learn when and where it applies.

I have never had a child misuse the hitting rights. Squabbles in a family as large as mine are constant, but no hitting is the rule, except under extreme pressure.

In the long run, you are teaching your child judgment and not killing the will to survive. Just feel sorry for the mother who succumbs to a bratty child and says, "What can I do, he's so young!"

She must live constantly alert and a slave to the little monarch she has created.

SYMPATHETIC

JANE X: I don't have to remind you to rely on the U.S. mails for your delivery service in the future, I'm sure!

I see no reason for you to apologize. Unless the clothing was a loan from your sister-in-law, it was yours to give to whomever you shoose.

The incident you fear may never materialize. But if it does and your husband does "speak his piece," it may help to clear the air.

And in the future, when you feel like blowing your top in black and white, write the letter but hold it for 24 hours, then re-read it and see if you feel like mailing it.

Habit Made Her Eat

This is the third in a series of articles on Mrs. Wishful, 28-year-old mother of three. She is five feet three and a half inches tall, weighed 144 pounds, which, to her seemed like 244! With the help of Glamor Clinic supervision she lost 10 pounds, then learned that she was going to have a baby in May. But the loss she lost 10 pounds.

By ELEANOR HART
Herald Glamor Clinic Editor

Believe it or not, Mrs. Wishful lost 1½ inches in her bustline, 2½ inches in her waist, 1½ inches in her tummy and 2½ inches in her hips in 18 days!

Glamor Clinic

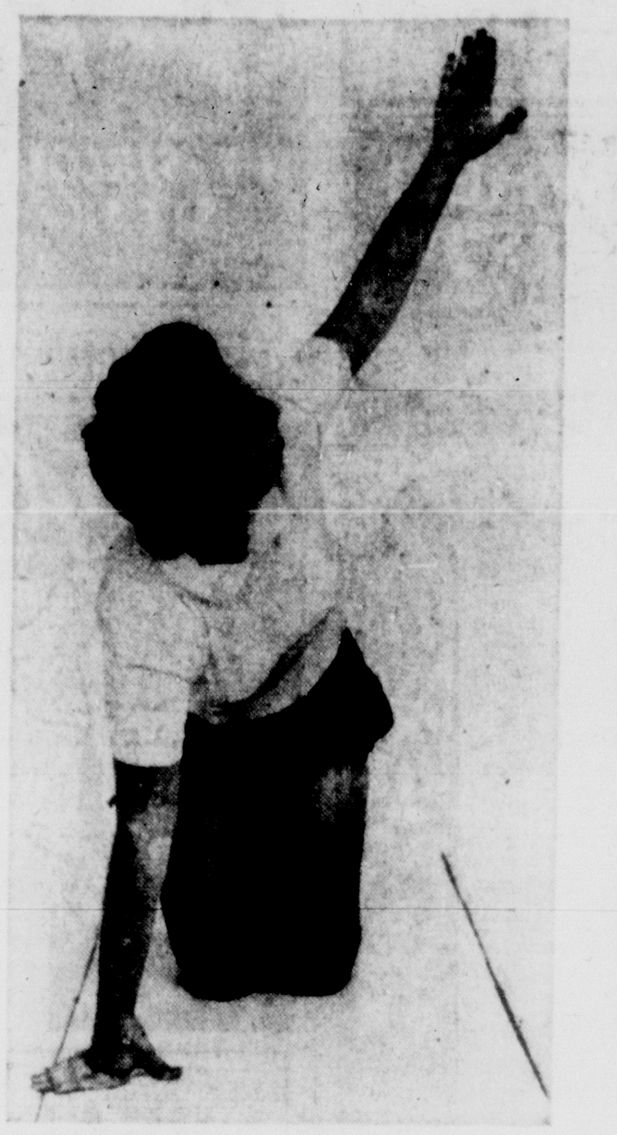
That was at the beginning of her Glamor Clinic streamlining. "I never really realized that if I stopped eating in quantity, concentrated on quality (calorie-wise), and exercised, that I would lose," she said happily.

Then came the "depressing period" when she felt useless, famished and hopeless . . . the days when she found herself going to the refrigerator, not from hunger pangs but from habit.

But the day she got on the scales at the modeling school, where she was learning about personal improvement (at Herald expense) and saw that arrow go up (three pounds' worth) instead of down, she faced reality: "From now on, if I am to have a decent figure, I must change my eating habits — not just today, but always."

NEXT: Climbing the Stairs.

For your copy of the diet Mrs. Wishful followed, and some of her exercises, send a stamped, addressed envelope with your request to Glamor Clinic, Miami Herald, Miami, Fla.



FOR ARMS, CHEST AND SHOULDER. Kneel with right hand supporting weight. Fling left arm sideward and upward from shoulder as far as possible, twisting head and trunk, and focusing eyes on hand. Alternate arms. 10 times to start, work up to 20.

THE WORLD OF WOMEN

Diving Wives Outdo Men

By Herald Wire Services

TOKYO — In the pearl diving villages of Japan, girl babies are preferred — for they are the future breadwinners.

While the women dive off the family boats, the husbands sit back and doze. "But," says the straight-voiced narrator of a Japanese film on pearl diving, "it is not true that husbands of amahs don't do anything. Those husbands worry about their wives 66 feet under water."

The wives themselves admit that at the end of a two-minute dive they are too exhausted to surface by themselves. It takes a man to pull them up.

It is hard work from morning till night. The women dive for two hours three times a day, except in the middle of winter, when they go to the ocean floor only twice a day. Between diving sessions they return to the beach, strip and warm themselves around a fire.

They dive till one month before giving birth, and in some cases have actually had their babies in rowboats.

After the last dive, there is always dinner to cook and more work to do in the rice fields or among the tea bushes.

It is not true that women are better swimmers or have greater lung power than the menfolk. But women do have one definite advantage. Their layers of fat enable them to keep warm under water.

Boaty Finds More Babies

NEW YORK — (WNS) — Alice Lee Boatwright, better known as "Boaty," is a Reidsville, N.C., girl whose job is supplying people—babies expecially—for a TV audience participation show.

Once a week, Boaty cruises the city's housing developments looking for babies who can (or can't, depending on which type is called for) walk, cry, burp or what have you.

On a recent show, contestants had to inspect three beautiful seated babies and guess which one could walk. Boaty found the required beautiful babies, making sure only one of them could walk. The morning of the show, the mother of one who couldn't walk called Boaty and proudly announced that her offspring had taken his first adorable step the previous evening.

"Things like that complicate my life," soft-spoken Boaty moans good-naturedly. The show used 12 assorted people a day, more than enough to keep Boaty and two male colleagues stepping right smartly.

"Most of my assignments seem to be pretty girls, babies and young married couples," explains Boaty. She has regular haunts, such as schools and universities, that keep an eye out for her for certain types of people. Friends from the South living in New York are also very helpful.

This American Has Nasser's OK

CAIRO — Lillian Trasher, "The Mother of the Nile," is a beloved American who has been housing and educating Egyptian orphans for almost 50 years. And she seems to be getting along all right in a Middle East torn by strife and plagued by anti-Americanism.

No less a person than President Gamal Abdel Nasser himself has assured her American friends that her work will not be interfered with.

"As regards Miss Lillian Trasher, I pride myself on the humanitarian duty she is performing," he said.

Miss Trasher has an orphanage in Assiut, a small town 235 miles north of Cairo. She went to Egypt from her home in Jacksonville, Fla., in 1910.

For years she rode around the country on a donkey soliciting funds to keep her orphanage open. Even today, with many in the United States and Canada contributing, she frequently has on hand only enough money to keep the orphanage going for a few weeks.

But it does keep going, looking after as many as 750 children. So respected is this woman that she has been called "the greatest wonder of Egypt."

Must Redcap Be Tipped?

By AMY VANDERBILT

DEAR MISS VANDERBILT:

Usually, yes. For example, in New York there is a charge of 25 cents per bag and the redcap expects in addition a tip. If he carries three bags, you would give him 75 cents plus a tip of 15 cents to 25 cents, depending on perhaps the weight of the bags or their bulkiness and how far he had to carry them.

In some other cities the rate per bag is 15 cents, and because the rate varies it is best to ask what the rate per bag happens to be. At the moment, there is no rate per bag in Seattle, for instance, and you tip the porter whatever you wish.

Sometimes the rate per bag is printed on the receipt for baggage you should always get from the porter. If it isn't, ask.

They'll Salute The Teachers

Students of Miami Beach Junior Senior High School will pay a tribute to the faculty at an 8:15 PTA meeting tonight in the school auditorium.

The Thespians, dramatic group, will present a play on report cards and teachers. After the play there'll be a panel discussion led by Mayor Kenneth Oka.

BECAUSE OF HIGH BIRTHRATE

'Food Crisis Faces Us,' Mrs. FDR Warns

By ELEANOR ROOSEVELT

NEW YORK — There is an organization in Washington, D. C., that will celebrate next month its 30th year of work, and yet I think very few people are conscious of the importance of what this particular organization has been doing.

Mrs. FDR

It is called the Population Reference Bureau and it publishes the "Population Bulletin." This is used by many newspapers, magazines and colleges as reference material.

This organization is trying to tell the public that a crisis really threatens us. It is finally getting recognition and support from some small foundation grants. It needs much more understanding to get across to the people the message of the world situation on population today.

The Bureau of the Census recently released population projections that indicate that there could be 100,000,000 more people in this country by 1980. This is approximately half again as many people as there are now in the United States.

More and more organizations are beginning to see the danger signals.

Where is the food coming from? True, we are making new discoveries, and new sources of food will become known in the next few years.

But perhaps the most important thing is a wise and sane approach to the constantly increasing birthrate.

If we read back to the early days of American history, we will be impressed by the fact that out of families that consisted sometimes of 10 to 15 children, perhaps only three or four lived to old age and many more never lived beyond their early twenties. Many women died in childbirth.

Science has helped us wipe out these tragedies, but we are still expected to meet the problem that our greater knowledge has created. Fewer people die in other parts of the world through famine and epidemics.

If we are fortunate enough to wipe out war and even eventually to teach people to drive their automobiles more safely, we will gradually eliminate two major causes of death.

It is a challenge to our intelligence to meet this situation on a worldwide basis and find a sane method which will not outrage the religious or physical needs of human beings.

Lemon Puts Tang in Peas

Peas and Ham Make a Grand Pair for a Company Dinner
. . . the peas heat in the oven the last few minutes the ham bakes

By JEANNE VOLTZ
Herald Homemaking Editor

Peas, a favorite among canned vegetables, are so easy to vary.

Daily Food Guide

They can be creamed with pimiento and mushrooms for a dash of color. Serve them with tiny onions or lettuce, braised gently until crisp-tender.

For a company dinner feature canned peas delicately seasoned with lemon, sugar and onion. They heat the last 15 minutes a ham or roast is in the oven.

COMPANY FOR DINNER

Baked Ham
Stuffed Baked Potatoes
Baked Peas and Lemon
Pineapple Salad
Heated Rolls, Butter
Chocolate Chiffon Pie

Peas always are a budget dish. This year they are especially abundant and of high quality.

BAKED PEAS AND LEMON

1 1-pound can peas, drained
2 teaspoons grated onion
¼ cup melted butter or margarine
1 teaspoon sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
1 small lemon, thinly sliced

Combine peas, onion, butter, sugar and salt. Mix well. Turn into a 1-quart casserole. Top with lemon slices. Bake in a moderately slow oven (325 degrees) 15 minutes to heat thoroughly. Makes 4 servings.

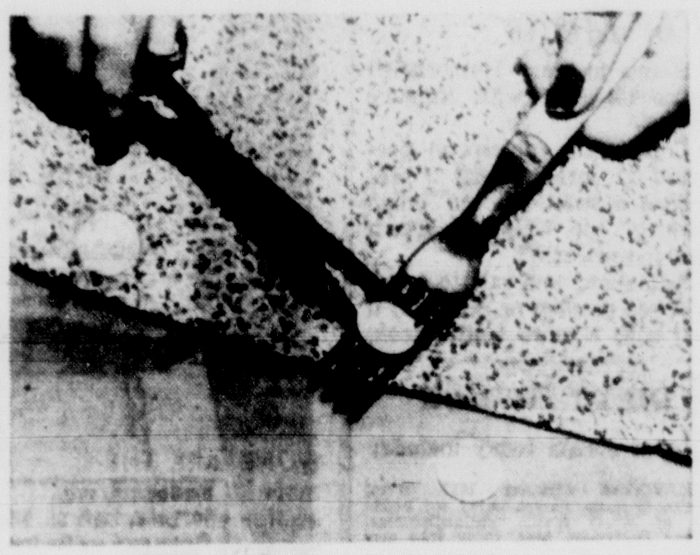
Did You Ever Snip Buttons And Leave Holes In Shirts?

By JEAN WARDLOW
Herald Staff Writer

A snip in time may do more than save nine, you know. When it comes to snipping off old buttons from a shirt front, you may cut yourself right into trouble. Because, bless your little pointed shears, you may get careless. And end up shirtless. Or with one well punctured anyway.

READERS' EXCHANGE

Try this trick. Use a fork. Slip it under each button before starting to cut the thread with scissors or razor blade. Then there'll be no danger of cutting the material.



Here's a Snippy Idea

Her Raincoat Is All Moldy

You have to give Mrs. J. A. of Hollywood credit. She and her husband have certainly reared a neat daughter. Yes, sir, neat. Very neat. As a matter of fact, TOO neat.

So now Mrs. A. has a problem.

"Our daughter folded her plastic raincoat and put it in its plastic carrying case before it was dry.

"Now the mold and mildew has penetrated the plastic and no amount of washing with soaps or detergents will remove the ugly spots.

"We'll be most grateful for any suggestions."

Nix on Powder; She Likes Gloves

None of that cotton pickin' powder business for Mrs. G.A.W. of Miami. Oh, she's read all about how easy it is to don rubber gloves after you sprinkle a little powder inside.

But how's about after? There's the powder under the nails, under the ring bit. And after a few times, you feel like you're working inside a flour barrel.

Nope, not for her.

"I would like to pass this on to Miami Herald readers," she begins. "Before donning rubber gloves . . . I put on a pair of old nylon gloves. The rubber ones slide on easily, and regardless of how messy a job I do, my hands remain clean and dry."

White Sale Hints For Happy Shopper

Happy January White Sale to you.

And now what are you going to do with your new combed cottons and petted percales? Into the closet? Aha. We're just in time.

Here are some tips from a company which specializes in this sort of thing. They'll help you keep out deep folds that can't be pressed out.

Napkins may be stacked flat and folded by hand when ready to use.

When folding tablecloths, fold lengthwise once or twice, then crosswise into accordion folds. Crushed tissue paper placed between folds will prevent heavy creasing.

Mats, table runners and small cloths may be stored without a crease if they are rolled around cardboard tubes such as ones on which shelf paper, paper towels or aluminum foil are rolled.

And for prolonged storage, it's best to launder linens and store them without starching and ironing. Yes, ma'am. Without ironing. We thought you'd like that one.

Newlyweds Return from Puerto Rico

Newly married Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Burrows spent their honeymoon in San Juan, Puerto Rico.

When they return today, they will live at 3091 SW 27th Lane. Both Mr. Burrows and his bride, the former Miss Marilyn Lehrer, are students at the University of Miami.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Burrows of Fort Lauderdale. The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. David Lehrer, 75 S. Shore Dr., Miami Beach.

Faith Has First Party

Daughter of Mrs. Edna Faith Mills, 6700 SW 28th St., Faith had 14 young friends at her party, which featured a combination of Christmas and birthday decorations. Her cake was a doll cake.

Faith's actual birthday is Dec. 26.

'Snake Eyes' for Casinos

By STEPHEN TRUMBULL
Herald Staff Writer

HAVANA — "Snake eyes," the bad omen point of the crap-shooting trade, popped up for the casino gambling industry here Monday night.

Dr. Manuel Urrutia, the new provisional president of this strife-torn republic, threw the point in one of his first interviews as he appeared at the marble-encrusted palace after a day of on-again, off-again rumors.

One of the first questions fired by the American reporters was:

"What about the gambling situation and these American gamblers, Mr. President?"

The short, dapper little fellow with the trim mustache and the tinted sunglasses hesitated not at all.

"No more gambling," he said.

Because Cuban political utterances, like our own, are sometimes subject to revision, that alone didn't really send the audience.

But then Rebel Leader Fidel Castros' handpicked boy added:

"No more gambling—absolutely."

This city has been positively crawling with big and little gambling casinos. Some are under legitimate operation but many are controlled by American gamblers who are fugitives from the subpenas of the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee.

Castro previously had been quoted as against the American gambling infiltration, but no one had taken it too seriously.

Earlier in the day, owners of the big gambling casinos had huddled to talk about reopening their operations. They were betting the wheels of chance would be spinning again soon.

J. J. (Skip) Shepard, operator of the big Capri Hotel here and of the Leamington Hotel in Miami, had told The Herald he already was receiving calls from Miami as to when things would be normal in Cuba.

He said he had told his friends to come on the first available plane.

He may have to tell them to wait awhile after he hears about Urrutia's edict.

At the same time, joyous townspeople here made the most of pandemonium which followed the end of the general strike.

Shepard and the other keepers of the big hotels where revolutionary troops are being quartered in small detachments praised the conduct of the bearded visitors.

The gambling theme provided one of the most incongruous of the downtown cleanup pictures Monday. The Plaza Casino was one of the three wrecked by the New Year's Day rioters. They did such a thorough job on this gambling house that they must have thought Batista's kin folks had a piece of the joint.

Dozens of poor people were scratching through the wreckage and the ashes looking for small coins and poker chips.

On the overturned top of a charred roulette table, four barefooted and dirty little street kids calmly played cards with a charred deck. They were using five-dollar chips salvaged from the wreckage. They ignored the passing taxi cabs, buses and the crowds.

Two Fires Hit Schools In Chicago

CHICAGO —(AP)— About 350 girl pupils were evacuated from the Richards Vocational High School Monday when smoke began pouring from a wall.

All the girls marched out of the three-story building after a janitor noticed smoke coming from a wall near the school lunchroom and sounded an alarm.

A second school fire Monday caused an estimated $50,000 damages to the school and gymnasium of St. Paul Evangelical Lutheran Church and school on the northwest side.

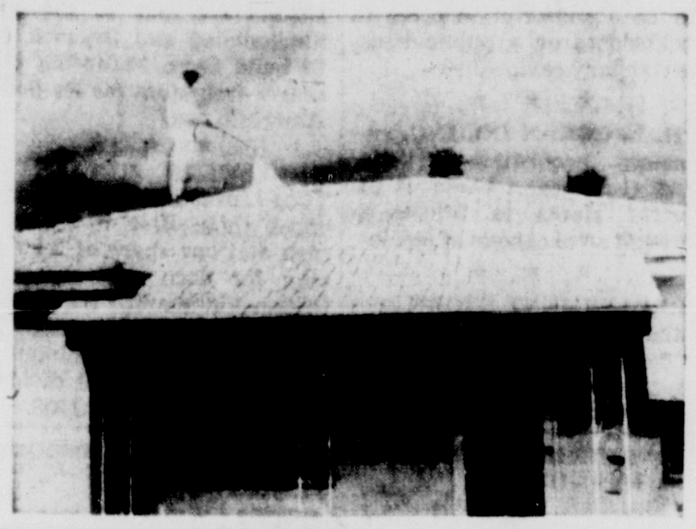
Florida Spray Offers Quality Roof Coating



MODERN EQUIPMENT and quality materials are used by workmen of Florida Spray Co. to give a guaranteed roof cleaning and coating job.

Most home owners take great pride in the general attractiveness of their homes. However, there are many who fail to realize the importance of a clean, white, tile roof.

"Look up, your roof is showing," says Bob Kuster, president of Florida Spray Co. "Is it clean and white? A sparkling white roof adds real beauty to a home, as well as making it more comfortable in which to live.

"Now that the weather is more normal, we can give fast service on all roof cleaning and coating jobs.

"This service is possible because we have experienced men operating modern, high speed equipment. These skilled workmen use only the finest materials available.

"First your roof is pressure cleaned with a solution containing fungicides to remove all the mold, fungus and dirt. This solution will not harm shrubs or grass. Cleaning is necessary because roof coatings will not bond properly on dirty tile.

"Then your roof is coated with plasticized Dura-White, a proven roof coating that has been scientifically developed for the tropics. Florida Spray is the exclusive user of this excellent roof coating. We give a one year written guarantee with each job.

"The new Dura-White will cool homes, offices and motels without air conditioners as much as 25 degrees, and it can reduce the operating costs of air conditioning in buildings as much as 40 per cent.

"It will bond gravel on roofs, as well as provide excellent insulating qualities.

"Roofs are pressure cleaned and coated for a very low price. The cost depends on the condition and size of the roof and whether it is flat or barrel tile, slate or gravel.

"Florida Spray, Florida's largest, is fully licensed and insured. This is important to all home owners. We not you, are fully responsible for injuries to our employes. We are members of the Roof Cleaning and Coating Association of Florida and the Miami-Dade County Chamber of Commerce."

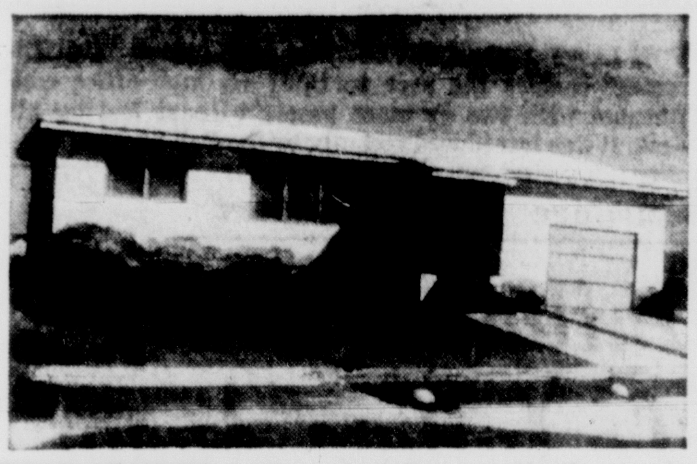
CLEAN WALLS and walks will stay rust-free where Rid-O-Rust Control System prevents the formation of stains. A special solution to remove rust stains from walls is available from Miami Water Clinic.

Miami Water Clinic Answers Problems of Well Water Rust



RUST STAINED walls and walks can be the result of free iron particles in the well water supply system. They are disheartening to the home owner.

"Why continue painting a house covered with rust stains caused by a sprinkler system throwing rust laden water when you know that in a very short time your home will again be stained by rust?" asks Dave Berman, manager of Miami Water Clinic.

"Before wasting more money on this unnecessary painting," he said, "the home owner should investigate the low cost and economical Rid-O-Rust Control System.

"Quite often, rust deposits become so heavy they clog entire distribution systems and sprinkler heads. This, naturally, would prevent effective operation of a sprinkler system.

"As a result, buildings, patios, walks, and planter bins become covered with this unsightly rust discoloration.

"The problem then is to treat the iron particles in the water in such a manner as to prevent them from turning to rust.

"This treatment is introduced into the water supply by means of a specially designed and patented feeder system and actually places the iron in solution. At the same time it improves the taste and purity of the water.

"The Rid-O-Rust Control System is entirely enclosed in an unbreakable fiberglass container. It can be installed easily on any well water system.

"Wherever water is used, its stability will be increased and rust and scale deposits eliminated through the use of the Rid-O-Rust treatment."

Further information about the Rid-O-Rust Control System and a free estimate may be obtained by visiting Miami Water Clinic at 965 SW Eighth St., or calling FRanklin 1-5202.

Fight at Beach Federal

Far-Reaching Proxy Battle Is Under Way

By JAMES RUSSELL
Herald Business Editor

A bitter proxy fight began Monday for control of Miami Beach Federal Savings and Loan Association, which is still recovering from last year's sensational federal indictments.

The indictments against four directors of the institution have been dismissed, but the aftermath of the case forms the basis for a proxy battle that could set a precedent among federal savings and loan associations.

The Beach Federal's present management, headed by President Claude Renshaw, has begun a spirited drive to gain the voting proxies of the association's 50,000 shareholders. Currently, about 90 per cent of the proxies are held by a group that includes directors who resigned when "misapplication of funds" charges were made last February.

* * *

At that time the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, which regulates practices of savings and loan associations, approved a new slate of directors for Beach Federal.

"Now," say spokesmen for the shareholder group currently in control of the bulk of the proxies, "the new directors are trying to perpetuate themselves in power and the federal government is helping them."

"If they manage to do this," says Attorney Sanders Gramling, "it will represent an advance of federal bureaucracy and socialism."

Gramling is a shareholder who represented one of the indicted directors, George Kennedy, as an attorney when the goverment brought its charges last February. Kennedy refused to resign when the Home Loan Bank Board prodded Directors Baron de Hirsch Meyer and Leonard Abess into stepping down.

* * *

In virtually directing the reorganization of the 125-million-dollar association, the Home Loan Bank Board went perhaps further than it ever had in manipulating a local association's affairs.

Claude Renshaw
. . . heads Federal

Sanders Gramling
. . . a shareholder

But it appeared then that some sort of drastic action was necessary to insure the stability of the firm.

Beach Federal lost 10 million dollars in deposits after the indictments were made public. But then, after putting former Miami Beach City Manager Renshaw into the presidency, the association regained six million of what it lost.

* * *

Appointments of new directors after the "misapplication" case broke were for interim terms. A new election to choose a directors' slate was set for Jan. 21. But the association expects the Home Loan Bank Board to approve an extension of the date until Feb. 18, giving more time for the proxy fight to develop.

The shareholders object strenuously to this, maintaining it is more "unwarranted" federal interference.

Privately, their spokesmen concede the extension will be granted.

The proxy drive now under way by Beach Federal is the first by a savings and loan association in Florida in many years—and one of the few ever conducted in the nation. Law does not require regular proxy solicitations.

"Members of the association will be asked, in effect, for a vote of approval of the record of the present management," the Federal said in a statement. "Everyone with a savings account and everyone who has a mortgage with the association has the right to vote."

A federal court order late in December curbed Beach Federal in its proxy plans. Judge Robert Wilkin prevented the present directors and the Home Loan Bank Board from using company funds in the fight, unless the proxies are limited to one year and are limited to election of directors from ranks of both factions.

* * *

The proxies are being solicited for 14 men, named in the court order — Renshaw, Mitchell Wolfson, Carl Weinkle, John E. Shuey, Henry D. Williams, Ritter Levinson, Myron H. Willison, Milton Weiss, A. Louis Brown Jr., Arnold Levy, B. P. G. Harig, Marcus O. Sarokin, Radford Crane and Paul Wimbish.

Local federal savings and loan company officials who are not involved in the Beach Federal affair view the fight as a test of the federal government's authority in this field.

"The Home Loan Bank Board is supposed to keep a 'hands-off" attitude in these things," one source said. "But then this was an unusual circumstance at Beach Federal."

Insurance Firm's Report

Inflation Ready To Inflate Again

MINNEAPOLIS —(UPI)— Another round of inflation is building up a "new head of steam" and inevitably will force a fresh wave of price increases, a report by the Northwestern National Life Insurance Co., said.

In spite of the current lull in price advances inflation looms as a grim, long-range certainty unless the general public is given a clear understanding of what is going on, Northwestern's Family Economics Bureau pointed out.

THE GOVERNMENT is operating at a deficit of around $12 billion for the year ending June 30 and the outlook is for continuing deficits thereafter. This means billions more "checkbook dollars" poured into circulation without a corresponding increase in goods to buy.

PRACTICALLY any real effort to reduce government spending runs into opposition from one or more pressure groups.

COSTS OF LABOR and materials are rising in many fields.

AMERICAN INDIVIDUALS, like their government, live beyond their incomes. Too many families going deeply into debt exaggerated the recent inflationary boom and sharpened the recession which followed.

The bureau warned that living beyond our means produces the modern credit form of inflations through checkbook dollars, as contrasted with the more easily understood inflation by means of printing-press money.

If government printing pressures began pouring out batches of new paper money there would be instant public alarm, the bureau said. "People understand paper money inflation and realize it sends prices soaring and makes everybody's money worth less."

But because present-day money in circulation is more than 90 per cent bank checks, inflation works its damage in a more roundabout way, and its various forces are harder for the average person to understand and keep track of, it noted.

Ocean Floor Has Fortune In Minerals

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Scientists say large areas of the Pacific ocean floor may be worth half a million dollars a square mile because of extensive ore deposits.

Dr. Hugh Odishaw, executive director of the U. S. National Committee for the International Geophysical Year, made the estimate in a report published in "Science" Magazine.

He said studies of the Pacific floor disclosed extensive areas covered with a sludge containing manganese, iron cobalt and copper. He said the concentrations suggested an ore value of about $500,000 per square mile.

Flag Market Hits Low

Industry sources say the bottom has dropped out of the flag market because the government delayed too long in releasing its design for the new 49-star flag.

The general market for American flags brings sales to around 10 million flags a year, but many purchasers have delayed buying replacements to wait for the new flag.

Now that the design has been announced, manufacturers expect a heavy demand. They are ready to start turning out 49-star flags at the rate of several thousand a week.

Savers Keepers, Borrowers Weepers in Business Comeback

By SYLVIA PORTER
Financial Analyst

If business continues its current strong comeback in the months ahead, credit will tighten, interest rates will climb.

To you, as a borrower, this will mean it will be harder to get a loan to expand your business, to buy a home, to carry on other activities, and you'll pay high rates for the loans you do get.

To you, as a saver, this will mean you'll get a fatter return on cash you have available for investment in new bonds and in mortgages.

Only if business goes into another slide is it likely that credit again will become easy and interest rates again will slide.

* * *

You have been put clearly on notice that this is the outlook by no less a power than the Federal Reserve System itself—the Central Bank of the United States which regulates the supply of money in our country and which is a key force in determining the level of all borrowing rates.

Already many loan rates are at the highest levels in far more than a quarter-century. Already home builders are worrying that a shortage of mortgage money in 1959 may cripple building of homes this year.

For even when the revival from the 1957-58 recession was in its infancy this past summer and fall, the Federal Reserve System began to clamp down on credit—started to "mop up" free funds in the nation's banks so money wouldn't be so easy and the banks wouldn't be so eager to extend speculative, potentially inflationary loans.

* * *

Right now, in these first days of January, the system is actively pursuing its "mop up" policy to make sure that the banks don't get loaded with extra cash which they'll rush to put to use.

As the Federal Reserve has reduced the availability of credit in recent months, the price of that credit—the level of interest rates — has risen spectacularly.

The mighty U.S. Treasury must pay over 4 per cent interest to get a modest long-term loan today. As recently as this past June it was paying 3¼ per cent for a long-term loan, and buyers were scrambling for the bonds.

The top-notch corporation borrowers of the nation can still get loans at the prime rate of 4 per cent, but terms of the loans, in effect, raise the rate closer to 5 per cent. As recently as six months ago top-notch corporations were getting loans at little more than 3½ per cent.

* * *

As for mortgage money, if you're a superb risk and want only a small mortgage you might get one at 5¼ per cent. It's more probable that you'll pay 5½ to 6 per cent — the precise charge depending on the community in which you live, and your banking connections.

Why is better business in 1959 due to bring tighter credit, higher interest rates? Because the Federal Reserve fears that inflation will damage the business recovery, and it is determined to use its powers to the utmost to help maintain the value of the dollar.

It cannot directly control the Federal budget deficit. It cannot directly restrain the advance in wages or in prices of goods and services. It cannot directly curb installment buying.

But it has authority to restrict the use of credit in the stock market and this it has done by raising the requirement for buying listed stocks on margin (credit) to 90 per cent. It has authority to restrict the general supply of bank credit and to make borrowing from banks more costly. This, too, it has done.

* * *

If business does continue rebounding this year there'll be a greater demand for bank funds — but the Federal Reserve will not expand the supply to equal the demand. And as the greater demand for money will hit the limited supply, natural economic forces will tend to raise the cost of borrowing.

If you expect business to improve this year — a logical expectation — and if you know you're going to need money as 1959 rolls on, the message of this report is blunt:

Arrange for your loan before it becomes tougher to get and the cost of it becomes more expensive.

Profits Drop

Can We Keep Them On Farms?

Miami Herald-Chicago News Wire

CHICAGO — Rising costs and expected lower prices for hogs, wheat, poultry and eggs will put the squeeze on farm profits in 1959.

The outlook is for a 5 to 10 per cent reduction from the 13 billion dollar net income of U.S. farmers estimated for 1958, the best in five years.

However, the better business outlook and increasing employment will benefit a million or more farm people who have full or part time jobs away from home.

Off-farm income now accounts for one-third of farmers' total net, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The industrial pickup will partialy offset thinner margins from livestock and crops.

Should the income drop forecast for next year be a full 10 per cent, farm buying power will still be ahead of 1957.

So business in the rural areas should be brisk, for the all-time record crops of 1958 will show up on the credit side of farm ledgers as they are marketed through the first six to eight months of the new year.

Here is a quick rundown on the 1959 outlook by commodities:

HOGS — Prices will be lower, reflecting a 14 to 15 per cent increase in the 1958 fall pig crop and a possible 20 per cent gain in '59 spring farrowings. Big drop will come next winter and in 1960.

CATTLE — High prices for fedder stock will cut cattle feeders' margins but increase profits of ranchers and grass farmers. No drop in cow and fat cattle prices foreseen.

DAIRY PRODUCTS — Prices will be strong as supply comes into balance with consumer buying. Biggest drop in dairy cow numbers since 1948 due to high prices for cow beef.

SOIL BANK — Government payments to farmers will be sharply lower. Acreage reserve plan is abolished. Payments under conservation reserve plan are modest.

Food Chain Head Speaks

We Spend Less Time To Pay for Our Food

NEW YORK —(UPI)— Thanks to research, technological advances and greater efficiency in the food industry, Americans are eating more and spending less time to pay for their food than a decade ago, the head of the nation's biggest supermarket chain says.

In a year-end statement Ralph W. Burger, president and board chairman of the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co., said the industry did the greatest job in its history in 1958 and is faced with an even bigger job in 1959.

THREE MILLION more persons were fed than in 1957.

PRICES were held down despite rising costs.

MORE THAN $1 billion was spent on construction and inventory to improve services.

THE TREND toward built-in services continued at a "phenomenal pace."

CHAIN RETAILERS continued to operate at the low rate of 1.25 cents profit on each sales dollar while the profit rate for food manufacturers was 2½ cents.

But Burger said "no matter how good our performance was in 1958 we cannot rest on our past record.

"We must be flexible in the future, as we have been in the past, to recognize, and adapt our operations to . . . changing needs and tastes. But always with the basic policy of more good food for the customer's money in mind."

COMPLETE N.Y. STOCKS: 6th Straight Mart Record

Dow-Jones Average Up 2.58

NEW YORK — (AP) — The stock market weathered some profit taking and pushed on to its sixth straight record high Monday.

An estimated $1,400,000,000 was added to quoted values of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

Volume rose to 4,210,000 shares from 3,380,000 Friday and was the biggest since 4,250,000 shares changed hands Dec. 11. The ticker tape was late on six occasions.

The 1,279 issues traded made it the broadest market since Nov. 24 when 1,287 issues were dealt in. The latter was the broadest market since January, 1955.

Alleghany Corp., holding company for New York Central, was the most active stock, rising 5-8 to 11¼ on 78,700 shares. Second was New York Central, up 1 3-8 to 30 5-8 on 70,000 shares.

DO YOU OWN A MORTGAGE
YOU WISH TO SELL?

Perhaps you sold some property and accepted a mortgage as part payment—and money in hand could now be used to advantage for other investments.

That's where we can be of assistance to you, because we purchase mortgages on desirably located improved Miami residential and commercial property.

FINANCING and Refinancing for Homes and Improved Properties

HOW TO INVEST in stocks and bonds
Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith

How to be a Better Investor —

Finish page 32 of our brand-new booklet, "HOW TO INVEST IN STOCKS AND BONDS"—and we think you'll know.

Written in the plainest English possible to give you the basic facts and fundamental principles of stocks, bonds, and investing, "HOW TO INVEST" tells you just who should invest and why—explains exactly what it is, how to get the information you need—and how to determine the best time to start.

It discusses in detail three major investment objectives and how to choose yours, thoroughly explores the role of bonds and stocks—both common and preferred—in achieving them, and takes up in turn how brokers can help, which securities to buy, and where the Monthly Investment Plan fits in.

A pocket-size revision of one of our most popular booklets—nearly two and a half million sent out so far—"HOW TO INVEST IN STOCKS AND BONDS" is close to being required reading for anybody who wants to invest—or wants to invest better.

If you'd like a copy — without charge, of course — simply call, come in, or write—

SIX MILLION DOLLARS IN 1958

$6,000,000 dividends on savings has been declared by FIRST FEDERAL for 1958. This is an all-time record for Florida financial institutions. In the past quarter century FIRST FEDERAL has paid on savings accounts dividends in excess of $32,000,000, likewise a state record for financial institutions. In this same period the Association has earned and set aside $18,000,000 in reserves to safeguard the future and provide its account holders the strongest possible assurance of future liberal dividends on savings.

There are about 6,200 savings and loan associations in the United States. According to latest available statements FIRST FEDERAL OF MIAMI has a larger amount in reserves than any but four of them. FIRST FEDERAL OF MIAMI ranks third among the 20 largest associations of the nation in ratio of reserves to savings. Reserve strength should be a prime objective of every financial institution.

Everyone who remembers the late 1920's and early 1930's in Miami can understand why the achievement of strength in our financial institutions is important. In those years of storm, panic, depression and severe failures, very few escaped calamity. This was Florida's darkest hour. And it was then that AMERICA'S OLDEST FEDERAL, the undersigned association, was chartered and opened for business.

The early days of the Association were not easy. The Federal Savings and Loan System was new, not yet understood by the public. Several thousand financial institutions had failed throughout the United States, many of them in Florida. Public confidence was at low ebb. Not many people had funds with which to open new savings accounts.

But perhaps it was better to face adversity in the beginning, and in the hard way learn some lessons which the management of every financial institution should know. Sooner or later economic adversity strikes most businesses and most families. The lessons learned from it should prevent more serious losses to others later on. There is no substitute for experience, no substitutes for conservatism and strength in financial institutions which safeguard the money of other people. The savings institution which does not play safe, and create strong reserves itself, is scarcely in good position to urge others to do so.

The Federal System of insured savings and loan associations was founded to improve the economic position of the American people. It is charged by law with the functions of promoting thrift and debt-free home ownership. In the relatively brief span of 25 years it has grown faster than other systems of state or Federally chartered financial institutions ever grew in a similar period. In recent years this Federal System of insured savings associations has been taking nearly 40% of the urban home financing of the United States. In this state these Federally insured savings institutions hold more private savings and finance more homes for Florida people than any other class of financial institution.

The 1958 financial statement of the Association will be ready for distribution in a few days, and is available on request. It will show resources in excess of $230,000,000; savings accounts aggregating about $200,000,000; protective reserves exceeding $18,000,000; and mortgages owned approximately $190,000,000. In recent years operating costs have been gradually declining in ratio to resources; and operating profits have been gradually increasing. These trends have increased reserves steadily and have made possible the dividend disbursements previously mentioned.

In recent years Florida has prospered and has grown rapidly in population, production and wealth. For the past 6 years Florida has been second only to California in the rate of population gain. 25% of this increase in population is in Dade County alone. The rate of increase in the personal incomes of our Florida families is one of the highest in the nation. Although Florida is one of the fastest growing states in the Union, the savings associations in this state are growing even more rapidly. About one family in every three in Florida has an account in a savings and loan association.

The holders of these savings accounts consider them to constitute the family cash reserve to provide immediate assistance in any emergency. These protective funds are necessary alike to people of modest means and to people of wealth. It is an almost universal practice among persons and business concerns of great means to keep their affairs "liquid" so that ready cash in substantial amount is always available when needed. Protective cash reserves of this kind are "saved capital." It is only through the process of earning and saving that any individual or family attains genuine social security, as well as funds with which to take advantage of opportunities as they occur.

Many financial authorities have listed the savings and loan associations as one of the greatest sources of private investment capital. These associations, for the most part, are mutual institutions owned by those who have savings accounts therein. They render essential services to savers and home owners and pay liberal dividends.

We hope you select FIRST FEDERAL SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION OF MIAMI in which to build your cash reserve. It is the oldest and one of the largest in the nation. It is the largest mutual savings institution in the South, strong in reserves and equipped to serve you well.

Watch Out for These Changes in 1959

Washington, D.C. -- The watchwords for the new year may well be..."prosperity, but" --

It will be a time to follow the news closely, and to carefully estimate its consequences.

According to U.S. NEWS & WORLD REPORT, the weekly news magazine published here, there will be a strong, new boom in 1959 but with it, problems, and a continuing struggle against inflation. Profits and incomes will start up again but the cost of many things may edge up also.

Integration and school problems will stay in the news; there will be sudden new developments to watch for. Politics will get "hotter." You may see first photos of the "dark side" of the moon. And no one expects Russia to change from the course which led this year to shooting wars at Quemoy and in the Middle East...and which may lead to other, more costly actions in the months to come.

INCOMES of people will reach new high ground. Employment and hourly pay will keep going up.

UNEMPLOYMENT will decline -- but is likely to continue as a nagging problem in some areas.

OUTPUT OF GOODS, which was down rather sharply in the recent recession, will recover lost ground and be breaking records before mid-1959.

CONSTRUCTION, over-all, will reach new highs, too. Contracts already awarded assure that. A strong revival is under way in housing.

PROFITS, severely hurt in recession, will come back quickly as business volume gains.

GOVERNMENT SPENDING will flow into bigger payrolls, arms industries, highway construction, huge river and harbor projects. The total will be larger than for any previous peacetime year in history -- larger, in fact, than for any year of the Korean War.

COST OF LIVING is expected to rise only slightly. Meat prices are likely to dip. Foods, generally, will tend to be stable to a trifle lower. Rents are likely to edge up a bit. Fuel will be little changed, but firm. Clothing will be little changed. Shoes may cost a bit more. Services, a growing item, are likely to go on creeping up.

CAR SALES, which sagged to around 4.5 million this last year and were a big factor in the recession, now seem sure to reach almost 6 million in 1959, including 500,000 imported cars. Holdover 1958 models are few -- not a burden as the '57s were a year ago.

BIG WAR is not considered likely. Military appraisal is that, right now and for some years to come, superior military power will be in U.S. hands. U.S., forging ahead in nuclear power and in means to deliver that power, is not far behind in missile development and will catch up.

INTEGRATION will progress little in the South. Supreme Court decisions cannot end the South's school problem. The South, at the same time, is being pushed into a narrower and narrower position from which to maneuver. This problem will grow.

Of course this isn't the whole story of 1959 by any means. The lesson of 1957-58 was the rapidity with which the outlook can change. Sputnik, Little Rock, the recession, Lebanon, the Formosa crisis, have all powerfully deflected the main current of events during the last year and a half. The same thing can happen in 1959.

That's why more and more serious-minded Americans -- today over 1,000,000 manufacturers, retailers, investors, lawyers, accountants, realtors, educators, etc. -- rely heavily on the week-to-week guidance of U.S. & WORLD REPORT.

For this new kind of news magazine tells you about "what's really going on" in the world before it happens -- when it happens -- and after it happens.

You get the basic news coverage you'd expect plus exclusive "extras" you can't get anywhere else. Not one but five built-in newsletters. Transcribed interviews with important newsmakers. The "inside track" on important changes and trends shaping up in business, politics, government regulations, science, investments. Headlined speeches, press conferences, debates, etc., printed in full. Pictures, charts, and other visual aids for giving you facts-at-a-glance.

Every issue prepares you for new trends. Alerts you to new opportunities. Warns of possible approaching upsets. Answers the questions raised in your mind: "How will this news affect me?...my family?...my work? What is likely to come next?"

Here are just a few important questions which have recently been given this new kind of coverage...

The Town Crier

BY Jack Bell

BELL

Things have come to a hell of a pass
When a man can't wallop his own jackass.

The first mistake was made by Notre Dame big wheels, in giving so much responsibility to a young, untrained coach — which Brennan certainly was. They didn't want to release him after one year, for that would have been unfair. His teams came along for a year or two, and in 1957 Notre Dame beat Oklahoma.

But 1958 was different. The big wheels decided several weeks ago to let Terry go, and told him. He was asked to say nothing until a mid-January announcement. Terry obeyed — except for an act that shows him to be fair-minded. Knowing his assistants would be left stranded by a January announcement, he told them to start looking for jobs.

The coaches told their wives. The wives talked — and one talked to the wife of a Chicago newspaper man. She talked to her husband — and up went the Terrynik.

Sounds plausible, doesn't it?

Blood Needed

Mrs. George A. Trant of Haines City comes to Jackson Memorial Hospital for a Jan. 9 heart operation. She'll need 15 pints of blood. Friends in Haines City have donated some, but not enough. If you can help, go to the Blood Bank. Her husband is a citrus worker.

Anniversary

Nora and I were invited to a party Sunday night at Gray's Inn. Lucy and Lou Goodwin celebrated their 57th wedding anniversary. Lucy sat at one end of the table, Lou at the other. Every so often Lou would send a waiter down to see if Lucy was getting what she wanted, the way she wanted it. Then another waiter would come from Lucy, to check up on the service Lou was getting.

Finally Lucy could stand it no longer, and a waiter ordered Lou to a chair beside her. Then they cut the cake, and Lou stayed right there. Then we all went into the lounge with Charlie Farrell. Charlie and Virginia (Mrs. Farrell) used to be tenants of Lou and Lucy. And for 13 anniversaries Lucy and Lou have gone wherever Charlie's singing.

Charlie and his cute 'n beeeautiful protege Dori Lynn then sang sentimental songs (well, some of them were) to Lucy and Lou, who held hands and shed a silent tear or three. Then Lou invited us all to their diamond anniversary in 1977 and we went home.

Darned if I don't believe they'll make it, too.

Food's There

Comes an anonymous plea that we all start collecting food and clothing for the Cubans starving as a result of the revolution. I've a feeling such action isn't at all necessary. Cuba has plenty of food. And certainly the Castro regime isn't so stupid as to let the people go hungry for long. The Castrovians have spent so much money for war, they must have a few dollars left for food.

Ah, Africa!

An Air France folder lay on my desk, and I note I can take a 26-day safari to Africa for $2,376.60, go from Brazzaville to Zanzibar for $2,498. And for $5,161.60 I can go on a tiger hunt with the Maharaja Cooch Behar.

All I need now is money.

This tiger hunt: "The pursuit of tiger from the back of a beat elephant is an experience that cannot be compared with any other form of big game hunting."

Bob Pentland and Fritz Gordon tried that. Their comments agree with the folder: nothing like it. But the most mild statement from either was from Pentland: "It stinks."

'Electrocution' Story for Southeast Surgeons

He Can Keep a 'Suicidal' Heart Alive

By LAWRENCE THOMPSON
Herald Staff Writer

A man takes a swing with his golf club, then falls dead before seeing where the ball went—but his heart was too healthy to die.

Science now has discovered why such persons die:

The heart electrocutes itself—an execution which could have been averted by surgery.

This is one of the things which 1,000 of the most skilled surgeons in the Southeastern U.S. were told Monday by some of the 100 national and international specialists addressing them this week.

The doctors are attending the regional assembly of the International College of Surgeons in the Americana Hotel. The assembly opened Sunday and will continue through Wednesday.

The "Case of the Heart That Electrocuted Itself" was discussed, in technical terms, by Dr. Claude S. Beck, Cleveland.

He was speaking specifically of what often happens to persons with angina pectoris, a form of heart disease.

In such cases, one of the arteries in the heart is blocked off by some obstruction, depriving a heart muscle of blood. This creates the equivalent of an electrical condition.

When this muscle touches another muscle that had a good blood supply, it causes the same reaction as if the heart were touched by an electric wire.

Literally, the heart electrocutes itself, with the heart making its own electricity. "Death may occur in a heart that structurally is too good to die," said Dr. Beck.

The ironic part of such "heart attacks" is that many of them could be avoided if there were an operation ahead of time.

Dr. Beck said that operations can be performed on the surface of the heart to route blood around obstructions in the arteries, thus relieving pain and eliminating the dangerous electrical currents. He said the operation should be performed before the disease gets too severe.

Dr. Beck has performed this operation on more than 600 victims of angina pectoris, with a high rate of success. "Any good surgeon can do it after some experience," he stated.

Those delegates who didn't attend the assembly viewed technical exhibits or watched movies.

Each day, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., operations performed in St. Francis Hospital are brought to the hotel by closed circuit color television.

Boy Shark Victim Has Tests Of New Leg, Finds It Works

By ELVALEE SWIFT
Herald Staff Writer

Doug Lawton is a brown-eyed 9-year-old who is learning to walk again.

He moved stiffly, but surely, down the hall of Edison Park Elementary School Monday, grinning proudly.

This fourth grader has a brand new leg.

It isn't as limber yet as the one he lost to a vicious tiger shark at a Sarasota beach, last summer, but that doesn't bother Doug.

"I can move without canes now," he said. "Watch me."

He threw a pair of tot-sized canes to his mother, and walked slowly to the water fountain.

A lingering smile lit his enormous eyes. "I can do anything anybody with two legs can do," he said.

His teacher, watching from a corner, nodded. "He does," she said. "He plays all the games just like the other youngsters."

Doug rattled on happily about his Christmas presents. "I got a big dog I named Droopy," he said, "and I got this new red shirt."

He seemed to have forgotten other days . . . when a man-eating shark darted into shallow water and ripped his leg . . . watching the big fish repeatedly tear his flesh as his brother and father frantically tried to beat it off . . . the long hours in the hospital.

"You see this billfold," he said in a grown-up voice. "Well, I got it for Christmas, and look inside."

He had money. Lots of change and two dollars. "I'm saving," he confided, "to get a model car. I collect them."

"People in Sarasota collected about $1,000 for us," said his mother, Mrs. Richard Lawton of 1245 NE 201st Ter. "I think it's enough to buy his legs until he's grown.

"They're $300 each time and he'll need a new one every three years."

Doug wasn't listening. He was walking.

Freighter Pulled Off Sand Bar

Tugs pushed and pulled four hours Monday to free the 9,000-ton, 500-foot Norwegian freighter, Millross, stuck in a sand bar off Government Cut near Fisher Island.

Police Capt. Charles E. Olsen said the 400 tons of foreign cars aboard the vessel were not damaged.

But Liability Insurance Is Up

Car Damage Rate Skids--Slightly

Automobile physical damage insurance slipped slightly Monday, resulting in an estimated $288,000 annual saving to Florida car owners.

To the individual motorist the cut will amount to about $1 a year.

State Insurance Commissioner J. Edwin Larson said the reduction was approved because of increasing profits made on the repair of wrecked cars.

Larson noted, however, that liability insurance in the state was still on the upgrade.

Asked why there is a downward trend in physical damage insurance rates when auto liability rates have been soaring, Larson replied there is no relationship between the two.

He pointed out that insurance companies know what the maximum risk is going to be in covering an auto against collision, fire or theft.

"But they don't know what the losses might be under a liability policy covering loss of life or bodily injury," Larson commented.

Larson also said he was in favor of giving a rate break to drivers with five-year accident-free records, as has been suggested.

But he added that such a plan could not be put into law.

The insurance commissioner said that in his opinion the plan would usurp the rights and prerogatives of insurance companies.

The South Florida Association of Safety Engineers incorporated the five-year plan in its recently adopted program.

The group endorsed a seven-point program proposed by the Citizens Advisory Committee on Highway Safety working in cooperation wtih the Legislative Council Committee on Highway Safety.

Homestead May Become Second Major Airport

McSherry Predicts Switch

By LEO ADDE
Herald Staff Writer

Homestead Air Force Base may become the Greater Miami area's second major airport, Dade County Port Authority Director George McSherry said Monday.

He told the Miami-Dade Chamber of Commerce's board of directors that missile-age progress plus a shift in local population trends may upset plans for Port Authority expansion into Broward County.

Port Authority consulting engineers, the Cincinnati firm of Landrum and Brown, said last Dec. 10 that this area will need a second major airline terminal between 1960 and 1970. The experts said the "logical" location is near fast-growing Fort Lauderdale.

McSherry told the Chamber that Port Authority expansion across the Dade-Broward line is still likely but not certain.

The decision, he said, will depend on two factors outside Port Authority control:

CONSTRUCTION of a Keys Causeway in South Dade. If it comes soon enough, and opens 45,000 island acres to development, population trends along the southeast coast may be "stabilized."

Since Broward already has a sizable airport, another major field in South Dade may become the logical step.

OBSOLESCENCE of manned military aircraft by rockets and missiles. "Air weapons are developing so fast," McSherry said, "that I wouldn't be surprised to see many large Air Force bases such as Homestead replaced by small launching pads inside of 10 years."

Both the Fort Lauderdale area and Homestead Air Force Base are "well beyond" the clear sky radius needed by jetliners using Miami International Airport, McSherry said.

The Port Authority Director also revealed that planning is under way for a new air freight terminal at Miami International, which leads the nation in cargo volumes. Cost estimates of the new facility have not yet been made, he added.

McSherry estimated a "seven-million-dollar return" to the Port Authority from its hotel concession over the estimated 25-year life of the building.

Besides bringing in $165,000-a-year in direct rental, he said, the hotel would generate business for other concessions such as drugstores and the auto rental agency.

Aging Woman Hit By Train, Struck 50 Feet to Death

By TONY PATRUS
Herald Staff Writer

A 65-year-old woman was killed and her companion injured Monday when struck by a Seaboard Airline passenger train they apparently never heard until it was almost on top of them.

The women, both Negro residents of a foster home for the aged, were walking along the Seaboard tracks near NW 153rd St. when the accident occurred.

The dead woman was identified as Genever White, of 2036 NW 153rd St. She was dead when emergency equipment arrived at the scene, police said. She was knocked some 50 feet by the Seaboard's Silver Star north-bound train.

Highway Patrol Trooper Jack Edgeman said Mrs. White's companion, Mattie Wooten, 63, of the same address, evidently heard the train's whistle at the last minute. She leaped off the track herself, but could not pull the other woman out of the way in time.

Mrs. Wooten was taken to Jackson Memorial Hospital with severe bruises suffered when the train brushed past, striking her as she reached for her friend.

She told investigators that when she first heard "a loud noise," she turned and saw the train almost on top of her and Mrs. White.

Paul D. Emerson, engineer of the train, said he saw the women as he rounded a curve and blew his whistle. He estimated he was going 40 miles an hour. He said one woman moved, but the other kept walking in front of the train and that her companion tried to pull her off the tracks.

The train stopped nearly 2,000 feet beyond the point at which the women were hit.

He U-Turned On Biscayne --And Died

An illegal U-turn on Biscayne Blvd. cost Charles E. Holtz his life Monday and chalked up Dade County's first 1959 traffic fatality.

Police said Holtz tried to make the U-turn from an inside lane when a truck hit his car from behind at 199th St.

He was knocked out of his seat, landed on his head, and also may have been run over by the truck, said Metro Accident Investigator Robert Jacoby.

Holtz, 57, retired, of 1248½ NE 111th St., was dead on arrival at North Shore Hospital.

The Jan. 5 death toll in 1958 stood at six.

Police said no charges will be filed against the truck driver, James Johnston, 25, Negro, of 14 NW 14th Ter. He was not speeding.

Holtz was travelling north on Biscayne Blvd. A car directly behind him was forced to swerve sharply into a parkway to avoid the 3 p.m. collision, police said, but the truck, which was following that car, was unable to stop in time.

Ken Schiekel
. . . dies in Gables

Blind, But He Led Way For Others

Kenneth R. Schiekel, blind Coral Gables newsstand operator whose life of darkness showed the way for those who could see, died Monday of a heart attack.

The popular little news vendor, 33, of 3828 Kumquat Ave., Coral Gables, lost his sight six years ago, and almost immediately established a reputation for community service.

He was scoutmaster of Boy Scout Troop 21, and specialized in rope tying classes and leathercraft. He was a frequent speaker at Gables service clubs.

He is survived by his wife, Marie, his mother, Mrs. Elsie P. Vass, and a brother, Paul, all of Miami. Private services will be under the direction of Philbrick's Coral Gables chapel.

The family has asked that, in lieu of flowers, contributions be made to the Florida Council for the Blind.

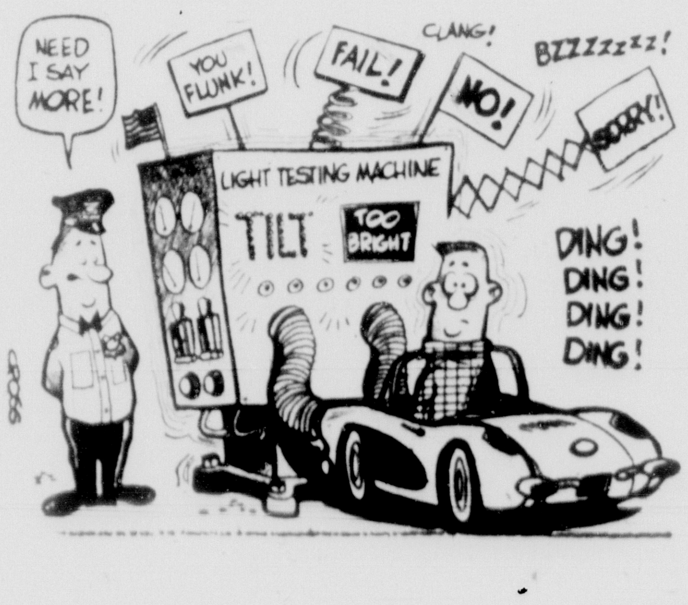
New Machines Flunk Cross-Eyed Headlights

We'd Better Get on the Beam!

By EDDIE GONG
Herald Staff Writer

New-fangled headlight testers installed this week in Metro auto inspection stations are driving motorists wild.

The new machines, designed to check proper headlight beam alignment, are consistently flunking 90 per cent of all motorists tested.



NEED I SAY MORE!
YOU FLUNK!
FAIL!
CLANG!
NO!
BZZZzzzz!
SORRY!
LIGHT TESTING MACHINE TILT
DING! DING! DING! DING!
GROSS

But the thing that's getting motorists upset is the fact that there are only a few garages in town that can properly realign their cross-eyed beams. And a correction by them often doesn't get them through on retesting.

Private realigners don't mind the new machines. They are getting as much as $3.50 for light-fixing.

"We tested 61 cars Monday and 52 of them failed the headlight test," said Tony Hirt, head of the North Miami inspection station. "That gives us an overall average of 95 per cent flunks since the new year."

"People are really kicking about this new headlight test," said Ted Bitzkowski of the Hialeah station. "Most of the rejects had beams that were either too high or too low," he pointed out.

Over in Miami Shores one motorist pleaded with inspectors on his second go-round. He had paid $3.00 for a realignment, with a garageman adjusting his lights on a chalk mark in his garage.

Bud Irwin, supervisor of Metro automobile inspection, admits it's going to be rough on motorists until they get used to the tough new test. "But there is nothing more annoying and dangerous than a headlight blinding your eyes at night."

Old Age Laws Topic of Talks

Devises Forecasting Formula

UM Prof 'Scuttles' Red Tide

By DOM BONAFEDE
Herald Staff Writer

Florida's "red tide"—the unpredictable scourge of micro-organisms which sometimes hits the Gulf Coast—has lost much of its threat as a result of research by a University of Miami professor.

A formula devised by the U-M scientist, which combines sea and weather data, makes it possible to forecast conditions which produce the outbreaks.

Explosive expansion of the microscopic water plants colors the water red, kills millions of fish and fills the air with an irritating scent.

Dr. F. G. Smith, of U-M's International Oceanographic Foundation, said in a recently published national report that the formula can forecast years when the "red tide" will probably occur and years when it is not likely to show up.

Smith, however, told The Herald that the research was not completely finished and that further experimental work was halted because state funds had been exhausted.

He said there were no plans at the present to ask the incoming Legislature for money to push the research.

"During periods when there is no 'red tide,' nobody is interested. But when it appears, everybody wants you to do something," commented the U-M scientist.

He added that that lack of assurance that the work could be continued "makes it difficult to perform long-term research."

He noted that while the work on the "red tide" up to now was encouraging, "we have just broken the surface."

Appearance of the "red tide" may be predicted by the new formula, which promises to save millions for Florida industries.

Defense Outlay Boosted To 40.9 Billion Dollars

Demos Say It's Not Enough

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — President Eisenhower unveiled a new 40.9-billion-dollar defense budget for congressional leaders Monday. Democrats promptly complained that his military and space programs failed to meet the Russian challenge.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas told newsmen after a 2½ hour White House meeting between administration officials and Senate and House leaders that he is disappointed in the President's spending plans for these two critical programs.

"They are programming as if we were living in a static rather than an exploding and expanding and developing world," he said. He added that he "would go farther, faster" than the administration in view of Soviet technical advances.

But Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R., Ill.), who is an odds-on favorite to become Senate GOP leader, told newsmen that Dr. Keith Glennan, head of the new federal space agency, outlined an "accelerated timetable" for U.S. exploration of outer space.

He said the timetable includes an attempt to fire a manned rocket to the moon. He added that the dramatic Soviet shot beyond the moon "certainly adds to the acceleration."

The President also told the lawmakers he will ask for what they call "a substantial increase" in the 3.3 billion dollars appropriated for foreign aid in the current fiscal year.

The bipartisan meeting was designed to give key legislators a preview of the defense and foreign affairs phases of the President's State of the Union message and his 77-billion-dollar budget in advance of the opening of Congress Wednesday.

Sen. Alexander Wiley (R., Wis.), ranking GOP member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said the defense budget for fiscal 1960 was pegged at 40.9 billion dollars, about 100 million dollars more than spending estimates for the current year.

The White House announced 10 days ago that the administration's overall spending budget for the new fiscal year, beginning next July 1, will be balanced at about 77 billion dollars.

Dimes Drive Opens; 1959 Goal Higher

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — (AP) — Russian medical schools are turning out 16,000 physicians a year, or more than twice as many as the U.S., the kickoff of the 1959 March of Dimes was told Monday.

And Dr. Joseph G. Hinsey, director of New York Hospital — Cornell Medical Center, also declared that "what this country does not have is the people, in anywhere near the numbers needed, who are prepared (trained) to fight the destruction caused by disease."

Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation, declared that in the next 10 years medical research in the U.S. will need three times as much money as it gets now from public contributions and industry.

O'Connor, whose foundation is expanding into arthritis and birth defects and dropping "for infantile paralysis" from its title, said the March of Dimes is setting aside 12 million dollars over the next 10 years to provide scholarships in health professions for 505 students a year.

Gems Saved from City Dump

SARASOTA — A crew of county prisoners, garbage collectors and volunteers Monday found $3,000 in jewelry, which had wound up in the city dump. The jewelry belonged to Mrs. John M. Tiller of Siesta Key.

Mrs. Tiller explained she had hidden the jewelry in a paper sack in a trash can in her home Saturday. There had been an unscheduled collection of refuse, someone had placed the can, containing the jewelry, outside and the gems were on their way to the dump.

Fire Whips Military Academy

By RICK TUTTLE
Hollywood Bureau Chief

HOLLYWOOD — A general alarm fire, which roared out of control for two hours, did an estimated $150,000 damage to the main barracks at Riverside Military Academy here Monday.

None of the 750 cadets were in the building when smoke was seen pouring from the north wing roof shortly after 3 p.m. They were on the drill field.

A brisk north wind whipped the blaze over the three-story, stucco and tile structure. A 40-foot section of roof was ablaze by the time Hollywood's six fire fighting units arrived.

No one was injured, officials said.

An investigation will get under way today to determine the cause.

Hollywood Fire Chief H. L. Cook said the fire started in a narrow attic, between the roof and the third floor ceiling. The third floor houses cadet sleeping quarters.

A firewall midway of the structure was the only thing that saved the entire third floor, and possibly the building, Chief Cook said.

The building, which contained 300 dormitory rooms, administrative offices, kitchen and cafeteria, was built in 1924 as the Hollywood Hills Inn.

The academy has been using it for over 25 years.

Gen. Beaver said the school would possibly have to return to its fall and spring quarters at Gainesville, Ga.

Academy officials said about 50 of the 750 students were from the Greater Miami area.

New Budget Is Presented In Israel

JERUSALEM, Israel Sector —(AP)— Finance Minister Levi Eshkol Monday presented a state budget based on the assumption that another 40,000 immigrants will arrive in Israel during the fiscal year beginning April 1.

The budget totals 1,336,000,000 Israel pounds ($748,460,000) — eight per cent more than the 1958-59 budget.

Eshkol said the expected new immigrants, along with the natural increase, will push up Israel's population by 4.4 per cent. At present it has just over two million inhabitants.

The minister appealed for a further increase in production and self-restraint in expenditure by Israel's upper and middle classes.

Warden, It's Cold Outside

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va. — (AP) — Two prison fugitives rapped on the gate of the West Virginia Penitentiary Monday and demanded to be let in.

It was, they explained, too cold outside.

The temperature stood at zero, and Martin Patterson and Paul A. Wagner were still clad in the thin clothing they wore when they fled a work detail at Barboursville last Saturday.

MARRIAGES USED TO BE MORE SUCCESSFUL THAN THEY ARE TODAY!
RIGHT ☐
2.
PARENTS LEARN MOST ABOUT CHILDREN FROM WATCHING THEM!
TRUE ☐ FALSE ☐

By S. M. DUVALL and EVELAN M. DUVALL, Ph.Ds

WRONG. THEY WERE more stable, but probably less successful. Read the books of men like Mark Twain and Charles Dickens carefully. Notice the quirks and peculiarities that families built into the lives of their members. Few of the people were happy and not many of them, judged in terms of their attitudes toward others, were particularly good. Most families today do a much better job than they formerly did.

2. False. Watching children is helpful, but playing with them is better. For instance, one nursery school not only urges parents to visit their children, but they organize games and play groups in which the parents participate with their little ones. The parents learn a great deal about their own children as they play together. At the same time, students in training learn much about the problems of parents and how they feel about their youngsters.

A NAME of quality rembered by thousands yet because of their determination to build only the highest quality, they too have joined the scrolls of yesteryear. But Mercedes Benz is one of the Proud Names that survived even tho their production is below 500,000 per year and the German craftmanship gives no quarter to cheapest production methods. They build a fine car in 6 sizes and price ranges. We are proud to be the oldest Mercedes Dealer in the U.S. Our stock of new and used Mercedes offers quality at the lowest possible price.

"T" MODEL

WITH all the talk of small cars much has been said about the return of the good old Model T Ford, but the advance in motordom offers far more in the Morris Minor — British built, offers up to 50 Mile per Gal. The Morris is the same length as the model "T" but wider than it is high and with luxury car Torsion bar suspension it compares with cars costing five times as much if you want a brand new Morris Club Coupe with twelve months factory warranty the price is only $1,495 but we have a nice selection of used Morris from $495.

LIFE WITH LARRY THOMPSON

Just Call Him Woody!

I HATE TO WRITE what I have in mind, because if it is freezing by the time this gets in print, or if it snows or if a blizzard ruins the season, everyone is apt to blame me for it.

The truth is that I have a secret yearning for some cold weather. I am keeping this yearning well under control, and I'm really not sincere about it because I hate cold weather, but candor forces me to admit that this treasonable yearning exists.

Now if it does turn cold, I don't want hotel owners descending on me, or a bunch of tourists forming lynch mobs for my benefit. Believe me, I have nothing to do with the weather, I don't have any influence at the weather bureau, and if it does get cold, it won't be my fault.

And remember, I don't really want cold weather. I am the sort of person who feels frostbite coming on if the thermometer goes below 65 degrees.

But you see we have this fireplace. Last year, that horrible winter when we all froze to pieces, we had to keep a fire for weeks on end, and getting enough wood to keep the blaze going was quite a problem.

* * *

WE VOWED that we'd never again be caught short on firewood. Last spring we began to gather a supply. Every time we have seen a stray piece of lumber or limb lying neglected and unclaimed, we have stopped the car in its tracks and put the wood in the trunk compartment.

Then, last summer, friends of ours had a Florida pine tree removed from their back yard. Before they had it hauled away, it was sawed into reasonably short lengths and we raided the pile with the glee of a miner who has found the mother lode.

Then, in early fall, I had to have a big limb of our poinciana tree removed so it wouldn't go through the roof of our house, and I devoted my weekends to sawing that into fireplace-sized pieces. I haven't completely finished that chore yet.

AND THEN, as I was telling of our hunt for firewood, a friend said he had a few pieces of stray lumber and wondered if I could use it.

I told him we needed all the wood we could get, and he said he'd have one of his trucks bring it by.

I was expecting a few dozen sticks, but he sent an entire truck load of lumber, ranging from lathes to 2-by-4s. I had the driver dump it in the front yard, and I've been spending my weekends trying to chop and saw it into proper sizes.

I've been doing that for several weeks now, and the pile in the front yard still looks like a small mountain. My wife says that she has seen lumber yards that look more like a front lawn than ours, and I can't pretend that she isn't almost right.

* * *

WE HAVE a pile of chopped wood in the front room. I have filled an old book case on the back porch with more chopped wood. The box on the front porch formerly reserved for milk bottles is filled with chopped wood. I have a pile of chopped wood on the ground in front, piled up against the house, as high as the porch. I have a pile of chopped wood in the back yard. I have two piles of unchopped wood in the back yard, and in the middle of the front yard is this big pile of unchopped wood.

This doesn't count the poinciana limbs that haven't been sawed yet and the poinciana and pine tree limbs that are sawed but in need of further operation to fit in the fireplace.

A stranger going by would think we ran a sawmill.

And with all of this wood hoarding and lumberjack laboring, we haven't had a breath of cold weather.

* * *

AS I SAY, I'm a warm-weather man. I never thought I would wish for temperatures below the 70s. I still hate the idea of cold ears and chilled nose. I still shudder when I remember chilled feet and icy floors.

I have not changed my attitude about that. I no more want to struggle out of a warm bed into a refrigerator house than any other loyal Floridian or any northern fugitive from a snowstorm.

But something has to be done about that wood. The only way I can get rid of it is to burn it. The only way I can burn it is to have some cold weather.

You can see that I have a problem. Honest, I don't really want it to get cold. But I do have a secret yearning for an excuse to light up our fireplace and reduce our woodpiles.

The trump suit seems to wield a strange hypnotic influence over many declarers. They don't mind losing a trick in a side suit, but it seems to be a blot on their escutcheon to lose a trick in the trump suit. Countless hands have been lost because of the desire to take an early trump finesse.

Today's bidding requires little comment. When South forced to game with his jump to two no trump, North decided to offer his partner a choice of contracts by giving a delayed heart raise. If South had only a four card suit, he was at liberty to return to no trump.

The queen of diamonds was opened and won in dummy. A trump was led to the ace, the purpose being to postpone the finesse until the second round of the suit.

Declarer realized, however, that he was somewhat short of entries to the dummy, so he followed up with the jack of spades. East permitted him to hold the trick but won the continuation with the ace and shifted to a trump. South changed his mind about finessing and went up with the king. Dummy was entered with the king of diamonds and on the king of spades the losing diamond was shed. The club finesse was then tried and when West took the trick, he drew dummy's last trump. The total casualties were two clubs, a heart and a spade.

The queen of hearts should have been declarer's last concern. He should plan to lose at most a club, a heart and a spade. On winning the diamond opening, he should first drive out the ace of spades. East will presumably return a trump. Declarer wins and enters the dummy with a diamond to take his discard on the high spade. Now the club finesse is tried and, even tho it loses, the defense cannot prevent the declarer from ruffing his losing club in the dummy. If necessary the trump finesse can be taken at the end.

Jack Kofoed Says

Integration Battle Bares Lot of Faults

AMERICA'S most immediate problem is not to match the Russian satellite in orbit around the sun, but to find a reasonable solution to integration.

Integration is not a one way street. The task is as much that of the Negro as of the Caucasian.

Let's be honest about it. So far there has been little of that admirable quality. The irreconcilable segregationist has nothing good to say about the colored man. Spokesmen for the NAACP are equally careless with tact or truth.

The original fault was the white man's. Long before the present Supreme Court made its historic decision on integration, a previous one decided that equal, but separate facilities, fulfilled the intent of the Constitution.

Had that concept been fulfilled, we'd not be in the mess we are now. The Negro did not get equal facilities.

His schools were shabby rattletraps, housing areas slums, transportation assigned for his use falling into decay. This was true, not only in the South, but the North too.

In some states he was not permitted to vote, not accorded equal justice in the courts. We must plead guilty to these counts. Because of these evils, resentment, even hatred, built up.

For years conditions improved, too slowly perhaps, but they did improve. Then, came pressure for an immediate lowering of all bars.

No matter what the rights or wrongs on either side, a Supreme Court decision can't make people get along with each other. It cannot destroy traditions . . . good or bad . . . that have existed for years.

* * *

THE NORTH sneers, because the South hasn't integrated schools, housing and social relationships. The more radical want to force such a merging with the bayonets of federal troops, if necessary.

Yet, some of the most vocal send their own children to private schools, which do not admit Negro children, and move to suburbs, where there are no Negro householders.

In many cities, as soon as a colored family moves in, whites make desperate haste to get out.

There have been few racial riots in Southern states, though a great deal was made of brawling in Little Rock. It was nothing compared with mass battles in New York, Chicago, Washington and Detroit.

* * *

I WAS REARED in the quiet city of Philadelphia. The colored segment of the population was 10 per cent or less. Now it constitutes 30 per cent.

"Jungles" of bars, cheap rooming houses and pawnshops have developed. U. S. News and World Report says: "During the first three quarters of 1958, 2,499 persons were arrested for serious crimes. Of these 1,591 were Negroes. They accounted for 32 of 38 murder arrests, and 340 out of 437 cases of aggravated assault. Some citizens won't walk the streets at night without carrying guns."

There is no doubt whites are paying the price of years of discrimination against Negroes.

But, the attitude of a city administration, which sought to promote racial mixing, and built low cost housing in middle class neighborhoods, has backfired. Whites will react with violence if jungle savagery continues, and thousands of fine, honest Negroes will suffer with the riff-raff.

* * *

A THEORY seems to have developed that a minority, fighting for what it wants and believes in, is always right, and the majority always wrong. Too much of this theory has seeped down to the ignorant and vicious, and the record speaks for itself.

The NAACP will do its own people a disservice if it does attempt everything humanly possible to help correct such unspeakable conditions as are developing in Philadelphia. Millions of white people want to see the Negro given every chance for education and job opportunity, better housing, all around improved conditions. A good deal has been done along these lines, but even the most liberal will revolt should such crimes as are happening in the Quaker City impinge on their own neighborhoods.

Nothing is ever solved unless each side looks upon its faults as well as its virtues. There are many for both colored and white to consider.

* * *

WHENEVER I went to Havana, I visited the Fronton Jai Alai. It is an old building, nesting in one of the worst slum areas of the city.

Compared with frontons in Dania, Miami, Tampa and West Palm Beach, it is a drab old crone among beautiful young women.

But, in its sweaty atmosphere some of the greats of the old Basque game have developed.

In the winter it is drained of its stars, but once the season is over in Florida, many of them return.

The old fronton is a testing ground where such veterans as Pedro Mir, Jose Cruz Salsamendi, Charlie Gonzales and others, look for newcomers of promise. Even revolution can't change that.

Friends Remember Mr. Bright Always Liked to Help Others

ONE of the nicest tributes paid James H. Bright, who died Monday, was voiced by Everett Clay, Hialeah Race Course Secretary.

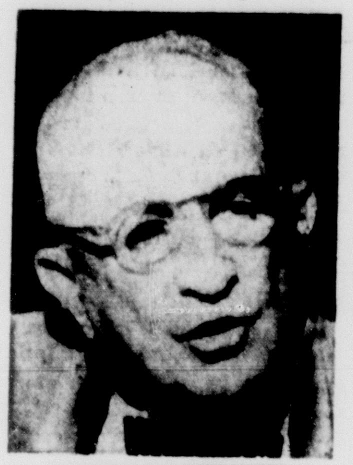
"Mr. Bright was always doing something for others," said Clay. "He helped the late Charlie O'Neil locate the proper site for his farm near Davie. Recently Mr. Bright asked a favor of me — not for himself, but for one of his friends."



JAMES H. BRIGHT

It is a matter of record that this trait of helping others had been a lifelong one with Bright. He did something really big for the community back in the 20's when he sold for $10 a 160-acre tract for a horse race track. It evolved into the Hialeah race course of today.

Bright, a pioneer in developing this area, decided that thoroughbreds could be bred and reared in Florida. The first Florida bred, Martha's Queen, was foaled at Bright's ranch in 1938.

At the time, E. R. Bradley and other friends, particularly horse breeders from Kentucky, tried to kid Bright out of his idea.

"You Florida people stick to breeding alligators and rattlesnakes and we'll raise the horses," they said.

* * *

Florida Bred Won Kentucky Derby

BRIGHT WAS determined and he found men like Carl Rose, Dan Chappell and others who shared his faith. They formed the Florida Thoroughbred Breeders Association.

The breeders elected Bright as their president and kept re-electing him until he insisted upon retiring. Then they made him president-emeritus and still looked to him for advice.

Bright never tired of remembering the "alligator" taunt and he beamed as the FTBA grew more successful each year. He was happier than the owners in 1956 when Needles, a Florida bred, won the Kentucky Derby.

Bright had been back every year since and when Hialeah opens Jan. 16, there will be many who will remember the contribution that Bright made — not only in horse racing, but in other things which have made Miami a bigger and better place.

Basketball Incident Worries UM

IT IS unfortunate that the University of Miami has become involved in a basketball controversy — particularly as Hurricane officials say they did not bring it about. The rhubarb flared over Mike McCoy, a seven-foot Northwestern freshman basketball player, deciding to transfer to UM.

Athletic Director Stu Holcomb of Northwestern was quoted as denouncing the recruiting policies of the Hurricanes. He added, "I can't believe Miami doesn't know something about this. A boy doesn't get up and go that far away without some premeditation or inducement."

Personally I accept at face value UM Athletic Director Jack Harding's declaration that UM had nothing to do with McCoy developing wanderlust. Harding says Bruce Hale, Hurricane basketball coach, has assured him he had nothing to do with it.

This makes sense in view of the UM Athletic Council's action in delaying until after the NCAA meeting this week any action about McCoy being admitted to UM. They will even discuss the matter with Holcomb, which strengthens the belief, he should have been more temperate in his remarks.

UM does not want to be placed in an embarrassing position. It could not have happened under the pre-war rules of most collegiate associations barring use of transfer athletes.

Oklahoma Supporter Angry

COMMENT HERE about Coach Bud Wilkinson refusing to have his Oklahoma players use the Orange Bowl dugout inspired varying reaction. Some thought Oklahoma should have acceded to the OBC's request. Others defended the Sooners.

J. W. Bounds, 2740 NW 22nd St., sent a clipping from the Tulsa World about visitors being gypped. Bill Henthorne of that paper wrote:

"Sunday night showed up a good example, for instance. The Sooner players were guests at a team dance. The unmarried players escorted airlines stewardesses. One of the boys thought it would be nice to get away from the clamor so he walked his girl next door to the swank Americana Hotel. He ordered a coke for himself and his date ordered something to which she obviously was more accustomed.

"One coke, one drink, one bill. Twenty dollars. That, for the benefit of you who have not been so clipped, is called a beverage minimum."

Bounds adds, "How do you think the Oklahoma player and his date felt about paying $20 for a coke and a drink and then go to the game next day and that same player has to set down to let a $7.50 ticket holder see him play football. We Okies are not as dumb as you copy men play us to be."

COMMENT: The two incidents have no relation, although I think it is wrong to overcharge people, here, or anywhere else. It also is true that if the player had remained at his own team's party he would not have exposed himself to a $20 charge.

7-Foot McCoy Denies Persuasion, 'Just Thought I'd Like Miami'

By STEVE McNAMARA
Herald Sports Writer

Seven-foot Mike McCoy of Fort Wayne, Ind., insisted Monday that his arrival in Miami was prompted only by the belief "I think I'll like the place."

McCoy had been the object of an intensive search, and the subject of several thousand words, since Saturday when he announced he was quitting Northwestern University.

In addition to being seven-feet tall, Mike was one of Indiana's best high school basketball players last year, so his departure caused something of a furore in Northwestern circles.

Northwestern Athletic Director Stu Holcomb charged there had been some tampering. Everybody but Mike was quoted on what appears to be the most celebrated departure since MacArthur checked out of the Philippines.

On Monday Mike said his first words on the subject. Looking very much like a college freshman, except he's seven-feet tall, this is what he said:

"I wasn't happy at Northwestern. First of all, I just didn't like the atmosphere.

"And another reason is that it was awfully tough academically. Yeh, I passed everything. But I would have been on probation next quarter and if I didn't get off I wouldn't have been able to play ball.

"You have to do more than pass up there. You have to get really good grades.

"I had pretty well made up my mind to leave before the quarter was over. But I wanted to stay around and get my grades.

"You know, last summer it was all set for me to come to Miami. Then this guy came down from Northwestern and talked me into going up there.

"So when it got so I didn't like it up there I decided to come down here. No, I hadn't heard from (UM basketball) Coach (Bruce) Hale since last summer.

(UM varsity basketball players Dave Hickox, Bruce Applegate and Dick Berghoff and transfer Chris Stavreti are all from Fort Wayne).

"No, I hadn't heard from any of them this fall. They didn't even write to me.

"But when I got home for Christmas I talked with Chris. He said he liked it a whole lot down here. So it just seemed like a good place to go. I decided to drive down with Chris.

"I know a lot of kids, maybe 10, 12, 15, from Fort Wayne who are down here. And that's besides basketball players.

"Since there are a lot of players from Fort Wayne, they play up the Miami games pretty good in the Fort Wayne papers. And everybody thinks a lot of Coach Hale. He played pro ball up there.

BRUCE HALE

STU HOLCOMB

"My mother said it was my decision. She said if I wasn't happy (at Northwestern) there was no point in staying.

"I'm going over to the admissions office tomorrow or the next day and have them transfer my credits. I can stay on campus with Chris for only 48 hours so I'm going to get a job and a place to live until the semester starts (Feb. 2).

"I can start working out with the team once I'm enrolled and I can play after a year. Then I've got three year's eligibility left.

That's what Mike McCoy had to say. There were some other pertinent comments:

* * *

JACK HARDING, UM athletic director — "We'll wait until the NCAA convention this week before offering the boy a scholarship. We want to talk to Stu Holcomb and clear up any misunderstanding."

* * *

Nadir's Starting Chances: 50-50

Sprain KOs Clem For Tropical 'Cap

By RUSS HARRIS
Herald Turf Writer

Clem is definitely out of Saturday's $50,000-added Tropical Park Handicap, and the chances are 50-50 that Nadir may also miss the mile and an eighth chase.

Clem, three-time conqueror of Round Table, had a mishap in his last workout and will not be ready for Saturday's race, Trainer Bill Stephens said Monday night.

"We are treating him with X-ray therapy and expect to have the trouble cleared up shortly," Stephens said.

The trainer said Clem will start in the $20,000 Palm Beach Handicap at Hialeah Jan. 28. The Palm Beach is a seven-furlong event and will serve as Clem's tuneup for the richer McLennan and Widener Handicaps.

Moody Jolley, who trains Claiborne Farm's Nadir, said he will decide tonight, after studying the weights, whether his colt runs Saturday.

"The chances are about 50-50," Jolley added.

Nadir was declared from last Saturday's $20,000 Orange Bowl Handicap, which was won by Calumet Farm's Bardstown in a record-smashing performance.

The seven-year-old Bardstown came out of the race in good shape and is expected to seek the Tropical Handicap for the second time Saturday.

Nadir was withdrawn from the Orange Bowl 'Cap largely because of the size of the field (13 started) and an unfavorable outside post position. The four-year-old colt has been training splendidly, but Trainer Jolley obviously intends to see that his charge's 1959 debut is made under favorable conditions.

Bill Hartack has been signed to ride Nadir in all of his engagements this year. The Claiborne colt won $204,312 in purses last season.

Mrs. Tilyou Christopher's Amerigo and J. L. Appelbaum's Mister Jive, who finished second and third to Bardstown last week, are likely to take another crack at him.

VENTURI

'Hot' Venturi Wins LA Open

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — California's Ken Venturi fashioned an 8-under-par 63 in an amazing come-from-behind performance that won the $35,000 Los Angeles Open golf tournament Monday.

Eight strokes behind the leader, Art Wall Jr., going into the final round, the 27-year-old Venturi wrecked the Rancho Golf Club Course and its par 36-35—71 with a round of 30-33—63 that gave him a 72-hole total of 278.

The 30 broke the course nine-hole record and the 63 equaled the 18-hole course record set in this tournament by Tommy Bolt in 1956.

Venturi was even with par on the first two holes. Then he began to take the course apart.

He holed putts from 12 and 18 feet out for birdies on the third and seventh holes.

Then came back-to-back eagle threes.

His ball hit a woman spectator on the 12th, costing him a stroke to par. He got it back with a birdie on the 14th with a 20-foot putt, canned a three-footer on the 16th and closed out the round before a packed gallery at the 18th wih a 12-foot putt for a birdie three.

Alone in third place and a threat for second until the final putt was Texas' Billy Maxwell with a 72 for 281. Young Doug Sanders, a newcomer from Miami who was the second round leader, finished with a 74 and 282.

Brennan Mulls Pair Of Coaching Offers

CHICAGO — (AP) — Terry Brennan, deposed Notre Dame football coach, is mulling over three business offers and two tentative coaching bids, The Chicago Daily News said Monday.

In a telephone conversation with Brennan, who is attending the NCAA meetings in Cincinnati, the News quoted him as saying that the three business offers were in Chicago, Milwaukee and South Bend.

"I don't want to mention the schools (coaching bids) because right now I am 50-50 on whether to resume coaching or get out," Brennan told John Carmichael, News sports editor. "A lot would depend on the offers."

The News added: "the ex-Irish mentor said he had received thousands of letters and wires since his enforced departure. He said: 'and I'm happy to say that most of them were favorable.

JACK DANIEL'S
Old No. 7
Tennessee
WHISKEY

OLD TENNESSEE WHISKEY MAKERS fondly remember this sight. It's the burning of a rick of hard maple to make a special kind of charcoal for Charcoal Mellowing a sippin' whiskey. It's a rare sight today because just one distillery now takes the time to smooth out its whiskey the old-time way . . . and that's our small Jack Daniel's distillery in Lynchburg, Tennessee. Because the ancient Tennessee manner of making Jack Daniel's Whiskey can't be hurried, your dealer may sometimes run out of it. If so, won't you please try again later?

Auburn Outclasses Ole Miss, 60-47; Gators, Cincy Win

By The Associated Press

AUBURN — Auburn ran its basketball winning streak to 20 in a row, longest college victory string in the nation, by outclassing Mississippi Monday night, 60-47.

The host Tigers were led by sharpshooting junior Guard Henry Hart who tallied 16 points, and the backboard domination of 6-5 Rex Frederick. The big forward captured 13 of Auburn's 33 rebounds to 24 snatched by their Southeastern Conference rivals.

With only 2:20 minutes gone in the first half the Tigers went ahead for the night when Frederick dropped in two free throws and gave Auburn a 6-4 edge. Thereafter Auburn usually held a 10 to 12 point lead.

UF Wins, 69-63

GAINESVILLE — A ballhawking Florida basketball team shrugged off its underdog role and handed Louisiana State its first Southeastern Conference defeat 69-63.

Two sophomores, Paul Mosny and Bobby Shiver, made their first appearance in the Florida starting lineup and it was the 5 foot 11 Mosny who sparked the Gators with 14 points.

The Gators took command from the first layup by Tommy Simpson and were so completely in charge that the final margin of six points was as close as the LSU Tigers got after the early moments. At one point midway of the first half Florida crammed in 14 straight points and held a 29-10 lead.

* * *

Cincy Prevails

CINCINNATI—Ralph Davis, 6-foot-4 speedster, overshadowed better-known teammate Oscar Robertson with a five-point production and some lightning fast ballhandling in two overtimes that helped Cincinnati hand Bradley its first defeat this season, 85-84, in a Missouri Valley Conference game.

* * *

Iowa Surprises

IOWA CITY — Iowa upset fifth ranked Michigan State, 80-68, in a Big Ten Conference basketball game. It was the first conference setback for the Spartans and the first victory for the Hawkeyes.

* * *

Georgia Scores

ATHENS, Ga. — Georgia jumped to a seven-point lead over Tulane at intermission, then fought the Green Wave on even terms in the second half for a 70-63 Southeastern Conference basketball victory.

* * *

W. Virginia Rolls

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. — West Virginia University's fast break and deft outside shooting combined here to smother Furman, 100-66, and give the Mountaineers their 41st consecutive Southern Conference cage triumphs.

* * *

Miss. State Romps

TUSCALOOSA — Mississippi State rebounded from a stinging weekend defeat by Auburn and smothered Alabama, 81-64.

* * *

Kansas Hot

LAWRENCE, Kan. — Kansas hit a hot streak early in the second half and rode on to a 58-49 victory over Oklahoma State in the Big Eight Conference basketball opener for both clubs.

* * *

Michigan Falls

ANN ARBOR — Northwestern broke up a tight ball game in the first five minutes of the second half and went on to an 83-78 Big Ten basketball victory over Michigan before 7,500.

* * *

Illini Zip

MADISON, Wis. — Illinois turned a seven-point halftime lead into a runaway and beat Wisconsin 77-51 in a Big Ten basketball game.

Sr. Women

Westview Tourney March 9-10

The ninth annual Westview Senior Women's Golf Tournament will be held at that course, March 9-10, Mrs. Clara Spitz announced Monday.

Invitations are being sent to women golfers in South Florida and a large field is expected, Mrs. Spitz said. The defending champion is Mrs. Jerome Hebert, a three-time winner of the event.

STAN MUSIAL, Cardinal outfielder, has promised to make every effort to compete in the National Baseball Players Golf Tournament here starting Feb. 12, George Jacobus, tourney director, announced.

The tournament is being staged a week earlier because many of the major league pitchers and catchers have been asked to report early for spring training, Jacobus said.

Albie Pearson, Washington outfielder who beat John Gray in extra hole competition for the 1958 title, will be back as defending champion.

Another large delegation of New York Yankee players is expected for the tournament, which has become one of Miami's better publicity producing events.

Kentucky Keeps Lead In AP Poll

By The Associated Press

Unbeaten Kentucky, for the third straight week, held the No. 1 spot in the Associated Press major college basketball ratings Monday as the rest of the Top Ten took a thorough scrambling.

The rampaging Wildcats added three more victims to their list last week to run their unblemished streak to 11.

Top Ten teams with first place votes and won-lost records through Saturday, Jan. 3 in parentheses (points on a 10-9-8 basis):

1. Kentucky (81) (11-0)		1.245
2. N. C. State (30) (9-1)		1.115
3. North Carolina (4) (8-1)		1.043
4. Kansas State (2) (9-1)		772
5. Michigan State (0) (7-1)		563
6. Auburn (4) (8-0)		552
7. Cincinnati (4) (6-2)		546
8. Northwestern (1) (8-1)		512
9. Bradley (6) (8-0)		468
10. St. John's (2) (9-1)		208

The second ten: West Virginia (1), 165; Mississippi State, 118; Oklahoma City, 51; St. Louis, 49; Marquette (1), 48; Seattle, 45; Tennessee (1), 44; Villanova, 31; Texas A & M, 28; Illinois 25.

Broad View Taken On Amateurism Rule

CINCINNATI —(AP)— College baseball and the National Collegiate A.A. will take a rather broad view of the stringent Olympic rule on amateurism when it comes to picking an All-Star squad to compete in the Pan-American Games next summer.

The Olympic rule specifies that "An amateur cannot participate with or against a professional" — a provision which apparently might rule out a good many college or service athletes.

"This doesn't apply to men in the armed forces or to college teams that play exhibitions against professionals. There are specific exemptions covering those cases," Colgate's Everett (Eppy) Barnes, chairman of a coaches' committee to deal with Olympic and Pan-American events, explained Monday.

The round table session at which the college baseball coaches aired their complaints and suggestions, an instructional baseball clinic, and a meeting of the National Collegiate A.A. Executive Committee were Monday's principal activities as the week-long gathering of college coaches and sports leaders got off to a slow start.

The Committee gave formal approval to holding the 75th NCAA Tennis Championships at Northwestern University June 22-28, 1959; the 1959 college baseball "World Series" at Omaha, Neb., June 12-17; the College Division Cross Country Run at Wheaton (Ill.) College Nov. 14 and the University Division Cross Country at Michigan State University, Nov. 23.

The 1959 NCAA Swimming Championships were awarded to Southern Methodist University, to be held March 24-26.

Longies Give $919 Double At Tropical

By RUSS HARRIS
Herald Turf Writer

A pair of longshots combined Monday to give Tropical Park its biggest daily double of the season—$919.90.

The surprisers were H. J. Rose's Gray Ace, $32.80 in the first, and William Wolfe's Toni Mia, $27.50 in the second race.

Eighty-three $2 tickets and two $10 ducats were sold on the lucky numbers, 2-11.

Followers of Jockey Bill Hartack had a pretty good day.

Hartack rode six horses and won with three of them. He was out of the money on the heavily favored Norma's First in the third heat, but brought home Senior High, $7.70 in the fourth; New Prince, $6.90 in the fifth, and Road Agent, $10.90 in the eighth.

Before Monday's races, Senior High had one victory in eight starts, New Prince had won only once in 27 tries, and Road Agent was still a maiden after 17 efforts.

Devil Seas was dropping from an $8,000 claiming event to $5,000 and the chalk players regarded him as a fantastic overlay.

Howver, the bettors could hardly be blamed for being wary of Monday favorites. Devil Seas was only the second public choice to score in the last three Mondays.

Ussery also rode the longest price victory of the day, Stout Fellow at $34.40 in the sixth. The horse was claimed for $4,000 out of his last race by J. S. Gurich and was in for $5,000 this time.

Revara, a four-year-old colt who began his career at this meeting, won his third race in five starts under Robert L. Stevenson in the seventh event. He paid $8.50 as second choice to Chris Cross, who finished fourth.

W. C. Partee's Net Ball, 92-1 in his last race here, came up a hot thing in the wagering on the fifth event. Net Ball opened to 6-1, went to 9-1 and dropped to 2-1 a minute before the windows closed.

But Net Ball was never in the running as New Prince duelled Mighty Proud to the stretch turn and then drew away to a three-length tally.

Twelve middle distance runners, including three nominees for Saturday's $50,000 Tropical Handicap, will see action in the feature race on today's program. They are Mrs. Julie Miron's The Great Man, Adele L. Rand's Fouquier, and W. C. Partee's Apostle.

For Widener

Clem, Bardstown Given Top Loads

Calumet Farm's veteran Bardstown and Mrs. Adele L. Rand's Clem share top weight of 124 pounds for Hialeah's $100,000-plus Widener in the weights announced late Monday by Racing Secretary-Handicapper Charles J. McLennan.

Bardstown has the rare distinction of having headed the Widener weights or shared that honor for three straight years.

The seven-year-old campaigner was No. 1 in 1957 under 126 pounds—two above Needles—and won the classic by four and a half lengths. In 1958, the Calumet ace and Bold Ruler were co-honored at 128, but Bardstown did not start. He wasn't entered in 1956.

UM Cagers 'All Well' For Toronto

Ron Godfrey and Harry Manushaw, two University of Miami basketball players handicapped with ailments during the recent Hurricane Basketball Classic, are expected to be at almost full strength Thursday night when UM battles the University of Toronto in the Miami Beach Auditorium.

The UM frosh meet Miami Beach High in a 7 p.m. preliminary game, with the varsity struggle booked at 8:45.

Action Heavy

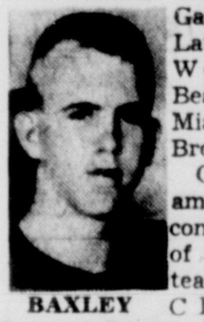
Edison, Jackson Collide

Miami Edison, a state tourney semifinalist last year, makes its basketball debut tonight during a 15-game South Florida high school schedule.

Edison, minus last year's five starters and Coach Red Bogart, will meet Miami Jackson on the Generals' court.

Jim Causey and Shelby Lee, a pair of football players, provide Coach Carl Eagle's Raiders with height. Ernie Yaroshuk's shooting tops Jackson's attack.

Other top games tonight will send Miami High to Coral Gables, Fort Lauderdale to West Palm Beach and North Miami to South Broward.



BAXLEY

Gables and Miami High are considered two of the strongest teams in the Class AA, Group 8 district, but both have been spotty to date.

Always strong Lauderdale will have its hands full with Veryl Beebe and Co. at West Palm Beach. The Wildcats are making their first stab at Gold Coast Conference competition.

Broward appears to have a slight edge in both experience and height against the North Miamians. But Tom Baxley's deadly jump shot could counterbalance the Bulldogs' advantages.

Dade County games:

Fort Lauderdale at WPB.
Tech at South Dade.
Edison at Miami Jackson.
Miami High at Coral Gables.
Southwest vs. Curley (at Edison).
North Miami at S. Broward.
McArthur at Norland.
Central Catholic at Hialeah.

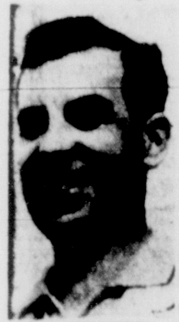
Jim Facente To Boss New Bowl Lanes

By DICK EVANS
Herald Sports Writer

Jim Facente announced Monday he would leave Bowlerama Lanes to take over as manager of the new Palm Springs bowling establishments.

Facente, considered a first-rate league organizer, has been Bowlerama manager for two years.

"Palm Springs offers a wonderful opportunity which I couldn't pass up," said Facente.



FACENTE

The new 32-lane establishment will open the first part of March. It's located just west of Hialeah High School. Facente will leave Bowlerama next week.

Facente came to Bowlerama after serving eight years as Lounge manager. His wife, Toni, is a bowling instructor and also will join the Palm Springs staff.

AL CARELLA has resigned his position at Bowling Palace. A new night manager will be selected in the near future.

THE WOMEN'S City Tournament will get under way at Coliseum Lanes Saturday at noon. Pre-tournament ceremonies are scheduled for 11:30.

Kinloch, S. Miami To Meet for Title

Unbeaten Kinloch Park and unbeaten South Miami meet Saturday morning for the Southwest YMCA midget football championship. Both teams are once tied. Kickoff time is 10:30 a.m. in Kinloch Park.

Only Sunoco fits all cars!

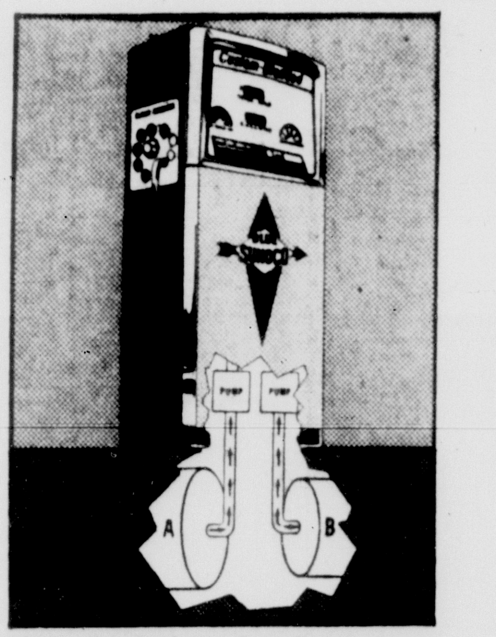
No 2 or 3 octane grades can possibly match Sunoco's 6 great Custom-Blends! 6 different prices—scaled down, grade by grade—to save you up to 4¢ a gallon!



Note buried tanks. From these, pump draws (a) premium quality Blue Sunoco '200', and (b) Sunoco Octane Concentrate (specially refined motor fuel). These are precisely blended by the pump to the exact blend number ordered. Approved by various governmental authorities!

Now you can enjoy the utmost in premium gasoline performance —without wasting your money on octane your car can't use.

For Sunoco's amazing new Custom-Blending pump delivers the "in-between" octane grades never available before. (And at "in-between" prices, too!)

Now, your Sunoco Dealer offers you twice, or even three times the octane selection you can get from anybody else . . . from premium quality Blue Sunoco '200' at "regular" price, to Blend '260', the highest octane gas sold anywhere! These and the blends in between have built into them all the finest performance qualities possible today.

First tankful, get the blend number specifically recommended for your particular make and model car. Test-drive it. Next time you fill up try dropping down to the next lower blend—at the next lower price!

So you go with Sunoco Custom-Blending—and so you save!

Attention! "Regular" buyers—

Premium quality Blue Sunoco '200' is the highest octane gasoline sold in Florida at "regular" price. It's actually higher in octane than many premiums of only a few years ago!

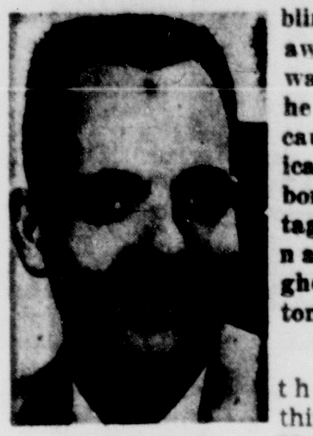
The 'Grey Ghosts'

It's 'Unseen' Bonefish That Make Impression

FISHING

...with Vic Dunaway

Funny how a bonefish can materialize out of nowhere. You can strain your eyeballs staring over a stretch of flat inch by inch, and be ready to swear there isn't a sign of life. Then, all at once, there he is—a grey shadow skimming right across the spot you stared at the hardest.



DUNAWAY

And you don't dare take your eyes off him, or even blink, for he can melt away in the crystal water as easily as he appeared. Because of these magical talents, the bonefish has been tagged with such names as "grey ghost" and "phantom of the flats."

These were the thoughts I was thinking as George Hommel Jr. poled us quietly along the Key Largo Flats. And I was also wondering if George — or other veteran bonefish guides — ever noticed any of these ghostly acts of bonefish.

I rather doubted it, since George can spot bonefish 10 to my one. I am said to have 20-20 vision, yet if my eyes were to be tested on feeding bonefish instead of ABC charts, I would certainly be pronounced almost stone blind.

George interrupted my mental rambling with an urgent whisper: "Over against the shore," he said. "Three of them."

I followed his pointing pole to where a jutting mangrove branch was throwing tiny polka dots of shade onto the white sand bottom. The water was clear and ripple-free, and in shorter-than-usual time I picked out the three fish, working slowly.

* * *

Even Guides Can Be Fooled

"I ONLY SAW one of them at first," George whispered, "Then two more popped up from somewhere."

So, I thought, guides can be fooled too, at least a little.

I shot out a long cast that sailed true, about four feet to the right of the fish and a little past them. The tiny weighted fly split the water with scarcely a sound, and the bonefish continued along undisturbed.

Cranking slowly on the spinning reel, I gave the rodtip a short twitch. Like cats alerted by a rolling ball, all three bonefish dashed over to investigate. I held my breath wondering if one would hit.

Without warning, the water suddenly came alive with bonefish!

They swarmed out of shadows seemingly not big enough to hide a minnow, and by the second twitch of the fly, at least a dozen of them were milling around.

His, however, was a wasted command. I couldn't have taken my eyes off the fascinating scene if my life depended on it. In the pack were fish ranging from a foot long to bruisers that easily would weigh eight or nine pounds.

This certainly was the greatest bonefish-appearing act ever staged. I have seen bigger schools of bones; in fact we landed in a couple of much larger packs that very same day. But these just seemed to sprout from thin air—or rather, water.

* * *

Racy Five-Pounder Hooked

I SUPPOSE I kept up my retrieve automatically. Anyway, a heavy bump on my line snapped the trance and I was back at the job of fishing.

As the hooked fish tore away on his first lightning run, the others flushed in a mad commotion that churned the surrounding waters into a muddy froth.

I had not been lucky enough to hook one of the lunkers. On the other hand, I had also managed to avoid the babies. Mine was a racy five-pounder, full of zip and muscle and endurance. He used every trace of energy in the battle, and George had to give him a thorough artificial workout before he was ready to swim away once more.

By the time we returned to dock at Mandalay Fishing Camp, four other bonefish had been landed and released. Each of the catches had its own special thrills, and of course there was plenty of excitement attached to all of the hundred or more bonefish that George pointed out during the day.

But in bonefishing, it's often the fish you don't see that can make the biggest impression.

Kingfish Running at Night

AFTER-DARK anglers have been hitting kingfish off Miami Beach several nights running. Bernie Kellish, skipper of the Sylva at Miami Yacht Basin, reports average size of the fish has dropped in the past couple of nights, but that numbers are still high.

The boat Gulfstream, Chamber of Commerce Docks, also makes a night run, as do party boats at the Haulover Beach Docks. The average trip lasts from 7:30 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Cousy 3rd In All-Time NBA Points

BOSTON — (AP) — Bob Cousy of the Boston Celtics has moved into the No. 3 spot among all-time National Basketball Association scorers.

When the classy backcourt performer contributed 26 points in Sunday's 111-108 victory over Cincinnati, he moved past former teammate Ed Macauley in the NBA scoring listings.

The point-output gave Cousy a nine-year career total of 11,244 points. The recently retired Macauley, now coach of St. Louis, had 11,225.

Dolph Schayes of Syracuse, who started the season with 12,463 and still is going strong, heads the list. George Mikan, former Minneapolis Lakers ace, amassed 11,764.

Notre Dame, Army To Meet in '65?

NEW YORK— (AP) — The Army and Notre Dame football series will be renewed in 1965 and 1966 on a home and home basis, Columnist Joe Williams said Monday in the New York World-Telegram and Sun.

Remember: Arm Lift Controls Hook Action

By BILLY SIXTY

Bowling beginners have to learn that arm lift, not wrist turn, imparts hook action to the ball. The break you want is obtained by reaching up and out as the ball is released, with the thumb leaving its hole first and with the fingers imparting the spin action.

But sometimes even star bowlers find themselves fighting wrist-turn. They find the elbow forced to the outside, or to the right, as the wrist turns to the left. The result inevitably is that the ball is pulled out of its swinging arc — to the left — and is forced high on the head pin.

The secret of proper arm lift is well illustrated in today's accompanying sketch. It lies entirely in the position of the elbow. It must be pointed straight down at the floor. This position assured proper arm lift, and the absence of damaging wrist turn.

Since the finishing position at the foul line is a natural consequence of the delivery, there's a precaution you can take at the point when the ball starts its downward swing.

Stiffen the arm as the ball begins to drop from the top of the backswing. This locks the wrist and prevents it from turning. The final result, then, is a smooth arm lift with no wrist turn. That means a short, sharp and consistent hook.

Flag Raiser, Fiendish

Top Stake Greyhounds Tangle at Hollywood

Several probable candidates for the $10,000 Hollywood Silver Anniversary Stake go into action in the featured ninth race tonight at Hollywood Kennel club.

Flag Raiser, owned by Teddy Meadows; Okie Bob, owned by Paul Boone, and Fiendish, from the L. M. Kirkpatrick Kennel, all are being eyed as possible Stake entrants.

Tonight, they run the Hollywood course in the ninth with Bo's Randle, Mr. Pure, Keep Hunting, Peter Pines and Worthy Willie.

Peter Pines Saturday night scored a five-length win in 31 5-10th seconds and he also could wind up a starter in the Anniversary classic.

Cooper Turns Professional

SYDNEY — (AP) — Ashley Cooper, Australia's triple champion of amatuer tennis, Monday joined Mal Anderson, his Davis Cup teammate, in the professional ranks.

Olmedo, Cup Mates Continue Net March

PERTH, Australia —(AP)— Alex Olmedo and two of his triumphant U.S. Davis Cup teammates scored second round singles triumphs in the West Australian Tennis Championships Monday but another American, Chris Crawford, was beaten.

Olmedo, biggest draw in the tournament, lost one set in beating Alick Bridges, West Australia's best player. The score was 7-5, 6-2, 2-6, 6-3.

Earlier, Barry MacKay and Earl Buchholz had defeated their opponents in second round matches. MacKay dropped the opening set to Doug Napier of Australia but bounced back to win, 4-6, 6-2, 8-6, 6-3. Buchholz easily whipped Ken Watson of Australia, 6-2, 6-2, 7-2.

Crawford was downed by Australia's Ron Laver, 6-3, 8-10, 7-5, 8-6.

STOUT FELLOW restrained off lead through first half mile, moved along outside to gain command entering last furlong and just lasted in a stiff drive. DEPTH PLAY came wide to make his belated bid and was getting to winner. VELIS saved ground and held on stubbornly. TRIANON moved along inside to stretch where she was eased out between horses, was blocked and forced to steady a sixteenth out and could well have been best. COSMIC HONORS was used up early. LYNETTE was never a factor. SERCIAL could not keep up.

Azpiri Hot In Cesta Doubles Play

Azpiri, 5-11, 180-pounder who is perhaps the most underrated player on the Miami Fronton roster, was cruising along at the head of his class in three key contests through the first 17 nights of play.

The wiry Basque has annexed four of 10 contests in the fifth game, one of the featured doubles engagements.

Tonight, he is coupled with Guara in the 11th, and the combination is well-placed in the third post. Azpiri will team with Orbea in the seventh game.

National Singles

Laca, Isasa Run Strong At Dania

Off to quick starts in the race are Laca and Isasa. Laca took win money in the event two nights last week. And, although in post position four tonight, should go into the ninth game as a favorite.

Something new will be added this week. Starting Thursday night, eight doubles teams open a two-month battle for the International World Series Doubles Championship.

Parnell Mary, Let Em Out

Ex-Grade B Racers Key Beach Feature

Parnell Mary and Let Em Out, two greyhounds who found Grade B competition a snap in their seasonal debut at the Miami Beach Kennel Club, go to the post in tonight's eighth race, a Grade A affair over the O. P. Smith Course.

Parnell Mary, a frequent visitor to the winner's circle at the Beach track last year, scored most of her victories then in Grade A. In her opening effort this season she defeated Ramereu by two lengths to earn a spot in tonight's feature.

Let Em Out, a Rickard Course winner in her first start, is a newcomer to the Beach. But the way she handled her early rivals stamps her as a tough dog over any distance.

Others in the race are Simply True, a beaten 3 to 2 favorite in his initial start; Mar Opera; Sandra Merrell; Blue Spango; Irish Mix and Ed's Tab Hunter.

Tech Gives Promotion To Tate

Charley Tate, the fast-rising former Miami High football coach, has earned another promotion. Beginning next season, he will be head offensive coach at Georgia Tech.

That means a vault from Tech freshman coach to No. 3 man on the staff in less than two years.

Tate received considerable notice last fall when his freshmen team whacked Georgia, the key being a flashy end-around-pass play. His enthusiasm and desire have impressed Head Coach Bobby Dodd.

"It was just our old 'Edison pass play'," shrugged Charlie here recently. "I've used it twice now and scored two touchdowns." (Miami High, under Tate, beat Edison, 6-0, in 1954 on the end-around-pass).

IRISH CHEER is sharp as a tack right now; ADMIRAL JOHN is dropping down a notch and is the one to beat here; BULL CURTAIN has a chance today off his last; LITTLE MULLEN won his last two and can't be ignored.

308—SECOND—Purse $2,000, 4-year-olds and up, $4,000-3,500, 6 furlongs. Post—1:57.

Ind	PP	Horse,	Jockey	Wt.	Odds
219	2	Slash	F. Sheppard	x112	4-1

	14	Roqerio	H. Dalton	117	15-1

SLASH gets a good figure in what appears open race; HOT COFFEE will improve off last even effort; ROYAL BRIAR could beat this rating; SUGAR DAD will probably be the betting choice if he breaks into lineup.

309—THIRD—Purse $2,100, 3-year-old maidens, 1 1-16 miles. Post—2:24.

Ind	PP	Horse,	Jockey	Wt.	Odds
66	8	a-Face Value	R. L. Stevenson	120	5-2

a—E. Moulder, J. Oldham, W. Smith & Old Rose Farm entry.

FACE VALUE gets the best rating of these maidens; ROMAN SPARK is a strong contender; KINTARO eligible to show improvement over last try; BLIND FURY may be helped by longer distance today.

310—FOURTH—Purse $2,200, 3-year-olds, claiming all $5,000, 6 furlongs. Post—2:51.

Ind	PP	Horse,	Jockey	Wt.	Odds

247	13	Short Duchess	A. Biondoletti	109	20-1

GEMAYYA appears in good position to repeat; ROYAL BIRTH has a good chance if he shows his best; TUMBLIN O was a runnerup recently and a danger here; GUN CASE has been working well.

311—FIFTH—Purse $2,400, 4-year-olds and up, allowances, 6 furlongs. Post—3:18.

Ind	PP	Horse,	Jockey	Wt.	Odds
(267)	1	Miss Erlen	R. Ussery	107	3-1

	10	Tara's Ring	W. Blum	111	20-1

MISS ERLEN did everything asked last time and can do it again; LAMENT can upset the calculations at a good price; GRAY PHANTOM, can't fault this fellow, the likely favorite today; MR. J.T. has a real good chance with a good performance.

312—SIXTH—Purse $2,600, 3-year-old fillies, allowances, 6 furlongs. Post—3:45.

Ind	PP	Horse,	Jockey	Wt.	Odds
(247)	3	Wayward Miss	R. Ussery	112	5-2

	1	Edzell	M. Sorrentino	112	20-1
211	8	Beau Amour	No Boy	112	20-1

WAYWARD MISS is sharp right now, may take another; LEVELIX has been working well at Hialeah; FIJI is a stakes winner here and a factor; ANNSIE PIE can be up there at a price.

313—SEVENTH—Purse $2,800, 4-year-olds and up, fillies and mares, allowances, 6 furlongs. Post—4:12.

Ind	PP	Horse,	Jockey	Wt.	Odds

259	3	Paris Picnic	No Boy	110	20-1
	1	Court Planting	J. Block	x105	15-1

MARE'S BEAU looks like the best wager of the afternoon; SANDYS JOY's last points him out as a real possibility; DANDY BLITZEN is a New England lady with class; KEENELAND LADY is a Calumeter who can't be ignored.

314—EIGHTH—Purse $2,800, 4-year-olds and up, allowances, 1 1-16 miles. Post—4:39.

Ind	PP	Horse,	Jockey	Wt.	Odds

224	11	Picks Choice	No Boy	118	20-1
	2	Fouquier	J. Sellers	113	20-1

NITIME won his last like a champ, back aagin; AMBEHAVING has a lot of class, can prove it here; THE GREAT MAN has a good opportunity in this company; NEGROTRECE was in need of recent try, likely to show big improvement.

315—NINTH—Purse $2,200, 4-year-olds and up, optional claiming $5,000, 6 furlongs. Post—5:06.

Ind	PP	Horse,	Jockey	Wt.	Odds

152	7	Invader 2nd	No Boy	115	15-1
183	5	Bell's Range	No Boy	111	20-1

Hunt Dogs Hold Lead At Flagler

Gold Coast and Randle continue to maintain their slim leads over the rest of Flagler's 35 competing kennels.

Through the first 56 racing programs of the track's 82-night meet Joan Hunt's Gold Coast outfit remains on top, with a total of 37 victories. Randle and Jordan are tied for second with 33 apiece, followed by Blue Grass and Ewalt, each with 29.

Tonight's card will be highlighted by a pair of 5-16th mile standard course features, with 16 top Grade-A stars ready to go.

The ninth will find the Blue Grass Kennel's five-time winner, Champagne Lady, trying for another win against the experienced Stutz entry, Trifler.

Nightlife with George Bourke

Disc Spoofing Presley-Type Singer Is Soaring into Hit Ranks

WHOEVER would have dreamed that a record that kids an Elvis Presley-type fellow could have a market that is rapidly zooming it to the million-copy ranks of a Golden Record hit? But that's what the Fraternity label's recording of "All-American Boy" is doing. It's by Bill Parsons and Orville Lunsford, with Parsons chanting the lyrics, which trace the career of a Presley-like character. It was first titled "We'll Have a Jubilee" but the switch was made to increase its potential. Elvis' name is not mentioned in the lyrics but the association is likely to be made more often than not.

Tennessee Williams is obviously serious about a bright future for his "Period of Adjustment." George Engle and Owen Phillips have extended the run at the Coconut Grove Playhouse through Wednesday so that Williams can continue his "experimentation." Play was a nightly sellout in its planned run which ended. Meanwhile, up in the second story rehearsal hall, Frank Lovejoy and his wife, Joan Banks Lovejoy, are getting "A Hole in the Head" ready for a Jan. 12 opening.

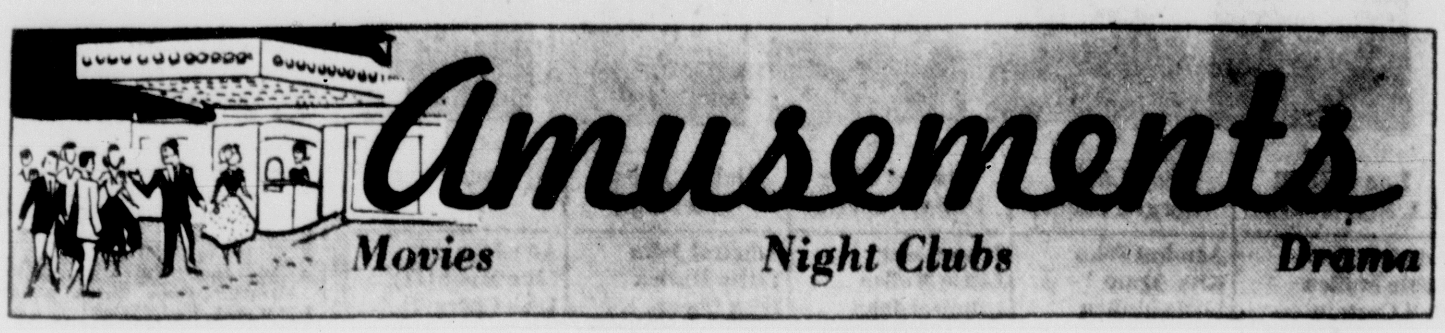
From Burma to Ben for Sinatra

BEN NOVACK, whose usual concern is Miami Beach weather, is hoping that Burma doesn't have an unseasonable rainy spell in February. Frank Sinatra starts work there early in February on MGM's "Not So Few" and he is slated for a March 3 opening at Ben's Fontainebleau! . . . Sinatra will be here in screen form, beginning Jan. 15, when "Some Came Running" opens at Olympia, Beach and Gables Theaters. It's based on James Jones' novel. Incidentally, Sinatra will sport a goatee in "Not So Few."

Leon Uris, whose novel, "Exodus" will be made into a movie by Otto Preminger, checks into the Algiers today for his American Joint Appeal meeting talk at Miami Beach Auditorium . . . Bill Doll who thought and acted big as Mike Todd's public relations man for several decades, is doing ditto for Sam Goldwyn's "Porgy and Bess" which Bill advises will be a "Big One." It premieres in New York in June.



Footlighters, an organization of show people, chiefly cafe comedians, will install Jerry Lester as president at the Saxony on Friday. Claude Pepper will be one of the guests.

Thirteen states will be covered in a tribute to writer William Faulkner, coincidental with the premiere of Jerry Wald's production of his "The Sound and Fury" in March. Governors of 13 states will be urged to declare a William Faulkner Day . . . Is Denny Miller destined to be the next Tarzan?

Ex-UM Quintet Is Clicking

A READER rightly rebukes us for evicting "Auntie Mame" from her nice Beekman Pl. apartment and sending her to Greenwich Village in our review of the picture now at the Olympia. Mame might have been eccentric, but she was East Side eccentric! . . . Sonny Bloch's Coralairs, five former University of Miami students, who have been constant clicks here and in Cuba since they were organized last year, will open a three-day stand at the Vagabonds' main room on Friday.

Victor Borge, who opens as headliner of the Deauville's Casanova Room on Friday night, got some nice publicity for his Cornish hens in a recent magazine article on "Mail Order Foods." This is not a Cavalcade Theater date—that's set for Jan. 27.

Roberta Sherwood, who tries never to be away from her Dade County home for more than a two week engagement at a time, is to do a four-week stand in January at the El Rancho Vegas . . . Art and Dotty Todd, who made that click record of "Chanson D'Amour," have had their stay at the Roney Plaza Bamboo Room extended until it is time for them to return to the Schine's Ambassador Hotel in Los Angeles. Meanwhile their two new recordings, "Straight as an Arrow" and "Don't You Worry, My Little Pet" enter the hit tune sweepstakes this month.

Norman Rothman, who operated the Sans Souci in Havana before Batista, is back in Cuba! . . . Jennie Grossinger recovering from surgery on the West Coast . . . Walter Winchell modestly taking a bow to Polly Bergen's introduction at her new La Ronde Room opening.

Frank DeMarco, one-time singing partner of George Darcy, who won fame, fortune and a promotion to singing maitre de at the Lucerne by winning "Name that Tune" on TV, is moving up in the world too. Frank is now host-star at Monkey Lounge of the Del Prado where he has been greeting a lot of the Boys (and Girls) from Syracuse, N.Y., which is also his home town.

Revolt Kept Lilo from Diplomat

BATISTA AND COMPANY weren't the only ones "cancelled out" by the Cuban revolution. Lilo, the French star of Broadway's "Can Can" had to cancel out of her planned Diplomat Hotel Cafe Cristal show last weekend because of transportation difficulties between Miami and Marti (Havana) airports. Nancy Donovan was moved in her stead to bulwark Billy DeWolfe and the Johnny Conrad dancers as the current week's attraction. Lilo will make up her Diplomat date at a more tranquil time.

Miss Donovan is a more-than-satisfactory replacement. Her tones are better shaped, for one thing, and though the degree of exposure of her figure doesn't approach the daring limits of the French star, her gown gives modest indication that it too is well-shaped.

Vocally her repertoire is expertly varied—"Autumn Leaves," then a special material bit of fun about Americans meeting only fellow Americans in Europe, a return to the original mood in "An Affair to Remember," a switch to a sly caution about using "moderation," more mood in "I'll Be Seeing You," a Calypso — and so on. All of it makes for good listening.

De Wolfe is magnificent supper club entertainment in his tongue-in-cheek satires and feigned pomposity. He's a smart veteran at this chore of titter-getting and is effective every moment on stage. In the opening spot are the Conrad Dancers, with Johnny Conrad's own toe-tapping the high point. Mal Malkin's band is excellent in both show backing and dance music departments.

Opening Today

Additions to the Greater Miami entertainment scene slated for today will include the following.

COPA CITY — Napoleon Reed and his musical revue of six singer-dancers opens in Peep Show Lounge, with Pat Darling and Gee Gee Whiz holding over.

Liz, Eddie May Elope Before April

Memos of a Girl Friday . . .

DEAR WW: You gave Liz Taylor and Eddie Fisher the best of it when you reported that she would wait "until one year passed" (Todd's demise) before marrying again. The fact is, I am told, that Todd's friends urged Liz to wait a year . . . If she does so, she will wait until about April 10 but others suspect they will elope to Mexico before then . . . Joan Crawford's daughter Christina was rejected for a role on TV's "Verdict is Yours" because they wanted someone who looked like a movie star's daughter . . . Big buzz that John Daly is unhappy with CBS' "What's My Line?" over one of its new commercials and would like out . . . Lana Turner's latest pursuitor is a Mexican millionaire . . . I didn't see anything printed about a fist fight in H'wood between Lily St. Cyr's estranged husband and her latest amour. This time the unwanted husband won.

Elizabeth Taylor . . . Mexico?

John Daly . . . upset?

* * *

* * *

HEAR ANYTHING about an incident at the N.Y. Athletic Club? One member reportedly smashed a billiard cue on the head of another. Not over a game of billiards, dearie . . . Ed Mulhare, leading man of "Fair Lady," has a wife-to-be in mind. I hope so, all those items linking him with different ladies are boring me silly. This one is named Maureen Renae, now in the London divorce courts. She filed against her medic husband . . . His brothers call Gary Crosby "Den Mother" . . . Parisians now call author Francoise Sagan and her imitators "The New School of Horizontal Literature."

Lana Turner . . . prey

* * *

Peter Townsend, who cashed in on the publicity of his shattered romance with Princess Margaret, has wearied of his pretty traveling companion, as she was amusingly described in the papers. Marie-Luce Jamagna decided to return to her family. Townsend is in Paris . . . They say the James ("Gunsmoke") Arnesses are in Splitsburg . . . Taina Elg's about-to-be-ex, Dr. Bjorkenheim, is teaching Joanna Moore how to pronounce it . . . Recording pet Gogi Grant will wed, again. Late this month. He's the lawyer who won her action against a recording firm recently. I think this is her 3rd plunge . . . Mimi Hines thawt you'd enjoy this: A night club sign that said: "Featuring Carolyn Schwartz at the Cash Register."

Lili St. Cyr . . to victor?

* * *

SHOW BIZ sometimes is like this, too: Actress Barbara Reynolds blamed her unhappy B'way luck on her name, so she changed it to Zelda Zorch. Last week she landed three teevee acting roles . . . Bess Myerson, the former "Miss America," and husband Allan Wayne cannot get a divorce because they cannot agree on a single, solitary settlement term . . . It's a Girl for the Leon Leonidoffs at LeRoy San. Pop produces the Radio City Music Hall shows.

What Makes Frankie Fight—III

Spunk Saved Sinatra When All Seemed Lost

Third of a Series

By SCOTT LAWRENCE

Enigma of Sinatra

For many years the lights flashed and the bells rang for Frank Sinatra. He was the Wonder Boy, an American phenomenon. Everything he touched turned to gold. He was the Pied Piper of teen-agers. Life was a song for Frank.

Suddenly the melody ended. The music was replaced by all the harsh sounds of failure. His record sales dived. His films were boxoffice poison. His financial support collapsed.

The government sued him for $110,000 in back taxes. He was the object of withering criticism in and out of the press. As the final indignity, his agents dropped him.

A New York editorialist inquired: "Anybody know of a bigger bore right now than Frank Sinatra?" The experts contended he was washed up. One of his friends said: "The guy has a self-destruction complex. Half the time he can't see any reason for living."

The only one who refused to panic or surrender to despair was Sinatra. Out of the darkness came the indomitable spark within him—and a star blazed again.

It was one of the most dramatic comebacks in show business annals. More significant, it was Sinatra's most crucial personal battle. And he emerged with the fighting qualities of a champion. He was at his best when obstacles were most formidable.

Sinatra primed his resurgence with a true fighter's instinct. In recalling the dark days, he says:

"One morning I woke up and decided that this kind of thing has got to stop. The facts weren't pleasant but I've always known how to face facts. I went into training the same way a prize fighter would."

The training period consisted of making various changes—including changes in his attitude. He changed his agent and changed his record company and worked hard.

* * *

THEN CAME the major turning point. After reading "From Here to Eternity," Sinatra jumped up and exclaimed, "The Maggio character in this novel is me! That's me!"

He pleaded and cajoled and finally won the role of Maggio in the movie version. He played it for peanuts. Peanuts for Sinatra, that is. He was paid $8,000 for the Maggio role.

The acclaim he gained for his performance—and the Oscar — were of incalculable value. Within a few months after the film was released, Sinatra was flying high again. His voice returned with all of its creamy warmth. His record sales boomed.

One year after earning $8,000 in "From Here to Eternity," he collected $200,000 for a single movie. Within the next three years, Sinatra's gross income averaged about $4,000,000 annually. He became the highest paid performer in show business history.

In addition, he now owns five music companies, an independent film outfit, a restaurant and an interest in a Las Vegas hotel.

The performer who had been primarily a singer became one of the finest film actors. With practically no training in the field, he emerged as a naturalistic actor with a walloping impact.

One Hollywood producer says: "Sinatra acts like a precision machine. He makes the most difficult scenes appear easy." Says King Vidor, the veteran movie director: "Sinatra is the greatest natural actor I've ever worked with."

* * *

SINATRA'S victory over misfortune—and its splendor and scope — was his greatest fighting triumph. He achieved it because he has always been armed with certain indispensable weapons in fighting for suc- and courage.

It is well to remember that his original success was neither easy nor swift. He was a little-known singer with Tommy Dorsey's band for three years before gaining recognition. In his professional efforts, Sinatra has been a perfectionist. He is moved by an almost compulsive desire to do his best—and then do better.

Sinatra in 'From Here to Eternity'

. . . Maggio role, with Burt Lancaster, started comeback

In detailing the rags-to-riches-rags-to-riches story, Sinatra recently said:

"I'm not much on the philosophical stuff. People often remark that I'm pretty lucky. I don't think luck, as such, has much to do with it. You've got to have something more substantial. The competition is too fierce.

"Luck is only important insofar as getting a chance to sell yourself at the right moment. After that, you've got to have talent and learn how to use it. It's very difficult for me to describe how I feel about it all. I'm older now and I have a better appreciation of the realities."

Sinatra was lucky enough to have talent. Moreover, he was equipped with the spunk which prevented him from quitting. He took a beating for nine rounds and scored a knockout in the tenth.

Sinatra can well be proud of this fight. It was a triumph which transformed ashes into stardust.

NEXT: Sinatra as a "modified gasser" in the field of romance.

Secret Workouts

On the trapeze by Mrs. Bing Crosby have finally been admitted by the 25-year-old wife of the singer-actor. Kathy Grant Crosby has been practicing for a role in "The Big Circus," an Allied Artists film but until now hadn't told Bing about the trapeze work. "It's no more dangerous, really, than riding a fast horse in a Western," says Kathy. Here she rehearses a "hock hang" so she'll be able to perform her own stunts in the movie.

Kovacs' $2 Cigars Add To Big Annual Outlay

By RICK DuBROW

HOLLYWOOD — (UPI) — Comedian Ernie Kovacs estimates his yearly cigar bill is somewhere between $8,760 and $13,140.

He smokes between 12 and 18 two-dollar cigars a day. And, as an expert on high class stogies, he has a few kind words to say about men who smoke cigars.

"The cigar smoker," said the 39-year-old performer, "is the kind of man who usually spends a little more time choosing his brandy or his wine. He may not have as many suits as other men, but he shops more carefully for them and enjoys them more."

Kovacs, who is currently appearing in the film, "Bell, Book and Candle," added:

"I'm not talking about just any cigar smoker, like the guy who grabs a cigar and sticks it in his mouth and chews on it. I mean the man who smokes a good cigar. The man who smokes good cigars wants a more solid, fuller enjoyment of life and gets more out of it."

* * *

SITTING IN THE DEN of his Coldwater Canyon home, the brown-haired, mustachioed comedian admitted that he smokes more at home than when he goes out.

"Socially," he said, "there are certain people that I prefer going out with, not because of their personal qualifications but because of their attitude toward cigars.

"For instance, Betty (Lauren) Bacall is the greatest about cigars. Billy Wilder and his wife are others. David Niven's wife hates cigars, but she's real nice.

"Tony Curtis and Janet Leigh are very nice and polite. I've never found out, but I have the feeling that they air out the house when I leave. Frank Sinatra never says a word. He just lights incense when I start smoking, which ruins the cigar."

"In fact," he said, "she buys them for me. I've been getting mine from Cuba, but there's a revolution there now."

* * *

IT IS KOVACS' considered belief that women who object to cigars usually have been exposed only to bad ones.

"It's like the women who sit down in restaurants and slip the silverware under the table to wipe it," he said. "You know they've been eating in beaneries. Women who complain about cigars before they smell them betray their own backgrounds."

Many of these women, he asserted, go through life using perfume which hasn't got half the aroma of a good stogie.

Kovacs said he has nothing against pipes or cigarets. But, he said, he feels that many young men who would like to smoke cigars chose cigarets "because it's more chic" and is the least of all smoking evils romantically.

"As you get older," he said, "you learn you don't need them. In fact, they get in the way.

"There are also a lot of nutty psychiatrists who have to find an explanation for everything and say that cigar-smoking comes from the nursing instinct. But they never say anything about pipes or cigarets. That's because most of their patients are women, and they have to smoke cigarets."

Your Horoscope

Be Honest in All

By CARROLL RIGHTER
Tuesday, January 6, 1959

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) There is wisdom now in studying exactly how to get within the orbit of those influential persons who will help raise your position in life, give you greater authority. Be forthright and honest in all that you do or say.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) If you but take the time to listen to ideas of blunt yet sincere friend, and understand them thorougly, you will make great strides forward in your career.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Be very practical in all phases of your life today. Get bills paid, make collections, know just which contacts to make for increasing success in your vocation.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Being thoroughly inspired this A.M., get an early start and contact all those persons who can aid you materially in your career or vital personal life. Cooperate with the right people.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Concentrate on matters of magnitude today and you reach as high as your ability carries you, whether in business, artistic, or personal affairs. Don't be stubborn, however.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) An excellent day to seek out those persons with whom you regularly have any business or social relations of importance. Stating your views and ideas for attaining greater success is fine.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) It is imperative you stop analyzing and reviewing today and get down to progressive work if you are to attain what is closest to your heart, whether at home or in the business world.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) This could be one of the finest days of your life So, step out of dull doldrums and put those wonderful ideas into operation NOW. Utilize that fine energy to the full. FOR YOUR COPY of Carroll Righter's individual 16-page Forecast for February send your birth date and 50c in coin (no stamps) to Carroll Righter Forecast Miami Herald, Box 1895, Grand Central Sta., N.Y. 17, N.Y.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Stop paying so much attention to minute detail today and concentrate on the over-all aims or principles. Are you operating as soundly as you believed you were?

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Rather than continue to weigh and balance in your mind, go after your desires decisively NOW. This gives a wonderful impetus to a successful future and insures happiness.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Many ingenious ways occur to you today concerning how to increase your income so that you can even have a superabundance. Handle all pending matters first with alacrity.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) A fine day for analyzing your present position, just where your goals are, and being inspired. You will attain your hopes and wishes if you follow such accurate intuitions.

2 — EVERYDAY SPANISH — "El Telefono."

4 — SILENT SERVICE — A boarding party from the USS Cod is stranded on a junk when an enemy plane causes the submarine to submerge.

7 — WOODY WOODPECKER — Andy Panda, reading a cook book, decides it would be nice to have a rooster for dinner.

10 — IF YOU HAD A MILLION — An unsuccessful surgeon has his confidence restored with a million dollar gift.

2 — POSTAL PARADE — "The Seriousness of Postal Crimes."

4 — I LOVE LUCY — Lucy tries to become a model in a fashion show to win an expensive and fashionable gown.

10 — SUGARFOOT — Tonight's story is based on a true historical incident. There was an attempted assassination of Mexican President Benito Juarez, when he was visiting a Texas fort, by Americans who were on the side of Emperor Maximilian. Sugarfoot, played by Will Hutchins, has been put smack in the middle of that attempt and it turns out to be a fine action story.

8

2 — RACE DRIVER — "Traffic Safety for Teenagers."

4 — FLIGHT — A fighter pilot assigned to reconnaissance duty in New Guinea is asked to fly a P-38 armed only with a cannon.

2 — CRIMINAL MAN — "Brakes and Misbehavior."

4 — TO TELL THE TRUTH — When videotape was first dreamed of, the prophets figured it could change television considerably. Gradually, those changes are taking place and tonight there is a small but happy change, due to tape. Ralph Bellamy resumes his seat on the panel, which he had to give when he started playing in "Sunrise at Campobello." They'll tape the show early in the evening so Bellamy can make his curtain with ease. As for tonight's crew of lying rascals, they include one threesome who all speak with an accent and your job will be to figure which one is putting it on.

Best Bet

10 — WYATT EARP — Marshall Earp has his hands full keeping the peace when a fighting parson invades Dodge City.

9

7 — GEORGE BURNS — George signs Carol Channing for a nightclub engagement and then joins the act himself.

10—THE RIFLEMAN — Tonight there's something new called anthrax, and that's a disease, not a new kind of shooting iron. It's spread by sick animals, and there's a sick buckskin pony that figures in the yarn. The real hero of this one is a two-hypodermic doctor, who's the fastest syringe west of the Pecos.

9:30

2 — RELIGIONS OF MAN — "The Two Branches of Buddhism."

4 — RED SKELTON — On this week's excursion into light-hearted larceny, San Fernando Red and his girl friend (Edie Adams) head for Alaska, where men are men and the dream of gold still haunts the Klondike. Before he's through, Red leaves the 49th state in a 50th state — a state of confusion. And there are many laughs in the process.

7 — BOB CUMMINGS — Schultzy resorts to psychology in an effort to establish herself as "Bob's Boyhood Love Image."

10 — NAKED CITY — Tonight's story is about a sewer worker who's reared a son who's turned out to be a practicing nogoodnick. The young man bashed his friends' heads in with pool cues and engineers a daring daytime robbery of a diamond merchant.

Robert A. Uihlein Jr., Vice-President—Sales, and Erwin C. Uihlein, President, Jos. Schlitz Brewing Company

"We're proud to be the first premium beer brewed in Florida"

"SINCE Schlitz was first introduced to Florida some sixty years ago, the acquaintance has grown steadily into a firm friendship. For both Florida and Schlitz these have also been years of tremendous development. The day of a Schlitz brewery in Florida was inevitable.

"As the latest project in the Schlitz expansion program, the new brewery in Tampa incorporates all that our 110 years of experience have taught us. It is the best we know how to build, uncompromised by cost consideration. It represents the best efforts of hundreds of people—a great many of them Floridians. Without question, Schlitz Tampa is the most modern brewery in the world . . . and I'm sure you will agree that it is one of the most beautiful.

"What do we expect of this new brewery? Schlitz! Sound simple? Indeed not. There's a lot more to brewing than discovering a flavor that you believe in and that the world will like. It is maintaining this flavor that's the big job . . . so that every drop of Schlitz has the exact same refreshing quality everywhere it is brewed.

"This unchanging quality can be achieved only by the most rigorous standards. These have been strictly adhered to in all Schlitz breweries, and they continue here in Tampa.

"It is this dedication to quality that has given Schlitz the reputation of 'the beer so good it made a city famous.' I like to think of it as the Schlitz tradition.

"Naturally we're very proud that Schlitz will be the first premium beer brewed in the great State of Florida. We hope that sometime in the coming year you will visit Tampa's Industrial Park and see our new Florida home. Hospitality, too, is a great Schlitz tradition."

Erwin C. Uihlein

Will Stay Separate Paper

Chicago News Sold to Field by John S. Knight

Control of The Chicago Daily News was sold Monday to Field Enterprises Inc., owners of The Chicago Sun-Times.

This was announced jointly by John S. Knight, editor and publisher of The Daily News since 1944, and by Marshall Field Jr., editor and publisher of The Sun-Times.

Sale of the majority interest in Daily News stock, at $50 a share, has been completed.

Total shares outstanding are 481,293, with more than 75 per cent held by Knight Newspapers, members of the Knight family and executives and employes of the Knight Newspapers. Field said the same offer of $50 a share is being made to the minority stockholders.

John S. Knight
. . . reduces holdings

Marshall Field Jr.
. . . staff to stay

Field, who at 42 becomes the sixth publisher of The Chicago Daily News since it was founded 83 years ago, said it will be continued as "a separate and independent newspaper."

He said there are no plans for changes in personnel, that the executive staff is being asked to continue in charge of The News, and that "for the forseeable future we shall go on producing each paper as at present."

Knight, who bought control of The Chicago Daily News Oct. 18, 1944, for $2,151,537 cash, said his reasons for selling the paper "at the time of its greatest progress are entirely personal. They arise from a desire to curtail my administrative responsibilities after nearly 40 years in journalism." Knight will be 65 next Oct. 26.

"In no sense," he said, "does the sale of The Daily News mean that I am retiring from journalism.

"Knight Newspapers—owners of The Akron Beacon Journal, The Detroit Free Press, The Miami Herald, The Charlotte Observer, a newsprint mill, a newspaper supply company, TV and radio interests and two Florida weeklies—will continue to expand in areas where the demands upon my personal supervision will not be as insistent."

He said that at Field's request he has agreed to assist The Daily News in an advisory capacity during a period of transition, and that his "Editor's Notebook" will continue to appear in The News as a Saturday column.

Field paid tribute to Knight as "one of the greatest publishers of America" and said, "I feel fortunate to have his assistance during this period of transition." He added:

"The Daily News under the outstanding leadership of John S. Knight since 1944 has reached new heights in circulation, advertising and distinction.

"When he bought control of The Chicago Daily News, it was said that Mr. Knight had 'purchased an opportunity.' He has made the most of the opportunity. In the past 15 years, he has enhanced that paper's traditional greatness and prestige, increased its influence and strengthened its financial structure immeasureably.

"He has earned a reputation as one of America's great editors and most articulate exponents of a responsible free press. As an active leader in the civic life of this community, he has made an invaluable contribution to the progress of Chicago."

Knight said he made his announcement "with mixed emotions: A sense of sorrow in relinquishing control of a great and successful newspaper; a comforting knowledge that Marshall Field Jr. will maintain the editorial independence and enterprise which have made The Daily News a shining example of the best in American journalism."

He said other offers had been made for The Daily News but that he considered none of them except Field's.

He said he is convinced Field will conduct the paper with "intelligence, responsibility and courage," and said he has been assured that The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service will be maintained and expanded.

He recalled that when he took over The Chicago Daily News it was "burdened with debt and suffering from a sense of demoralization following the death of its publisher, Col. Frank Knox."

Since then The News has won 124 awards for editorial excellence including the coveted Pulitzer prize for public service in 1949 and 1957, and several individual Pulitzer awards by staff members.

Average earnings after taxes for the past 14 years have been $1,250,000 a year, said Knight.

Today, he said, the debt has been entirely paid off, there is no funded debt or outstanding bank loans, and the total equity in buildings, real estate and the newspaper is represented by the common stock.

Basil L. (Stuffy) Walters, executive editor of The News, will continue his association with the Knight Newspapers, but has agreed to remain for an indefinite transition period as executive editor of The Chicago Daily News wire service.

The Sun-Times is an outgrowth of the morning Chicago Sun, founded by the late Marshall Field on Dec. 4, 1941. He bought The Chicago Times in 1947 and merged the two. Marshall Field Jr. succeeded his father in 1950.

The Chicago Daily News was first published as a four-page paper on Jan. 1, 1876, by Mel-

Police Foil 'Arrest' Of Mamie's Relative

MOORE

Airport police charged George Finn, 42, with being in a restricted area. He posted $25 collateral and was released.

The second of the Finn twins, Charles, told reporters and police George wanted to hold Col. Moore in connection with evidence he said they had concerning violation of banking statutes.

Charles said George telephoned the FBI in advance announcing he was going to make a citizen's arrest. He said the FBI advised against it.

The Finns have been involved in several such arrests before in their years-long battle to recover a surplus government airplane seized when they put it into flying condition.

Airport director L. W. Burton said George Finn boarded as Eastern Airlines plane, over the objection of attendants, and attempted to put handcuffs on Col. Moore, bound for New Orleans.

Defense Budget Unveiled

Up 100 Million To 40.9 Billion

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — President Eisenhower unveiled a new 40.9-billion-dollar defense budget for congressional leaders Monday. Democrats promptly complained that his military and space programs failed to meet the Russian challenge.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas told newsmen after a 2½ hour White House meeting between administration officials and Senate and House leaders that he is disappointed in the President's spending plans for these two critical programs.

"They are programming as if we were living in a static rather than an exploding and expanding and developing world," he said. He added that he "would go farther, faster" than the administration in view of Soviet technical advances.

But Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R., Ill.), who is an odds-on favorite to become Senate GOP leader, told newsmen that Dr. Keith Glennan, head of the new federal space agency, outlined an "accelerated timetable" for U.S. exploration of outer space.

He said the timetable includes an attempt to fire a manned rocket to the moon. He added that the dramatic Soviet shot beyond the moon "certainly adds to the acceleration."

The President also told the lawmakers he will ask for what they call "a substantial increase" in the 3.3 billion dollars appropriated for foreign aid in the current fiscal year.

The bipartisan meeting was designed to give key legislators a preview of the defense and foreign affairs phases of the President's State of the Union message and his 77-billion-dollar budget in advance of the opening of Congress Wednesday.

Sen. Alexander Wiley (R., Wis.), ranking GOP member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said the defense budget for fiscal 1960 was pegged at 40.9 billion dollars, about 100 million dollars more than spending estimates for the current year.

The White House announced 10 days ago that the administration's overall spending budget for the new fiscal year, beginning next July 1, will be balanced at about 77 billion dollars.

Asked why Russia has been able to blast a rocket to the vicinity of the sun while this country still has not been able to get one as far as the moon, Wiley said the Soviets have developed rockets with much more thrust.

"We'll develop it (a rocket with greater thrust). There is no question about that," Wiley added.

On almost the eve of the new session, a group of House GOP members revolted against the leadership of Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr., "Mr. Republican" in the House for nearly two decades. They claimed they had the votes to beat him at a secret party meeting today.

But some House oldtimers were skeptical of their claims. They said Martin is working hard to retain his post as House Republican leader and predicted he will win out. The insurgents were backing Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, a former leader himself.

N. Florida In Freezer

A cold wave tightened its frosty grip on North Florida Monday and weathermen predicted temperatures in the 20s there early Tuesday.

But the central and southern parts of the state, which hold the rich citrus and winter vegetable growing areas, are expected to escape any damaging frost, the Miami Weather Bureau said.

Forecaster Arnold Sugg said, however, that Miamians will shiver early Tuesday. A low of 60 was forecast for Miami Beach and other areas near the water, and a low of close to 50 in the western suburbs.

Lows between 25 and 30 were forecast for early Tuesday in North Florida around Tallahassee, and even colder temperatures are expected in the northwest Florida panhandle.

'Small World's' 4 Rescued at Sea

BRIDGETOWN, Barbados —(AP)— Four Britons who tried to make a balloon flight across the Atlantic were found floating at sea Monday in the gondola of their craft, Small World. They were rescued by a fishing vessel and brought to this island, their original target.

The four left the Canary Islands, 3,000 miles away, Dec. 12. They had not been heard from for 19 days.

A fishing vessel captained by Costa Brathwaite of this island came upon the four at sea about four hours out. He plucked them from the water and brought them ashore near the Crane Hotel, on the southeast shore.

They told him they had cut the balloon loose from the gondola, designed as a lifeboat and heavily stocked with food and water.

They declined to tell Brathwaite how long ago they cut the balloon loose, or how long they had been afloat, saying only:

"Sorry chaps, the story has been sold."

They were somewhat shaky as they came ashore. The sole woman in the party, Mrs. Rosemary Mudie, 30, the co-pilot and cook, appearing to be the least fatigued.

The expedition's captain, Arnold Eiloart, 51, didn't seem to mind at all when the fishermen hoisted him to their shoulders and carried him through people on the beach.

Colin Mudie, 32, and Eiloart's son Timothy, 21, were able to walk up the winding steps to the Crane Hotel, which overlooks the beach where they landed.

The balloon was 47 feet in diameter. The Britons had hoped to have it carry them, by free flight, all the way from the Canaries to Barbados. The gondola was plastic, about 15 feet by 11.

The fishing boat towed the gondola in to shore.

Brathwaite, 62, and his 32-year-old son spotted it drifting, but said the elder Brathwaite:

"There were a lot of dolphin around the gondola so we caught four first and then sailed over to hailing distance.

"I said, 'Are you the Small World?'

"Eiloart shouted back: 'Yes. Will you tow us ashore?'

Hialeah's Founder James H. Bright Dies

By EVELYN DeTARDO
Herald Staff Writer

The grand old man of Hialeah is dead.

James H. Bright, developer of Hialeah, founder of Hialeah Race Track and pioneer Florida cattle and dairy man, died Monday. He was 93.

James H. Bright
. . . dead at 93

Mr. Bright, of 45 Olive Dr., Hialeah, led a campaign to get Hialeah its first school; was first president of the Hialeah-Miami Springs bank, and is credited with helping make Florida a top cattle producing state.

He brought the first Brahman and Holstein cattle to the state, then imported South American sod to give his purebred herds prime forage.

Born in St. Louis, he grew up in Louisiana, Mo., where he graduated from business school at Louisiana Baptist College. Always a horse enthusiast, he drove trotters for the St. Louis Jockey Club.

When he came to Miami in 1909, he bought 17,000 acres of what is now Hialeah, and part of Opa-locka.

60 M.P.H. Cold Gusts Slam N.Y.

NEW YORK — (AP) — Cold winds whistled through New York City Monday with bone-chilling force. They knocked airplanes around, disrupted ferry service and sent a huge oak tree crashing down on an elevated rapid-transit line.

Gusts up to 60 miles an hour tilted a parked twin-engine transport plane on its tail at La Guardia airport. None of the 42 persons aboard was hurt, however.

At the same airport, a single-engine light plane landed in a 50-mile-an-hour headwind and then was flipped over on its back when it turned around to taxi in. One of the two people aboard was injured, but not seriously.

The high winds put a halt for a time to operations of the Brooklyn-Staten Island ferry service. The service began again at noon.

In Corona, Queens, a 60-foot oak tree snapped off at its base and fell across the westbound tracks of the Interborough Rapid Transit (IRT) line. No one was injured, and service was restored by early afternoon.

A huge advertising sign crashed down on New York Central tracks in the Bronx. A number of trains of both the Central and New Haven Railroad were held up a short time.

At Idlewild airport, gusts measured at up to 63 miles an hour raised clouds of sand which sometimes blotted departing aircraft from the view of the control tower.

Pinay Asks Pope For Big Favor

VATICAN CITY — (UPI) — French Finance Minister Antoine Pinay Monday asked Pope John XXIII for a "great favor" for a friend but he would not say what the request was or for whom it was sought.

Pinay, who knew the pope when he was apostolic nuncio to post-war France, arrived unexpectedly in Rome Saturday night.

Students Abandon Captured Palace

Some Famous People Helped Castro, 15A

By GEORGE SOUTHWORTH
Herald Latin America Editor

HAVANA, Cuba — Provisional President Manuel Urrutia flew into Havana late Monday and it appeared that martial law would be quickly lifted in the capital.

Urrutia flew to the capital from Camaguey Province in eastern Cuba.

He arrived at the height of a squabble between Fidel Castro's rebel forces and student revolutionaries who had occupied the presidential palace.

The student group later left the palace on orders from their leaders rather than embarrass Urrutia's struggling young regime.

The earlier proclamation of martial law had stressed that it would be enforced until Urrutia arrived. Police also had orders to impose a 9 p.m. to 5 a.m. curfew in Havana but there was doubt whether these orders would be followed through.

Castro, who rooted Dictator-President Fulgencio Batista from power New Year's Eve, is making a leisurely but victorious approach to the capital through the eastern provinces.

Castro leaders said military rule will be lifted as soon as Urrutia is installed in the palace. They appealed to the people, particularly the workers, to maintain order.

Making ready for Urrutia's arrival — and to insure a peaceful demonstration — revolutionists filled Havana's jails with Batista supporters.

Shortly after the new tension broke out Monday, the American embassy issued renewed warnings to Americans in Cuba to continue to be cautious in their activities.

U. S. officials announced:

"The American embassy repeats its warnings to Americans in Cuba, particulary in the Havana area, that they should continue to observe appropriate caution in their activities until the local situation is completely cleared."

Also, Pan American World Airways and National Airlines, which had resumed service to Havana, abruptly cut it off Monday afternoon. PAA gave "technical difficulties" as the reason for the action.

Despite the intra-rebel power struggle, Havana was beginning to return to a state of normalcy.

Stores were reopened and street traffic once again became its chaotic, horn-tooting self.

The people of Havana, their food supplies flowing again as the general strike ended, were awaiting the arrival of the new president with full stomachs.

Newspapers began appearing once more. Taxi drivers took up their usual stands, as did the female strollers along the Prado.

The provisional government Sunday ordered the end of the general strike that went into effect last Thursday.

As a result of Monday's new crisis, U. S. Ambassador Earl E. T. Smith canceled a trip to Washington just as he was about to board a plane. He returned to the embassy to await development.

How Batista Lived Last Hours in Cuba

By GEORGE SOUTHWORTH
Herald Latin America Editor

HAVANA — Fulgencio Batista's last moments in Cuba were filled with meditative melancholy and wonder at what had hit him.

Gone were the cheering throngs, the backslappers, the friends who once vowed they would stick with him through thick or thin.

Southworth

On Dec. 31 — the beaten dictator's last day in his homeland — he had by his side only a few close followers, his wife and two of his children.

With his regime rapidly falling to pieces and Rebel Leader Fidel Castro routing government troops, Batista made his final decision as president of Cuba late that day.

He had to flee like a whipped dog or face death at the hands of the revolutionaires.

Shortly before midnight he and his family secretly slipped away from the sumptuous Presidential Palace and drove to the outskirts of Havana to his home at Camp Columbia, the military headquarters of the Cuban army.

In contrast to the spartan surroundings of the military barracks, Batista's quarters were elegantly furnished. A large staff of servants was always on hand to tend to the whims of the "strongman."

His Camp Columbia home consisted of five bedrooms, five bathrooms, two dining rooms, a few smaller rooms and a private barber shop.

Two days later, long-haired and bearded rebel mountain fighters were using the barber chairs of the man they had defeated.

Diaz, who was on hand the fateful night, recalled:

"There was Batista, his wife, his son Jorge, 15, and his daughter Marta, about two. They arrived about midnight.

"Then, with some top government and military officials present, Batista gave last-minute instructions. Looking on were 15 servants.

"Batista was calm and quiet. His wife and son seemed excited."

Later, Diaz said, Batista shook hands with each of his servants.

"He was obviously moved. It was a sad moment," Diaz noted.

When the party was assembled, the members filed into a waiting line of limousines and drove to Havana Airport [illegible] the dead of night.

After only a few minutes at the airport, Batista, his family and loyal followers were on their way into exile.

Ironically, his banishment followed an identical pattern set by Carlos Prio Socarras, the president Batista had booted out in a bloodless coup of March 10, 1952.

Mikoyan Optimistic After Visiting Dulles

We Had a Useful Exchange,' Says Russia's Mikoyan

... met with Secretary of State Dulles for 95 minutes

Red Chief To See Ike In 2 Weeks

Prelude to Nikita? 12A

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan met Monday with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and said afterward he would confer in two weeks with President Eisenhower.

Mikoyan was besieged by newsmen as he emerged from a one-hour-35-minute session with Dulles. He said he and Dulles held "a preliminary discussion in general terms" of all cold-war differences.

"We discussed a variety of subjects of common interest, including Berlin Germany, disarmament and trade," the 63-year-old Kremlin chieftain said.

But Mikoyan pointedly avoided saying, under questioning, whether he felt U.S.-Soviet relations were improved as a result of his talk with Dulles.

"They should improve," he said, adding:

"I am an optimist. We had a useful exchange. I am an ambassador in general. There will be peace. There will be peace."

Repeating the phrase, "There will be peace," over and over, Mikoyan threaded his way through newsmen and a crowd of about 400 State Department workers.

Outside, he was met by the chorused shouts of Hungarian freedom fighters. Carrying placards, seven pickets shouted over and over, "Murderer," and waved their fists menacingly at Mikoyan and his party.

Mikoyan told reporters he intends to talk again with Dulles during his 2½-week U.S. visit. The Russian said he expects to meet Eisenhower on Jan. 19 or Jan. 20, after returning from visits to other U.S. cities.

The Soviet foreign policy-trade troubleshooter is reported planning to visit Cleveland Wednesday, Detroit Thursday and Chicago Friday. He is understood to be planning visits also to Dallas and Los Angeles.

Speaking through an interpreter, Mikoyan described the meeting with Dulles as "a useful talk."

"We discussed in general terms, in a preliminary manner, the problems of common interest, including the question of Berlin, Germany, disarmament and trade," Mikoyan said.

"It was a preliminary exchange of views."

Cancels Trip

WASHINGTON — (AP) —Secretary of State John Foster Dulles Monday canceled his planned official visit to Canada because of a virus infection.

The announcement said Dulles developed the virus infection early Sunday afternoon.

"While it is today better and under control," White said, "the attending physicians have advised the secretary to forego his planned trip to Ottawa and curtail his work schedule for the next few days to assist his rapid recovery and return fully to duty."

Just in advance of the announcement, Dulles had held a conference with Anastas I. Mikoyan, Soviet deputy premier.

Hialeah's J. H. Bright Dead at 93

Because grazing was poor, he also introduced para grass for his cattle, then brought a herd of Holstein cattle from Missouri to start the first dairy farm for the 7,000 residents then living here.

Business prospered, so Mr. Bright brought meat producing Herefords to the area.

While riding out to his ranch, his horse struck marl which Mr. Bright knew would be ideal for a race track. He kept the idea in the back of his mind, and campaigned for the track.

Ev Sewell, pioneer Miami mayor, and Frank Shutts, former owner of The Miami Herald found a Buffalo promoter, Joe Smoots, who delivered $100,000 for the track.

Mr. Bright donated 160 acres, now worth well over a million dollars, for the project. He accepted a $10 payment, "to make it legal."

He later founded the Florida Breeders Assn., and was associated with Glenn H. Curtiss, aviation pioneer, who later founded Miami Springs.

Mr. Bright, who was on the Hialeah Track board of directors, is said to have never missed a Hialeah opening. He believed that the track should be run on a high plane, and should prove second only to Miami sunshine as a tourist lure.

When Hialeah was incorporated in 1925, he selected the first mayor and councilmen. From 1925-29 he served as first president of the Hialeah-Miami Springs bank.

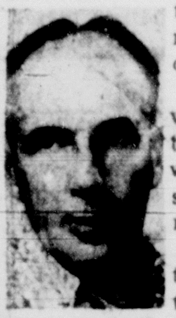
Reopening in the Cards?

Gambling Barons Of Havana Huddle

By STEPHEN TRUMBULL
Herald Staff Writer



TRUMBULL

HAVANA — Despite a flare-up in the political power struggle Monday, owners of the big gambling casinos huddled here to decide how to reopen their operations.

And they were betting that their wheels of chance soon will be rolling again.

At the same time, joyous townspeople here made the most of a few hours of pandamonium which followed the end of the general strike before martial law clamped down again across the city.

Taxi drivers, idled for four days and deprived of their favorite joy of blowing their horns, took the lead in the shortlived bedlam before the new crackdown threw them into reverse.

The gambling barrons rode out both calm and storm in their life-or-death caucus.

Their opinion: a reopening of all the big casinos is in the cards after only a brief delay, despite statements attributed to Fidel Castro that he would run American gamblers out of the city.

Castro actually has been more firm on his statement that he would close the small non-tourist gambling operations which prey on the local people.

J. J. (Skip) Shepard, operator of the big Capri Hotel here, and of the Leamington Hotel in Miami, said he is already receiving calls from Miami as to when things will be normal here.

He is telling his friends to come on the first available plane. The Capri also houses one of the big casinos.

(Pan American Airlines and National Air Lines renewed service to and from Havana briefly Monday before the new declaration of martial law again put a stop to transportation.)

Shepard and the other keepers of the big hotels where revolutionary troops are being quartered in small detachments praised the conduct of the bearded visitors.

Shepard would not say so but he indicated it has been better than that of some of the visiting rich Americans.

The gambling theme provided one of the most incongruous of the downtown cleanup pictures Monday. The Plaza Casino was one of the three wrecked by the New Year's Day rioters. They did such a thorough job on this gambling house that they must have thought Batista's kin folks had a piece of the joint.

Dozens of poor people were scratching through the wreckage and the ashes looking for small coins and poker chips.

On the overturned top of a charred roulette table, four barefooted and dirty little street kids calmly played cards with a charred deck. They were using five-dollar chips salvaged from the wreckage. They ignored the passing taxi cabs, buses and the crowds.

Moscow's Rocket Goes Mute

Projectile Now Just Space Curio

By Herald Wire Services

MOSCOW — (AP) — The Soviet cosmic rocket Mechta (Dream) lost its voice Monday on its plunge toward an orbit around the sun.

Radio signals of the 1½-ton projectile faded out as it passed the 370,960-mile mark and its 62nd hour aloft, in a headlong dash from the earth into man's greatest conquest of space.

Soviet scientists lost track of their brainchild.

But mute or not, they expected it to streak into a solar orbit Wednesday or Thursday on a pear-shaped course that possibly — barely possibly — might one day swing it back to earth.

It is due to enter an elliptical course between the Earth and Mars, they said, taking 15 months to complete the swing around the sun that the earth completes in 12.

The Russians originally announced the rocket would take 447 days to circle the sun. Monday they said there had been a minor miscalculation, that one revolution would take 450 days.

The name Mechta (Dream) was applied to the rocket Monday by the Communist Party newspaper Pravda. That name replaces the original Lunik, a combination of luna (moon) and Sputnik, which became outdated when the rocket zipped past the moon at a speed of 5,472 miles an hour Sunday.

Tass announced that depletion of power killed the radio signals.

The news agency said "the program of observations and scientific investigations of the rocket has been completed."

That meant that the scientific usefulness of the rocket had ended and it had been reduced to a space curio.

Powerful telescopes may be able to pick it up 15 months from now when it completes its first journey around the sun but it will not be heard from again.

Tass said that as the results of the information sent back from the rocket are processed they will be published.

The closest the rocket will come to earth will be in five years time, but even then it will be millions of miles away like any other planet.

Unless it is struck by a meteor which breaks it up it will continue on its oval path around the sun indefinitely.

A West German missile expert — Heinz Gartmann of the German Society for Space Research — estimated in Frankfurt that the Soviet rocket must have had a thrust of two million pounds. He said the U.S. is about a year away from harnessing such a force.

Pool Outlet Drags Girl

AUCKLAND, N.Z. — (AP) — While swimming underwater in a municipal pool Monday 12-year-old Cushla Coley was sucked into a 100-foot outlet pipe and flung out onto rocks at the sea's edge. She suffered cuts and bruises.

"I was pulled into the pipe feet first," Cushla said. "I put my hands to face and didn't panic. Next thing I remembered I was clinging to a rock and calling for help."

The pool was being emptied through a three-foot diameter pipe.

Heart Patients Given New Hope

Heart disease patients suffering from angina pectoris — a painful chest-breathing condition — were given new hope Monday.

Dr. Claude S. Beck told the International College of Surgeons meeting in Miami Beach that victims of the disease may stand a better chance for life through an operation he has perfected.

The operation is performed on the surface of the heart and "changes the checkerboard distribution of the blood into a more even distribution," said Dr. Beck, professor of cardiovascular surgery at Western Reserve School of Medicine, Cleveland, Ohio.

A 57-year-old retired Miamian was killed Monday when his car was struck from behind by a truck unable to stop in time.

Metro Accident Investigator Robert Jacoby said the victim, Charles E. Holtz, 1248½ NE 111th St., was traveling North on Biscayne Blvd. at 199th St. when he apparently decided to make a left turn from his inside lane. His car was hit by a truck driven by James Johnston, 25, Negro, of 14 NW 14th Ter.

TV Trial Reset

The trial of Richard A. Mack and Thurman A. Whiteside, accused of conspiring to influence the award of Miami television Channel 10, was postponed Monday to Feb. 15.

Washington federal court officials said the trial, scheduled for today, was put off because defense motions still are awaiting court action.

Mack, former member of the Federal Communications Commission, and Whiteside, a Miami attorney and a friend of Mack, were indicted following hearings by a special House subcommittee.

The Town Crier

BY Jack Bell

BELL

Things have come to a hell of a pass
When a man can't wallop his own jackass.

The first mistake was made by Notre Dame big wheels, in giving so much responsibility to a young untrained coach—which Brennan certainly was. They didn't want to release him after one year, for that would have been unfair. His teams came along for a year or two, and in 1957 Notre Dame beat Oklahoma.

But 1958 was different. The big wheels decided several weeks ago to let Terry go, and told him. He was asked to say nothing until a mid-January announcement. Terry obeyed ---- except for an act that shows him to be fair-minded. Knowing his assistants would be left stranded by a January announcement, he told them to start looking for jobs.

The coaches told their wives. The wives talked ---- and one talked to the wife of a Chicago newspaper man. She talked to her husband ---- and up went the Terrynik.

Sounds plausible, doesn't it?

Anniversary

Nora and I were invited to a party Sunday night at Gray's Inn. Lucy and Lou Goodwin celebrated their 57th wedding anniversary. Lucy sat at one end of the table, Lou at the other. Every so often Lou would send a waiter down to see if Lucy was getting what she wanted, the way she wanted it. Then another waiter would come from Lucy, to check up on the service Lou was getting.

Finally Lucy could stand it no longer, and a waiter ordered Lou to a chair beside her. Then they cut the cake, and Lou stayed right there. Then we all went into the lounge with Charlie Farrell. Charlie and Virginia (Mrs. Farrell) used to be tenants of Lou and Lucy. And for 13 anniversaries Lucy and Lou have gone wherever Charlie's singing.

Charlie and his cute 'n beeeautiful protege Dori Lynn then sang sentimental songs (well, some of them were) to Lucy and Lou, who held hands and shed a silent tear or three. Then Lou invited us all to their diamond anniversary in 1977 and we went home.

Darned if I don't believe they'll make it, too.

ville E. Stone. Soon after, Victor F. Lawson acquired control and continued Stone as editor until 1888 when he bought Stone's remaining interest. The two helped start the Associated Press.

In an era of political domination of newspapers, The News from the beginning has been independent, with "no ax to grind, no friends to reward, no enemies to punish."

Lawson in 1898 founded The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service, an act which soon placed The News in the front ranks of the country's influential journals.

Lawson was publisher until his death in 1925, when The News was sold to a group headed by Walter A. Strong. Frank Knox purchased control after Strong died in 1931. Col. Knox died at his post as secretary of the navy in April, 1944, and six months later John S. Knight acquired The News.

Circulation increased by 200,000 a day in 10 years, and new record highs in advertising volume have been set.

Emphasis has been on journalistic independence, coupled with accurate, factual reporting and a challenging action in "investigating everything" on behalf of the welfare of citizens on all levels.

Twice honored with Pulitzer awards for public service, The Daily News and its staff under Knight have won an enviable worldwide reputation for courage and resourcefulness in exposing wrongdoing in high places.

The Daily News won the Pulitzer prize in 1949 for its expose of Illinois newspapermen on the state pay roll during the administration of the late Gov. Dwight E. Green.

In 1957 The News won another Pulitzer prize for the investigation that led to the conviction of State Auditor Orville E. Hodge for misuse of public funds.

The Chicago Daily News was the first major newspaper to make a great success of a big weekend edition published on Saturday. It has kept modernizing with such innovations as the Second Front Page, the Thursday zone sections, and it developed a new style of significant interpretive reporting for its Foreign Service which serves 58 domestic and overseas clients.

The business accomplishments have been equally impressive under Knight, who has a reputation for publishing highly successful and profitable newspapers in four other cities.

Company debt of $12,800,000 was paid off. About $2,500,000 was spent on plant and equipment additions, of which $1,879,654 was spent completing the South Side plant and installing the latest four-color presses.

The Daily News acquired outside real estate worth more than $1,000,000, including the site for a projected North Side plant and a lot at Monroe and Canal for future expansion.

LOWER EAST AND WEST COASTS, Everglades, Keys — Fair and colder. High Tuesday 65 to 70. Northeasterly winds at 10 to 20 miles an hour somewhat higher on the beaches. Small craft warnings displayed.

National Summary

The cold wave that drove to the Atlantic coast during the last 24 hours dropped temperatures in many areas of the east as much as 40 degrees with readings close to zero at mid-day through the mountains of Pennsylvania.

The bulk of arctic air centered in the middle of the country is continuing to drive cold winds across the Great Lakes with snow showers along the eastern shores deep into Michigan and into the northern Appalachians.

The Pacific storm that swept through the northwest during the night has spread snow into the northern Rockies to give moderating temperatures in eastern Colorado.

Some easing of the frigid weather is expected over most sections from the Rockies to the Appalachians by tomorrow. However, the mercury should dip to 20 or 30 degrees below zero in northern New York and Maine with sub-zero levels in the mid-atlantic states.

Intermittent snow advancing eastward over the Plateau to the Rockies will expand precipitation over most states west of the Continental Divide during the next 24 hours and snow should reach the Dakotas Tuesday.

2 Cuban Planes Seized

By Herald Wire Services

DAYTONA BEACH — Two planes flown here from Cuba have been placed under "constructive seizure" by U.S. Customs officers.

Customs agents said they found eight 50 caliber machine guns, some sidearms and ammunition on one of the planes and that this was being taken to Jacksonville Monday.

News Around Florida

Constructive seizure is made when there has been a violation of the law with no intent to break a law, officials said.

Agents said one plane — a bomber — was flown by Capt. Vasquez Soto and First Lt. Jose Hernandez; the other was a private plane flown by Alberto Mayo, who was accompanied by his wife. Agents said the four fled Thursday because of the revolution.

Customs agents said the four would be permitted to remain in the U.S. under immigration regulations.

KEY WEST — The last big boatload of American tourists from strife-torn Cuba landed here Monday after spending the night anchored in a ship off the storm-tossed coast.

The tourists appeared to be in good spirits after getting their first solid meal in several days aboard the ship Sunday.

Included among the passengers were Felipe de Vosjoli of the French Embassy in Washington and his wife.

TALLAHASSEE — The State Department of Water Resources recommended Monday that the level of Lake Apopka, big sports fishing resort in Orange and Lake Counties, be raised six inches.

A six inch raise in the operating level of Lake Griffin in Lake County also was recommended.

However, Director John Wakefield of the state agency advised water management authorities in the Oklawaha River basin that raising levels of the lakes would require that the capacities of outlets and connecting canals be increased.

Plane Ditched

KEY LARGO — Two Miami pilots escaped unhurt Monday when they belly-landed their twin-engined private plane in 18 inches of water a quarter-mile off Key Largo.

Both were picked up by a Coast Guard helicopter within minutes after the ditching.

The fliers, Jose Bosch and T. J. Kennedy, were returned to Miami. The Coast Guard said the plane's point of origin and destination were not immediately known.

A 'Screech' Was Early Cold Signal

ST. AUGUSTINE — The shrill of six long blasts of a train whistle alerted farmers to the coming dangers of cold and frost back in the 1880s when Florida railroads teamed up with the U.S. Weather Bureau to render this special service.

The main forewarner was the "Flying Cracker," then a high-speed class train which ran between Jacksonville and Tampa and which was operated by the Florida Central and Peninsular Railroad Company. Similiar warning service was offered on the east coast by the Florida East Coast Railway.

Records show that an order was issued in February in 1896 to all agents south of Baldwin and signed by D. E. Maxwell, then General Manager of the FCPR.

The order read: "In order to forewarn fruit and vegetable growers along the central and southern divisions that cold waves likely to produce frost are approaching, this company has arranged with the U.S. Weather Bureau to obtain advance information of probable falls in temperature and communicate the same signal from the engine whistle of passing trains.

"This signal will be given by the whistle sounding six long blasts, requiring 30 seconds (five seconds to the blast) and will be repeated at intervals of every three miles.

"It is intended to give this warning 12 to 24 hours in advance, and the sounding of the whistle in the above manner will indicate a forecast for the first or second night thereafter.

"You are directed to circulate this information through all possible channels to reach the public. Post one copy at this notice at the Post Office, and request newspaper nearest you to give it prominent publication."

The "Cracker Screech," as the warning was dubbed by farmers, was a far cry from today's modern warning systems, but it saved many crops as it chased growers into the fields and groves to cover crops or place fire pots in their groves.

Fender Dent Rate Slash Is Approved

By JOHN BOYLES
Capitol Bureau Chief

TALLAHASSEE — State Treasurer and Insurance Commissioner J. Edwin Larson said Monday he had approved a reduction of auto physical damage insurance rates, resulting in an estimated annual saving to a car owners of $288,000.

National Automobile Underwriters Association submitted the revision, calling for an overall decrease in rates of almost one per cent for collision, fire and theft insurance. The request was on behalf of 263 companies.

"The last general filing of this nature became effective in Florida on March 4, 1957. It provided a reduction of 1.4 per cent in rates and produced a saving of $468,000 to automobile owners," Larson said.

The latest revision makes no change in private car rates, reductions applying largely to commercial vehicles.

Collision insurance in some classifications would drop 10 cents per $100 valuation; theft would be reduced for commercial cars such as delivery, taxi cabs and jitneys, 60 to 50 cents a $100 and fire rates, ranging from $1.05 to $1.50, would fall to a new scale of 70 to 90 cents per $100.

The rate revision was made on the basis of experience in 1956 and 1957, with losses adjusted in accordance with U.S. Department of Labor automobile repair cost index.

Asked why there is a downward trend in physical damage insurance rates when auto liability insurance rates have been soaring, Larson said there is no relationship between the two.

The pointed out insurance companies know what the maximum risk is going to be in covering an auto against collision, fire or theft.

But, he said, they don't know what losses might be under a liability policy covering property damage, loss of life or bodily injury.

Insurance against collision, fire and theft is issued on the basis of the fixed value of the automobile. Losses due to fire and theft, especially, have been decreasing.

Larson said chances of any decrease in auto casualty rates depends on how much Florida traffic safety improves.

Purchase of physical damage insurance is voluntary. But auto owners must either buy liability insurance, or prove that they are financially able, in case of an accident, to pay losses incurred by other persons.

The National Automobile Underwriters Association is a rate-fixing agency, connected with the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters, largest rate-making body for casualty insurance rates.

Larson recently denied the national bureau's application for a 26.3 per cent increase in liability rates on grounds it had not submitted sufficient information for support.

The bureau had 30 days from the date of his order, Dec. 18, to ask a public hearing, but has not yet filed an appeal.

Epiphany Fete Today

TARPON SPRINGS, Fla. — (AP) — The Greek Orthodox Church commemorates the Baptism of Christ today at annual Feast of the Epiphany celebration here.

A crowd of 10,000, including Gov. and Mrs. LeRoy Collins, is expected to line streets and the banks of Spring Creek Bayou for the colorful services. The governor will make a brief address.

Services will begin early in the morning at St. Nicholas Cathedral and will continue until afternoon, when a procession of church leaders, Greek-American youths, and bands from several high schools marches to Spring Bayou.

At Spring Bayou, Bishop Polyefktos of Pittsburgh, chief celebrant of this year's service, will toss a gold-covered wooden cross into the water. Thirty-six Greek-American youths will dive for it.

The diver who retrieves the cross will receive the blessings of the church, the cheers of the crowd and, according to legend, will have good luck for the remainder of the year.

Threat of 'Red Tide' Blunted by Research

Professor Says Work Unfinished

By DOM BONAFEDE
Herald Staff Writer

Florida's "red tide"—the unpredictable scourge of microorganisms which sometimes hits the Gulf Coast—has lost much of its threat as a result of research by a University of Miami professor.

A formula devised by the U-M scientist, which combines sea and weather data, makes it possible to forecast conditions which produce the outbreaks.

Explosive expansion of the microscopic water plants colors the water red, kills millions of fish and fills the air with an irritating scent.

Dr. F. G. Smith, of U-M's International Oceanographic Foundation, said in a recently published national report that the formula can forecast years when the "red tide" will probably occur and years when it is not likely to show up.

Smith, however, told The Herald that the research was not completely finished and that further experimental work was halted because state funds had been exhausted.

He said there were no plans at the present to ask the incoming Legislature for money to push the research.

"During periods when there is no 'red tide,' nobody is interested. But when it appears, everybody wants you to do something," commented the U-M scientist.

He added that that lack of assurance that the work could be continued "makes it difficult to perform long-term research."

He noted that while the work on the "red tide" up to now was encouraging, "we have just broken the surface."

Appearance of the "red tide" may be predicted by the new formula, which promises to save millions for Florida industries.

Rites Set Today for Mrs. Mayo

SUMMERFIELD —(UPI)— Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday for Mrs. Nathan Mayo, 80, wife of Florida's Agriculture Commissioner, who died here Sunday.

Graveside services will be at Woodlawn Cemetery, Ocala.

Mrs. Mayo, who had been bedridden for several years, came to Summerfield by covered wagon from Blountsville, Ala., in 1880.

She married Mayo in 1889 and assisted him with his mercantile business in Summerfield. She also was postmistress of the Summerfield office from 1914 until 1931.

Survivors besides her husband, include two sons, Nathan N. of Ocala, and William T. of Tallahassee, and a daughter, Mrs. Louis O. Gravely Jr., of Summerfield.

Others include her stepmother, Mrs. M. W. Newsom of Ocala; a half brother, George Newsom of Ocala, and two half sisters, Helen Newsom of Ocala and Mrs. Richard Dodge of Miami.

Honorary pallbearers will include Gov. LeRoy Collins, members of the State Cabinet, Supreme Court justices, division directors of the Department of Agriculture, and longtime friends of the Mayo family.

Active pallbearers will be Gordon Skipper, Dick Dewey, Homer Agnew, Warner Wilson, and Charles Lyles, all of Ocala, and Sen. L. K. Edwards of Irvine.

Fire Hits Hollywood Academy

HOLLYWOOD — Fire broke out Monday afternoon at Riverside Military Academy here and an hour later was still raging out of control.

The fire was helped along by winds out of the north which spread it southward over the main part of the building as firemen tried to bring it under control.

There was no one in the building, although Monday was the first day of classes for the 750 cadets enrolled.

The building is an old Spanish-type three-story plaster and wood building with a tar paper roof. The flames burned most of the roof on all of the north wing within the first hour of the fire. At 4:30, flames were enveloping one of the two bell towers.

The flame had not yet spread to the first and second floors, but the fire was still spreading. Water damage from the fire hoses appeared to be extensive.

Boy Shark Victim Has Tests Of New Leg, Finds It Works

By ELVALEE SWIFT
Herald Staff Writer

Doug Lawton is a brown-eyed 9-year-old who is learning to walk again.

He moved stiffly, but surely, down the hall of Edison Park Elementary School Monday, grinning proudly.

The fourth grader has a new leg.

It isn't as limber yet as the one he lost to a vicious tiger shark last summer at a Sarasota beach, but that doesn't bother Doug.

"I can move without crutches now," he said. "Watch me."

He threw a pair of tot-sized crutches toward his mother and walked slowly to the water fountain.

His teacher, watching from a corner, nodded. "He does," she said. "He plays all the games, just like all the other youngsters."

He spoke with the ease of a boy who has no worries. The day when the man-eating shark darted into shallow water and ripped his leg was gone.

The horror of seeing the big fish repeatedly tear his flesh as his brother and father tried to beat it off was gone. So were the long hours in Sarasota hospital, where the leg was amputated.

"You see this billfold," he said in a grown-up voice, "well, I got it for Christmas and look inside."

"People in Sarasota collected about $1,000 for us," said his mother, Mrs. Richard Lawton, 1245 NE 201st Ter. "I think it's enough to buy his legs until he's grown.

"They're $300 each time and he'll need a new one every three years."

Two Killed in Crash Of Tractor-Trailer

Herald Bureau

FORT LAUDERDALE — Two persons died on U.S. 27 early Monday when their tractor-trailer swung out of control and was demolished.

The accident occurred about 5:45 a.m. 12 miles north of State Rd. 84.

The highway patrol said the victims, killed instantly, were:

Dale P. Dickerson, 28, 333 Chestnut St., Asheboro N.C., the driver, and Joe M. Boyd, 25, March Hotel, Lexington, N.C., his passenger.

(The Associated Press reported 11 persons killed in Florida traffic accidents over the first weekend of the New Year. Among the victims were Josef Kovacs, 22, of Belle Glade; Mrs. Dorothy H. Wigley, 30, of Mattituck, N.Y., and her daughter, Sandra, 8, all of whom died in a four-car collision near West Palm Beach Sunday.)

Trooper T. J. Keller reported the rig was going south when it ran off the right side of the road and skidded across to the east side.

The tractor and trailer parted, the trailer turning over. The tractor struck a tree. The bodies of both men were found in the cab. The cause of the accident was unknown.

Holzapfel Surrenders, Makes Bond

WEST PALM BEACH —(AP)— Floyd A. Holzapfel, 34, surrendered at county jail Monday in connection with a forgery case. He was freed on $5,000 bond within two hours.

HOLZAPFEL

Holzapfel, who gave his address as Miami Beach, had been sought since Dec. 11 on charges of forgery and for questioning in the murder of Lou Gene Harvey, 21, of Jacksonville.

Harvey's body was found in a canal west of West Palm Beach Nov. 7.

Sheriff John F. Kirk said he questioned Holzapfel concerning the murder but received no information.

He also was questioned about charges that he forged the name of a local bondsman to a check for $4,800.

Holzapfel declined to give his whereabouts since the pick-up order for him was sent out. He was former security chief for the Fontainebleau Hotel, Miami Beach.

Telephone Office Burns

200 Flee From Tampa Fire

TAMPA —(AP)— Nearly 200 office workers fled Monday when fire broke out in a three-story building in downtown Tampa. Four firemen were overcome by smoke while fighting the blaze.

Flames shot through the roof of the structure and a strong wind fanned sparks over the downtown area. Heavy black smoke covered an area of several blocks.

As firemen fought the flames in mid-afternoon, District Fire Chief E. E. Leavine said the fire posed no threat to nearby buildings.

Firefighters were withdrawn from the roof of the building when it threatened to collapse. Minutes later flames roared through the roof.

The firemen overcome by smoke were Capt. Tom Beasley, V. K. Ward, R. B. Mertens and E. J. Jaudon. They were quickly revived and returned to duty.

Telephone company employes, who work on the first and second floors, left the building in orderly fashion when the fire was discovered on the third floor.

Carl D. Brorein, company president, said the third floor is "sort of attic," where air conditioning equipment is installed. He said damage would be slight if the fire is confined to the third floor.

He added there would be little interruption of telephone service because the building houses only administrative offices.

Firemen could give no cause for the fire immediately.

Will Stay Separate Paper

Chicago News Sold to Field by John S. Knight

Control of The Chicago Daily News was sold Monday to Field Enterprises Inc., owners of The Chicago Sun-Times.

This was announced jointly by John S. Knight, editor and publisher of The Daily News since 1944, and by Marshall Field Jr., editor and publisher of The Sun-Times.

Sale of the majority interest in Daily News stock, at $50 a share, has been completed.

Total shares outstanding are 481,293, with more than 75 per cent held by Knight Newspapers, members of the Knight family and executives and employes of the Knight Newspapers. Field said the same offer of $50 a share is being made to the minority stockholders.

Field, who at 42 becomes the sixth publisher of The Chicago Daily News since it was founded 83 years ago, said it will be continued as "a separate and independent newspaper."

He said there are no plans for changes in personnel, that the executive staff is being asked to continue in charge of The News, and that "for the forseeable future we shall go on producing each paper as at present."

Knight, who bought control of The Chicago Daily News Oct. 18, 1944, for $2,151,537 cash, said his reasons for selling the paper "at the time of its greatest progress are entirely personal. They arise from a desire to curtail my administrative responsibilities after nearly 40 years in journalism." Knight will be 65 next Oct. 26.

"In no sense," he said, "does the sale of The Daily News mean that I am retiring from journalism.

"Knight Newspapers—owners of The Akron Beacon Journal, The Detroit Free Press, The Miami Herald, The Charlotte Observer, a newsprint mill, a newspaper supply company, TV and radio interests and two Florida weeklies—will continue to expand in areas where the demands upon my personal supervision will not be as insistent."

He said that at Field's request he has agreed to assist The Daily News in an advisory capacity during a period of transition, and that his "Editor's Notebook" will continue to appear in The News as a Saturday column.

Field paid tribute to Knight as "one of the greatest publishers of America" and said, "I feel fortunate to have his assistance during this period of transition." He added:

"The Daily News under the outstanding leadership of John S. Knight since 1944 has reached new heights in circulation, advertising and distinction.

"When he bought control of The Chicago Daily News, it was said that Mr. Knight had 'purchased an opportunity.' He has made the most of the opportunity. In the past 15 years, he has enhanced that paper's traditional greatness and prestige, increased its influence and strengthened its financial structure immeasureably.

"He has earned a reputation as one of America's great editors and most articulate exponents of a responsible free press. As an active leader in the civic life of this community, he has made an invaluable contribution to the progress of Chicago."

Knight said he made his announcement "with mixed emotions: A sense of sorrow in relinquishing control of a great and successful newspaper; a comforting knowledge that Marshall Field Jr. will maintain the editorial independence and enterprise which have made The Daily News a shining example of the best in American journalism."

He said other offers had been made for The Daily News but that he considered none of them except Field's.

He said he is convinced Field will conduct the paper with "intelligence, responsibility and courage," and said he has been assured that The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service will be maintained and expanded.

He recalled that when he took over The Chicago Daily News it was "burdened with debt and suffering from a sense

Frostbite Reigns in Northeast

Sub-Zero Winds Lash Airplanes

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — A sub-zero cold wave, so bitter it knocked out public utilities for whole cities and sparked murderous home fires, numbed most of the nation Monday.

The arctic air mass was breaking up in the southwest and relented a little on the Middle West. But the East was still to feel its full power.

Record lows of 10 to 20 degrees below zero were in store for Pittsburgh, 53-mile-an-hour winds raked Washington, D.C., and four to six-foot snow drifts blocked highways in western New York and northern Pennsylvania. In upstate New York and Maine, weathermen predicted temperatures 20 to 30 degrees below zero.

Another vicious storm howled out of the Pacific and into the Rockies. Winds clocked up to 100 miles per hour, smashed small boats and piers in the San Francisco bay area, while snow blocked U.S. 99 at Redding, Calif., and piled up 14 inches deep at Craer Lake, Ore.

The three day cold wave, which held many Midwest temperatures to zero or below for more than 24 hours, was blamed for at least 29 deaths attributed to exhaustion, freezing, weather-caused traffic accidents and cold-sparked fires.

Kansas counted four dead in Monday home fires, three of them children. Fires also burned down a block square building near Arnold, Mo., and raged unchecked for five hours at Holliday, Mo., destroying a grocery and post office, because the town's pumper froze.

How Batista Lived Last Hours

By GEORGE SOUTHWORTH
Herald Latin America Editor

HAVANA — Fulgencio Batista's last moments in Cuba were filled with meritative melancholy and wonder at what had hit him.

Gone were the cheering throngs, the backslappers, the friends who once vowed they would stick with him through thick or thin.

On Dec. 31 — the beaten dictator's last day in his homeland — he had by his side only a few close followers, his wife and two of his children.

With his regime rapidly falling to pieces and Rebel Leader Fidel Castro routing government troops, Batista made his final decision as president of Cuba late that day.

He had to flee like a whipped dog or face death at the hands of the revolutionaries.

Shortly before midnight he and his family secretly slipped away from the Presidential Palace and drove to the outskirts of Havana to his home at Camp Columbia, the military headquarters of the Cuban army.

In contrast to the spartan surroundings of the military barracks, Batista's quarters were elegantly furnished. A large staff of servants was always on hand to tend to the whims of the "strongman."

His Camp Columbia home consisted of five bedrooms, five bathrooms, two dining rooms, a few smaller rooms and a private barber shop.

Two days later, long-haired and bearded rebel mountain fighters were using the barber chairs of the man they had defeated.

Still in service at Batista's army quarters is Robert Diaz, a civilian servant.

Diaz, who was on hand the fateful night, recalled:

"There was Batista, his wife, his son Jorge, 15, and his daughter Marta, about two. They arrived about midnight.

"Then, with some top government and military officials present, Batista gave last-minute instructions. Looking on were 15 servants.

"Batista was calm and quiet. His wife and son seemed excited."

Later, Diaz said, Batista shook hands with each of his servants.

"He was obviously moved. It was a sad moment," Diaz noted.

Batista took three traveling bags with him and his wife's jewelry. A nurse carried little Marta.

When the party was assembled, the members filed into a waiting line of limousines and drove to Havana Airport in the dead of night.

After only a few minutes at the airport, Batista, his family and loyal followers were on their way into exile.

Ironically, his banishment followed an identical pattern set by Carlos Prio Socarras, the president Batista had booted out in a bloodless coup of March 10, 1952.

The wheel had come full circle for Batista.

New President Reaches Havana

Some Famous People Helped Castro, 15A

HAVANA, Cuba — Provisional President Manuel Urrutia flew into Havana late Monday and it appeared that martial law would be quickly lifted in the capital.

Urrutia flew to the capital from Camaguey Province in eastern Cuba.

He arrived at the height of a squabble between Fidel Castro's rebel forces and student revolutionaries who had occupied the Presidential Palace.

The student group later left the palace on orders from their leaders rather than embarrass Urrutia's struggling young regime.

The earlier proclamation of martial law had stressed that it would be enforced until Urrutia arrived. Police also had orders to impose a 9 p.m. to 5 a.m. curfew in Havana but there was doubt whether these orders would be followed through.

Castro, who rooted Dictator-President Fulgencio Batista from power New Year's Eve, is making a leisurely but victorious approach to the capital through the eastern provinces.

Castro leaders said military rule will be lifted as soon as Urrutia is installed in the palace. They appealed to the people, particularly the workers, to maintain order.

Making ready for Urrutia's arrival — and to insure a peaceful demonstration — revolutionists filled Havana's jails with Batista supporters.

Shortly after the new tension broke out Monday, the American embassy issued renewed warnings to Americans in Cuba to continue to be cautious in their activities.

U. S. officials announced:

"The American embassy repeats its warnings to Americans in Cuba, particulary in the Havana area, that they should continue to observe appropriate caution in their activities until the local situation is completely cleared."

Also, Pan American World Airways and National Airlines, which had resumed service to Havana, abruptly cut it off Monday afternoon. PAA gave "technical difficulties" as the reason for the action.

Despite the intra-rebel power struggle, Havana was beginning to return to normalcy.

Stores were reopened and street traffic once again became its chaotic, horn-tooting self.

Newspapers began appearing once more. Taxi drivers took up their usual stands, as did the female strollers along the Prado.

The provisional government Sunday ordered the end of the general strike that went into effect last Thursday.

As a result of Monday's new crisis, U. S. Ambassador Earl E. T. Smith canceled a trip to Washington just as he was about to board a plane. He returned to the embassy to await developments.

Hialeah's Founder Dies at 93

By EVELYN DeTARDO
Herald Staff Writer

The grand old man of Hialeah is dead.

James H. Bright, developer of Hialeah, founder of Hialeah Race Track and pioneer Florida cattle and dairy man, died Monday of pneumonia. He was 93.

Mr. Bright, of 45 Olive Dr., Hialeah, led a campaign to get Hialeah its first school; was first president of the Hialeah-Miami Springs bank, and is credited with helping make Florida a top cattle producing state.

James H. Bright

He brought the first Brahman and Holstein cattle to the state, then imported South American sod to give his purebred herds prime forage.

Born in St. Louis, he grew up in Louisiana, Mo., where he graduated from business school at Louisiana Baptist College. Always a horse enthusiast, he drove trotters for the St. Louis Jockey Club.

When he came to Miami in 1909, he bought 17,000 acres

Sixth Straight Session

Stock Market Weathers Profit Taking, Closes High

NEW YORK — (AP) — The stock market weathered profit-taking and ended at a new record high for the sixth straight trading session Monday.

Rails, coppers and chemicals led the upturn, which ran from a few cents to $1 or more in leading issues. American Telephone and Telegraph was outstanding with a $3 gain, closing at $228.50.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks closed at $216.90, up $1.10. Based on this average the gain added an estimated $1,400,000,000 to the quoted value of all stocks listed on the New York stock exchange.

After showing strength early, the market slipped back in the afternoon. Demand renewed itself at the close, when the ticker lagged behind floor transactions. It was late five other times during the day. (Details on financial pages 6-11B).

'Small World' Falls Short

Balloonists Found Alive

Arrive At Goal In a Boat

Crew of Four Is in Barbados

BRIDGETOWN, Barbados—(AP)—Three men and a woman who set out on a transatlantic balloon trip reached their goal Monday — as shipwrecked mariners. A fisherman rescued them from the Atlantic.

Capt. Costa Brathwaite, 62, and his 32-year-old son found the four Britons adrift and weary in the 15½-foot gondola-lifeboat of the balloon Small World. He brought them to the comforts of a Barbadian hotel.

That meant fresh fruit, baths and solid footing for Mrs. Rosemary Mudie, 30, and her three companions after 24 days of austerity and tossing by wind and wave.

Mrs. Mudie promptly shampooed her hair.

"Can anyone lend me some hair clips?" she asked.

The balloonists set out from the Canary Islands Dec. 12. They charted a 3,000-mile course to this island in the British West Indies. Radio signals from them were heard for several days, then no definite reports for 19 days.

The Britons said they had cut the balloon from the gondola. They declined to say how long ago they cut the balloon loose, or how long they had been afloat.

"Sorry, chaps, the story has been sold," was the explanation.

The London Daily Mail sponsored the expedition, intended to make a scientific survey of Atlantic trade winds, and Daily Mail Reporter Arthur Cook was here to sew up their account.

Aside from Mrs. Mudie, the co-pilot and cook, the rescued group was made up of her husband, navigator Colin Mudie, 32; the expedition's pilot-captain, Arnold Eiolart, 51 and Eilart's 21-year-old son, Timothy, radioman.

The Brathwaites were fishing four hours offshore when they sighted the gondola.

"There were a lot of dolphin around the gondola so we caught four first and then sailed over to hailing distance," the captain said.

"I said, 'Are you the Small World?'

"Eiloart shouted back: 'Yes. Wil you tow us ashore?'

Cape Gets an IBM That'll Hone Its Aim

More State News, Pages 1C, 2B, 2C

CAPE CANAVERAL — As Russia's Lunik swung around the sun Monday, Air Force contractors were hard at work here installing equipment which will make it easier for the U.S. to duplicate the Russians' accuracy.

They were installing an IBM 709 computer, the most advanced computer ever hooked to missile instruments.

The machine replaces the IBM 704 which has done trajectory computations on all long-range rockets — including satellite and lunar probe vehicles — fired from here since March 1957.

Scientists say they'll be able "to threat the needle's eye with the new machine."

Its main job, like the 704, will be impact prediction, that is telling missile engineers where their "birds" will hit the Atlantic.

The new machine is expected to cut the predictions from a 20-mile circle at 3,500 miles to a three-mile circle and it may eventually be able to "call the shot" within a half mile.

It'll be able to compute satellite and space trajectories with a corresponding increase in speed and accuracy.

To do its work, it'll simultaneously evaluate information from four radar and two azuza (radio transponder) instrument systems.

The 704 now can use three systems.

The 709 will also be able to automatically destroy a missile which strays out of the limits of the Atlantic missile range.

The existing 704 can only tell a safety officer where the missile is. If it's out of bounds, it has to be destroyed by the officer.

Mikoyan in Capital: There Will Be Peace

'We Had a Useful Exchange,' Says Russia's Mikoyan
... met with Secretary of State Dulles for 95 minutes

No. 2 Red Will See Ike Next

Prelude to Nikita? 12A

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The Kremlin's second in command predicted after a 95-minute meeting with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles Monday that "there will be peace."

Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan said after the parley that he and Dulles discussed the Berlin crisis, Germany, disarmament and trade.

Mikoyan also disclosed that he would confer with President Eisenhower after he returns here from a swing around the country Jan. 19 or 20. The State Department confirmed that the meeting would take place.

The State Department said Mikoyan "brought an oral message of greeting" to Dulles from Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev. Mikoyan is second only to Khrushchev in the Soviet leadership.

Mikoyan told reporters after leaving Dulles' State Department office that "I think it was a useful talk."

Later, speaking before television cameras, he said he believes discussions with Dulles and other American officials should improve prospects for peace and easing of cold war tensions.

"We'll see how it turns out," he said. Then he said through his translator, "there will be peace."

Mikoyan said he and Dulles "discussed in general terms in a preliminary manner areas of common interest."

"We intend to meet again when I return from my trip around the country," Mikoyan said. He planned to leave late today or Wednesday.

Mikoyan declined to express his views on the Berlin crisis. The U. S., Britain and France have rejected Soviet demands that they withdraw their troops and allow West Berlin to become a "free city."

Mikoyan, asked whether he made any suggestions to Dulles on this issue, replied that "I think I have said enough."

Meanwhile, Millionaire Cyrus Eaton, chairman of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, disclosed in Cleveland that Mikoyan had accepted his invitation to visit the city Wednesday.

Eaton, a sharp critic of U.S. foreign policy, said he does not know how long Mikoyan will stay or what he wants to see. Eaton recently was the guest of Khrushchev on a visit to Moscow.

The conference with Dulles took place despite the fact that the secretary was suffering from a virus infection. Dulles was forced to cancel a trip to Ottawa Monday and left for home immediately after the meeting.

Mikoyan and his aides left the State Department through a cordon of police and state department security officers who were brought into the lobby to hold back a crowd of 300 to 400 persons.

Seven Hungarian pickets, parading across the street from the entrance, chanted "Red murderer" as Mikoyan left the building.

GOP Rebels Aim Guns At Martin

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Insurgent Republican congressmen mounted an apparently powerful drive Monday to end the 20-year reign of House GOP Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr.

Martin, obviously surprised by the size of the revolt, quickly offered a compromise in an effort to stem the tide. But it was turned down by rebel House members who said they had the votes to beat him at the GOP organizational meeting today.

The insurgents picked Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana to oppose Martin. Halleck, after a day of hurried meetings on both sides, formally announced his candidacy.

The anti-Martin surge began earlier at a secret meeting of about 35 GOP congressmen in a hotel. Forces opposing the veteran House leader agreed to unite behind Halleck.

When this development became known, Martin offered to step down from his secondary post as head of the GOP Policy Committee in favor of a member of the rebel group.

Martin also offered to create a new post of assistant leader which the insurgent group would be permitted to fill.

But the rebels stood firm behind Halleck. Halleck issued his statement only after rebels took a careful nose count and decided they had enough votes to put him across.

Rep. William H. Ayres of Ohio, who helped organize the anti-Martin drive, said that "after losing three consecutive congresses a number of members feel it is time to 'try a new approach.'"

President Unveils Defense Budget

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — President Eisenhower unveiled a new 40.9-billion-dollar defense budget for congressional leaders Monday. Democrats promptly complained that his military and space programs failed to meet the Russian challenge.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas told newsmen after a 2½ hour White House meeting between administration officials and Senate and House leaders that he is disappointed in the President's spending plans for these two critical programs.

"They are programming as if we were living in a static rather than an exploding and expanding and developing world," he said. He added that he "would go farther, faster" than the administration in view of Soviet technical advances.

But Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R., Ill.), who is an odds-on favorite to become Senate GOP leader, told newsmen that Dr. Keith Glennan, head of the new federal space agency, outlined an "accelerated timetable" for U.S. exploration of outer space.

He said the timetable includes an attempt to fire a manned rocket to the moon. He added that the dramatic Soviet shot beyond the moon "certainly adds to the acceleration."

The President also told the lawmakers he will ask for what they call "a substantial increase" in the 3.3 billion dollars appropriated for foreign aid in the current fiscal year.

The bipartisan meeting was designed to give key legislators a preview of the defense and foreign affairs phases of the President's State of the Union message and his 77-billion-dollar budget in advance of the opening of Congress Wednesday.

Sen. Alexander Wiley (R., Wis.), ranking GOP member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said the defense budget for fiscal 1960 was pegged at 40.9 billion dollars, about 100 million dollars more than spending estimates for the current year.

The White House announced 10 days ago that the administration's overall spending budget for the new fiscal year, beginning next July 1, will be balanced at about 77 billion dollars.

N. Florida In Freezer

A cold wave tightened its frosty grip on North Florida Monday and weathermen predicted temperatures in the 20s there early Tuesday.

But the central and southern parts of the state, which hold the rich citrus and winter vegetable growing areas, are expected to escape any damaging frost, the Miami Weather Bureau said.

Forecaster Arnold Sugg said, however, that Miamians will shiver early Tuesday. A low of 60 was forecast for Miami Beach and other areas near the water, and a low of close to 50 in the western suburbs.

Lows between 25 and 30 were forecast for early Tuesday in North Florida around Tallahassee, and even colder temperatures are expected in the northwest Florida panhandle.

much headway. Only had up a small white sail."

The fishing boat took the gondola in tow at 8 a.m. It reached Crane Beach, on the island's southeast coast, at noon.

The gondola, still heavily stocked with food and water, was anchored offshore until the balloonists were landed, then was towed into harbor by another fishing boat.

Witnesses reported the hull had no moss on it — an indication it was not in the water overlong.

All four were somewhat shaky as they came ashore, watched by a gathering crowd, to the Crane Hotel overlooking the beach.

A week ago it was feared that the Small World was down at sea. Shortly before that, a hoax radio message touched off a widespread search for the balloon in the huge Orinoco delta of northeastern Venezuela.

Flynn Says He Fought With Fidel

HAVANA, Cuba — (AP) — Actor Errol Flynn, nursing a wound he called a scratch, said Monday night he campaigned with Rebel Leader Fidel Castro in a real-life episode of his swashbuckling film career.

Flynn, 50, told reporters he shared the field hardships and dangers with Castro's forces since Christmas Day because "all my life I've wanted to see what makes an idealist tick."

The actor said he found Castro "one of those men who come along occasionally in human history and fight for ideals."

"And I think he also has lizard blood," Flynn said with a laugh. "I never saw a man jump around with such energy."

Flynn said he got his wound eight days ago at Central Palma Sugar Mill in Oriente Province. He said he did all his campaigning with the Rebels there.

"When bullets fly," Flynn said, "sometimes people get hurt. I was hiding behind a post — as usual — when a bullet hit the post and then my leg."

He pointed to his right leg and added:

"I lost a little skin and a little blood. Now I am getting queries on whether I lost a leg.

"The only thing that really wounded me was not being able to get anything to eat except tangerines."

Flynn declined to say how he arranged his rendezvous with Castro, but said he had been interested in the rebel leader for eight years.

March of Dimes Kickoff Told

Reds Train 2 Doctors For Each U.S. Grad

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — (AP) — Russian medical schools are turning out 16,000 physicians a year, or more than twice as many as the U.S., the kickoff of the 1959 March of Dimes was told Monday.

And Dr. Joseph G. Hinsey, director of New York Hospital — Cornell Medical Center, also declared that "what this country does not have is the people, in anywhere near the numbers needed, who are prepared (trained) to fight the destruction caused by disease."

Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation, declared that in the next 10 years medical research in the U.S. will need three times as much money as it gets now from public contributions and industry.

O'Connor, whose foundation is expanding into arthritis and birth defects and dropping "for infantile paralysis" from its title, said the March of Dimes is setting aside 12 million dollars over the next 10 years to provide scholarships in health professions for 505 students a year.

The first Brahman cattle in South Florida were brought here by Mr. Bright in 1911. Because grazing was poor, he also introduced para grass for his cattle, then brought a herd of Holstein cattle from Missouri to start the first dairy farm for the 7,000 residents then living here.

Business prospered, so Mr. Bright brought meat producing Herefords to the area.

While riding out to his ranch, his horse struck marl which Mr. Bright knew would be ideal for a race track. He kept the idea in the back of his mind, and campaigned for the track.

Ev Sewell, pioneer Miami mayor, and Frank Shutts, former owner of The Miami Herald found a Buffalo promoter, Joe Smoots, who delivered $100,000 for the track.

Mr. Bright donated 160 acres, now worth well over a million dollars, for the project. He accepted a $10 payment, "to make it legal."

He interested Joseph Widener in digging lakes and putting Flamingo's in the oval at the center of the track.

Mr. Bright was a member of the Mahi Shrine, the Oleta Masonic Lodge in Hialeah, the Flat Tires and the Jesters. He was a former member of the Centry Club of Coral Gables, the Committee of 100, and was former chairman of The Florida State Livestock Board.

Surviving are his wife, Lulu Tinsley Bright; a daughter, Mrs. John H. Cheatham, Coral Gables, and two grandsons.

LOWER EAST AND WEST COASTS, Everglades, Keys — Fair and colder. High Tuesday 65 to 70. Northeasterly winds at 10 to 20 miles an hour somewhat higher on the beaches. Small craft warnings displayed.

National Summary

The cold wave that drove to the Atlantic coast during the last 24 hours dropped temperatures in many areas of the east as much as 40 degrees with readings close to zero at mid-day through the mountains of Pennsylvania.

The bulk of arctic air centered in the middle of the country is continuing to drive cold winds across the Great Lakes with snow showers along the eastern shores deep into Michigan and into the northern Appalachians.

The Pacific storm that swept through the northwest during the night has spread snow into the northern Rockies to give moderating temperatures in eastern Colorado.

Some easing of the frigid weather is expected over most sections from the Rockies to the Appalachians by tomorrow. However, the mercury should dip to 20 or 30 degrees below zero in northern New York and Maine with sub-zero levels in the mid-atlantic states.

Intermittent snow advancing eastward over the Plateau to the Rockies will expand precipitation over most states west of the Continental Divide during the next 24 hours and snow should reach the Dakotas Tuesday.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

Is All That Golf All Right For Ike?

By DR. T. R. VAN DELLEN

J. A. M. writes: Golf is a strenuous game and I have heard of many persons who collapsed and died on the links.

Dr. T. R. Van Dellen

Some had suffered previous heart attacks and others were healthy.

I feel the President's physician is making a mistake in permitting him to engage in too much golf, considering his past illnesses. Do you agree?

I would if you had as much experience in treating heart patients as Dr. Paul Dudley White, the President's cardiologist.

There is no harm in exercising after recovering from a heart attack provided it does not lead to shortness of breath, chest pain, or a decided increase in heart beat.

Golfers with ticker trouble should avoid hills and play only when the weather is equable.

The electric golf cart minimizes exertion; it has been a boon to many golfers who develop symptoms from this activity.

No-More Shoving Furniture -- Now It 'Hangs' From Walls

By MARGUERITE DAVIS

CHICAGO — (UPI) — Designers finally decided to do something for women who are tired of tugging furniture about each time they clean house, and for apartment dwellers who must conserve space.

The result is a wide display of "hanging" furniture at the annual January International Home Furnishings Show. Cabinets, desks, consoles, bars, chests — even a high fidelity speaker which can be used in pairs for stereophonic sound or singly, attached to a television set or record player — are made to install on the wall.

Robert Stone Jordan of Audio Artists Ltd. Designed the "decrosonic sound system" to eliminate bulky and often unsightly speakers. Jordan's speaker is contained in an easy-to-hang panel screened by handpainted silk or grass cloth.

This handling sacrifices nothing in sound, for it has a rated frequency response of 40 to 15,000 cycles per second, and the washable screen is porous enough to let sound through without distortion.

The back of each piece is slotted to fit on a 24-inch metal rod which Peabody said any amateur can install without calling in a handyman. Once in place, the furniture can be moved sideways along the bar and the total effect is one of greater space because the floor is left clear.

A handsome two-piece console has as its only decoration an apparent wood sculpture in the middle of the table top. Lifted, the sculpture turns out to be the top of a clothes brush.

But most of the collection features the metal in a wide variety of colors, as sculptured trays which slide out easily on shallow walnut shelves, and as sides and bottoms for deeper wood-backed shelves.

Radical Operation Can Cure Cancer

By ELEANOR DIXON
Herald Club Editor

Many women who would have died from cancer of the cervix are alive today because of "a fairly recent application of radical surgery of the treatment of cancer."

This recent application was explained Monday by Dr. Alexander Brunschwig at the Southeastern Regional Assembly of the International College of Surgeons in the Americana Hotel.

This operation, said Dr. Brunschwig, consists of the removal of the uterus and surrounding tissues, and "sometimes including the bladder and rectum." It is performed when the "standard treatment of cancer of the cervix — radium and X-ray" has failed and the cancer has reoccurred.

"A second attempt to control the growth by radiation with exceedingly rare exception fails, and often the patient is made worse because of limited tissue tolerance of radiation."

Dr. Brunschwig, who is professor of clinical surgery at Cornell University's medical college and attending surgeon at the Memorial Center for the Treatment of Cancer and Allied Diseases in New York City, illustrated his talk to the surgeons with colored slides, including pictures of patients who have returned to an active, normal life.

* * *

CANCER OF THE CERVIX is the second commonest site for cancer among women. Most prevalent site is the breast.

How effective is the operation as a "cure"? Dr. Brunschwig explained that of 350 recurrent cases he saw between 1947 and the end of 1952, about 150 "were so advanced that nothing could be done."

"But among the remainder there has been a 'cure' rate of 20 per cent. The term 'cure' means surviving five years. It's an arbitrary yardstick," said the doctor.

This percentage of "cured" women means "a pure net gain, because otherwise all of them would have been dead."

Dr. Brunschwig said that in operations where the bladder and rectum are removed, artificial openings are made for the patient's elimination. "Even this radical process has been well tolerated by the patients, and they have returned to full physical activity and a happy existence."

This extreme form of operation was not without criticism when it was first developed. Critics said "it would be better to be dead, than to 'live live that.'"

But Dr. Brunschwig countered that in 600 of these most radical forms done in the last ten years, "I've never met one who regretted this operation which offered another chance at life."

Among the slides he showed of recovered patients was an attractive woman who modeled clothes for mature women, in spite of having an artificial opening for elimination.

* * *

"THESE EXTREME OPERATIONS are not without risk and carry an appreciable mortality rate, but these patients have nothing to lose."

He stressed that the patient and her family should make the decision as to whether she should have the operation, after the chances of a cure have been explained by the physician.

The number of women whose lives could be saved by this operation could be increased, he said, if a greater number of them were seen more promptly after the recurrence of cancer is detected.

Cervical cancer occurs most frequently "after early middle age, and particularly among married women who have had children. There is a direct relationship between incidence of cancer of the cervix and the incidence of reproduction."

Dr. Brunschwig stressed that "since both cancer of the breast and cervix are in a sense superficial (they can be readily detected on examination in a doctor's office), check-ups at "not too long intervals" are very important.

Cervical smear tests have "tremendous importance" in detecting unsuspected fresh cancer. "When this is possible and adequate treatment is given the cure rate is over 80 per cent."

But in cases where cancer of the cervix reoccurs after radiation treatment, Dr. Brunschwig said the smear tests have "very limited value."

Panhellenic Unit Entertains Co-eds At Woods' Home

By FLORENCE RABON
Herald Correspondent

KEY WEST — College sorority girls home for the holidays were guests at a delightful coffee in their honor which was hosted by Key West City Panhellenic. Shirley (Mrs. Norman) Wood opened her charming home on Washington St., to members and their guests.

MRS. RABON

Greeting the arrivals was Ardis (Mrs. Murray) Packer, who directed them to the perfectly appointed refreshment table. Gay seasonal decorations were used in the centerpiece.

Joyce (Mrs. Ralph) Millis poured coffee and Joan (Mrs. Rhodes) Boykin presided at the egg nog bowl. Assorted hot rolls, date and nut bars, and jelly roll completed the refreshments.

Among the students received were Lanny Harris and Edna Lois Deland, FSU; Linda Groves, University of Florida; and Deanne Page Eckton and Sondra Carbonell, Florida Southern College. Linda came down from Marathon for the affair. Deanne is president-elect of her sorority, Alpha Omicron Pi.

Other Panhellenic members attending included Mary Ruth (Mrs. Marcel) Mazeau, Audree (Mrs C. K.) Moran, Mrs. L. A. Dukes, Roseanne (Mrs. Herbert) Cook, Mrs. Margaret Cusick, Mrs. Thomas Chandler, Dot (Mrs. A. W.) Huston, Mrs. Paul Bradmiller, and Betty (Mrs. James) Flenner.

Beta Sigs Celebrate

LOCAL CHAPTERS of Beta Sigma Phi International celebrated their annual holiday party as a joint affair which they held at the Sun and Sand Club. The Breezeway Room was resplendent with traditional decor complete even to a silver Christmas tree with gay red decorations.

Seventy four members and guests including husbands and other members of the families enjoyed a buffet prior to dancing.

In the throng were the chapter sponsors Mrs. Thomas Caro, who is also an International honorary member, and Mrs. H. A. Woodward Mr. Woodward was also there.

Others included Mr. and Mrs. Neil Fleck and Mrs. Julie George, chapter presidents. Julie was squired by Jim Livesay.

Out of town guests included Mrs. Annie Lewis of Magnolia, Miss., here for the holidays with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Austin.

Down from Bradenton were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pearson. They are visiting with their son and daughter-in-law, Lt. Cdr. and Mrs. Douglas Pearson. Doug will be leaving later in the month for a new duty station in New London, Conn. Nellie and their small fry, Stephanie, will remain until after the arrival of an additional Pearson.

Heureux Noel from Schwartzes

IN THE HOLIDAY mailbag there was a charming seasons greeting with a picture of Paris Le Sacre' Coeur. The message in French, "Heureux Noel, Bonne Annee" is signed Les Schwartzes, Jeannette, Jack, Joanne, and Jackie. The entertaining note brings news of Jeannette's red shawl which is having a continental fling, of taking French lessons and loving every minute of it. She also sends greetings to all their friends in old Key West.

Orchids for Everybody

A RARE TREAT is in store for orchid fanciers when the Orchid Society of Key West opens a two-day show Jan. 10 at the West Martello Tower. The exhibition will include orchids of all species grown by members of the group and other growers in the city and on the keys. Orchid growers are invited to enter plants.

Members of the Key West Garden Club are assisting with the show and the proceeds will help to cover the expense of building the new birdcage roof which has been put over the orchid patio at the garden center at the Tower. Eugene Otto, famed artist, designed and supervised the building of the roof.

W. Curry Harris is president of the society. Chairmen for the show are Yolando (Mrs. W. Curry) Harris, general arrangements; Don Wright, judging and awards; Azel Smith, transportation; exhibits, Lulu Russell and Dwight Superneau. Staging assistants are Emily (Mrs. Lee) Goddard. George Adams, W. Curry Harris, and Robert Sauer. Gladys (Mrs. Arthur) Mulberg is in charge of hospitality and Martha (Mrs. Robert) Sauer, and Katherine (Mrs. Karl) Fischer, publicity.

Those planning to attend may obtain tickets from members of the Orchid Society or the Garden Club.

NEWLYWEDDED Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Galles Holt stand before the altar of Holy Trinity Episcopal Church, West Palm Beach, where they were married Dec. 27. The bride is the former Helen Katharing Keil, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Arthur Keil, 1011 Hillcrest Blvd. The bridegroom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. William Victor Holt, Mineola, N.Y. The couple will live in New Haven, Conn.

Miss Eckler Weds James L. Laffey

WEST PALM BEACH — Miss Juliann Eckler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Eckler, 519 12th St., and James L. Laffey, son of Francis M. Laffey of Pittsburgh, Pa., and the late Mrs. Laffey, were married Dec. 27 at St. Juliana's Catholic Church. Rev. Joseph J. Farrell celebrated the nuptial mass at 9 a.m.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in hand clipped French lace and nylon tulle, with fitted bodice, illusion yoke and mandarin neckline sparkling with pearls and brilliants.

The floor length bouffant skirt of alternating lace and tulle terminated in a chapel train. A tiara of pearls and sequins held her illusion veil. She carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Other attendants were Mrs. James Eckler and Mrs. William J. Eckler Jr., sisters-in-law of the bride, who wore rose chiffon and taffeta and carried yellow chrysanthemums.

Best man was Howard J. Behm of Cleveland. Ushers were Richard Eckler, brother of the bride, and Frank Phillips.

Mrs. William Johnson was soloist, accompanied by Sister Margaret Loretta, O. P.

The bride was graduated from Rosarian Academy in 1955 and was a member of the National Honor Society. Last September she was graduated from St. Mary's Hospital School of Nursing.

Mr. Laffey was graduated from Central Catholic in Pittsburgh and served four years in the Air Force. He attends Duquesne University, majoring in education.

After a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Laffey will live in Pittsburgh.

Palm Beach Girl Is Wed in Church

PALM BEACH—A reception at the Everglades Club followed the Saturday noon wedding at St. Edward's Catholic Church of Eleanor Mary O'Connor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. O'Connor, 229 Pendleton Ave., and Charles F. Clarke Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarke of Lake Forest.

The bride wore a floor length princess gown of ivory satin with veil of heirloom rose point lace. She carried stephanotis and lilies of the valley.

Her sister, Sheila O'Conner, was maid of honor, while Mrs. Otis Murphy of Boston was matron of honor.

Other attendants were Mrs. Dalton O'Connor of Fort Wayne, Ind.; Mrs. Edward P. Flynn, sister of the bridegroom, New York; Louise Clarke, also a sister, of Lake Forest; Ann Hall of Fort Wayne, and Mary Ann Crosby of Boston.

Edward P. Flynn was best man. Ushers were Dalton O'Connor; Otis Murphy; Grant McCargo, Sewickley, Pa.; Albert Pyott, Winnetka, Ill.; Borden Dewart, New York; Hugh Thomas, Washington, D. C.; and, from Lake Forest, Fred Hord, William Pullman, Montgomery Young, William Hodgkins, and Charles Haffner.

The bride was graduated from the Convent of the Sacred Heart, Noroton, Conn., and from Pine Manor Junior College, Wellesley, Mass.

Mr. Clarke is a graduate of Canterbury School, New Milford, Conn., and of Brown University, Providence, R.I. He is in the real estate business in Chicago.

The junior Mr. and Mrs. Clarke will live in Lake Forest.

Juvenile Problems On Slate

By CAROLYN V. COHEN
Herald Correspondent

UPPER KEYS: Yes, we have our juvenile problems here too. So, parents and non-parents are urged to attend Coral Shores PTA meeting tonight to hear Juvenile Court Judge Eva Warner Gibson.

MRS. COHEN

Tonight and Wednesday night you can see that movie "Secret Cargo" at Cinemorada Theater in Islamorada. It features Art McKee of Plantation Key, and was taken in the underwater area off these Upper Keys.

There's activity aplenty in preparations for welcoming the Wally Bynam Trailer Caravan Jan. 9-11. Most of the mobile homes will rendezvous at Ralph Smiths Key Largo Beach but many are already here and settled in the several trailer courts from Key Largo to Lower Matecumbe.

Visitors to Islamorada include Neil Hardy, owner of Seven Acres, a new and beautiful development on Key Largo, north of Tavernier. Hardy is director of the National Housing Center, Washington.

Also in Islamorada are the Frank Jacks, both of the University of Florida, resting after a two years research project in South America. The Don McKees, Joplin, Mo. are here too. He is president of Empire District Electric Co.

Recent buyers of Islamorada property are the V. M. Carolins. He's a New York City steamship executive. And the whole Charles Murray family, Camden, N. J., are fugitives from that white stuff and enjoying warm Islamorada weather and fishing.

Eloise VanDecar, Tavernier, says the electric fry pan she expected as a Christmas gift from husband Harold was never received. Instead she was surprised and thrilled to find a beautiful mink coat under the tree. It's a bit too warm for these parts but just right for the cold northern states to which they must return for Harold's next big construction job. Eloise's brother Leonard Smith, Detroit, is visiting them now and thawing out too.

Lou Sellman, Tavernier, is entertaining his cousin, the former Adele Timerlake and her new husband William Franklin, Bartow. Franklin is Sen. Spessard Holland's senior law partner.

Tacey Sayles, Tavernier, is looking better every day and she wants all of you to know that your good wishes, flowers and cards, sent to her at the hospital, had a great deal to do with her rapid convalescence from surgery.

Two new homes in a Key Largo development are owned by Tic Gunn and Fred Smoak. Sounds like a good publicity item for the popular TV show.

Rites Set Today for Mrs. Mayo

SUMMERFIELD —(UPI)— Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday for Mrs. Nathan Mayo, 80, wife of Florida's Agriculture Commissioner, who died here Sunday.

Graveside services will be at Woodlawn Cemetery, Ocala.

Mrs. Mayo, who had been bedridden for several years, came to Summerfield by covered wagon from Blountsville, Ala., in 1880.

She married Mayo in 1889 and assisted him with his mercantile business in Summerfield. She also was postmistress of the Summerfield office from 1914 until 1931.

Survivors besides her husband, include two sons, Nathan N. of Ocala, and William T. of Tallahassee, and a daughter, Mrs. Louis O. Gravely Jr., of Summerfield.

Others include her stepmother, Mrs. M. W. Newsom of Ocala; a half brother, George Newsom of Ocala, and two half sisters, Helen Newsom of Ocala and Mrs. Richard Dodge of Miami.

Honorary pallbearers will include Gov. LeRoy Collins, members of the State Cabinet, Supreme Court justices, division directors of the Department of Agriculture, and longtime friends of the Mayo family.

Active pallbearers will be Gordon Skipper, Dick Dewey, Homer Agnew, Warner Wilson, and Charles Lyles, all of Ocala, and Sen. L. K. Edwards of Irvine.

Dive for Cross

Epiphany Fete Today

TARPON SPRINGS, Fla. —(AP) — The Greek Orthodox Church commemorates the Baptism of Christ today at annual Feast of the Epiphany celebration here.

A crowd of 10,000 is expected to line streets and the banks of Spring Creek Bayou for the colorful services. The governor will make a brief address.

Services will begin early in the morning at St. Nicholas Cathedral and will continue until afternoon, when a procession of church leaders, Greek-American youths, and bands from several high schools marches to Spring Bayou.

At Spring Bayou, Bishop Polyefktos of Pittsburgh, chief celebrant of this year's service, will toss a gold-covered wooden cross into the water. Thirty-six Greek-American youths will dive for it.

The diver who retrieves the cross will receive the blessings of the church, the cheers of the crowd and, according to legend, will have good luck for the remainder of the year.

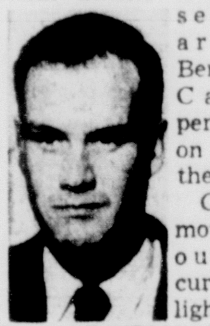
Deadly Thing of Beauty

By DAN BROWN
Cocoa Bureau Chief

CAPE CANAVERAL — One of Brevard County's top headaches — an overloaded road — becomes a thing of beauty in the predawn murk of each working day.



DAN BROWN

Thousands of cars loaded with missile workers can be seen racing around Snake Bend, the Port Canaveral perimeter road, on their way to the Cape gate.

Close - spaced moving lights outside the curve and the lights glimmer and dance from the harbor waters and make the cold dawn mists glow.

As the traffic peaks, cars are flashing by once every second or second and a half, and the stream of lights comes to look like a molten ribbon shimmering in the darkness.

* * *

Coiler Cobra

A single bumping accident delays thousands of men hurrying to jobs vital to the free world. Once a truck burned on this road and no traffic moved. No one worked on the missiles until hours after they were supposed to report that morning.

As the dawn lightens, danger comes into sharper focus.

School buses are in the traffic now, and waiting children are clustered within a few feet of the close-packed cars. Buses pick up on both sides of the road, so the children don't have to cross the traffic, but on cold mornings they sprint through the moving cars to catch the earliest bus.

When the kids are out, a blown tire, a sleepy driver, a pulling brake or a sudden skid could bring death, sadness to parents and headlines.

The problem of this road — State Rd. 401, the only road to the Cape's south gate — is simple. The solution to the problem is complicated.

The road needs to be wider. It was designed to handle 800 cars an hour. Now, according to State Road Department estimates, it's carrying about 20,000 cars per day — most of them in the dawn rush and a similar late afternoon homeward rush.

Federal agencies and the SRD have come up with three million dollars for four-laning 401 and State Rd. A1A south of it.

But nobody has come up with an estimated $750,000 needed for rights-of-way on 401, and county and state officials have virtually given up hope of finding the money.

* * *

Another Plan

INSTEAD OF working on the road, they're going ahead with another plan. A1A will be fourlaned from Patrick AFB to the Cocoa-Cocoa Beach Causeway, a measure agreed upon by Maj. Gen. Donald N. Yates, commander of the Air Force Missile Test Center, J. Rolfe Davis of the State Road Board and Brevard's commissioners.

Yates gave the project a "number one priority" because traffic congestion is bad at Patrick and the right-of-way for road improvements is available there.

At the conference with Davis and county commissioners, Yates also agreed to sponsor an attempt to get $900,000 of federal funds originally earmarked for 401-A1A diverted to the proposed Cocoa-Port Canaveral Causeway which will provide a direct link to the mainland from the Cape.

* * *

Here's Kicker

COUNTY AND state officials feel the causeway is a real need and that it is the best solution to the Cape traffic problems.

But — and here's the kicker — the causeway probably won't carry its first car until 1962.

In the meantime, one of Brevard's top headaches — an overloaded road — will continue to become a thing of beauty in the predawn murk of each working day . . . a beauty as deadly as a coiled cobra.

'Snowbird' Families Swell Already-Jammed Schools

By BILL BUNGE
Melbourne Bureau Chief

MELBOURNE — With the holiday season over and icebox weather blanketing the north, snowbird families started moving into Melbourne and Eau Gallie Monday and their children became an added burden on already packed public school classrooms.

A check of the six schools in the Melbourne-Eau Gallie area by the The Herald showed a total of 133 new children were enrolled Monday, setting a new record for the first day of school after the annual winter vacation.

Officials at all six schools said they expected more out-of-state students to enroll, but at a slightly slower pace than on Monday.

Eau Gallie Junior High School had 34 students sign; Melbourne Elementary, 32; Indialantic Elementary, 30; Eau Gallie Elementary, 26; Melbourne High School, seven, and Sea Park Elementary, four.

The 13 new students required nearly five more classrooms — which weren't available.

D. B. Frank Brown, Brevard County director of education, said the record post-holiday influx came "at the most critical time, and we sincerely hope this will be the last big student gain during the current school year."

Because of the crowded conditions before Monday's enrollment jump, school district lines had to be disregarded in an attempt to place the new students wherever classroom space could be found.

This present situation is expected to be relieved by the end of February, when the new Sea Park Elementary School, south of Patrick Air Force Base, is opened.

Supt. Woodrow J. Darden said he expects double sessions to end next year, when a rash of school construction soon to be started will be completed. "This would be first time since 1952 without double sessions," he added.

South Brevard's Our Lady of Lourdes Catholic School, at Melbourne, registering five new students Monday and expecting others, is experiencing similar troubles.

Classes in a new school are overflowing into both the old and new church buildings, and officials said Monday that a nearly completed school addition will be filled the day it is opened for classes.

For New Systems

New Projects Would Insure Water Supply

By BILL BUNGE
Melbourne Bureau Chief

MELBOURNE — Proposed conservation projects of the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control district in the St. Johns River Valley are expected to insure an abundant supply for vast new municipal water systems, that are counting on the river and Lake Washington as their source.

The city of Melbourne, whose nearly completed multi-million dollar system will use lake water, expects a small dam to be constructed by the flood control district at the north end of the lake would permit the drawing of 135 million gallons per day.

Under present conditions, the city's system can safely take 25 million gallons every 24 hours for a 30-day period. At this rate the lake level would drop only one inch.

However, the district and the Corps of Army Engineers propose to do considerable other work in the river area by storing flood waters in the wide marsh river valley.

That program would create two large reservoir areas — one extending from spillway 53 near Eau Gallie upstream to spillway 96, and another from spillway 96 upstream to spillway 98.

Spillways 53 and 96 would be gated to insure flexible regulation of water levels, the army engineers report.

Various levees separate the reservoir areas from the more highly developed farm lands, and the program would replace earlier concepts of three diversion canals to carry floodwaters from the St. Johns to the Indian River.

The engineers say that there are huge land procurement problems inherent to the reservoir program, which are the responsibility of the flood control district.

Studies already are under way, according to the army engineers, to see if land requirements in the river valley can somewhat be reduced by providing small dams and upland impoundment of water along several creeks entering the St. Johns from the west.

"In any event, flood control by valley storage rather than diversion appears to be certain," a spokesman for the engineers said.

Local officials see this proposed work of great benefit to insure an adequate water supply to this fast "drying up" area, and represents an extra reward for the time and money spent on finding good water sources.

Did Wind Keep Frost Off Citrus?

COCOA — Brisk morning winds may have saved Brevard County's rich citrus groves from a killing frost, County Agent James T. Oxford indicated Monday.

Oxford said he had no reports of frost damage although the mercury dipped to a reported 38 early Monday.

Ordinarily frost settles in low spots when temperature drops below 40, but Oxford said high winds keep the cold air from settling.

However, growers throughout the county were watching for colder weather by Tuesday morning.

The weather bureau said the temperature was to drop to 35 during the night. The saving winds were expected to keep on blowing.

Monday's brisk weather followed a summery weekend during which temperatures stood in the 70's and drove hundreds of tourists to Cocoa Beach which is usually almost deserted during January.

The Monday temperature dip was Brevard County's second this winter, but the season was milder than last winter.

Last year, two crop-killing frosts had struck Brevard by January and there were two more before the winter was over.

Driver Has Close Shave

MELBOURNE—Myron Kelley of Melbourne was driving his car north on U. S. 1 in Valkaria when a big house trailer — under its own steam — headed right down his traffic lane.

The trailer, being towed behind a car operated by Robert T. Bradway of Miami, became unhitched, went 171 feet down the highway, crossed over to the other lane, ran along the shoulder for another 96 feet, and came to rest in the Indian River.

While the free-wheeling trailer went through its paces, Kelley steered around it and landed in the ditch.

There were no injuries and little property damage.

Bid-Opening Set On Road Jobs

TALLAHASSEE—The State Road Department Monday called for bids on 26 highway and bridge projects. The bids will be received and opened here on Jan. 29.

The projects include:

BREVARD — Paving of 1.49 mile on Church St. in Cocoa, from Riverside Rd. to Harrison St.

INDIAN RIVER — Paving of 2.524 miles on 16th St. in Vero Beach, from Clemann Ave. to U.S. 1.

At Palm Bay

Council Settles Dispute Between Mayor, Ex-Chief

Herald Bureau

PALM BAY — Town council stepped in and brought about a settlement in the spat between Mayor Harry Pollak and ex-Police Chief Ted Harland over municipal court procedure, reliable sources reported Monday.

Several weeks ago, Harland registered a formal complaint with council about the way the mayor operated the court — especially as it concerned the handling of driving while intoxicated cases.

Harland charged Pollak with not seeing to it that all convicted drivers had their licenses revoked. The mayor denied the charge and said he ran court as he saw fit.

Later, council held an informal meeting with Mayor Pollak and asked him to start the policy of signing all DWI slips and sending them to the Department of Public Safety.

Council also was reported to have talked the mayor-judge into sending the state agency the conviction slips on all drivers convicted of DWI and whose licenses had not been revoked — retroactive to the date Palm Bay was incorporated, two years ago.

However, before Pollak agreed, informed sources said, he tried to have this made retroactive only to Oce. 1, 1958.

Drainage, Streets Top List

By DOUG SILVER
Herald Correspondent

FORT PIERCE — The "new broom" city administration, in office only a few weeks, started sweeping Monday towards a cleanup of problems that have vexed the community for many years.

Mayor James L. Howe said that a conference of city commissioners had resulted in instructions to City Manager Floyd Glisson to prepare within 30 days a two-year plan of civic accomplishment.

"The commission has enough confidence in Glisson" stated Howe, "to let him pick the projects and decide their priority on the basis of need.

He's running the show. We want him to tell us what he wants done and how much it will cost to do them."

Howe, Glisson and City Clerk-Treasurer Carl Huskey all agreed that top priority wuld be given to badly needed street improvements and drainage.

Glisson said Monday afternoon that he had already started to work on this phase of his assignment.

The city manager also said that two new streets might well be fitted into the over all two-year plan.

These are:

THE EXTENSION of Indian River Drive northward to Causeway Drive

THE EXTENSION of Virginia Avenue eastward to Indian River Drive to serve as the jumping off place for another causeway across the Indian River.

Besides streets, city officials stressed other matters high on the priority list.

These include getting the zoning ordinance in final shape to present to the commission and the preparation of a final report and recommendations on electric rates.

Fund Drive Opens on Thursday

Herald Correspondent

JENSEN BEACH — The second annual "One For All, All For One" drive will start Thursday when more than 30 volunteer workers will meet at 8:30 a.m. at Seymour's Inn for a "kickoff breakfast."

The goal this year is for $6,000, which covers nine separate fund drives, said Mrs. Frank Wacha, president of Jensen Beach-Rio United Funds Association.

The drive ends Sunday. Volunteer workers are asked to report results Sunday from 7-9 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Warren Shipes, Jr., co-chairman with Robert Larsen of Rio, of the drive.

Gideon, Warner B. Tilton, and Harry Heritage are providing the breakfast. The Rev. Allen Purdom will give a short talk.

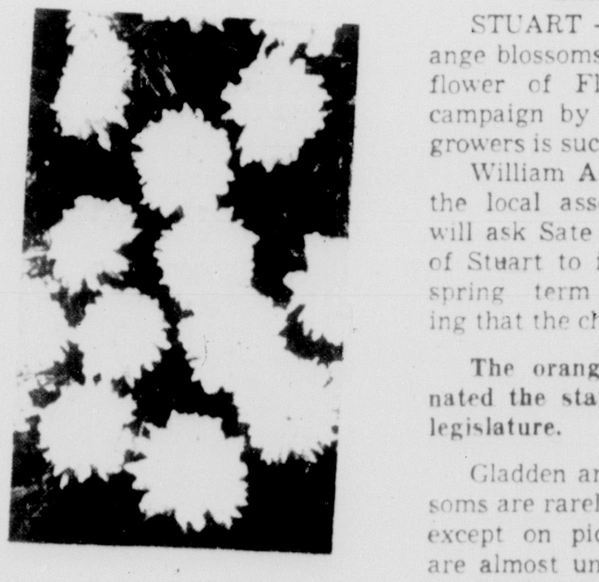
Organizations and drives benefitting from the drive are the American Red Cross, Polio, Martin County Retarded Children, Crippled Children (Easter Seals), Martin County Animal Rescue League, Martin County Hospital, Jensen Beach Boy Scouts, Jensen Beach free ambulance, Jensen Beach community center.

The heart and cancer groups declined to be a part of the United Funds drive.

They Want Orange Blossom Replaced

Pompon Lovers Would Make It State Flower

By ZOLA SWARTHOUT
Herald Correspondent



Pompons
. . . better reminder?

STUART — Pompons — not orange blossoms — will be the official flower of Florida if a statewide campaign by Martin County flower growers is successful.

William A. Gladden, president of the local association says that he will ask Sate Rep. William R. Scott of Stuart to introduce a bill at the spring term of legislature asking that the change be made.

The orange blossom was designated the state flower by the 1909 legislature.

Gladden argues that orange blossoms are rarely sent out of the state, except on picture post cards, and are almost unknown to most people in the nation except on wedding rings.

"Pompons," he said "are among the top four of our flowers in point of sales, are widely known, and are shipped from Florida to every state including Alaska as well as the Hawaiian Islands, Puerto Rico and Canada."

"Florida supplies the entire nation east of the Mississippi during the winter months, and parts of the country the year around," Gladden added.

"What better reminder to everyone of Florida could there be," he asked.

"About half of the pompons grown in the state are grown in Martin county. Lee county also grows quite a number."

Gladden asserted that the publicity value of a flower that represents the gaiety, color and climate of both Florida's coasts couldn't be equaled.

Orange Blossoms

Military Academy Barracks Burned

Hollywood Cadets Out Of Building

By RICK TUTTLE
Hollywood Bureau Chief

HOLLYWOOD — A general alarm fire, which roared out of control for two hours, did an estimated $150,000 damage to the main barracks at Riverside Military Academy here Monday.

None of the 750 cadets were in the building when smoke was seen pouring from the north wing roof shortly after 3 p.m. They were on the drill field.

A brisk north wind whipped the blaze over the three-story, stucco and tile structure. A 40-foot section of roof was ablaze by the time Hollywood's six fire fighting units arrived.

No one was injured, officials said.

An investigation will get under way today to determine the cause.

Hollywood Fire Chief H. L. Cook said the fire started in a narrow attic, between the roof and the third floor ceiling. The third floor houses cadet sleeping quarters.

Fire fighting equipment from Hallandale, Dania and West Hollywood were called in when Hollywood firemen realized they could not handle the blaze alone.

Col. Engle C. May, commandant of cadets, said he and three cadet guards raced to the third floor after the fire was reported.

Two fire hoses in the hallway would not reach the fire, he said. They were forced out of the building by dense smoke.

Capt. D. L. Dooley, librarian, was asleep on the second floor when the smell of smoke awoke him.

"By the time I got dressed and out the fire engines had arrived," he said.

A firewall midway of the structure was the only thing that saved the entire third floor, and possibly the building, Chief Cook said.

"If it hadn't been for that old firewall, the whole thing would have gone," he said.

As some firemen fought the fire from the roof top, other crews worked beneath the blaze, on the third floor.

"The men on the third floor took terrific punishment," Chief Cook said. Although most of them wore gas masks, they came to windows frequently for fresh air.

"This building isn't fire-proof by any means," said Gen. Sandy Beaver, president of the academy since 1913. Monday was the first day of classes here for the term.

Firemen were hindered by the barracks' design, Chief Cook said. The fire spread between the roof and the third floor ceiling and firemen could not strike the source with the powerful streams of water.

The building, which contained 300 dormitory rooms, administrative offices, kitchen and cafeteria, was built in 1924 as the Hollywood Hills Inn.

The academy has been using it for over 25 years.

Gen. Beaver said the school would possibly have to return to its fall and spring quarters at Gainesville, Ga.

"The replacement value is over a million dollars," Gen. Beaver said. "I guess it is worth $700,000. It is insured for $500,000."

While great clouds of smoke rolled across the nearby drill field, cadets continued their marching. Later, under direction of police, they formed a cordon around the academy grounds to keep back the crowd.

Just as the fire was brought under control at 5:15 p.m., another fire broke out in the downtown area, and equipment was called away. Damage at Gwen-Ellen shop, 1933 Hollywood Blvd., was minor, the clothing store manager said.

During World War II the Riverside buildings were used by the Navy as a flexible gunnery school for training of aircraft gun crews.

Fall and spring sessions of Riverside are held in Georgia with the school holding classes in Hollywood in January, February, and March of each year.

Telephone Office Burns

200 Flee From Tampa Fire

TAMPA —(AP)— Nearly 200 office workers fled Monday when fire broke out in a three-story building in downtown Tampa. Four firemen were overcome by smoke while fighting the blaze.

Flames shot through the roof of the structure and a strong wind fanned sparks over the downtown area. Heavy black smoke covered an area of several blocks.

As firemen fought the flames in mid-afternoon, District Fire Chief E. E. Leavine said the fire posed no threat to nearby buildings.

Firefighters were withdrawn from the roof of the building when it threatened to collapse. Minutes later flames roared through the roof.

The firemen overcome by smoke were Capt. Tom Beasley, V. K. Ward, R. B. Mertens and E. J. Jaudon. They were quickly revived and returned to duty.

Telephone company employes, who work on the first and second floors, left the building in orderly fashion when the fire was discovered on the third floor.

Carl D. Brorein, company president, said the third floor is "sort of attic," where air conditioning equipment is installed. He said damage would be slight if the fire is confined to the third floor.

He added there would be little interruption of telephone service because the building houses only administrative offices.

Firemen could give no cause for the fire immediately.

Red Tide Studies Continue

By DOM BONAFEDE
Herald Staff Writer

Florida's "red tide"—the unpredictable scourge of micro-organisms which sometimes hits the Gulf Coast—has lost much of its threat as a result of research by a University of Miami professor.

A formula devised by the U-M scientist, which combines sea and weather data, makes it possible to forecast conditions which produce the outbreaks.

Explosive expansion of the microscopic water plants colors the water red, kills millions of fish and fills the air with an irritating scent.

Dr. F. G. Smith, of U-M's International Oceanographic Foundation, said in a recently published national report that the formula can forecast years when the "red tide" will probably occur and years when it is not likely to show up.

Smith, however, told The Herald that the research was not completely finished and that further experimental work was halted because state funds had been exhausted.

He said there were no plans at the present to ask the incoming Legislature for money to push the research.

"During periods when there is no 'red tide,' nobody is interested. But when it appears, everybody wants you to do something," commented the U-M scientist.

He added that that lack of assurance that the work could be continued "makes it difficult to perform long-term research."

He noted that while the work on the "red tide" up to now was encouraging, "we have just broken the surface."

Appearance of the "red tide" may be predicted by the new formula, which promises to save millions for Florida industries.

Rig Runs Off U.S. 27

Two Killed in Crash Of Tractor-Trailer

Herald Bureau

FORT LAUDERDALE — Two persons died on U.S. 27 early Monday when their tractor-trailer swung out of control and was demolished.

The accident occurred about 5:45 a.m. 12 miles north of State Rd. 84.

The highway patrol said the victims, killed instantly, were:

Dale P. Dickerson, 28, 333 Chestnut St., Asheboro N.C., the driver, and Joe M. Boyd, 25, March Hotel, Lexington, N.C., his passenger.

(The Associated Press reported 11 persons killed in Florida traffic accidents over the first weekend of the New Year. Among the victims were Josef Kovacs, 22, of Belle Glade; Mrs. Dorothy H. Wigley, 30, of Mattituck, N.Y., and her daughter, Sandra, 8, all of whom died in a four-car collision near West Palm Beach Sunday.)

Trooper T. J. Keller reported the rig was going south when it ran off the right side of the road and skidded across to the east side.

The tractor and trailer parted, the trailer turning over. The tractor struck a tree. The bodies of both men were found in the cab. The cause of the accident was unknown.

Two Cuban Planes Reported Seized

By Herald Wire Services

DAYTONA BEACH — Two planes flown here from Cuba have been placed under "constructive seizure" by U.S. Customs officers.

Customs agents said they found eight 50 caliber machine guns, some sidearms and ammunition on one of the planes and that this was being taken to Jacksonville Monday.

Constructive seizure is made when there has been a violation of the law with no intent to break a law, officials said.

News Around Florida

Agents said one plane — a bomber — was flown by Capt. Vasquez Soto and First Lt. Jose Hernandez; the other was a private plane flown by Alberto Mayo, who was accompanied by his wife. Agents said the four fled Thursday because of the revolution.

Customs agents said the four would be permitted to remain in the U.S. under immigration regulations.

Tourists Land

KEY WEST — The last big boatload of American tourists from strife-torn Cuba landed here Monday after spending the night anchored in a ship off the storm-tossed coast.

The SS City of Havana, with 265 passengers, was originally scheduled to dock here Sunday night.

The tourists appeared to be in good spirits after getting their first solid meal in several days aboard the ship Sunday.

Included among the passengers were Felipe de Vosjoli of the French Embassy in Washington and his wife.

Lawyer on Staff

Collins said Peeples, formerly a member of Ausley, Ausley and McMullen, began work Jan. 1 at a salary of $500 a month.

Peeples, 28, was campus manager at the University of Florida of the 1956 Collins for Governor campaign, as well as manager of a campaign speakers bureau for the north-central part of the state.

'Raise Lakes'

TALLAHASSEE — The State Department of Water Resources recommended Monday that the level of Lake Apopka, big sports fishing resort in Orange and Lake Counties, be raised six inches.

A six inch raise in the operating level of Lake Griffin in Lake County also was recommended.

However, Director John Wakefield of the state agency advised water management authorities in the Oklawaha River basin that raising levels of the lakes would require that the capacities of outlets and connecting canals be increased.

Plane Ditched

KEY LARGO — Two Miami pilots escaped unhurt Monday when they belly-landed their twin-engined private plane in 18 inches of water a quarter-mile off Key Largo.

Both were picked up by a Coast Guard helicopter within minutes after the ditching.

The fliers, Jose Bosch and T. J. Kennedy, were returned to Miami. The Coast Guard said the plane's point of origin and destination were not immediately known.

Autopsy Set

JACKSONVILLE — An autopsy was planned Monday to determine if Earl Armstrong, 33, Brunswick, Ga., Negro crewman on a shrimp boat, drowned when he attempted to swim ashore from the disabled vessel.

The Shrimper Morning Star had clutch trouble and drifted onto a sand bar at the entrance to Nassau Sound, north of Jacksonville, Friday. When no help came by Saturday, said Capt. Earl White, Armstrong donned a life jacket and set out for shore.

Chicago News Sold to Field by John S. Knight

This was announced jointly by John S. Knight, editor and publisher of The Daily News since 1944, and by Marshall Field Jr., editor and publisher of The Sun-Times.

Sale of the majority interest in Daily News stock, at $50 a share, has been completed.

Total shares outstanding are 481,293, with more than 75 per cent held by Knight Newspapers, members of the Knight family and executives and employes of the Knight Newspapers. Field said the same offer of $50 a share is being made to the minority stockholders.

Field, who at 42 becomes the sixth publisher of The Chicago Daily News since it was founded 83 years ago, said it will be continued as "a separate and independent newspaper."

He said there are no plans for changes in personnel, that the executive staff is being asked to continue in charge of The News, and that "for the forseeable future we shall go on producing each paper as at present."

Knight, who bought control of The Chicago Daily News Oct. 18, 1944, for $2,151,537 cash, said his reasons for selling the paper "at the time of its greatest progress are entirely personal. They arise from a desire to curtail my administrative responsibilities after nearly 40 years in journalism." Knight will be 65 next Oct. 26.

"In no sense," he said, "does the sale of The Daily News mean that I am retiring from journalism.

"Knight Newspapers—owners of The Akron Beacon Journal, The Detroit Free Press, The Miami Herald, The Charlotte Observer, a newsprint mill, a newspaper supply company, TV and radio interests and two Florida weeklies—will continue to expand in areas where the demands upon my personal supervision will not be as insistent."

He said that at Field's request he has agreed to assist The Daily News in an advisory capacity during a period of transition, and that his "Editor's Notebook" will continue to appear in The News as a Saturday column.

Field paid tribute to Knight as "one of the greatest publishers of America" and said, "I feel fortunate to have his assistance during this period of transition." He added:

"The Daily News under the outstanding leadership of John S. Knight since 1944 has reached new heights in circulation, advertising and distinction.

"When he bought control of The Chicago Daily News, it was said that Mr. Knight had 'purchased an opportunity.' He has made the most of the opportunity. In the past 15 years, he has enhanced that paper's traditional greatness and prestige, increased its influence and strengthened its financial structure immeasureably.

"He has earned a reputation as one of America's great editors and most articulate exponents of a responsible free press. As an active leader in the civic life of this community, he has made an invaluable contribution to the progress of Chicago."

Knight said he made his announcement "with mixed emotions: A sense of sorrow in relinquishing control of a great and successful newspaper; a comforting knowledge that Marshall Field Jr. will maintain the editorial independence and enterprise which have made The Daily News a shining example of the best in American journalism."

He said other offers had been made for The Daily News but that he considered none of them except Field's.

He said he is convinced Field will conduct the paper with "intelligence, responsibility and courage," and said he has been assured that The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service will be maintained and expanded.

He recalled that when he took over The Chicago Daily News it was "burdened with debt and suffering from a sense

Frostbite Reigns in Northeast

Sub-Zero Winds Lash Airplanes

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — A sub-zero cold wave, so bitter it knocked out public utilities for whole cities and sparked murderous home fires, numbed most of the nation Monday.

The arctic air mass was breaking up in the southwest and relented a little on the Middle West. But the East was still to feel its full power.

Record lows of 10 to 20 degrees below zero were in store for Pittsburgh, 53-mile-an-hour winds raked Washington, D.C., and four to six-foot snow drifts blocked highways in western New York and northern Pennsylvania. In upstate New York and Maine, weathermen predicted temperatures 20 to 30 degrees below zero.

Another vicious storm howled out of the Pacific and into the Rockies. Winds clocked up to 100 miles per hour, smashed small boats and piers in the San Francisco bay area, while snow blocked U.S. 99 at Redding, Calif., and piled up 14 inches deep at Craer Lake, Ore.

The three day cold wave, which held many Midwest temperatures to zero or below for more than 24 hours, was blamed for at least 29 deaths attributed to exhaustion, freezing, weather-caused traffic accidents and cold-sparked fires.

Kansas counted four dead in Monday home fires, three of them children. Fires also burned down a block square building near Arnold, Mo., and raged unchecked for five hours at Holliday, Mo., destroying a grocery and post office, because the town's pumper froze.

How Batista Lived Last Hours

By GEORGE SOUTHWORTH
Herald Latin America Editor

HAVANA — Fulgencio Batista's last moments in Cuba were filled with meritative melancholy and wonder at what had hit him.

Gone were the cheering throngs, the backslappers, the friends who once vowed they would stick with him through thick or thin.

On Dec. 31 — the beaten dictator's last day in his homeland — he had by his side only a few close followers, his wife and two of his children.

With his regime rapidly falling to pieces and Rebel Leader Fidel Castro routing government troops, Batista made his final decision as president of Cuba late that day.

He had to flee like a whipped dog or face death at the hands of the revolutionaries.

Shortly before midnight he and his family secretly slipped away from the Presidential Palace and drove to the outskirts of Havana to his home at Camp Columbia, the military headquarters of the Cuban army.

In contrast to the spartan surroundings of the military barracks, Batista's quarters were elegantly furnished. A large staff of servants was always on hand to tend to the whims of the "strongman."

His Camp Columbia home consisted of five bedrooms, five bathrooms, two dining rooms, a few smaller rooms and a private barber shop.

Two days later, long-haired and bearded rebel mountain fighters were using the barber chairs of the man they had defeated.

Still in service at Batista's army quarters is Robert Diaz, a civilian servant.

Diaz, who was on hand the fateful night, recalled:

"There was Batista, his wife, his son Jorge, 15, and his daughter Marta, about two. They arrived about midnight.

"Then, with some top government and military officials present, Batista gave last-minute instructions. Looking on were 15 servants.

"Batista was calm and quiet. His wife and son seemed excited."

Later, Diaz said, Batista shook hands with each of his servants.

"He was obviously moved. It was a sad moment," Diaz noted.

Batista took three traveling bags with him and his wife's jewelry. A nurse carried little Marta.

When the party was assembled, the members filed into a waiting line of limousines and drove to Havana Airport in the dead of night.

After only a few minutes at the airport, Batista, his family and loyal followers were on their way into exile.

Ironically, his banishment followed an identical pattern set by Carlos Prio Socarras the president Batista had booted out in a bloodless coup of March 10, 1952.

The wheel had come full circle for Batista.

New President Reaches Havana

HAVANA, Cuba — Provisional President Manuel Urrutia flew into Havana late Monday and it appeared that martial law would be quickly lifted in the capital.

Urrutia flew to the capital from Camaguey Province in eastern Cuba.

He arrived at the height of a squabble between Fidel Castro's rebel forces and student revolutionaries who had occupied the Presidential Palace.

The student group later left the palace on orders from their leaders rather than embarrass Urrutia's struggling young regime.

The earlier proclamation of martial law had stressed that it would be enforced until Urrutia arrived. Police also had orders to impose a 9 p.m. to 5 a.m. curfew in Havana but there was doubt whether these orders would be followed through.

Castro, who rooted Dictator-President Fulgencio Batista from power New Year's Eve, is making a leisurely but victorious approach to the capital through the eastern provinces.

Castro leaders said military rule will be lifted as soon as Urrutia is installed in the palace. They appealed to the people, particularly the workers, to maintain order.

Making ready for Urrutia's arrival — and to insure a peaceful demonstration — revolutionists filled Havana's jails with Batista supporters.

Shortly after the new tension broke out Monday, the American embassy issued renewed warnings to Americans in Cuba to continue to be cautious in their activities.

U. S. officials announced:

"The American embassy repeats its warnings to Americans in Cuba, particulary in the Havana area, that they should continue to observe appropriate caution in their activities until the local situation is completely cleared."

Also, Pan American World Airways and National Airlines, which had resumed service to Havana, abruptly cut it off Monday afternoon. PAA gave "technical difficulties" as the reason for the action.

Despite the intra-rebel power struggle, Havana was beginning to return to normalcy.

Stores were reopened and street traffic once again became its chaotic, horn-tooting self.

Newspapers began appearing once more. Taxi drivers took up their usual stands, as did the female strollers along the Prado.

The provisional government Sunday ordered the end of the general strike that went into effect last Thursday.

As a result of Monday's new crisis, U. S. Ambassador Earl E. T. Smith canceled a trip to Washington just as he was about to board a plane. He returned to the embassy to await developments.

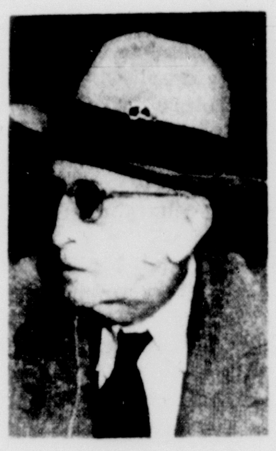
Hialeah's Founder Dies at 93

By EVELYN DeTARDO
Herald Staff Writer

The grand old man of Hialeah is dead.

James H. Bright, developer of Hialeah, founder of Hialeah Race Track and pioneer Florida cattle and dairy man, died Monday of pneumonia. He was 93.

Mr. Bright, of 45 Olive Dr., Hialeah, led a campaign to get Hialeah its first school; was first president of the Hialeah-Miami Springs bank, and is credited with helping make Florida a top cattle producing state.



James H. Bright

He brought the first Brahman and Holstein cattle to the state, then imported South American sod to give his purebred herds prime forage.

Born in St. Louis, he grew up in Louisiana, Mo., where he graduated from business school at Louisiana Baptist College. Always a horse enthusiast, he drove trotters for the St. Louis Jockey Club.

When he came to Miami in 1909, he bought 17,000 acres

'Small World' Falls Short

Balloonists Found Alive

Arrive At Goal In a Boat

Crew of Four Is in Barbados

BRIDGETOWN, Barbados—(AP)—Three men and a woman who set out on a transatlantic balloon trip reached their goal Monday — as shipwrecked mariners. A fisherman rescued them from the Atlantic.

Capt. Costa Brathwaite, 62, and his 32-year-old son found the four Britons adrift and weary in the 15½-foot gondola-lifeboat of the balloon Small World. He brought them to the comforts of a Barbadian hotel.

That meant fresh fruit, baths and solid footing for Mrs. Rosemary Mudie, 30, and her three companions after 24 days of austerity and tossing by wind and wave.

Mrs. Mudie promptly shampooed her hair.

"Can anyone lend me some hair clips?" she asked.

The balloonists set out from the Canary Islands Dec. 12. They charted a 3,000-mile course to this island in the British West Indies. Radio signals from them were heard for several days, then no definite reports for 19 days.

The Britons said they had cut the balloon from the gondola. They declined to say how long ago they cut the balloon loose, or how long they had been afloat.

"Sorry, chaps, the story has been sold," was the explanation.

The London Daily Mail sponsored the expedition, intended to make a scientific survey of Atlantic trade winds, and Daily Mail Reporter Arthur Cook was here to sew up their account.

Aside from Mrs. Mudie, the co-pilot and cook, the rescued group was made up of her husband, navigator Colin Mudie, 32; the expedition's pilot-captain, Arnold Eiolart, 51 and Eilart's 21-year-old son, Timothy, radioman.

The Brathwaites were fishing four hours offshore when they sighted the gondola.

"There were a lot of dolphin around the gondola so we caught four first and then sailed over to hailing distance," the captain said.

"I said, 'Are you the Small World?'

"Eiloart shouted back: 'Yes. Wil you tow us ashore?'

"They were not making

Sixth Straight Session

Stock Market Weathers Profit Taking, Closes High

NEW YORK — (AP) — The stock market weathered profit-taking and ended at a new record high for the sixth straight trading session Monday.

Rails, coppers and chemicals led the upturn, which ran from a few cents to $1 or more in leading issues. American Telephone and Telegraph was outstanding with a $3 gain, closing at $228.50.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks closed at $216.90, up $1.10. Based on this average the gain added an estimated $1,400,000,000 to the quoted value of all stocks listed on the New York stock exchange.

After showing strength early, the market slipped back in the afternoon. Demand renewed itself at the close, when the ticker lagged behind floor transactions. It was late five other times during the day. (Details on financial pages 6-11B).

Cape Gets an IBM That'll Hone Its Aim

CAPE CANAVERAL — As Russia's Lunik swung around the sun Monday, Air Force contractors were hard at work here installing equipment which will make it easier for the U.S. to duplicate the Russians' accuracy.

They were installing an IBM 709 computer, the most advanced computer ever hooked to missile instruments.

The machine replaces the IBM 704 which has done trajectory computations on all long-range rockets — including satellite and lunar probe vehicles — fired from here since March 1957.

Scientists say they'll be able "to threat the needle's eye with the new machine."

Its main job, like the 704, will be impact prediction, that is telling missile engineers where their "birds" will hit the Atlantic.

The new machine is expected to cut the predictions from a 20-mile circle at 3,500 miles to a three-mile circle and it may eventually be able to "call the shot" within a half mile.

To do its work, it'll simultaneously evaluate information from four radar and two azuza (radio transponder) instrument systems.

The 704 now can use three systems.

The 709 will also be able to automatically destroy a missile which strays out of the limits of the Atlantic missile range.

The existing 704 can only tell a safety officer where the missile is. If it's out of bounds, it has to be destroyed by the officer.

Mikoyan in Capital: There Will Be Peace

—Associated Press Wirephoto

'We Had a Useful Exchange,' Says Russia's Mikoyan
. . . met with Secretary of State Dulles for 95 minutes

No. 2 Red Will See Ike Next

Prelude to Nikita? 12A

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The Kremlin's second in command predicted after a 95-minute meeting with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles Monday that "there will be peace."

Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan said after the parley that he and Dulles discussed the Berlin crisis, Germany, disarmament and trade.

Mikoyan also disclosed that he would confer with President Eisenhower after he returns here from a swing around the country Jan. 19 or 20. The State Department confirmed that the meeting would take place.

The State Department said Mikoyan "brought an oral message of greeting" to Dulles from Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev. Mikoyan is second only to Khrushchev in the Soviet leadership.

Mikoyan told reporters after leaving Dulles' State Department office that "I think it was a useful talk."

Later, speaking before television cameras, he said he believes discussions with Dulles and other American officials should improve prospects for peace and easing of cold war tensions.

"We'll see how it turns out," he said. Then he said through his translator, "there will be peace."

Mikoyan said he and Dulles "discussed in general terms in a preliminary manner areas of common interest."

"We intend to meet again when I return from my trip around the country," Mikoyan said. He planned to leave late today or Wednesday.

Mikoyan declined to express his views on the Berlin crisis. The U. S., Britain and France have rejected Soviet demands that they withdraw their troops and allow West Berlin to become a "free city."

Mikoyan, asked whether he made any suggestions to Dulles on this issue, replied that "I think I have said enough."

Meanwhile, Millionaire Cyrus Eaton, chairman of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, disclosed in Cleveland that Mikoyan had accepted his invitation to visit the city Wednesday.

Eaton, a sharp critic of U.S. foreign policy, said he does not know how long Mikoyan will stay or what he wants to see. Eaton recently was the guest of Khrushchev on a visit to Moscow.

The conference with Dulles took place despite the fact that the secretary was suffering from a virus infection. Dulles was forced to cancel a trip to Ottawa Monday and left for home immediately after the meeting.

Mikoyan and his aides left the State Department through a cordon of police and state department security officers who were brought into the lobby to hold back a crowd of 300 to 400 persons.

Seven Hungarian pickets, parading across the street from the entrance, chanted "Red murderer" as Mikoyan left the building.

GOP Rebels Aim Guns At Martin

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Insurgent Republican congressmen mounted an apparently powerful drive Monday to end the 20-year reign of House GOP Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr.

Martin, obviously surprised by the size of the revolt, quickly offered a compromise in an effort to stem the tide. But it was turned down by rebel House members who said they had the votes to beat him at the GOP organizational meeting today.

The insurgents picked Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana to oppose Martin. Halleck, after a day of hurried meetings on both sides, formally announced his candidacy.

The anti-Martin surge began earlier at a secret meeting of about 35 GOP congressmen in a hotel. Forces opposing the veteran House leader agreed to unite behind Halleck.

When this development became known, Martin offered to step down from his secondary post as head of the GOP Policy Committee in favor of a member of the rebel group.

Martin also offered to create a new post of assistant leader which the insurgent group would be permitted to fill.

But the rebels stood firm behind Halleck. Halleck issued his statement only after rebels took a careful nose count and decided they had enough votes to put him across.

Rep. William H. Ayres of Ohio, who helped organize the anti-Martin drive, said that "after losing three consecutive congresses a number of members feel it is time to try a new approach."

Hiked to 40.9 Billion

President Unveils Defense Budget

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — President Eisenhower unveiled a new 40.9-billion-dollar defense budget for congressional leaders Monday. Democrats promptly complained that his military and space programs failed to meet the Russian challenge.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas told newsmen after a 2½ hour White House meeting between administration officials and Senate and House leaders that he is disappointed in the President's spending plans for these two critical programs.

"They are programming as if we were living in a static rather than an exploding and expanding and developing world," he said. He added that he "would go farther, faster" than the administration in view of Soviet technical advances.

But Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R., Ill.), who is an odds-on favorite to become Senate GOP leader, told newsmen that Dr. Keith Glennan, head of the new federal space agency, outlined an "accelerated timetable" for U.S. exploration of outer space.

He said the timetable includes an attempt to fire a manned rocket to the moon. He added that the dramatic Soviet shot beyond the moon "certainly adds to the acceleration."

The President also told the lawmakers he will ask for what they call "a substantial increase" in the 3.3 billion dollars appropriated for foreign aid in the current fiscal year.

The bipartisan meeting was designed to give key legislators a preview of the defense and foreign affairs phases of the President's State of the Union message and his 77-billion-dollar budget in advance of the opening of Congress Wednesday.

Sen. Alexander Wiley (R., Wis.), ranking GOP member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said the defense budget for fiscal 1960 was pegged at 40.9 billion dollars, about 100 million dollars more than spending estimates for the current year.

The White House announced 10 days ago that the administration's overall spending budget for the new fiscal year, beginning next July 1, will be balanced at about 77 billion dollars.

N. Florida In Freezer

A cold wave tightened its frosty grip on North Florida Monday and weathermen predicted temperatures in the 20s there early Tuesday.

But the central and southern parts of the state, which hold the rich citrus and winter vegetable growing areas, are expected to escape any damaging frost, the Miami Weather Bureau said.

Forecaster Arnold Sugg said, however, that Miamians will shiver early Tuesday. A low of 60 was forecast for Miami Beach and other areas near the water, and a low of close to 50 in the western suburbs.

Lows between 25 and 30 were forecast for early Tuesday in North Florida around Tallahassee, and even colder temperatures are expected in the northwest Florida panhandle.

The fishing boat took the gondola in tow at 8 a.m. It reached Crane Beach, on the island's southeast coast, at noon.

The gondola, still heavily stocked with food and water, was anchored offshore until the balloonists were landed, then was towed into harbor by another fishing boat.

Witnesses reported the hull had no moss on it — an indication it was not in the water overlong.

All four were somewhat shaky as they came ashore, watched by a gathering crowd, to the Crane Hotel overlooking the beach.

A week ago it was feared that the Small World was down at sea. Shortly before that, a hoax radio message touched off a widespread search for the balloon in the huge Orinoco delta of northeastern Venezuela.

Flynn Says He Fought With Fidel

HAVANA, Cuba — (AP) — Actor Errol Flynn, nursing a wound he called a scratch, said Monday night he campaigned with Rebel Leader Fidel Castro in a real-life episode of his swashbuckling film career.

Flynn, 50, told reporters he shared the field hardships and dangers with Castro's forces since Christmas Day because "all my life I've wanted to see what makes an idealist tick."

The actor said he found Castro "one of those men who come along occasionally in human history and fight for ideals."

"And I think he also has lizard blood," Flynn said with a laugh. "I never saw a man jump around with such energy."

Flynn said he got his wound eight days ago at Central Palma Sugar Mill in Oriente Province. He said he did all his campaigning with the Rebels there.

"When bullets fly," Flynn said, "sometimes people get hurt. I was hiding behind a post — as usual — when a bullet hit the post and then my leg."

He pointed to his right leg and added:

"I lost a little skin and a little blood. Now I am getting queries on whether I lost a leg.

"The only thing that really wounded me was not being able to get anything to eat except tangerines."

Flynn declined to say how he arranged his rendezvous with Castro, but said he had been interested in the rebel leader for eight years.

March of Dimes Kickoff Told

Reds Train 2 Doctors For Each U.S. Grad

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — (AP) — Russian medical schools are turning out 16,000 physicians a year, or more than twice as many as the U.S., the kickoff of the 1959 March of Dimes was told Monday.

And Dr. Joseph G. Hinsey, director of New York Hospital — Cornell Medical Center, also declared that "what this country does not have is the people, in anywhere near the numbers needed, who are prepared (trained) to fight the destruction caused by disease."

Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation, declared that in the next 10 years medical research in the U.S. will need three times as much money as it gets now from public contributions and industry.

O'Connor, whose foundation is expanding into arthritis and birth defects and dropping "for infantile paralysis" from its title, said the March of Dimes is setting aside 12 million dollars over the next 10 years to provide scholarships in health professions for 505 students a year.

The first Brahman cattle in South Florida were brought here by Mr. Bright in 1911. Because grazing was poor, he also introduced para grass for his cattle, then brought a herd of Holstein cattle from Missouri to start the first dairy farm for the 7,000 residents then living here.

Business prospered, so Mr. Bright brought meat producing Herefords to the area.

While riding out to his ranch, his horse struck marl which Mr. Bright knew would be ideal for a race track. He kept the idea in the back of his mind, and campaigned for the track.

Ev Sewell, pioneer Miami mayor, and Frank Shutts, former owner of The Miami Herald found a Buffalo promoter, Joe Smoots, who delivered $100,000 for the track.

Mr. Bright donated 160 acres, now worth well over a million dollars, for the project. He accepted a $10 payment, "to make it legal."

He interested Joseph Widener in digging lakes and putting Flamingo's in the oval at the center of the track.

Mr. Bright was a member of the Mahi Shrine, the Oleta Masonic Lodge in Hialeah, the Flat Tires and the Jesters. He was a former member of the Century Club of Coral Gables, the Committee of 100, and was former chairman of The Florida State Livestock Board.

Surviving are his wife, Lulu Tinsley Bright; a daughter, Mrs. John H. Cheatham, Coral Gables, and two grandsons.

LOWER EAST AND WEST COASTS, Everglades, Keys — Fair and colder. High Tuesday 65 to 70. Northeasterly winds at 10 to 20 miles an hour somewhat higher on the beaches. Small craft warnings displayed.

National Summary

The cold wave that drove to the Atlantic coast during the last 24 hours dropped temperatures in many areas of the east as much as 40 degrees with readings close to zero at mid-day through the mountains of Pennsylvania.

The bulk of arctic air centered in the middle of the country is continuing to drive cold winds across the Great Lakes with snow showers along the eastern shores deep into Michigan and into the northern Appalachians.

The Pacific storm that swept through the northwest during the night has spread snow into the northern Rockies to give moderating temperatures in eastern Colorado.

Some easing of the frigid weather is expected over most sections from the Rockies to the Appalachians by tomorrow. However, the mercury should dip to 20 or 30 degrees below zero in northern New York and Maine with sub-zero levels in the mid-atlantic states.

Intermittent snow advancing eastward over the Plateau to the Rockies will expand precipitation over most states west of the Continental Divide during the next 24 hours and snow should reach the Dakotas Tuesday.

2 Cubans Elude Sea And Law

By AL FINKELSTEIN
Herald Staff Writer

Two daring, fleet-footed Cubans — hiding in nearby shrubbery — escaped police interrogation Monday when the plane in which they were riding to Havana belly-flopped out of gas near Key Largo.

While Border Patrol investigators were questioning the Miami pilot and the Miami Springs co-pilot of the twin-engine Cessna, "the other two guys suddenly popped up . . . and ran like hell," a U. S. Immigration source in Miami told The Herald.

However, Senior Border Patrol Inspector R. J. Quirk said "we have a pretty good lead on them" and hoped to have the crash-and-dash incident "cleared up" today.

The plane's pilot, Jose J. Bosch, 30, of 5025 SW 114th Ave., and his co-pilot, T. J. Kennedy, 29, of 648 Mokena Dr., Miami Springs, were questioned but not held for further investigation.

They could not be reached for comment Monday night.

Border Patrol investigators said the pair did not volunteer "much information" on their flight. They had taken off from Tamiami airport.

A Coast Guard helicopter from Miami flew the men to Dinner Key after they radioed the Homestead air tower they were out of gas and planning to ditch at 2:40 p.m.

The Border Patrol today was checking out the plane's owner through the craft's serial number: N-60256.

Both the Coast Guard and Border Patrol officers complimented the pilot on an "expert" landing about one-quarter mile off shore from Key Largo.

The men were shaken up but did not require hospital treatment, the Coast Guard said.

Participating in the rescue were Helicopter Pilot Lt. Cmdr. T. J. Hynes and his hoist operator, T. A. Turner.

Ferry, Air Schedules Restored

KEY WEST — (AP) — The City of Havana, big ocean-going ferry which operates between Key West and Havana, returned Monday to its regular schedule of three round trips a week.

In Miami, Pan American and National Airlines announced resumption of flights to and from the Cuban capital.

Service of the boat and airlines was discontinued when rioting swept Havana Jan. 1.

Cubana Airlines, the other leading air carrier from Florida to Cuba, resumed service Saturday.

Officials of the ferry, which brought 265 tourists to Key West from Havana Monday, said the ship would return to Cuba as soon as it was loaded.

It was the ship's second trip since the start of the general strike at Havana, called by Rebel Leader Fidel Castro. The City of Havana arrived with 508 passengers Saturday.

High winds caused a delay in docking and the second group from Havana remained overnight aboard the vessel.

Many hadn't had any food for three days prior to boarding the ferry. They said they occasionally had access to coffee, but had to stand in line two hours for it.

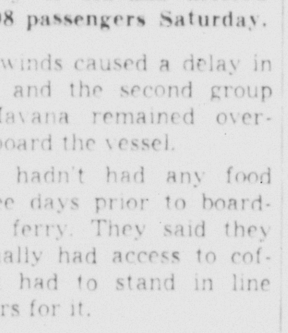
The coffee was served through a hole in the door of a restaurant. Operators were unwilling to open the door for for fear of looting.

Aboard the ship was Felipe de Vosjoli, connected with the French Embassy at Washington, and his wife. The de Vosjolis were stranded while on a visit to Cuba.

Passengers said occasional gunfire could be heard in Havana when they boarded the ship Sunday, but said order had been restored in most of the city.

Holzapfel Surrenders, Makes Bond

WEST PALM BEACH — (AP) — Floyd A. Holzapfel, 34, surrendered at county jail Monday in connection with a forgery case. He was freed on $5,000 bond within two hours.



HOLZAPFEL

Holzapfel, who gave his address as Miami Beach, had been sought since Dec. 11 on charges of forgery and for questioning in the murder of Lou Gene Harvey, 21, of Jacksonville.

Harvey's body was found in a canal west of West Palm Beach Nov. 7.

Sheriff John F. Kirk said he questioned Holzapfel concerning the murder but received no information.

He also was questioned about charges that he forged the name of a local bondsman to a check for $4,800.

Holzapfel declined to give his whereabouts since the pick-up order for him was sent out. He was former security chief for the Fontainebleau Hotel, Miami Beach.

Naples Civic Group Checks on 'Move'

By TOM MORGAN
Naples Bureau Chief

NAPLES — A fact-finding committee to check the cost of moving the Collier County seat from Everglades to Naples has been appointed as a public service of the Naples Civic Assn. Petitions seeking an election on the move are being circulated by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The committee appointment was made by Jackson Moore, Civic Assn. president. The group will be headed by Tom Truesdale.

Other members will be: George E. Cowden, Nelson J. Sanford, Dr. S. C. Ogburn, Denton B. Woodward, Samuel D. Post, Raymond F. List, George Huntoon and Gen. E. W. Timberlake.

Off-the-cuff cost estimates for the move have ranged from $50,000 to two million dollars. Millionaire Dudley R. Gallahue has offered to build a $65,000 branch courthouse in Naples and get his costs back in rent. He would give the lost and make available more land for expansion into a full courthouse if the county seats should be changed.

Jaycees have noted county plans for a $17,000 addition and improvement to the Everglades jail and successfully petitioned the County Board to delay this work until they can circulate the county seat movement petition.

The seat of Collier County has been at Everglades ever since the county was founded 35 years ago by the late Barron G. Collier, who owned almost the entire county then.

Support for the change has come from many Neapolitans and from residents of Immokalee, the only other location which might be considered. Opposition has come from Naples' Mayor W. Roy Smith and the Collier interests' newspaper, the Collier County News. Both questioned the cost of the movement and reasons for the change.

Fraudulent 'Prince' in Jail Again

FORT MYERS — (AP) — Edward Lee Woods, the Florida farmer who's always trying to convince people he's an African prince, wound up in the hands of the law again Monday.

Deputy Sheriff Dick Jacobs held Woods for later arraignment in Tampa before a federal commissioner on a charge of carrying a fraudulent check between states. Jacobs said Woods cashed a $187 check on the Community National Bank of Roxbury, Mass., in Danville, Va.

Woods, 26-year-old MacClenny, Fla., Negro, claimed, as he has elsewhere, to be Crown Prince Mkabouri Kawama Mboyta of Ubangi-Sheri, Portuguese East Africa.

Though he has been unmasked time after time, Woods boasted to a reporter he could still make people believe he's a prince.

However, he didn't quite convince officials at a hospital here where he went to seek treatment for a kidney ailment. They remembered reading of his earlier escapades and called police.

FBI Agent George Gatins and Jacobs said Woods is wanted for fraud and passing worthless checks in a number of cities.

Woods told arresting officers he entered this country at Miami Dec. 30. He flashed an alien registration obtainable by any citizen at the nearest post office.

He stuck to his story through several hours of questioning before admitting his true identity.

Jacobs said Woods also is wanted for fraud at Winston-Salem, Gastonia, High Point and Charlotte, N.C.; and Culpepper, Va.

Jacobs added Woods is sought in Polk County, Fla., as well for questioning involving obtaining drugs from a Lake Wales firm through fraudulent methods.

Woods outfoxed police and hospital authorities in a number of Southern cities in December as he moved south from Virginia, posing as a prince and seeking treatment for a kidney ailment.

Driver Has Close Shave

MELBOURNE—Myron Kelley of Melbourne was driving his car north on U. S. 1 in Valkaria when a big house trailer — under its own steam — headed right down his traffic lane.

The trailer, being towed behind a car operated by Robert T. Bradway of Miami, became unhitched, went 171 feet down the highway, crossed over to the other lane, ran along the shoulder for another 96 feet, and came to rest in the Indian River.

While the free-wheeling trailer went through its paces, Kelley steered around it and landed in the ditch.

There were no injuries and little property damage.

Boy Shark Victim Has Tests Of New Leg, Finds It Works

By ELVALEE SWIFT
Herald Staff Writer

Doug Lawton is a brown-eyed 9-year-old who is learning to walk again.

He moved stiffly, but surely, down the hall of Edison Park Elementary School Monday, grinning proudly.

This fourth grader has a brand new leg.

It isn't as limber yet as the one he lost to a vicious tiger shark at a Sarasota beach, last summer, but that doesn't bother Doug.

"I can move without canes now," he said. "Watch me."

He threw a pair of tot-sized canes to his mother, and walked slowly to the water fountain.

A lingering smile lit his enormous eyes. "I can do anything anybody with two legs can do," he said.

His teacher, watching from a corner, nodded. "He does," she said. "He plays all the games just like the other youngsters."

Doug rattled on happily about his Christmas presents. "I got a big dog I named Droopy," he said, "and I got this new red shirt."

He seemed to have forgotten other days . . . when a man-eating shark darted into shallow water and ripped his leg . . . watching the big fish repeatedly tear his flesh as his brother and father frantically tried to beat it off . . . the long hours in the hospital.

"You see this billfold," he said in a grown-up voice. "Well, I got it for Christmas, and look inside."

He had money. Lots of change and two dollars. "I'm saving," he confided, "to get a model car. I collect them."

"People in Sarasota collected about $1,000 for us," said his mother, Mrs. Richard Lawton of 1245 NE 201st Ter. "I think it's enough to buy his legs until he's grown.

"They're $300 each time and he'll need a new one every three years."

Doug wasn't listening. He was walking.

City Says Only 467 'Legal'

By HENRY CAICEDO
Key West Bureau Chief

KEY WEST — The petition asking for a repeal of the utility tax contained only 467 signatures "deemed legal in every respect," City Clerk Victor Lowe reported Monday night.

Lowe told the city commission at its regular meeting that a total of 3,202 names have been rejected from the petition on several legal points. The petition contained 3,669 signatures, when presented.

For the petition to be valid, under the city code, it must contain signatures of 35 per cent of the qualified electors — which in this case would be 1,924. Lowe said the resulting figure after a two-week check amounts to only eight and one-half per cent of the city's 5,498 qualified electors.

Main items under which signatures were rejected were dates and signature not by same person, 1,732; precinct and signature not by same person, 2,551; not registered, 1,513.

Duplicate petitions accounted for 28 violations, Lowe reported. Signatures signed in pencil made up 67 violations.

T. J. Knowles, representative of the Monroe County Taxpayers Ass'n., which circulated the petition, pleaded with the commission to give further consideration to the petition because "we had the intent of the people that they wanted this utility tax repealed."

Knowles said that if certain legal technicalities were not followed to the letter the Association feels that it will have at least 2,500 valid signatures.

He added that a random check of some of the names claimed by Lowe not to be on the registration books, in fact are of registered voters.

Of 100 rejected signatures, 14 were actually valid in seven of the city's 16 registration books, Knowles claimed.

City Manager Dave King, in answer to a question from Commissioner Joe Fernandez, said that he had looked over the petition and found 60 or 70 signatures with similar handwriting.

"I found one case where four names were in the same handwriting," King said. He reported to the commission that he had contacted handwriting experts in Tampa and Miami who would be able to make a conclusive determination on the question of forgery in the petition.

King said he was still negotiating to have the experts come to Key West.

Tax Bodies Exempted

KEY WEST—The city commission Monday night approved an ordinance exempting all federal, state, county and municipal agencies from the payment of "any and all taxes imposed by the city of Key West."

Their action answered one of the legal questions which cropped up over imposition of the city's new 10 per cent utility tax.

It was questioned here whether the city would attempt to collect the tax from county and state agencies, such as the school board and the Florida Keys Aqueduct Commission.

Early last Monday City Attorney Hilary Albury had told the City Electric System that the tax would apply to "all governmental agencies and bodies including Monroe County, the City of Key West, Key West Housing Authority, Florida Keys Aqueduct Commission, Monroe General Hospital, etc."

But the ordinance passed Monday specifically exempts all "tax supported bodies, public corporations, authorities, boards and commissions."

A 4-Case Case

They Searched, Found And Were Found Out

Herald Bureau

NAPLES — One good search led to another and landed two Naples men in jail Monday, charged with taking four cases of liquor from a Gorden Dr. home.

Police Chief Samuel B. Caruthers said Harry Miner and George Whittle, Negroes, took two cases of spirits from J. E. Cain's home before Christmas and two more cases Jan. 1.

The house was being remodelled which made entry easier, Caruthers said.

Miner and Whittle, with a third man, drove to Coral Gables, where Patrolman William Bennett noticed the trio driving around for several hours. Bennett stopped their car and found a case of gin and five bottles of vodka — with Cain's name and telephone number stamped on the labels.

Chief Caruthers said the rest of the liquor had been sold or drunk.

Engineers Get Channel Plans

An application for a permit to dredge a channel and construct a breakwater in Hawk Channel, at Rock Harbor on Key Largo, has been filed with the Army Engineers by Michal DeRemo of Islamorado.

Plans for the project are available at the area office of the Army Engineers at Miami Beach. Objections should be filed before Jan. 20.

Did Wind Keep Frost Off Citrus?

COCOA — Brisk morning winds may have saved Brevard County's rich citrus groves from a killing frost, County Agent James T. Oxford indicated Monday.

Oxford said he had no reports of frost damage although the mercury dipped to a reported 38 early Monday.

Ordinarily frost settles in low spots when temperature drops below 40, but Oxford said high winds keep the cold air from settling.

However, growers throughout the county were watching for colder weather by Tuesday morning.

The weather bureau said the temperature was to drop to 35 during the night. The saving winds were expected to keep on blowing.

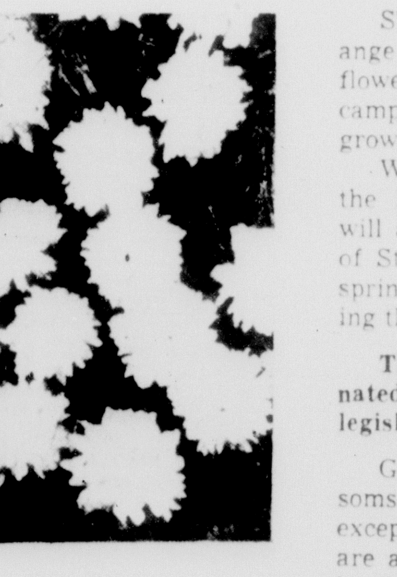
Monday's brisk weather followed a summery weekend during which temperatures stood in the 70's and drove hundreds of tourists to Cocoa Beach which is usually almost deserted during January.

The Monday temperature dip was Brevard County's second this winter, but the season was milder than last winter.

They Want Orange Blossom Replaced

Pompon Lovers Would Make It State Flower

By ZOLA SWARTHOUT
Herald Correspondent



Pompons
. . . better reminder?

STUART — Pompons — not orange blossoms — will be the official flower of Florida if a statewide campaign by Martin County flower growers is successful.

William A. Gladden, president of the local association says that he will ask Sate Rep. William R. Scott of Stuart to introduce a bill at the spring term of legislature asking that the change be made.

The orange blossom was designated the state flower by the 1909 legislature.

Gladden argues that orange blossoms are rarely sent out of the state, except on picture post cards, and are almost unknown to most people in the nation except on wedding rings.

"Pompons," he said "are among the top four of our flowers in point of sales, are widely known, and are shipped from Florida to every state including Alaska as well as the Hawaiian Islands, Puerto Rico and Canada."

"Florida supplies the entire nation east of the Mississippi during the winter months, and parts of the country the year around," Gladden added.

"What better reminder to everyone of Florida could there be," he asked.

"About half of the pompons grown in the state are grown in Martin county. Lee county also grows quite a number."

Gladden asserted that the publicity value of a flower that represents the gaiety, color and climate of both Florida's coasts couldn't be equaled.

Military Academy Barracks Burned

Hollywood Cadets Out Of Building

By RICK TUTTLE
Hollywood Bureau Chief

HOLLYWOOD — A general alarm fire, which roared out of control for two hours, did an estimated $150,000 damage to the main barracks at Riverside Military Academy here Monday.

None of the 750 cadets were in the building when smoke was seen pouring from the north wing roof shortly after 3 p.m. They were on the drill field.

A brisk north wind whipped the blaze over the three-story, stucco and tile structure. A 40-foot section of roof was ablaze by the time Hollywood's six fire fighting units arrived.

No one was injured, officials said.

An investigation will get under way today to determine the cause.

Hollywood Fire Chief H. L. Cook said the fire started in a narrow attic, between the roof and the third floor ceiling. The third floor houses cadet sleeping quarters.

Fire fighting equipment from Hallandale, Dania and West Hollywood were called in when Hollywood firemen realized they could not handle the blaze alone.

Col. Engle C. May, commandant of cadets, said he and three cadet guards, raced to the third floor after the fire was reported.

Two fire hoses in the hallway would not reach the fire, he said. They were forced out of the building by dense smoke.

Capt. D. L. Dooley, librarian, was asleep on the second floor when the smell of smoke awoke him.

"By the time I got dressed and out the fire engines had arrived," he said.

A firewall midway of the structure was the only thing that saved the entire third floor, and possibly the building, Chief Cook said.

"If it hadn't been for that old firewall, the whole thing would have gone," he said.

As some firemen fought the fire from the roof top, other crews worked beneath the blaze, on the third floor.

"The men on the third floor took terrific punishment," Chief Cook said. Although most of them wore gas masks, they came to windows frequently for fresh air.

The fire burned gaping holes in the roof within minutes, despite tons of water pouring on the flaming timbers.

"This building isn't fire-proof by any means," said Gen. Sandy Beaver, president of the academy since 1913. Monday was the first day of classes here for the term.

Firemen were hindered by the barracks' design, Chief Cook said. The fire spread between the roof and the third floor ceiling and firemen could not strike the source with the powerful streams of water.

The building, which contained 300 dormitory rooms, administrative offices, kitchen and cafeteria, was built in 1924 as the Hollywood Hills Inn.

The academy has been using it for over 25 years.

Gen. Beaver said the school would possibly have to return to its fall and spring quarters at Gainesville, Ga.

"The replacement value is over a million dollars," Gen. Beaver said. "I guess it is worth $700,000. It is insured for $500,000."

While great clouds of smoke rolled across the nearby drill field, cadets continued their marching. Later, under direction of police, they formed a cordon around the academy grounds to keep back the crowd.

Just as the fire was brought under control at 5:15 p.m., another fire broke out in the downtown area, and equipment was called away. Damage at Gwen-Ellen shop, 1933 Hollywood Blvd., was minor, the clothing store manager said.

During World War II the Riverside buildings were used by the Navy as a flexible gunnery school for training of aircraft gun crews.

Fall and spring sessions of Riverside are held in Georgia with the school holding classes in Hollywood in January, February, and March of each year.

Telephone Office Burns

200 Flee From Tampa Fire

TAMPA —(AP)— Nearly 200 office workers fled Monday when fire broke out in a three-story building in downtown Tampa. Four firemen were overcome by smoke while fighting the blaze.

The windowless building is occupied by administrative offices of the General Telephone Co.

Flames shot through the roof of the structure and a strong wind fanned sparks over the downtown area. Heavy black smoke covered an area of several blocks.

As firemen fought the flames in mid-afternoon, District Fire Chief E. E. Leavine said the fire posed no threat to nearby buildings.

Firefighters were withdrawn from the roof of the building when it threatened to collapse. Minutes later flames roared through the roof.

The firemen overcome by smoke were Capt. Tom Beasley, V. K. Ward, R. B. Mertens and E. J. Jaudon. They were quickly revived and returned to duty.

Telephone company employes, who work on the first and second floors, left the building in orderly fashion when the fire was discovered on the third floor.

Carl D. Brorein, company president, said the third floor is "sort of attic," where air conditioning equipment is installed. He said damage would be slight if the fire is confined to the third floor.

He added there would be little interruption of telephone service because the building houses only administrative offices.

Firemen could give no cause for the fire immediately.

Red Tide Studies Continue

By DOM BONAFEDE
Herald Staff Writer

Florida's "red tide"—the unpredictable scourge of microorganisms which sometimes hits the Gulf Coast—has lost much of its threat as a result of research by a University of Miami professor.

A formula devised by the U-M scientist, which combines sea and weather data, makes it possible to forecast conditions which produce the outbreaks.

Explosive expansion of the microscopic water plants colors the water red, kills millions of fish and fills the air with an irritating scent.

Dr. F. G. Smith, of U-M's International Oceanographic Foundation, said in a recently published national report that the formula can forecast years when the "red tide" will probably occur and years when it is not likely to show up.

Smith, however, told The Herald that the research was not completely finished and that further experimental work was halted because state funds had been exhausted.

He said there were no plans at the present to ask the incoming Legislature for money to push the research.

"During periods when there is no 'red tide,' nobody is interested. But when it appears, everybody wants you to do something," commented the U-M scientist.

He added that that lack of assurance that the work could be continued "makes it difficult to perform long-term research."

He noted that while the work on the "red tide" up to now was encouraging, "we have just broken the surface."

Appearance of the "red tide" may be predicted by the new formula, which promises to save millions for Florida industries.

FORT LAUDERDALE — Two persons died on U.S. 27 early Monday when their tractor-trailer swung out of control and was demolished.

The accident occurred about 5:45 a.m. 12 miles north of State Rd. 84.

The highway patrol said the victims, killed instantly, were: Dale P. Dickerson, 28, 333 Chestnut St., Asheboro N.C., the driver, and Joe M. Boyd, 25, March Hotel, Lexington, N.C., his passenger.

(The Associated Press reported 11 persons killed in Florida traffic accidents over the first weekend of the New Year. Among the victims were Josef Kovacs, 22, of Belle Glade; Mrs. Dorothy H. Wigley, 30, of Mattituck, N.Y., and her daughter, Sandra, 8, all of whom died in a four-car collision near West Palm Beach Sunday.)

Trooper T. J. Keller reported the rig was going south when it ran off the right side of the road and skidded across to the east side.

The tractor and trailer parted, the trailer turning over. The tractor struck a tree. The bodies of both men were found in the cab. The cause of the accident was unknown.

Two Cuban Planes Reported Seized

By Herald Wire Services

News Around Florida

Customs agents said they found eight 50 caliber machine guns, some sidearms and ammunition on one of the planes and that this was being taken to Jacksonville Monday.

Constructive seizure is made when there has been a violation of the law with no intent to break a law, officials said.

Agents said one plane — a bomber — was flown by Capt. Vasquez Soto and First Lt. Jose Hernandez; the other was a private plane flown by Alberto Mayo, who was accompanied by his wife. Agents said the four fled Thursday because of the revolution.

Customs agents said the four would be permitted to remain in the U.S. under immigration regulations.

Tourists Land

KEY WEST — The last big boatload of American tourists from strife-torn Cuba landed here Monday after spending the night anchored in a ship off the storm-tossed coast.

The SS City of Havana, with 265 passengers, was originally scheduled to dock here Sunday night.

The tourists appeared to be in good spirits after getting their first solid meal in several days aboard the ship Sunday.

Included among the passengers were Felipe de Vosjoli of the French Embassy in Washington and his wife.

Lawyer on Staff

Collins said Peeples, formerly a member of Ausley, Ausley and McMullen, began work Jan. 1 at a salary of $500 a month.

Peeples, 28, was campus manager at the University of Florida of the 1956 Collins for Governor campaign, as well as manager of a campaign speakers bureau for the north-central part of the state.

'Raise Lakes'

TALLAHASSEE — The State Department of Water Resources recommended Monday that the level of Lake Apopka, big sports fishing resort in Orange and Lake Counties, be raised six inches.

A six inch raise in the operating level of Lake Griffin in Lake County also was recommended.

However, Director John Wakefield of the state agency advised water management authorities in the Oklawaha River basin that raising levels of the lakes would require that the capacities of outlets and connecting canals be increased.

Plane Ditched

KEY LARGO — Two Miami pilots escaped unhurt Monday when they belly-landed their twin-engined private plane in 18 inches of water a quarter-mile off Key Largo.

Both were picked up by a Coast Guard helicopter within minutes after the ditching.

The fliers, Jose Bosch and T. J. Kennedy, were returned to Miami. The Coast Guard said the plane's point of origin and destination were not immediately known.

Autopsy Set

JACKSONVILLE — An autopsy was planned Monday to determine if Earl Armstrong, 33, Brunswick, Ga., Negro crewman on a shrimp boat, drowned when he attempted to swim ashore from the disabled vessel.

The Shrimper Morning Star had clutch trouble and drifted onto a sand bar at the entrance to Nassau Sound, north of Jacksonville, Friday. When no help came by Saturday, said Capt. Earl White, Armstrong donned a life jacket and set out for shore.

How Batista Lived Last Hours

By GEORGE SOUTHWORTH
Herald Latin America Editor

HAVANA — Fulgencio Batista's last moments in Cuba were filled with meritative melancholy and wonder at what had hit him.

Gone were the cheering throngs, the backslappers, the friends who once vowed they would stick with him through thick/or thin.

On Dec. 31 — the beaten dictator's last day in his homeland — he had by his side only a few close followers, his wife and two of his children.

With his regime rapidly falling to pieces and Rebel Leader Fidel Castro routing government troops, Batista made his final decision as president of Cuba late that day.

He had to flee like a whipped dog or face death at the hands of the revolutionaries.

Shortly before midnight he and his family secretly slipped away from the Presidential Palace and drove to the outskirts of Havana to his home at Camp Columbia, the military headquarters of the Cuban army.

In contrast to the spartan surroundings of the military barracks, Batista's quarters were elegantly furnished. A large staff of servants was always on hand to tend to the whims of the "strongman."

His Camp Columbia home consisted of five bedrooms, five bathrooms, two dining rooms, a few smaller rooms and a private barber shop.

Two days later, long-haired and bearded rebel mountain fighters were using the barber chairs of the man they had defeated.

Still in service at Batista's army quarters is Robert Diaz, a civilian servant.

Diaz, who was on hand the fateful night, recalled:

"There was Batista, his wife, his son Jorge, 15, and his daughter Marta, about two. They arrived about midnight.

"Then, with some top government and military officials present, Batista gave last-minute instructions. Looking on were 15 servants.

"Batista was calm and quiet. His wife and son seemed excited."

Later, Diaz said, Batista shook hands with each of his servants.

"He was obviously moved. It was a sad moment," Diaz noted.

Batista took three traveling bags with him and his wife's jewelry. A nurse carried little Marta.

When the party was assembled, the members filed into a waiting line of limousines and drove to Havana Airport in the dead of night.

After only a few minutes at the airport, Batista, his family and loyal followers were on their way into exile.

Ironically, his banishment followed an identical pattern set by Carlos Prio Socarras, the president Batista had booted out in a bloodless coup of March 10, 1952.

The wheel had come full circle for Batista.

New President Reaches Havana

Owners of Big Casinos in Huddle, 5A
Some Famous People Helped Castro, 15A

By GEORGE SOUTHWORTH
Herald Latin America Editor

HAVANA, Cuba — Provisional President Manuel Urrutia flew into Havana late Monday and it appeared that martial law would be quickly lifted in the capital.

Urrutia flew to the capital from Camaguey Province in eastern Cuba.

He arrived at the height of a squabble between Fidel Castro's rebel forces and student revolutionaries who had occupied the Presidential Palace.

They had been demanding a stronger voice in the new rebel government.

The earlier proclamation of martial law had stressed that it would be enforced until Urrutia arrived. Police also had orders to impose a 9 p.m. to 5 a.m. curfew in Havana but there was doubt whether these orders would be followed through.

Castro, who rooted Dictator-President Fulgencio Batista from power New Year's Eve, is making a leisurely but victorious approach to the capital through the eastern provinces.

Castro leaders said military rule will be lifted as soon as Urrutia is installed in the palace. They appealed to the people, particularly the workers, to maintain order.

Making ready for Urrutia's arrival — and to insure a peaceful demonstration — revolutionists filled Havana's jails with Batista supporters.

Shortly after the new tension broke out Monday, the American embassy issued renewed warnings to Americans in Cuba to continue to be cautious in their activities.

U. S. officials announced:

"The American embassy repeats its warnings to Americans in Cuba, particulary in the Havana area, that they should continue to observe appropriate caution in their activities until the local situation is completely cleared."

Also, Pan American World Airways and National Airlines, which had resumed service to Havana, abruptly cut it off Monday afternoon. PAA gave "technical difficulties" as the reason for the action.

Despite the intra-rebel power struggle, Havana was beginning to return to normalcy. Stores were reopened and street traffic once again became its chaotic, horn-tooting self.

The people of Havana, their food supplies flowing again as the general strike ended, watched the arrival of the new president with full stomachs.

Newspapers began appearing once more. Taxi drivers took up their usual stands, as did the female strollers along the Prado.

The provisional government Sunday ordered the end of the general strike that went into effect last Thursday.

As a result of Monday's new crisis, U. S. Ambassador Earl E. T. Smith canceled a trip to Washington just as he was about to board a plane. He returned to the embassy to await developments.

Will Stay Separate Paper

Chicago News Sold to Field by John S. Knight

Control of The Chicago Daily News was sold Monday to Field Enterprises Inc., owners of The Chicago Sun-Times.

This was announced jointly by John S. Knight, editor and publisher of The Daily News since 1944, and by Marshall Field Jr., editor and publisher of The Sun-Times.

Sale of the majority interest in Daily News stock, at $50 a share, has been completed.

Total shares outstanding are 481,293, with more than 75 per cent held by Knight Newspapers, members of the Knight family and executives and employes of the Knight Newspapers. Field said the same offer of $50 a share is being made to the minority stockholders.

Field, who at 42 becomes the sixth publisher of The Chicago Daily News since it was founded 83 years ago, said it will be continued as "a separate and independent newspaper."

He said there are no plans for changes in personnel, that the executive staff is being asked to continue in charge of The News, and that "for the forseeable future we shall go on producing each paper as at present."

Knight, who bought control of The Chicago Daily News Oct. 18, 1944, for $2,151,537 cash, said his reasons for selling the paper "at the time of its greatest progress are entirely personal. They arise from a desire to curtail my administrative responsibilities after nearly 40 years in journalism." Knight will be 65 next Oct. 26.

"In no sense," he said, "does the sale of The Daily News mean that I am retiring from journalism.

"Knight Newspapers—owners of The Akron Beacon Journal, The Detroit Free Press, The Miami Herald, The Charlotte Observer, a newsprint mill, a newspaper supply company, TV and radio interests and two Florida weeklies—will continue to expand in areas where the demands upon my personal supervision will not be as insistent."

He said that at Field's request he has agreed to assist The Daily News in an advisory capacity during a period of transition, and that his "Editor's Notebook" will continue to appear in The News as a Saturday column.

Field paid tribute to Knight as "one of the greatest publishers of America" and said, "I feel fortunate to have his assistance during this period of transition." He added:

"The Daily News under the outstanding leadership of John S. Knight since 1944 has reached new heights in circulation, advertising and distinction.

"When he bought control of The Chicago Daily News, it was said that Mr. Knight had 'purchased an opportunity.' He has made the most of the opportunity. In the past 15 years, he has enhanced that paper's traditional greatness and prestige, increased its influence and strengthened its financial structure immeasureably.

"He has earned a reputation as one of America's great editors and most articulate exponents of a responsible free press. As an active leader in the civic life of this community, he has made an invaluable contribution to the progress of Chicago."

Knight said he made his announcement "with mixed emotions: A sense of sorrow in relinquishing control of a great and successful newspaper; a comforting knowledge that Marshall Field Jr. will maintain the editorial independence and enterprise which have made The Daily News a shining example of the best in American journalism."

He said other offers had been made for The Daily News but that he considered none of them except Field's.

He said he is convinced Field will conduct the paper with "intelligence, responsibility and courage," and said he has been assured that The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service will be maintained and expanded.

He recalled that when he took over The Chicago Daily News it was "burdened with debt and suffering from a sense

Frostbite Reigns in Northeast

Sub-Zero Winds Lash Airplanes

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — A sub-zero cold wave, so bitter it knocked out public utilities for whole cities and sparked murderous home fires, numbed most of the nation Monday.

The arctic air mass was breaking up in the southwest and relented a little on the Middle West. But the East was still to feel its full power.

Record lows of 10 to 20 degrees below zero were in store for Pittsburgh, 53-mile-an-hour winds raked Washington, D.C., and four to six-foot snow drifts blocked highways in western New York and northern Pennsylvania. In upstate New York and Maine, weathermen predicted temperatures 20 to 30 degrees below zero.

Another vicious storm howled out of the Pacific and into the Rockies. Winds clocked up to 100 miles per hour, smashed small boats and piers in the San Francisco bay area, while snow blocked U.S. 99 at Redding, Calif., and piled up 14 inches deep at Craer Lake, Ore.

The three day cold wave, which held many Midwest temperatures to zero or below for more than 24 hours, was blamed for at least 29 deaths attributed to exhaustion, freezing, weather-caused traffic accidents and cold-sparked fires.

Kansas counted four dead in Monday home fires, three of them children. Fires also burned down a block square building near Arnold, Mo., and raged unchecked for five hours at Holliday, Mo., destroying a grocery and post office, because the town's pumper froze.

Hialeah's Founder Dies at 93

By EVELYN DeTARDO
Herald Staff Writer

The grand old man of Hialeah is dead.

James H. Bright, developer of Hialeah, founder of Hialeah Race Track and pioneer Florida cattle and dairy man, died Monday of pneumonia. He was 93.

Mr. Bright, of 45 Olive Dr., Hialeah, led a campaign to get Hialeah its first school; was first president of the Hialeah-Miami Springs bank, and is credited with helping make Florida a top cattle producing state.

He brought the first Brahman and Holstein cattle to the state, then imported South American sod to give his purebred herds prime forage.

Born in St. Louis, he grew up in Louisiana, Mo., where he graduated from business school at Louisiana Baptist College. Always a horse enthusiast, he drove trotters for the St. Louis Jockey Club.

When he came to Miami in 1909, he bought 17,000 acres

'Small World' Falls Short

Balloonists Found Alive

Arrive At Goal In a Boat

Crew of Four Is in Barbados

BRIDGETOWN, Barbados—(AP)—Three men and a woman who set out on a transatlantic balloon trip reached their goal Monday — as shipwrecked mariners. A fisherman rescued them from the Atlantic.

Capt. Costa Brathwaite, 62, and his 32-year-old son found the four Britons adrift and weary in the 15½-foot gondola-lifeboat of the balloon Small World. He brought them to the comforts of a Barbadian hotel.

That meant fresh fruit, baths and solid footing for Mrs. Rosemary Mudie, 30, and her three companions after 24 days of austerity and tossing by wind and wave.

Mrs. Mudie promptly shampooed her hair.

"Can anyone lend me some hair clips?" she asked.

The balloonists set out from the Canary Islands Dec. 12. They charted a 3,000-mile course to this island in the British West Indies. Radio signals from them were heard for several days, then no definite reports for 19 days.

The Britons said they had cut the balloon from the gondola. They declined to say how long ago they cut the balloon loose, or how long they had been afloat.

"Sorry, chaps, the story has been sold," was the explanation.

The London Daily Mail sponsored the expedition, intended to make a scientific survey of Atlantic trade winds, and Daily Mail Reporter Arthur Cook was here to sew up their account.

Aside from Mrs. Mudie, the co-pilot and cook, the rescued group was made up of her husband, navigator Colin Mudie, 32; the expedition's pilot-captain, Arnold Eiolart, 51 and Eilart's 21-year-old son, Timothy, radioman.

The Brathwaites were fishing four hours offshore when they sighted the gondola.

"There were a lot of dolphin around the gondola so we caught four first and then sailed over to hailing distance," the captain said.

"I said, 'Are you the Small World?'

"Eiloart shouted back: 'Yes. Wil you tow us ashore?'

"They were not making

Sixth Straight Session

Stock Market Weathers Profit Taking, Closes High

NEW YORK — (AP) — The stock market weathered profit-taking and ended at a new record high for the sixth straight trading session Monday.

Rails, coppers and chemicals led the upturn, which ran from a few cents to $1 or more in leading issues. American Telephone and Telegraph was outstanding with a $3 gain, closing at $228.50.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks closed at $216.90, up $1.10. Based on this average the gain added an estimated $1,400,000,000 to the quoted value of all stocks listed on the New York stock exchange.

After showing strength early, the market slipped back in the afternoon. Demand renewed itself at the close, when the ticker lagged behind floor transactions. It was late five other times during the day. (Details on financial pages 6-11B).

Cadets on Drill Field

Fire Whips Academy; Damage at $150,000

Hollywood Bureau Chief

HOLLYWOOD — A general alarm fire, which roared out of control for two hours, did an estimated $150,000 damage to the main barracks at Riverside Military Academy here Monday.

None of the 750 cadets were in the building when smoke was seen pouring from the north wing roof shortly after 3 p.m. They were on the drill field.

A brisk north wind whipped the blaze over the three-story, stucco and tile structure. A 40-foot section of roof was ablaze by the time Hollywood's six fire fighting units arrived.

No one was injured, officials said.

An investigation will get under way today to determine the cause.

Hollywood Fire Chief H. L. Cook said the fire started in a narrow attic, between the roof and the third floor ceiling. The third floor houses cadet sleeping quarters.

A firewall midway of the structure was the only thing that saved the entire third floor, and possibly the building, Chief Cook said.

Water gushed down into the second floor and through the ceiling to the first floor.

The building, which contained 300 dormitory rooms, administrative offices, kitchen and cafeteria, was built in 1924 as the Hollywood Hills Inn.

The academy has been using it for over 25 years.

Gen. Beaver said the school would possibly have to return to its fall and spring quarters at Gainesville, Ga.

Mikoyan in Capital: There Will Be Peace

'We Had a Useful Exchange,' Says Russia's Mikoyan
. . . met with Secretary of State Dulles for 95 minutes

No. 2 Red Will See Ike Next

Prelude to Nikita? 12A

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The Kremlin's second in command predicted after a 95-minute meeting with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles Monday that "there will be peace."

Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan said after the parley that he and Dulles discussed the Berlin crisis, Germany, disarmament and trade.

Mikoyan also disclosed that he would confer with President Eisenhower after he returns here from a swing around the country Jan. 19 or 20. The State Department confirmed that the meeting would take place.

The State Department said Mikoyan "brought an oral message of greeting" to Dulles from Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev. Mikoyan is second only to Khrushchev in the Soviet leadership.

Mikoyan told reporters after leaving Dulles' State Department office that "I think it was a useful talk."

Later, speaking before television cameras, he said he believes discussions with Dulles and other American officials should improve prospects for peace and easing of cold war tensions.

"We'll see how it turns out," he said. Then he said through his translator, "there will be peace."

Mikoyan said he and Dulles "discussed in general terms in a preliminary manner areas of common interest."

"We intend to meet again when I return from my trip around the country," Mikoyan said. He planned to leave late today or Wednesday.

Mikoyan declined to express his views on the Berlin crisis. The U. S., Britain and France have rejected Soviet demands that they withdraw their troops and allow West Berlin to become a "free city."

Mikoyan, asked whether he made any suggestions to Dulles on this issue, replied that "I think I have said enough."

Meanwhile, Millionaire Cyrus Eaton, chairman of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, disclosed in Cleveland that Mikoyan had accepted his invitation to visit the city Wednesday.

Eaton, a sharp critic of U.S. foreign policy, said he does not know how long Mikoyan will stay or what he wants to see. Eaton recently was the guest of Khrushchev on a visit to Moscow.

The conference with Dulles took place despite the fact that the secretary was suffering from a virus infection. Dulles was forced to cancel a trip to Ottawa Monday and left for home immediately after the meeting.

Mikoyan and his aides left the State Department through a cordon of police and state department security officers who were brought into the lobby to hold back a crowd of 300 to 400 persons.

Seven Hungarian pickets, parading across the street from the entrance, chanted "Red murderer" as Mikoyan left the building.

GOP Rebels Aim Guns At Martin

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Insurgent Republican congressmen mounted an apparently powerful drive Monday to end the 20-year reign of House GOP Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr.

Martin, obviously surprised by the size of the revolt, quickly offered a compromise in an effort to stem the tide. But it was turned down by rebel House members who said they had the votes to beat him at the GOP organizational meeting today.

The insurgents picked Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana to oppose Martin. Halleck, after a day of hurried meetings on both sides, formally announced his candidacy.

The anti-Martin surge began earlier at a secret meeting of about 35 GOP congressmen in a hotel. Forces opposing the veteran House leader agreed to unite behind Halleck.

When this development became known, Martin offered to step down from his secondary post as head of the GOP Policy Committee in favor of a member of the rebel group.

Martin also offered to create a new post of assistant leader which the insurgent group would be permitted to fill.

But the rebels stood firm behind Halleck. Halleck issued his statement only after rebels took a careful nose count and decided they had enough votes to put him across.

Rep. William H. Ayres of Ohio, who helped organize the anti-Martin drive, said that "after losing three consecutive congresses a number of members feel it is time to try a new approach."

Hiked to 40.9 Billion

President Unveils Defense Budget

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — President Eisenhower unveiled a new 40.9-billion-dollar defense budget for congressional leaders Monday. Democrats promptly complained that his military and space programs failed to meet the Russian challenge.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas told newsmen after a 2½ hour White House meeting between administration officials and Senate and House leaders that he is disappointed in the President's spending plans for these two critical programs.

"They are programming as if we were living in a static rather than an exploding and expanding and developing world," he said. He added that he "would go farther, faster" than the administration in view of Soviet technical advances.

But Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R., Ill.), who is an odds-on favorite to become Senate GOP leader, told newsmen that Dr. Keith Glennan, head of the new federal space agency, outlined an "accelerated timetable" for U.S. exploration of outer space.

He said the timetable includes an attempt to fire a manned rocket to the moon. He added that the dramatic Soviet shot beyond the moon "certainly adds to the acceleration."

The President also told the lawmakers he will ask for what they call "a substantial increase" in the 3.3 billion dollars appropriated for foreign aid in the current fiscal year.

The bipartisan meeting was designed to give key legislators a preview of the defense and foreign affairs phases of the President's State of the Union message and his 77-billion-dollar budget in advance of the opening of Congress Wednesday.

Sen. Alexander Wiley (R., Wis.), ranking GOP member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said the defense budget for fiscal 1960 was pegged at 40.9 billion dollars, about 100 million dollars more than spending estimates for the current year.

The White House announced 10 days ago that the administration's overall spending budget for the new fiscal year, beginning next July 1, will be balanced at about 77 billion dollars.

In The 20s

N. Florida In Freezer

A cold wave tightened its frosty grip on North Florida Monday and weathermen predicted temperatures in the 20s there early Tuesday.

But the central and southern parts of the state, which hold the rich citrus and winter vegetable growing areas, are expected to escape any damaging frost, the Miami Weather Bureau said.

Forecaster Arnold Sugg said, however, that Miamians will shiver early Tuesday. A low of 60 was forecast for Miami Beach and other areas near the water, and a low of close to 50 in the western suburbs.

Lows between 25 and 30 were forecast for early Tuesday in North Florida around Tallahassee, and even colder temperatures are expected in the northwest Florida panhandle.

much headway. Only had up a small white sail."

The fishing boat took the gondola in tow at 8 a.m. It reached Crane Beach, on the island's southeast coast, at noon.

The gondola, still heavily stocked with food and water, was anchored offshore until the balloonists were landed, then was towed into harbor by another fishing boat.

Witnesses reported the hull had no moss on it — an indication it was not in the water overlong.

All four were somewhat shaky as they came ashore, watched by a gathering crowd, to the Crane Hotel overlooking the beach.

A week ago it was feared that the Small World was down at sea. Shortly before that, a hoax radio message touched off a widespread search for the balloon in the huge Orinoco delta of northeastern Venezuela.

Flynn Says He Fought With Fidel

HAVANA, Cuba — (AP) — Actor Errol Flynn, nursing a wound he called a scratch, said Monday night he campaigned with Rebel Leader Fidel Castro in a real-life episode of his swashbuckling film career.

Flynn, 50, told reporters he shared the field hardships and dangers with Castro's forces since Christmas Day because "all my life I've wanted to see what makes an idealist tick."

The actor said he found Castro "one of those men who come along occasionally in human history and fight for ideals."

"And I think he also has lizard blood," Flynn said with a laugh. "I never saw a man jump around with such energy."

Flynn said he got his wound eight days ago at Central Palma Sugar Mill in Oriente Province. He said he did all his campaigning with the Rebels there.

"When bullets fly," Flynn said, "sometimes people get hurt. I was hiding behind a post — as usual — when a bullet hit the post and then my leg."

He pointed to his right leg and added:

"I lost a little skin and a little blood. Now I am getting queries on whether I lost a leg.

"The only thing that really wounded me was not being able to get anything to eat except tangerines."

Flynn declined to say how he arranged his rendezvous with Castro, but said he had been interested in the rebel leader for eight years.

March of Dimes Kickoff Told

Reds Train 2 Doctors For Each U.S. Grad

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — (AP) — Russian medical schools are turning out 16,000 physicians a year, or more than twice as many as the U.S., the kickoff of the 1959 March of Dimes was told Monday.

And Dr. Joseph G. Hinsey, director of New York Hospital — Cornell Medical Center, also declared that "what this country does not have is the people, in anywhere near the numbers needed, who are prepared (trained) to fight the destruction caused by disease."

Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation, declared that in the next 10 years medical research in the U.S. will need three times as much money as it gets now from public contributions and industry.

O'Connor, whose foundation is expanding into arthritis and birth defects and dropping "for infantile paralysis" from its title, said the March of Dimes is setting aside 12 million dollars over the next 10 years to provide scholarships in health professions for 505 students a year.

The 1959 March of Dimes goal is 65 million dollars, compared with $44,990,000 in 1958.

The first Brahman cattle in South Florida were brought here by Mr. Bright in 1911. Because grazing was poor, he also introduced para grass for his cattle, then brought a herd of Holstein cattle from Missouri to start the first dairy farm for the 7,000 residents then living here.

Business prospered, so Mr. Bright brought meat producing Herefords to the area.

Because Mr. Bright lived in Miami and had to ride back and forth to his ranch daily, Hialeah race track was born.

While riding out to his ranch, his horse struck marl which Mr. Bright knew would be ideal for a race track. He kept the idea in the back of his mind, and campaigned for the track.

Ev Sewell, pioneer Miami mayor, and Frank Shutts, former owner of The Miami Herald found a Buffalo promoter, Joe Smoots, who delivered $100,000 for the track.

Mr. Bright donated 160 acres, now worth well over a million dollars, for the project. He accepted a $10 payment, "to make it legal."

He interested Joseph Widener in digging lakes and putting Flamingo's in the oval at the center of the track.

Mr. Bright was a member of the Mahi Shrine, the Oleta Masonic Lodge in Hialeah, the Flat Tires and the Jesters. He was a former member of the Centry Club of Coral Gables, the Committee of 100, and was former chairman of The Florida State Livestock Board.

National Summary

The cold wave that drove to the Atlantic coast during the last 24 hours dropped temperatures in many areas of the east as much as 40 degrees with readings close to zero at mid-day through the mountains of Pennsylvania.

The bulk of arctic air centered in the middle of the country is continuing to drive cold winds across the Great Lakes with snow showers along the eastern shores deep into Michigan and into the northern Appalachians.

The Pacific storm that swept through the northwest during the night has spread snow into the northern Rockies to give moderating temperatures in eastern Colorado.

Some easing of the frigid weather is expected over most sections from the Rockies to the Appalachians by tomorrow. However, the mercury should dip to 20 or 30 degrees below zero in northern New York and Maine, with sub-zero levels in the mid-atlantic states.

Intermittent snow advancing eastward over the Plateau to the Rockies will expand precipitation over most states west of the Continental Divide during the next 24 hours and snow should reach the Dakotas Tuesday.

IT'S A TOSS-UP, between the realistic and the abstract, in fabric patterns at the winter home furnishings market now underway in Chicago. The abstracts are based on geometric figures. The realistic are inspired by nature — flowers and foliage. The latter are less inclined to clutter up the fabric. A single spray suffices as the nucleus for an all-over print. Fabrics pictured are by Riverdale and are made of avisco rayon. They're on display in Chicago's Merchandise Mart.

No More Shoving Furniture-- Now It 'Hangs' From Walls

By MARGUERITE DAVIS

CHICAGO — (UPI) — Designers finally decided to do something for women who are tired of tugging furniture about each time they clean house, and for apartment dwellers who must conserve space.

The result is a wide display of "hanging" furniture at the annual January International Home Furnishings Show. Cabinets, desks, consoles, bars, chests — even a high fidelity speaker which can be used in pairs for stereophonic sound or singly, attached to a television set or record player— are made to install on the wall.

Robert Stone Jordan of Audio Artists Ltd. Designed the "decrosonic sound system" to eliminate bulky and often unsightly speakers. Jordan's speaker is contained in an easy-to-hang panel screened by handpainted silk or grass cloth.

This handling sacrifices nothing in sound, for it has a rated frequency response of 40 to 15,000 cycles per second, and the washable screen is porous enough to let sound through without distortion.

The back of each piece is slotted to fit on a 24-inch metal rod which Peabody said any amateur can install without calling in a handyman. Once in place, the furniture can be moved sideways along the bar and the total effect is one of greater space because the floor is left clear.

A handsome two-piece console has as its only decoration an apparent wood sculpture in the middle of the table top. Lifted, the sculpture turns out to be the top of a clothes brush.

A hall vanity shelf with walnut doors opens to reveal a three-way mirror.

But most of the collection features the metal in a wide variety of colors, as sculptured trays which slide out easily on shallow walnut shelves, and as sides and bottoms for deeper wood-backed shelves.

Radical Operation Can Cure Cancer

By ELEANOR DIXON
Herald Club Editor

Many women who would have died from cancer of the cervix are alive today because of "a fairly recent application of radical surgery of the treatment of cancer."

This recent application was explained Monday by Dr. Alexander Brunschwig at the Southeastern Regional Assembly of the International College of Surgeons in the Americana Hotel.

This operation, said Dr. Brunschwig, consists of the removal of the uterus and surrounding tissues, and "sometimes including the bladder and rectum." It is performed when the "standard treatment of cancer of the cervix — radium and X-ray" has failed and the cancer has reoccurred.

"A second attempt to control the growth by radiation with exceedingly rare exception fails, and often the patient is made worse because of limited tissue tolerance of radiation."

Dr. Brunschwig, who is professor of clinical surgery at Cornell University's medical college and attending surgeon at the Memorial Center for the Treatment of Cancer and Allied Diseases in New York City, illustrated his talk to the surgeons with colored slides, including pictures of patients who have returned to an active, normal life.

* * *

CANCER OF THE CERVIX is the second commonest site for cancer among women. Most prevalent site is the breast.

How effective is the operation as a "cure"? Dr. Brunschwig explained that of 350 recurrent cases he saw between 1947 and the end of 1952, about 150 "were so advanced that nothing could be done."

"But among the remainder there has been a 'cure' rate of 20 per cent. The term 'cure' means surviving five years. It's an arbitrary yardstick," said the doctor.

This percentage of "cured" women means "a pure net gain, because otherwise all of them would have been dead."

Dr. Brunschwig said that in operations where the bladder and rectum are removed, artificial openings are made for the patient's elimination. "Even this radical process has been well tolerated by the patients, and they have returned to full physical activity and a happy existence."

This extreme form of operation was not without criticism when it was first developed. Critics said "it would be better to be dead, than to 'live live that.'"

But Dr. Brunschwig countered that in 600 of these most radical forms done in the last ten years, "I've never met one who regretted this operation which offered another chance at life."

Among the slides he showed of recovered patients was an attractive woman who modeled clothes for mature women, in spite of having an artificial opening for elimination.

* * *

"THESE EXTREME OPERATIONS are not without risk and carry an appreciable mortality rate, but these patients have nothing to lose."

He stressed that the patient and her family should make the decision as to whether she should have the operation, after the chances of a cure have been explained by the physician.

The number of women whose lives could be saved by this operation could be increased, he said, if a greater number of them were seen more promptly after the recurrence of cancer is detected.

Cervical cancer occurs most frequently "after early middle age, and particularly among married women who have had children. There is a direct relationship between incidence of cancer of the cervix and the incidence of reproduction."

Dr. Brunschwig stressed that "since both cancer of the breast and cervix are in a sense superficial (they can be readily detected on examination in a doctor's office), check-ups at "not too long intervals" are very important.

Cervical smear tests have "tremendous importance" in detecting unsuspected fresh cancer. "When this is possible and adequate treatment is given the cure rate is over 80 per cent."

But in cases where cancer of the cervix reoccurs after radiation treatment, Dr. Brunschwig said the smear tests have "very limited value."

HOW TO KEEP WELL

Is All That Golf All Right For Ike?

By DR. T. R. VAN DELLEN

J. A. M. writes: Golf is a strenuous game and I have heard of many persons who collapsed and died on the links. Some had suffered previous heart attacks and others were healthy. I feel the President's physician is making a mistake in permitting him to engage in too much golf, considering his past illnesses. Do you agree?

Dr. T. R. Van Dellen

I would if you had as much experience in treating heart patients as Dr. Paul Dudley White, the President's cardiologist.

There is no harm in exercising after recovering from a heart attack provided it does not lead to shortness of breath, chest pain, or a decided increase in heart beat.

In many instances, exercise actually strengthens the heart muscle by improving the coronary circulation.

Golfers with ticker trouble should avoid hills and play only when the weather is equable.

The electric golf cart minimizes exertion; it has been a boon to many golfers who develop symptoms from this activity.

Sunday Polo Game to Boost Junior Service League Fund

FORT LAUDERDALE — The pace of polo will be stepped up with excitement when high-goal players compete Sunday at Boca Raton. The 3 p.m. game, preceded by a polo brunch at the Boca Raton Cabana Club, will be held this Sunday for the benefit of the Junior Service League of Fort Lauderdale.

Among throngs going up from Lauderdale will be Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sabin, their children, Sheilah and Charlie, and Mr. and Mrs. Paris Singer and their four youngsters, Suzanne, Billy, Philip and Patti.

The game will have particular interest for Charles Sabin, who was playing a high-goal game at the age of 16 at the Blind Brook Polo Club in Purchase, N.Y. His grandfather, (Charles is the third Sabin of the same name) played polo and helped organize the millionaires' sport on Long Island.

The Sabin family moved here a few years ago from Delray Beach, where Charles used to keep a string of polo ponies at Gulfstream . . . "Now I keep my family," he remarked with a smile.

Although he doesn't play often now, Charles' interest is keen — so keen, in fact, that he went to the Argentine to play last year. Down there he swung his mallet in some lively Latin games, where players are out for blood. Occasionally lives are lost, lending Argentina polo the heady excitement of bullfights.

Some families will forego Sunday brunch at the cabana for lunch on the grounds near the polo field, which adjoins the Boca Raton Hotel and Club.

Family picnickers will include Joyce and Neese Gardner, their Page and Winn, and the David Langdons with their trio, Brad, Hannah and Chris. Nicked polo balls are prize booty for the small fry.

Among others will be Betty Lou and Robert Rose with Dr. and Mrs. Porter Gott. The list is long . . . polo fans are increasing this season, with Boca Raton, the country's winter capital of polo, almost in our back yards.

Gardners Enjoying Stay in Havana

LATE NEWS FLASH: Some Castro men shot some Batista men in the Colombian embassy Monday and Havana is again under martial law.

This report comes from Mr. and Mrs. Francis Gardner, Ocean Sunrise Apartments, who are sojourning amid a few whizzing bullets at the Havana Hilton. ". . . But we're enjoying the excitement, having a good time and getting plenty to eat," they told their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Norton, on the telephone Monday afternoon.

The Gardners were scheduled to fly home Monday. Came the revolution flare-up and their return is indefinitely postponed. In the meantime, Mr. Gardner has purchased a small camera and has snapped his wife "with a lot of those bearded men."

Hal Kemp's Son Visiting Broward

HAL KEMP, son of the late Hal Kemp whose dance band was the rage of the 30s, is vacationing in Fort Lauderdale and reunioning with a close friend, young Stock Broker Schiller Martin.

Personable Hal, who was once urged to gather his father's famous arrangements and assemble another band, entered business on New York's Third Ave. instead.

In long-time famous Malachy's, where Hal's had the luck of the Irish, shades of leprechauns may be seen, perhaps. ". . . But it's a strictly respectable bar," said Hal, who'll be back soon at his Irish spot, now popular with smart New Yorkers.

Amended Complaint Not Filed

Action Dismissed Against Exchange

FORT LAUDERDALE — A $100,000 damage suit filed by a Carpenter's Union official against the Broward Builders Exchange was dismissed Monday by Circuit Judge Otis Farrington.

Farrington based the decision on the plaintiff's failure to file an amended complaint in a 10-day period allotted him.

Frank Pierce, business agent for the Broward Carpenters District Council, had claimed his reputation was damaged by a newspaper advertisement placed by the Builders Exchange.

The suit was filed last September.

The ads consisted of "open letters" to the union membership, and were carried during a wage dispute involving the two organization.

30 Demand Sewer Action

DANIA — About 30 homeowners appeared at a City Commission meeting Monday night to push for immediate action on the proposed sanitary sewer plan.

Commissioners said they would meet with engineers Wednesday night to thrash out details before scheduling another public hearing.

NAL Plans New Service

FORT LAUDERDALE — Another airline will begin daily nonstop flights between Fort Lauderdale and New York about Feb. 1.

Officials of National Airlines said Monday that they've applied to the Civil Aeronautics Board for permission. Approval, the CAB said earlier, would be routine.

Northeast Airlines started local flights to and from New York City last month.

National is to begin its flights in conjunction with the opening of a new passenger terminal at Broward International Airport.

Driver Has Close Shave

MELBOURNE—Myron Kelley of Melbourne was driving his car north on U. S. 1 in Valkaria when a big house trailer — under its own steam — headed right down his traffic lane.

The trailer, being towed behind a car operated by Robert T. Bradway of Miami, became unhitched, went 171 feet down the highway, crossed over to the other lane, ran along the shoulder for another 96 feet, and came to rest in the Indian River.

While the free-wheeling trailer went through its paces, Kelley steered around it and landed in the ditch.

There were no injuries and little property damage.

Homestead Air Base Favored

By LEO ADDE
Herald Staff Writer

Homestead Air Force Base may become the Greater Miami area's second major airport, Dade County Port Authority Director George McSherry said Monday.

He told the Miami-Dade Chamber of Commerce's board of directors that missile-age progress plus a shift in local population trends may upset plans for Port Authority expansion into Broward County.

Port Authority consulting engineers, the Cincinnati firm of Landrum in Brown, said last Dec. 10 that this area will need a second major airline terminal between 1960 and 1970. The experts said the "logical" location is near fast-growing Fort Lauderdale.

McSherry told the Chamber that Port Authority expansion across the Dade-Broward line is still likely but not certain.

The decision, he said, will depend on two factors outside Port Authority control:

CONSTRUCTION of a Keys Causeway in South Dade. If it comes soon enough, and opens 45,000 island acres to development, population trends along the southeast coast may be "stabilized."

Since Broward already has a sizable airport, another major field in South Dade may become the logical step.

OBSOLESCENCE of manned military aircraft by rockets and missiles. "Air weapons are developing so fast," McSherry said, "that I wouldn't be surprised to see many large Air Force bases such as Homestead replaced by small launching pads inside of 10 years."

Both the Fort Lauderdale area and Homstead Air Force Base are "well beyond" the clear sky radius needed by jetliners using Miami International Airport, McSherry said.

The Port Authority Director also revealed that planning is under way for a new air freight terminal at Miami International, which leads the nation in cargo volumes. Cost estimates of the new facility have not yet been made, he added.

McSherry estimated a "seven-million-dollar return" to the Port Authority from its hotel concession over the estimated 25-year life of the building.

Besides bringing in $165,000-a-year in direct rental, he said, the hotel would generate business for other concessions such as drugstores and the auto rental agency.

Escape Sentence

BILL NELSON, Negro, 26, who escaped from a Pompano Beach prisoner work gang Dec. 29, ended up swapping a 100-day sentence for 160 days, with an additional 60 days suspended.

In Municipal Court Monday Nelson received 90 days for his escape, but 60 days were suspended. He will also serve a previously suspended sentence of 30 days for petty larceny.

No Prompting

POMPANO BEACH taxpayers paid $342,885 worth of their taxes during December, to bring the total collection to 97.74 per cent of the tax roll.

Burke Slaps Embassy In Havana for Delay

By DUANE JONES
Herald Staff Writer

FORT LAUDERDALE — The U.S. embassy in Havana may have retained good relations with Cubans over the weekend, but it offended a lot of Americans.

That's the reaction of County Commissioner J. Herbert Burke who returned here Monday after spending a prolonged New Year's Eve visit in revolution-torn Havana with his wife.

"The embassy was in a position to know of the danger before it happened, and could have kept American tourists out of Cuba," Burke declared Monday night.

"But in spite of the inconveniences, it was one of the most interesting experiences of my life."

With the Burkes were former County Commissioner Tony Salvino and his wife.

"Our hotel, the Capri, was right in the center of all the New Year's Day activity," Burke said.

"We were in the hotel lobby when the mobs tried to take over about noon. While we were in no immediate danger, we had to walk — and run — 14 flights to our room. The elevator was out of commission, and that lobby was no place to be."

Burke said he saw two men shot, and that gunfire could be heard throughout the afternoon and evening. A gambling casino next to the hotel was wrecked by rebel celebrants.

Burke said the food at the Capri "wasn't bad, but there wasn't enough of it."

Speaking of the U.S. embassy, he declared:

"There was a great deal of confusion. Tourists weren't handled with any system. They could have all been put in one central hotel and evacuated orderly."

He said he and Mrs. Burke went to the airport at 2 p.m. Sunday and had to wait until 11:15 p.m. for a plane. "We had been told there were plenty of planes, but there weren't any."

Sikorsky Predicts Cheaper 'Copters

FORT LAUDERDALE — The possibility of a family helicopter for as little as $500 may be realized in the not distant future, a 50-year veteran of aircraft pioneering said Monday night.

Dr. Igor Sikorsky, engineering consultant for Sikorsky Aircraft, made that prediction at the inaugural banquet of the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences at Bahia Mar Yacht Center.

"With American mass production, a helicopter may soon be down to $500," he said.

Dr. Sikorsky, speaking before an assembly of top aircraft industry and military leaders, cited numerous uses, both commercial and private, to which helicopters may be put in the future.

Dr. Sikorsky said that he believed helicopters might eventually be able to lift loads up to 100 tons.

Cadets Rescue Trunks, School Files
. . . but belongings of many were lost

Cadets Lose Clothing

By FRAN LASLIE
Herald Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Seven hundred and fifty Riverside Military Academy cadets stood in a biting cold wind Monday afternoon and watched part of their third-floor barracks and many of their belongings go up in flames.

Some, soaked after rescuing trunks and school files, shivered in thin shirts.

Others huddled near bundles of clothing, hurriedly thrown from smashed windows, and exchanged notes on their losses.

They appeared far more calm than worried school officials who pondered dollar losses plus the problem of where to sleep students from 300 dormitory rooms destroyed by smoke, fire and water.

Hero of the day — to his classmates at any rate — was George Jackson, 17, of Laredo, Tex.

Jackson, the first to reach the fire, tried to subdue it with a small extinguisher for 15 minutes befores firemen rushed on the scene.

"I was on guard duty when I heard some one yell, "There's a fire on the top floor."

"I ran up. At first it looked like such a small fire — in the corner of Room 360.

"I grabbed a fire extinguisher and began squirting the corner. I thought it was just a trash basket.

"Then Col. Engle C. May came up and we saw black clouds of smoke in the hall.

"We ran into another room. I looked up and saw flames roaring in a ventilator. The fire was spreading fast and smoke was getting thick."

At that time, firemen arrived and the amateur fighters went down.

"But I threw out as many trunks as I could before I left," Jackson said.

One boy made a pillow from a duffle bag and clamly watched the fire from a prone position.

"I've always dreamed of watching a school burn," he said.

"See that room where the water is streaming out the window? That was mine," said K. A. Barra with a shrug. "The ceiling fell in on it."

For the most part, cadets talked more of their good fortune to be out of the building when the fire started than of material goods that went up in flames.

"But what a way to start the new term," Barra said with a glance at the once-trim grounds, now littered with an odd assortment of books, papers and stray clothing.

Academy Passed Inspection

HOLLYWOOD — It did happen here.

Fire inspectors, who only a month ago boasted there was hardly a chance of a fire ever destroying a Hollywood School, Monday helped fight the two-hour blaze that seriously damaged Riverside Military Academy.

Two weeks ago the school was inspected and listed in "fine shape," by Jesse Clarke, fire marshall.

"When we checked three months ago, the school needed a four inch concrete slab over its boiler room. This, along with some minor repairs, had been made when we reinspected two weeks ago.

"The school spent a lot of money making those repairs last month," he added.

Pair Earns Big Thanks

POMPANO BEACH — People on more than one occasion have been heard to remark that Jack Musselman shouldn't be allowed to step out of the Legislature (he didn't run for reelection) without an expression of thanks for a job splendidly done. Ted Cabot, who didn't run for reelection to the Senate, deserves the same round of applause.

Both were outstanding legislators, able and forthright, men of good conscience. With Ted David in 1955 and A. J. Ryan in 1957, they gave Broward as good a team as any county had in Tallahassee.

Either or both would make first-class candidates for county offices next year, though right now it looks like it might be hard to drag them away from their law practices.

Traffic Light Depends on Volume

ANOTHER REQUEST has been made to the city for a traffic light at the inetrsection of Oakland Park Beach Blvd. and Bayview Dr., but it will be turned down.

According to Traffic Engineer Herman Batts, the volume still doesn't warrant a light, under the yardstick used by the American Institute of Traffic Engineers and besides there isn't enough money in Batts' budget for a light there. He feels that there are other spots in town where the money is needed worse.

His explanation in regard to this intersection should be of interest to people who have wondered why there isn't a signal on this corner or that one.

To the ordinary motorist, there are many spots in town that seem to demand signals. But, says Batts, sometimes putting up a light can do more harm than good; on occasion, for example, the number of rear-end collisions may jump 300 or 400 per cent.

The Institute of Traffic Engineers has a standard which suggests that to require a signal, an intersection should have a minimum average of 750 cars an hour passing through it for any eight-hour period, and a minimum average of 175 entering from the "minor" street.

Batts says he has checked the Bayview corner personally on several occasions. The last traffic count showed the average hourly volume was less than 500 cars, and it hit 750 during one one hour of the day. The average number of cars entering from Bayview was well under 175.

The standard is not held up as a hard and fast rule, but is used as a guide, Batts says. There are exceptions to it.

In regard to Bayview, he feels a light probably will not be required there for about a year, but in the meantime another count will be made this month.

Rig Runs Off U.S. 27

Two Killed in Crash Of Tractor-Trailer

Herald Bureau

FORT LAUDERDALE — Two persons died on U.S. 27 early Monday when their tractor-trailer swung out of control and was demolished.

The accident occurred about 5:45 a.m. 12 miles north of State Rd. 84.

The highway patrol said the victims, killed instantly, were:

Dale P. Dickerson, 28, 333 Chestnut St., Asheboro N.C., the driver, and Joe M. Boyd, 25, March Hotel, Lexington, N.C., his passenger.

(The Associated Press reported 11 persons killed in Florida traffic accidents over the first weekend of the New Year. Among the victims were Josef Kovacs, 22, of Belle Glade; Mrs. Dorothy H. Wigley, 30, of Mattituck, N.Y., and her daughter, Sandra, 8, all of whom died in a four-car collision near West Palm Beach Sunday.)

Trooper T. J. Keller reported the rig was going south when it ran off the right side of the road and skidded across to the east side.

The tractor and trailer parted, the trailer turning over. The tractor struck a tree. The bodies of both men were found in the cab. The cause of the accident was unknown.

FORT LAUDERDALE — The Grand Jury's Port Everglades inquiry will be broadened to include the authority's handling of insurance, Assistant State Attorney Quentin Long said Monday.

The jury recessed after an all-day study of construction awards at the port.

Long said the jury asked him to gather information that will take "some time to prepare."

"They will recall themselves, probably in 10 days or two weeks," he said.

Commissioner Ed Crowells, who was among Monday's witnesses, said previously that he would ask the jury to look into port insurance matters.

Crowells strenuously opposed the appointment of Gerald Richardson as port insurance counsellor last May and criticized Richardson's subsequent handling of its policies.

The jury heard 11 witnesses Monday. Port Chairman Nelson DeBan and Commissioners W. P. Hartman and Igor Dart were among those giving evidence.

Long said Commissioner George Sawallis could not be reached but will be "invited" to the resumed session.

Other witnesses were former Port Manager E. W. Bassett, and former Comptroller Harlow Burt, Manager R. T. Spangler, Contractors Frank Rule, Joe Heinz and Wyatt Hodges and Engineer Paul Vyff.

The probe was sparked by the board's award of two large projects to rule through unadvertised change of work orders.

The new board organizes at 2 p.m. today when Fred Stevens and Robert McConnaughey replace DeBan and Sawallis. Crowells is expected to be the new chairman.

Indian Agent Demands Apology

Seminoles' Council Fires Attorney for D.C. Blast

By RICK TUTTLE
Hollywood Bureau Chief

DANIA SEMINOLE RESERVATION—The Seminole Tribal Council Monday "fired" its Miami attorney as a result of charges he made last week against the Indian Affairs Bureau in Washington and the Indian Agency here.

The council, governing body of the Seminoles of Dania, Big Cypress and Brighton Reservations, voted to discontinue a contract with Attorney O. B. White.

Although White's contract had been approved by the Indian Affairs Bureau earlier, they voted to draw up a new agreement, this one with State Rep. A. J. Ryan Jr. of Dania.

White charged last week the local Indian Agency and the Washington Bureau were engineering a "dirty deal" in connection with a land lease for valuable State Rd. 7 property.

Indian Agent Virgil Harrington and Indian Commissioner Glenn Emmons of Washington said White was misinformed.

White said he understood the Indians had not beel allowed to see the lease and the various council members could tell him nothing of it.

"I admit I get emotional about these things," White said.

Figures he used in calculating the small amount the Seminoles were to receive under what he thought was the proposed lease were not accurate, he admitted.

Harrington said the proposed lease was still under study by both R. W. International Enterprizes, which plans a frontier town on the reservation, and legal department of the Bureau of Indian Affairs. He said it would probably be three months before the lease comes up before the council for final approval.

Harrington demanded an aoplogy from White.

"I'll plead half guilty, you plead the other half," White said.

Harrington called White's charges the "worst bit of misinformation in my 16 years in federal service."

Presidents of four banks have been named as an advisory committee to aid the Seminoles in business affairs, Harrington said.

The committee has not seen the proposed lease yet, he said.

The meeting had hardly started before unrest erupted.

Council Chairman Billy Osceola objected to a court reporter White had hired to take notes at the meeting.

Before the council made her stop taking notes and unplug a tape recording machine, Mike Osceola blasted the members for a "gag rule" passed recently. The ruling banned outsiders, including the press, unless reporters were specifically invited.

"The Indian people are entitled to know what is going on here," he said.

Judge Erred, Counsel Says

Writ Filed to Free Suspect in Robbery

By PETER LAINE
Herald Staff Writer

FORT LAUDERDALE — A writ of habeas corpus to release robbery suspect Darwin Cunningham from custody was filed Monday by his attorney, Steadman Stahl.

Circuit Judge Otis Farrington will consider the issue at 4 p.m. today.

Stahl alleged that Criminal Court Judge Louis Weissing committed a "most serious error" by not allowing defense witnesses to testify last Wednesday at Cunningham's preliminary hearing.

Weissing ruled then that there was probable cause to commit Cunningham for trial this Wednesday. Stahl said Monday he will seek a continuance.

County Solicitor Tom Coker testified at the hearing that Cunningham admitted the robbery. Stahl complained there was no evidence to show that Cunningham was first warned of his constitutional rights.

Cunningham is charged with stealing jewelry and passing it on to James Gunn, employe of Bondsman Claude Anderson. Gunn faces a charge of receiving stolen property.

Stahl previously complained that his client was held in jail 30 days before obtaining a preliminary hearing.

The law requires arresting officers to take the defendant before a magistrate for a preliminary hearing without unnecessary delay. The county has no magistrates.

A County Bar Association committee is to study the possible dangers arising from their absence.

Weissing said Monday it would be an "excellent idea" for the committee to determine if defendants' rights are in danger and, if so, to work out an orderly solution.

Car Injures Woman, 18

FORT LAUDERDALE — Marion R. Pitts, 18, of 841 NW Ninth Ave., suffered a fractured right knee and possible back injuries when she was struck by a car Monday on N. Federal Hwy. as she crossed the street about 104 feet north of 19th St.

Patrolman Robert Lutes said no charges will be filed against the driver of the car, Charles E. Little, 35, of 9440 SW 62nd Ct., Miami.

Resident Asks County Setup On Erosion

By HENRY KINNEY
Herald Staff Writer

FORT LAUDERDALE — An oceanfront resident who has been waging a battle with the city over its beach preservation practices is preparing now to propose that the county be made a beach erosion district.

Leon Sable, 3066 N. Atlantic Blvd., said Monday he intends to suggest to county legislators that they introduce the necessary bill in the forthcoming Legislature. He will take it up with them when they hold their public hearings Jan. 19-21.

In the meantime, Sable won at least partial support from the director of the State Internal Improvement Fund in his argument that the city is using the wrong methods of bulldozing the public beach and collecting seaweed.

Van H. Ferguson, director of IIF, wrote City Manager William J. Veeder asking whether the city "is continuing to remove sand from below the mean water line."

If it is, he said, the work requires a permit from the IIF and a study by the coastal engineering laboratory of the University of Florida.

Ferguson pointed out to Veeder that erosion control "is a highly specialized field" and that, while the city's method may be effective, it should be studied.

Veeder said he received the letter Monday morning and had not had time to study it thoroughly. "We're not doing anything that hasn't been done for years," he added.

The letter was the latest in a war of correspondence involving Sable, the city and IIF which began last spring.

Sable, who said that 10 feet of public beach has been eroded in front of his home in the last year, objected to the fact that city bulldozers were pushing sand out of the water and onto the beach.

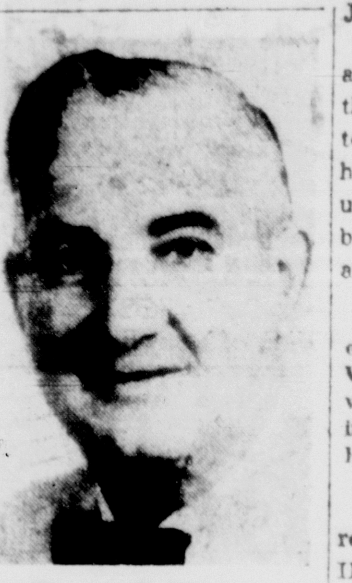
"It's wrong, according to all the authorities on erosion," he declared. "It just brings the ocean closer."

He wrote a protest to Ferguson and later sent photographs of the bulldozing operations. In July, Ferguson wired the city to halt the work.

Sable later protested that city crews were knocking down protective dunes, also contrary to proper preservation practices, while collecting seaweed on the beach. Further correspondence between Ferguson, the city and Sable led to Ferguson's letter received Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sable, who began collecting material on erosion after becoming alarmed about it several years ago, said Monday that funds with which to fight it will be available only if an erosion district is created.

"It's a problem which affects the whole state," they asserted, "not just us. This beach may not disappear in our lifetime, but there are other generations coming after us."



Tony Salvino

Officials Need More --Salvino

By PETE LAINE
Herald Staff Writer

FORT LAUDERDALE — County Commissioner Tony Salvino, bowing out after 12 years in office, said Monday that commissioners should have job training, fulltime hours and more pay.

"Election winners should have to pass examinations," he said. "If they don't have the necessary qualifications, they should take a study course.

"The commission is now responsible for two billion dollar holdings," he added. "Its five members could ruin the county.

"Commissioners should be paid $15,000 a year to do the job five days a week, and nothing else.

"An executive in a private business the same size would make $100,000.

"Part-time commissioners can't keep close watch on all the county's expansion needs.

"A county manager would be no solution," Salvino said. "That would lead to a dictatorship."

The veteran Democrat said he'll accept a county post, maybe as road director, if the new board offers it unanimously.

While Salvino was agreeing to accept the post if offered it unanimously, the Taxpayers' League of Broward County was going on record as opposing creation of the job.

Suicide Theme Stressed At Mary Welborn Trial

By PETER LAINE
Herald Staff Writer

FORT LAUDERDALE — Mary Welborn's attorney, Ellis Rubin, told Criminal Court Monday that the man she is accused of slaying attempted to make suicide appear murder.

"We will show that he was able and mentally upset enough to take his own life," Rubin declared.

But the father of the dead man's fiancee testified that the man was happy and in good spirits on Christmas Day 1957, the day of his death.

Miss Welborn is charged with the second degree murder of Robert Lee, 24. He was found shot to death on U.S. 27, about two miles north of State Road 84.

Lee spent Christmas Day at his fiancee's home in Belle Glade. Her father, W. T. Forsee, said the dead man had planned to see her again at a party Dec. 27.

Rubin declared that a missing witness, who gave her a ride, can say Miss Welborn was near Pompano Beach at the time of the shooting.

"He may yet show up," Rubin added.

Miss Welborn will take the stand in her own defense, Rubin indicated.

"She will testify she was in Fort Lauderdale the night of the alleged homicide," he said.

Rubin explained that she started hitchhiking north from Miami Beach, where she was released from jail Christmas Eve.

Lee's death could have occurred one of four ways, he added — accident, suicide, homicide by Miss Welborn or by someone else.

Rubin blasted the Sheriff's Department's investigation as "probably the worst bungled mixup in the history of criminal investigation."

The start of the trial was delayed until 3:45 p.m. Monday, and continued until 10:20. It will be resumed today.

The first prosecution ended in a mistrial last November.

State Representative Emerson Allsworth, former county solicitor, called Dr. R. K. Haugen, county medical examiner, as his first witness. Lee's mother wept quietly in court as she told how her son died.

The evening session introduced the deposition given last week by Tommy Nunn, head of the Sheriff's Records Bureau, who had a heart attack during the first trial.

Allsworth objected unsuccessfully to the jury seeing a demonstration with the death weapon. It showed that the fatal would could have been self-inflicted.

Rubin moved to exclude the testimony of County Investigator Carl Christy, who obtained a statement from Miss Welborn, on the ground that the state had failed to show homicide.

Allsworth claimed the statement was voluntary. The court reserved ruling until today.

Broward Films Own 'Dragnet'

FORT LAUDERDALE — The Sheriff's Office announced Monday that it has a new 30-minute film depicting Broward County's growth and the need for large law enforcement agencies.

Sheriff J. A. Lloyd said the color film will be available to civic and service clubs, school groups, and other organizations throughout the county.

Directed and produced by Deputy Al Toppel, the sound movie opens with documentary scenes contrasting undeveloped areas of several years ago with new subdivisions, roads, schools and shopping centers of today.

The latter part of the film shows deputies arresting two men engaged in a knife fight.

It shows a switchboard operator receiving the report, deputies en route to the scene, the fight, the arrest, transporting the men to the Sheriff's Office, booking procedures including fingerprinting and photographing, and ends with the prisoners being locked in the county jail.

Toppel said two professional actors from the Little Theater Guild participated in the fight scene.

Police Chief Promotes 8

FORT LAUDERDALE — Eight Police Department promotions were announced Monday by Chief J. Lester Holt.

Fred Dietrich, Roy Janson, Kenneth Paulson, Charles Thisler and Marion (Mike) Wolfe have been promoted from patrolman to sergeant. Sergeants O. J. (Russ) Franza, Floyd Hall and Joseph Mackey have been raised to lieutenant.

Paulson will be head jailer when the department moves to its new quarters on W. Broward Blvd. next month. Thisler will continue as the department's juvenile officer and Mackey as administrative assistant to Holt.

Tourists On Agenda

FORT LAUDERDALE — A program for the promotion of tourism and industrial development in the city during 1959 will be presented today to the Chamber of Commerce committee on the subject.

It will constitute a "dynamic" program in those two fields for the year, Executive Vice President R. W. Ward said.

Stuart Sharpe, general manager of the Gill Hotels and general chairman of the committee, will outline it for the group's approval at a luncheon at Pier 66. About 100 persons are expected.

Shargaa In Jail --Finally

By ERWIN POTTS
Herald Staff Writer

FORT LAUDERDALE — B. Babe Shargaa, Broward County's master of the legal loophole, finally went to jail Monday.

But Shargaa, who has used every legal means at his disposal to stay out of jail during the last four years, was quoted by an officer as saying, "Don't take me upstairs. I'm getting another reprieve."

Chief Criminal Investigator Ben W. Grigsby said commitment papers for Shargaa to begin serving a five-year term were signed Monday morning by Criminal Court Judge Louis Weissing.

Shargaa has been at odds with the law here since 1954, when he was convicted on a bad check charge.

He has exercised his legal rights to the limit. His weapons are petitions, appeals and governor's reprieves.

The sentence he began serving Monday was for a March 20, 1956, conviction under the second offender statute (on bad check charges).

During the 2½ years since that conviction, Shargaa has filed appeals and petitions to the State Supreme Court, U.S. Supreme Court (petition denied), the Second District Court of Appeals, and the Board of Pardons (twice denied). His appeals and petitions have been based on various legal technicalities.

He has received several reprieves from the governor.

Shargaa's latest reprieve came about a month ago, after all petitions and appeals had been denied. He was given the 30-day reprieve so he could arrange his affairs before going to jail.

Charges against Shargaa have ranged from bad checks to grand larceny to embezzlement. In Palm Beach County he has been charged three times with obtaining property under false pretenses. Each case was noll-prossed.

He has been arrested at least 13 times — in Laredo, Tex.; Los Angeles, Orlando, Bartow, Miami, West Palm Beach and Fort Lauderdale.

He Followed Wrong Man --The Judge

FORT LAUDERDALE — Patrolman Robert Lutes was testifying about his arrest of Ernest Hall Lumpkin, 17, of 2760 NE 19th St.

Lumpkin, Lutes said, was following another car at a distance of about 3½ feet at a high rate of speed, made a turn without signaling and was clocked at 50 miles an hour passing another car in a 25-mile an hour zone.

He charged Lumpkin with careless driving and having loud mufflers.

Municipal Judge Richard Cory spoke to Lumpkin. He said, "Do you drive a '49 or '50 . . . ?" and went on to describe the car.

"Yes," answered Lumpkin.

"Well," said Cory, "you followed me down here this morning the same way. $35."

He's Handy On Delivery --Of Babies

POMPANO BEACH — There's a young Pompano Beach policeman who expects to deliver twins any day now.

At least Patrolman Wally Dirion, 26, figures that's what's next. Because in his police career he has delivered a boy, and he's delivered a girl.

The girl came shortly before noon Monday.

Someone called the police station to say Mrs. Anne Bryant, of Jones Quarters, was having a baby and needed help.

Dirion arrived on the scene.

The baby was just delivered when Dirion arrived. "So," he explained, matter-of-factly, "I rolled up my sleeves, washed my hands, and went right to work.

"When the baby started crying, I knew he was all right and I didn't have to worry about that."

By then the midwife who had been slated for the job arrived.

"I couldn't have done it without the Red Cross first aid course I took back home in Tulsa," Dirion explained.

Dirion is also a father.

Will Stay Separate Paper

Chicago News Sold to Field by John S. Knight

Control of The Chicago Daily News was sold Monday to Field Enterprises Inc., owners of The Chicago Sun-Times.

This was announced jointly by John S. Knight, editor and publisher of The Daily News since 1944, and by Marshall Field Jr., editor and publisher of The Sun-Times.

Sale of the majority interest in Daily News stock, at $50 a share, has been completed.

Total shares outstanding are 481,293, with more than 75 per cent held by Knight Newspapers, members of the Knight family and executives and employes of the Knight Newspapers. Field said the same offer of $50 a share is being made to the minority stockholders.

Field, who at 42 becomes the sixth publisher of The Chicago Daily News since it was founded 83 years ago, said it will be continued as "a separate and independent newspaper."

He said there are no plans for changes in personnel, that the executive staff is being asked to continue in charge of The News, and that "for the forseeable future we shall go on producing each paper as at present."

Knight, who bought control of The Chicago Daily News Oct. 18, 1944, for $2,151,537 cash, said his reasons for selling the paper "at the time of its greatest progress are entirely personal. They arise from a desire to curtail my administrative responsibilities after nearly 40 years in journalism." Knight will be 65 next Oct. 26.

"In no sense," he said, "does the sale of The Daily News mean that I am retiring from journalism.

"Knight Newspapers—owners of The Akron Beacon Journal, The Detroit Free Press, The Miami Herald, The Charlotte Observer, a newsprint mill, a newspaper supply company, TV and radio interests and two Florida weeklies—will continue to expand in areas where the demands upon my personal supervision will not be as insistent."

He said that at Field's request he has agreed to assist The Daily News in an advisory capacity during a period of transition, and that his "Editor's Notebook" will continue to appear in The News as a Saturday column.

Field paid tribute to Knight as "one of the greatest publishers of America" and said, "I feel fortunate to have his assistance during this period of transition." He added:

"The Daily News under the outstanding leadership of John S. Knight since 1944 has reached new heights in circulation, advertising and distinction.

"When he bought control of The Chicago Daily News, it was said that Mr. Knight had 'purchased an opportunity.' He has made the most of the opportunity. In the past 15 years, he has enhanced that paper's traditional greatness and prestige, increased its influence and strengthened its financial structure immeasureably.

"He has earned a reputation as one of America's great editors and most articulate exponents of a responsible free press. As an active leader in the civic life of this community, he has made an invaluable contribution to the progress of Chicago."

Knight said he made his announcement "with mixed emotions: A sense of sorrow in relinquishing control of a great and successful newspaper; a comforting knowledge that Marshall Field Jr. will maintain the editorial independence and enterprise which have made The Daily News a shining example of the best in American journalism."

He said other offers had been made for The Daily News but that he considered none of them except Field's.

He said he is convinced Field will conduct the paper with "intelligence, responsibility and courage," and said he has been assured that The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service will be maintained and expanded.

He recalled that when he took over The Chicago Daily News it was "burdened with debt and suffering from a sense

Frostbite Reigns in Northeast

Sub-Zero Winds Lash Airplanes

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — A sub-zero cold wave, so bitter it knocked out public utilities for whole cities and sparked murderous home fires, numbed most of the nation Monday.

The arctic air mass was breaking up in the southwest and relented a little on the Middle West. But the East was still to feel its full power.

Record lows of 10 to 20 degrees below zero were in store for Pittsburgh, 58-mile-an-hour winds raked Washington, D.C., and four to six-foot snow drifts blocked highways in western New York and northern Pennsylvania. In upstate New York and Maine, weathermen predicted temperatures 20 to 30 degrees below zero.

Another vicious storm howled out of the Pacific and into the Rockies. Winds clocked up to 100 miles per hour, smashed small boats and piers in the San Francisco bay area, while snow blocked U.S. 99 at Redding, Calif., and piled up 14 inches deep at Craer Lake, Ore.

The three day cold wave, which held many Midwest temperatures to zero or below for more than 24 hours, was blamed for at least 29 deaths attributed to exhaustion, freezing, weather-caused traffic accidents and cold-sparked fires.

Kansas counted four dead in Monday home fires, three of them children. Fires also burned down a block square building near Arnold, Mo., and raged unchecked for five hours at Holliday, Mo., destroying a grocery and post office, because the town's pumper froze.

How Batista Lived Last Hours

By GEORGE SOUTHWORTH
Herald Latin America Editor

HAVANA — Fulgencio Batista's last moments in Cuba were filled with meritative melancholy and wonder at what had hit him.

Gone were the cheering throngs, the backslappers, the friends who once vowed they would stick with him through thick or thin.

On Dec. 31 — the beaten dictator's last day in his homeland — he had by his side only a few close followers, his wife and two of his children.

With his regime rapidly falling to pieces and Rebel Leader Fidel Castro routing government troops, Batista made his final decision as president of Cuba late that day.

He had to flee like a whipped dog or face death at the hands of the revolutionaries.

Shortly before midnight he and his family secretly slipped away from the Presidential Palace and drove to the outskirts of Havana to his home at Camp Columbia, the military headquarters of the Cuban army.

In contrast to the spartan surroundings of the military barracks, Batista's quarters were elegantly furnished. A large staff of servants was always on hand to tend to the whims of the "strongman."

His Camp Columbia home consisted of five bedrooms, five bathrooms, two dining rooms, a few smaller rooms and a private barber shop.

Two days later, long-haired and bearded rebel mountain fighters were using the barber chairs of the man they had defeated.

Still in service at Batista's army quarters is Robert Diaz, a civilian servant.

Diaz, who was on hand the fateful night, recalled:

"There was Batista, his wife, his son Jorge, 15, and his daughter Marta, about two. They arrived about midnight.

"Then, with some top government and military officials present, Batista gave last-minute instructions. Looking on were 15 servants.

"Batista was calm and quiet. His wife and son seemed excited."

Later, Diaz said, Batista shook hands with each of his servants.

"He was obviously moved. It was a sad moment," Diaz noted.

Batista took three traveling bags with him and his wife's jewelry. A nurse carried little Marta.

When the party was assembled, the members filed into a waiting line of limousines and drove to Havana Airport in the dead of night.

After only a few minutes at the airport, Batista, his family and loyal followers were on their way into exile.

Ironically, his banishment followed an identical pattern set by Carlos Prio Socarras, the president Batista had booted out in a bloodless coup of March 10, 1952.

Some Famous People Helped Castro, 15A

By GEORGE SOUTHWORTH
Herald Latin America Editor

HAVANA, Cuba — Provisional President Manuel Urrutia flew into Havana late Monday and it appeared that martial law would be quickly lifted in the capital.

Urrutia flew to the capital from Camaguey Province in eastern Cuba.

He arrived at the height of a squabble between Fidel Castro's rebel forces and student revolutionaries who had occupied the Presidential Palace.

The earlier proclamation of martial law had stressed that it would be enforced until Urrutia arrived. Police also had orders to impose a 9 p.m. to 5 a.m. curfew in Havana but there was doubt whether these orders would be followed through.

Castro, who rooted Dictator-President Fulgencio Batista from power New Year's Eve, is making a leisurely but victorious approach to the capital through the eastern provinces.

Castro leaders said military rule will be lifted as soon as Urrutia is installed in the palace. They appealed to the people, particularly the workers, to maintain order.

Shortly after the new tension broke out Monday, the American embassy issued renewed warnings to Americans in Cuba to continue to be cautious in their activities.

U. S. officials announced:

"The American embassy repeats its warnings to Americans in Cuba, particulary in the Havana area, that they should continue to observe appropriate caution in their activities until the local situation is completely cleared."

Also, Pan American World Airways and National Airlines, which had resumed service to Havana, abruptly cut it off Monday afternoon. PAA gave "technical difficulties" as the reason for the action.

Despite the intra-rebel power struggle, Havana was beginning to return to normalcy.

Stores were reopened and street traffic once again became its chaotic, horn-tooting self.

Newspapers began appearing once more. Taxi drivers took up their usual stands, as did the female strollers along the Prado.

The provisional government Sunday ordered the end of the general strike that went into effect last Thursday.

As a result of Monday's new crisis, U. S. Ambassador Earl E. T. Smith canceled a trip to Washington just as he was about to board a plane. He returned to the embassy to await developments.

Hialeah's Founder Dies at 93

By EVELYN DeTARDO
Herald Staff Writer

James H. Bright, developer of Hialeah, founder of Hialeah Race Track and pioneer Florida cattle and dairy man, died Monday of pneumonia. He was 93.

Mr. Bright, of 45 Olive Dr., Hialeah, led a campaign to get Hialeah its first school; was first president of the Hialeah-Miami Springs bank, and is credited with helping make Florida a top cattle producing state.

James H. Bright

'Small World' Falls Short

Balloonists Found Alive

Arrive At Goal In a Boat

Crew of Four Is in Barbados

BRIDGETOWN, Barbados—(AP)—Three men and a woman who set out on a transatlantic balloon trip reached their goal Monday — as shipwrecked mariners. A fisherman rescued them from the Atlantic.

Capt. Costa Brathwaite, 62, and his 32-year-old son found the four Britons adrift and weary in the 15½-foot gondola-lifeboat of the balloon Small World. He brought them to the comforts of a Barbadian hotel.

That meant fresh fruit, baths and solid footing for Mrs. Rosemary Mudie, 30, and her three companions after 24 days of austerity and tossing by wind and wave.

Mrs. Mudie promptly shampooed her hair.

"Can anyone lend me some hair clips?" she asked.

The balloonists set out from the Canary Islands Dec. 12. They charted a 3,000-mile course to this island in the British West Indies. Radio signals from them were heard for several days, then no definite reports for 19 days.

The Britons said they had cut the balloon from the gondola. They declined to say how long ago they cut the balloon loose, or how long they had been afloat.

"Sorry, chaps, the story has been sold," was the explanation.

The London Daily Mail sponsored the expedition, intended to make a scientific survey of Atlantic trade winds, and Daily Mail Reporter Arthur Cook was here to sew up their account.

Aside from Mrs. Mudie, the co-pilot and cook, the rescued group was made up of her husband, navigator Colin Mudie, 32; the expedition's pilot-captain, Arnold Eiolart, 51 and Eilart's 21-year-old son, Timothy, radioman.

The Brathwaites were fishing four hours offshore when they sighted the gondola.

"There were a lot of dolphin around the gondola so we caught four first and then sailed over to hailing distance," the captain said.

"I said, 'Are you the Small World?'

"Eiloart shouted back: 'Yes. Wil you tow us ashore?'

"They were not making

Sixth Straight Session

Stock Market Weathers Profit Taking, Closes High

NEW YORK — (AP) — The stock market weathered profit-taking and ended at a new record high for the sixth straight trading session Monday.

Rails, coppers and chemicals led the upturn, which ran from a few cents to $1 or more in leading issues. American Telephone and Telegraph was outstanding with a $3 gain, closing at $228.50.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks closed at $216.90, up $1.10. Based on this average the gain added an estimated $1,400,000,000 to the quoted value of all stocks listed on the New York stock exchange.

After showing strength early, the market slipped back in the afternoon. Demand renewed itself at the close, when the ticker lagged behind floor transactions. It was late five other times during the day. (Details on financial pages 6-11B).

WEST PALM BEACH — Floyd A. Holzapfel, who has been sought by the sheriff in connection with the murder of Lew Gene Harvey, surrendered at the county jail here Monday.

He was accompanied by his attorney, Garlon Davis, and P. O. Wilber, former city policeman now in the bond business.

The 34-year-old bartender and former security police chief at a Miami Beach hotel, refused to answer any questions regarding the slaying of Harvey.

The body of Harvey, who was identified as a 21-year-old suspected rum runner from Maclenney, was found in a canal west of this city Nov. 7 by two Lake Worth bass fisherman.

Although Holzapfel was closeted with deputies for nearly an hour, he would say only he had been unaware of the pick-up issued for him by the Sheriff's Department and had made arrangements to give himself up as soon as he learned about it.

Through Wilber, he posted a $5,000 surety bond on a charge of forgery, returnable next Monday before Peace Justice Robert H. Eaves, told investigators if they wanted him they could contact his counsel, and walked out of the jail.

The investigators said they were unable to hold Holzapfel for questioning or further investigation in the murder case because they had no warrant on that count.

State Attorney Phil O'Connell, who could issue a murder warrant, was in Tallahassee Monday on a municiapl bond case. Investigators said earlier O'Connell had declined to issue a warrant until proper evidence was procured.

Mikoyan in Capital: There Will Be Peace

'We Had a Useful Exchange,' Says Russia's Mikoyan
. . . met with Secretary of State Dulles for 95 minutes

No. 2 Red Will See Ike Next

Prelude to Nikita? 12A

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The Kremlin's second in command predicted after a 95-minute meeting with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles Monday that "there will be peace."

Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan said after the parley that he and Dulles discussed the Berlin crisis, Germany, disarmament and trade.

Mikoyan also disclosed that he would confer with President Eisenhower after he returns here from a swing around the country Jan. 19 or 20. The State Department confirmed that the meeting would take place.

The State Department said Mikoyan "brought an oral message of greeting" to Dulles from Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev. Mikoyan is second only to Khrushchev in the Soviet leadership.

Mikoyan told reporters after leaving Dulles' State Department office that "I think it was a useful talk."

Later, speaking before television cameras, he said he believes discussions with Dulles and other American officials should improve prospects for peace and easing of cold war tensions.

"We'll see how it turns out," he said. Then he said through his translator, "there will be peace."

Mikoyan said he and Dulles "discussed in general terms in a preliminary manner areas of common interest."

"We intend to meet again when I return from my trip around the country," Mikoyan said. He planned to leave late today or Wednesday.

Mikoyan declined to express his views on the Berlin crisis. The U. S., Britain and France have rejected Soviet demands that they withdraw their troops and allow West Berlin to become a "free city."

Mikoyan, asked whether he made any suggestions to Dulles on this issue, replied that "I think I have said enough."

Meanwhile, Millionaire Cyrus Eaton, chairman of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, disclosed in Cleveland that Mikoyan had accepted his invitation to visit the city Wednesday.

Eaton, a sharp critic of U.S. foreign policy, said he does not know how long Mikoyan will stay or what he wants to see. Eaton recently was the guest of Khrushchev on a visit to Moscow.

The conference with Dulles took place despite the fact that the secretary was suffering from a virus infection. Dulles was forced to cancel a trip to Ottawa Monday and left for home immediately after the meeting.

Mikoyan and his aides left the State Department through a cordon of police and state department security officers who were brought into the lobby to hold back a crowd of 300 to 400 persons.

Seven Hungarian pickets, parading across the street from the entrance, chanted "Red murderer" as Mikoyan left the building.

The fishing boat took the gondola in tow at 8 a.m. It reached Crane Beach, on the island's southeast coast, at noon.

The gondola, still heavily stocked with food and water, was anchored offshore until the balloonists were landed, then was towed into harbor by another fishing boat.

Witnesses reported the hull had no moss on it — an indication it was not in the water overlong.

All four were somewhat shaky as they came ashore, watched by a gathering crowd, to the Crane Hotel overlooking the beach.

A week ago it was feared that the Small World was down at sea. Shortly before that, a hoax radio message touched off a widespread search for the balloon in the huge Orinoco delta of northeastern Venezuela.

Flynn Says He Fought With Fidel

HAVANA, Cuba — (AP) — Actor Errol Flynn, nursing a wound he called a scratch, said Monday night he campaigned with Rebel Leader Fidel Castro in a real-life episode of his swashbuckling film career.

Flynn, 50, told reporters he shared the field hardships and dangers with Castro's forces since Christmas Day because "all my life I've wanted to see what makes an idealist tick."

The actor said he found Castro "one of those men who come along occasionally in human history and fight for ideals."

"And I think he also has lizard blood," Flynn said with a laugh. "I never saw a man jump around with such energy."

Flynn said he got his wound eight days ago at Central Palma Sugar Mill in Oriente Province. He said he did all his campaigning with the Rebels there.

"When bullets fly," Flynn said, "sometimes people get hurt. I was hiding behind a post — as usual — when a bullet hit the post and then my leg."

He pointed to his right leg and added:

"I lost a little skin and a little blood. Now I am getting queries on whether I lost a leg.

"The only thing that really wounded me was not being able to get anything to eat except tangerines."

Flynn declined to say how he arranged his rendezvous with Castro, but said he had been interested in the rebel leader for eight years.

March of Dimes Kickoff Told

Reds Train 2 Doctors For Each U.S. Grad

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — (AP) — Russian medical schools are turning out 16,000 physicians a year, or more than twice as many as the U.S., the kickoff of the 1959 March of Dimes was told Monday.

And Dr. Joseph G. Hinsey, director of New York Hospital — Cornell Medical Center, also declared that "what this country does not have is the people, in anywhere near the numbers needed, who are prepared (trained) to fight the destruction caused by disease."

Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation, declared that in the next 10 years medical research in the U.S. will need three times as much money as it gets now from public contributions and industry.

O'Connor, whose foundation is expanding into arthritis and birth defects and dropping "for infantile paralysis" from its title, said the March of Dimes is setting aside 12 million dollars over the next 10 years to provide scholarships in health professions for 505 students a year.

The 1959 March of Dimes goal is 65 million dollars, compared with $44,990,000 in 1958.

The first Brahman cattle in South Florida were brought here by Mr. Bright in 1911. Because grazing was poor, he also introduced para grass for his cattle, then brought a herd of Holstein cattle from Missouri to start the first dairy farm for the 7,000 residents then living here.

Business prospered, so Mr. Bright brought meat producing Herefords to the area.

While riding out to his ranch, his horse struck marl which Mr. Bright knew would be ideal for a race track. He kept the idea in the back of his mind, and campaigned for the track.

Ev Sewell, pioneer Miami mayor, and Frank Shutts, former owner of The Miami Herald found a Buffalo promoter, Joe Smoots, who delivered $100,000 for the track.

Mr. Bright donated 160 acres, now worth well over a million dollars, for the project. He accepted a $10 payment, "to make it legal."

He interested Joseph Widener in digging lakes and putting Flamingo's in the oval at the center of the track.

Mr. Bright was a member of the Mahi Shrine, the Oleta Masonic Lodge in Hialeah, the Flat Tires and the Jesters. He was a former member of the Centry Club of Coral Gables, the Committee of 100, and was former chairman of The Florida State Livestock Board.

GOP Rebels Aim Guns At Martin

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Insurgent Republican congressmen mounted an apparently powerful drive Monday to end the 20-year reign of House GOP Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr.

Martin, obviously surprised by the size of the revolt, quickly offered a compromise in an effort to stem the tide. But it was turned down by rebel House members who said they had the votes to beat him at the GOP organizational meeting today.

The insurgents picked Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana to oppose Martin. Halleck, after a day of hurried meetings on both sides, formally announced his candidacy.

The anti-Martin surge began earlier at a secret meeting of about 35 GOP congressmen in a hotel. Forces opposing the veteran House leader agreed to unite behind Halleck.

When this development became known, Martin offered to step down from his secondary post as head of the GOP Policy Committee in favor of a member of the rebel group.

Martin also offered to create a new post of assistant leader which the insurgent group would be permitted to fill.

But the rebels stood firm behind Halleck. Halleck issued his statement only after rebels took a careful nose count and decided they had enough votes to put him across.

Rep. William H. Ayres of Ohio, who helped organize the anti-Martin drive, said that "after losing three consecutive congresses a number of members feel it is time to try a new approach."

Hiked to 40.9 Billion

President Unveils Defense Budget

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — President Eisenhower unveiled a new 40.9-billion-dollar defense budget for congressional leaders Monday. Democrats promptly complained that his military and space programs failed to meet the Russian challenge.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas told newsmen after a 2½ hour White House meeting between administration officials and Senate and House leaders that he is disappointed in the President's spending plans for these two critical programs.

"They are programming as if we were living in a static rather than an exploding and expanding and developing world," he said. He added that he "would go farther, faster" than the administration in view of Soviet technical advances.

But Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R., Ill.), who is an odds-on favorite to become Senate GOP leader, told newsmen that Dr. Keith Glennan, head of the new federal space agency, outlined an "accelerated timetable" for U.S. exploration of outer space.

He said the timetable includes an attempt to fire a manned rocket to the moon. He added that the dramatic Soviet shot beyond the moon "certainly adds to the acceleration."

The President also told the lawmakers he will ask for what they call "a substantial increase" in the 3.3 billion dollars appropriated for foreign aid in the current fiscal year.

The bipartisan meeting was designed to give key legislators a preview of the defense and foreign affairs phases of the President's State of the Union message and his 77-billion-dollar budget in advance of the opening of Congress Wednesday.

Sen. Alexander Wiley (R., Wis.), ranking GOP member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said the defense budget for fiscal 1960 was pegged at 40.9 billion dollars, about 100 million dollars more than spending estimates for the current year.

The White House announced 10 days ago that the administration's overall spending budget for the new fiscal year, beginning next July 1, will be balanced at about 77 billion dollars.

In The 20s

N. Florida In Freezer

A cold wave tightened its frosty grip on North Florida Monday and weathermen predicted temperatures in the 20s there early Tuesday.

But the central and southern parts of the state, which hold the rich citrus and winter vegetable growing areas, are expected to escape any damaging frost, the Miami Weather Bureau said.

Forecaster Arnold Sugg said, however, that Miamians will shiver early Tuesday. A low of 60 was forecast for Miami Beach and other areas near the water, and a low of close to 50 in the western suburbs.

Lows between 25 and 30 were forecast for early Tuesday in North Florida around Tallahassee, and even colder temperatures are expected in the northwest Florida panhandle.

Cold Brings Sharp Mercury Plunge; Some Easing Expected Today

Forecasts For Today

MIAMI AND VICINITY — Fair and colder. High Tuesday near 70. North to northeast winds at 15 to 25 miles an hour but somewhat higher on the beaches.

SMALL BOAT BULLETIN — Small craft warnings are displayed. Northerly winds at 20 to 35 miles an hour becoming northeasterly Tuesday. Seas rough and inland waters very choppy.

MARINE — Jacksonville through the Florida Straits: Small craft warnings displayed. Northerly winds at 20 to 35 miles an hour becoming northeasterly Tuesday. East Gulf: Small craft warnings displayed. Northeasterly winds at 20 to 30 miles an hour. Fair weather.

WESTERN CARIBBEAN — East and northeast winds at 15 to 25 miles an hour becoming northeast at 30 miles an hour extreme north portion late Tuesday. Partly cloudy with widely scattered showers more numerous in the north portion.

National Summary

The cold wave that drove to the Atlantic coast during the last 24 hours dropped temperatures in many areas of the east as much as 40 degrees with readings close to zero at mid-day through the mountains of Pennsylvania.

The bulk of arctic air centered in the middle of the country is continuing to drive cold winds across the Great Lakes with snow showers along the eastern shores deep into Michigan and into the northern Appalachians.

The Pacific storm that swept through the northwest during the night has spread snow into the northern Rockies to give moderating temperatures in eastern Colorado.

Some easing of the frigid weather is expected over most sections from the Rockies to the Appalachians by tomorrow. However, the mercury should dip to 20 or 30 degrees below zero in northern New York and Maine with sub-zero levels in the mid-atlantic states.

Intermittent snow advancing eastward over the Plateau to the Rockies will expand precipitation over most states west of the Continental Divide during the next 24 hours and snow should reach the Dakotas Tuesday.

He Walks Again

Nine-year-old Doug Lawton of Miami, who lost a leg to a vicious tiger shark last summer at a Sarasota beach, tosses his crutches to his mother, Mrs. Richard Lawton, to show that he can stand on his own again. Doug is learning to walk all over again and just to prove it to the photographer he walked to a water fountain after his mother caught his crutches.

Youngest Official to Take Oath

By ROSE ALLEGATO
WPB Bureau

WEST PALM BEACH — John Brelsford ("It was my grandfather's name.") Dunkle becomes the youngest man in office in the Palm Beach County courthouse today.

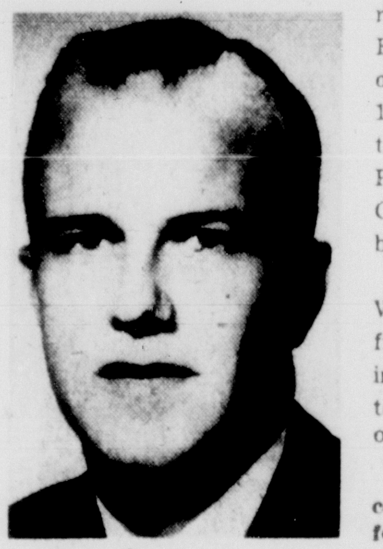
The strapping 6 foot 3 former tennis pro, who outpointed veteran Louie Carter for the Criminal Court clerk's job, is only 30.

He gives an "old fashioned campaign" credit for victory in his first try for public office. "I covered the hot pavements for two months solid, shaking hands," Dunkle said. "I had a good organization and a lot of helping hands."

Still he was "quite flabbergasted and flattered" by his victory over long-time (24 years) incumbent Louie Carter.

He talks like a man who isn't quite in politics. "I'm solely interested in the job," he said. "The fact I had to run for it is the only reason I'm in politics." He concedes politics is "very fascinating and I might get the bug yet."

He was approached to enter the Criminal Clerk's race after Carter's feud last spring with other department heads in the courthouse.



John B. Dunkle

A native of West Palm Beach, he comes from a pioneer family. His grandfather, E.M. Brelsford, was one of the original settlers (back in 1883) and the first postmaster. He suggested the name Palm Beach instead of Palm City, which had originally been sent up in the charter.

Dunkle's father was one of West Palm's early mayors, from 1920-21. "But he wasn't in politics. He was appointed to the job and never ran for office," Dunkle explains.

The blue-eyed incoming court clerk was a tennis pro for seven years before taking over his late father's investment business two years ago.

He attended Bucknell University in Lewisburg, Pa., and is a 1945 graduate of Palm Beach High, where he lettered in football, tennis and swimming. In college he took engineering and business courses. He served one year in Korea in the Army.

Married to the former May Patricia Coyne, he is the father of three sons and is a member of the Pioneers Assn., Jaycees, Young Democrats of Palm Beach County, and the Holy Trinity Episcopal Church.

He will be sworn into office with ceremonies at 9:15 a.m. today in Criminal Court.

Reward Out for Hoaxers

Herald Bureau

WEST PALM BEACH — The City Commission Monday voted to offer a $500 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the persons responsible for two recent bomb hoaxes.

At the same time the board voiced approval of training for a police or fire official in the disarming of bombs.

The two bomb hoaxes which prompted the action came by phone to offices of local news media.

The first caller reported a bomb had been planted at Temple Israel on N. Flagler Dr. The second, a few days later, said a bomb had been set to go off at Howard Park Recreation Center.

At the Temple police found a dummy bomb made of railroad flares. It was at that time city officials realized they have no personnel trained in disarming a bomb or explosive device.

Police Capt. John Alge told the board a request for approval to send an officer to New York for training would be made soon.

Mayor Horace S. Miller asked that the reward be offered. "It's well worth $500 to stop all the trouble the bomb scares cause," he said.

Clean Sweep at Boynton

New Mayor Fires All City Employes

BOYNTON BEACH — James J. Mahoney took up the mayor's gavel Monday and promptly fired every appointed city employe. It was a startling move that more than made good the campaign promise of Mahoney supporters to "clean out" city hall.

Among those summarily discharged were City Attorney Robert Griffith, Police Chief A. C. Carver, City Clerk Dorothy Williams and Superintendent of Public Works Zell Taylor.

Mahoney, starting his second year as a commissioner, initated his clean sweep by announcing, "All appointive city positions are now vacated."

With the backing of newly elected commissioners J. B. Baughman and Walter Madsen — who ran in November on a platform supporting Mahoney — the new mayor held the whip hand.

Commissioners Harvey Oyer and Martin Durkin fought the new city commission majority every inch of the way, claiming, "It was a move to ram political appointments down the people's throats."

Mahoney and his lieutenants defeated Durkin's motion to table all appointments until the Commission had time to get an opinion on whether the new appointments would be legal.

All of the officials fired were under civil service. Durkin charged Mahoney was "asking for court action and legal expenses for the city."

Ronald Fuda was named city attorney. Appointed police chief was Raymond Senkpiel. New city clerk is Teresa Padgett, who currently is serving as tax collector.

Griffith, Carver and Williams all had more than ten years in office.

Rent Raise On Casino Blocked

Herald Bureau

LAKE WORTH — Tourist leaders with a cry that the City of Lake Worth would "kill the goose that laid the golden egg" Monday night staved off City Commission action to raise dance rentals at the city's oceanfront casino.

With only three commissioners present, the action on a resolution laying down regulations for the use of city facilities was put off for one week.

Among other things, the resolution would have raised the casino nightly rent from $30 to $60, including $10 for police protection.

Tourist club leaders claimed their organizations could not afford the higher rental.

Talbot Gets Mayor Job, Not Warren

Herald Bureau

DELRAY BEACH — Rejecting tradition, the City Commission Monday elected George Talbot mayor.

George Warren, who got the most votes in the November balloting and who by custom would have automatically been named mayor, was passed over. Warren made it clear he didn't like it.

"This thing was worked out," said Warren, "by three commissioners, despite, I think, the wishes of the people. Because of my experience and my willingness to serve, I think I should have gotten the job."

When it came time for him to vote on Talbot's nomination, Warren said, "I don't have any malice, and I want to work with these gentlemen during the coming year but I am going to hold out and vote no."

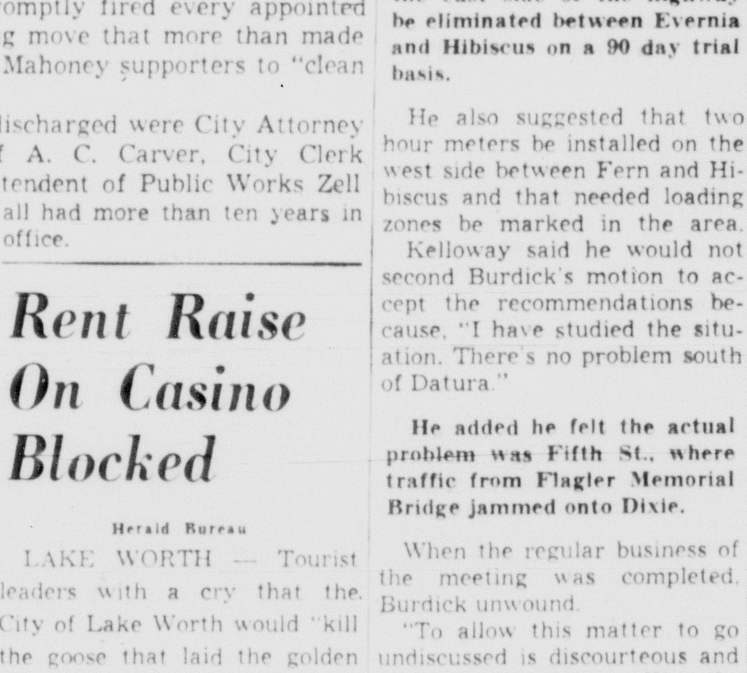
Talbot is serving the second year of his term. Warren, who was mayor in 1957, was reelected for a second two-year term.

There was no shake up in the other top municipal positions. Fred McNeece was unamiously re-elected vice mayor. Re-appointed were City Manager William Lawson, Judge John Williams and Attorney Harry Newett.

119 Counted, Or Is It 120?

Birds Flock Out for Census

By HELEN Van Hoy SMITH
Herald Staff Writer



WE'LL HAVE TO FLY OVER AND HELP!
Miami He GET DRESSED, KIDS!

WEST PALM BEACH — So — Even the birds read The Herald. A recent story from here told of the annual bird court to be held by the Audubon Society of the Everglades. The hope was expressed that this year's count would exceed that of last year, when 101 species were tabulated. A banner headline read, "Fly Up and Be Counted, Birds."

That got results.

The birds rallied 'round. They rahlly did, as Katherine Hepburn would say. There were reports that flocks were seen together on the lower branches of trees adjusting their spectacles and reading the paper. The water birds took the paper up on dry land.

All agreed to do what they could to make the count a success. "We just can't let those counters down," screamed the scarlet throated loon. And so the word was winged around.

Result was that this year 119 or 120 birds were tabulated. One is disputed. These included the said loon, an odd fellow whose scarlet throat swells when he would a wooing go — in a loony moment.

There were also some blue winged teals; great horned owls; a frigate or man o'war bird, an enormous creature with a wingspread of seven or eight feet; many sparrows including the grasshopper sparrow, distinguished by a short tail, flat head, and dingy breast; least terns, smallest of the water birds, and horned grebes — water bird about the size of a coot if you happen to know the size of a coot.

Disputed is a tiny little wren, the sort that is partial to politics and practically never gets south of Tallahassee. But an Auduboner insists it was seen.

Burdick Blasts Board

Dixie Parking Plan Ignored

By PETE WEITZEL
WPB Bureau

WEST PALM BEACH — City Commissioner Sylvan Burdick Monday unleashed a new tirade at his fellow board members over the oft-debated issue of parking along South Dixie Hwy.

Burdick's blast came at the end of one of the shortest Commission meetings on record and after his motion to accept the recommendations of City Manager James Mott on the parking question died for lack of a second.

The glib-tongued commissioner excepted only Commissioner L. W. Kelloway from his remarks.

Mott, after a survey of the traffic situation on S. Dixie between Datura and Hibiscus Sts., recommended parking on the east side of the highway be eliminated between Evernia and Hibiscus on a 90 day trial basis.

He also suggested that two hour meters be installed on the west side between Fern and Hibiscus and that needed loading zones be marked in the area.

Kelloway said he would not second Burdick's motion to accept the recommendations because, "I have studied the situation. There's no problem south of Datura."

He added he felt the actual problem was Fifth St., where traffic from Flagler Memorial Bridge jammed onto Dixie.

When the regular business of the meeting was completed, Burdick unwound.

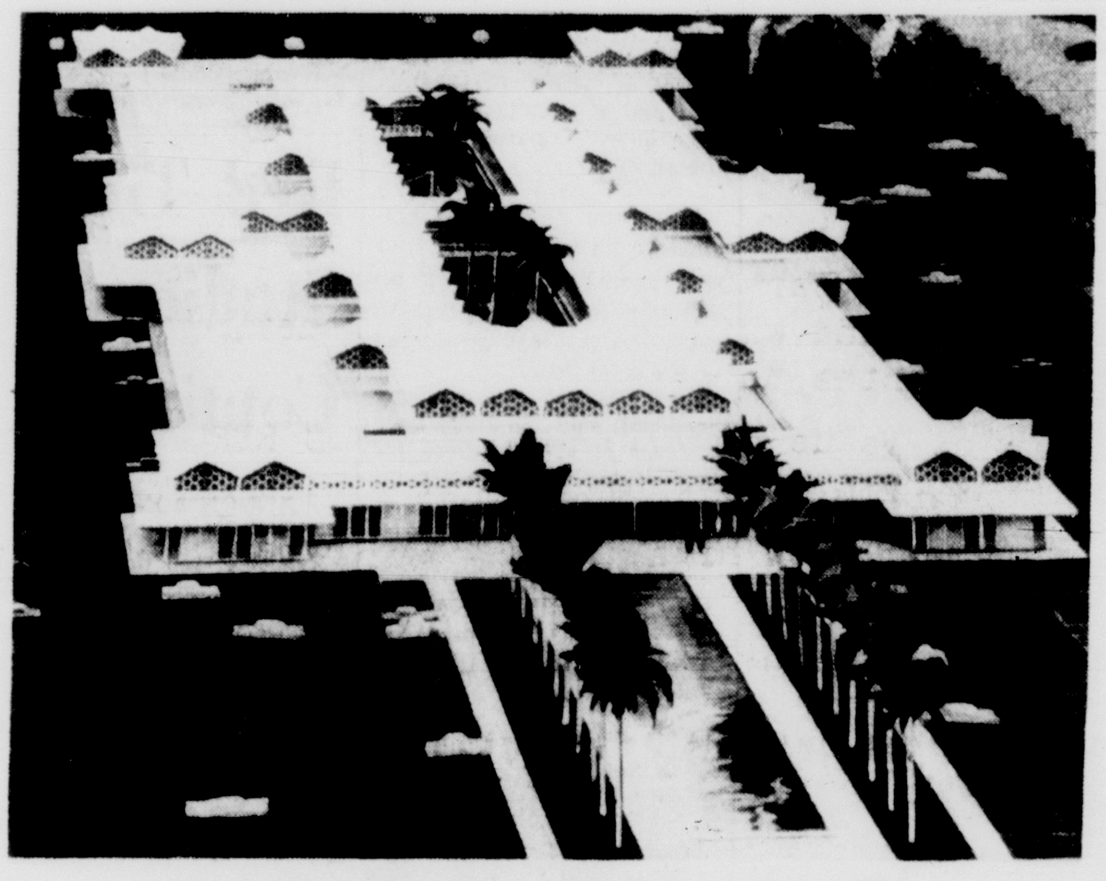
"To allow this matter to go undiscussed is discourteous and foolhardy," he began. "We asked the city manager for a report. He makes his report and the Commission blithely ignores his finding, except Kelloway, who finds to the contrary."

Burdick charged the Commission had previously ignored the reports of a consulting engineer hired "at a cost of $4,500 to $9,000" to make a study, and the recommendations of the Traffic Commission.

"I find it difficult to understand the reluctance to go along with these recommendations.

"If we are getting these reports in an effort to justify our inactivity," he declared, "then we are unwisely and foolishly spending public funds and wasting the time of these people.

PB Readies Bills For Legislature



Plush Shopping Center Will Look Like This

Bazaar International to Offer Wares From Peanuts to Minks

Herald Bureau

RIVIERA BEACH — It's got the whole world in its plans.

The proposed two million dollar Bazaar International Shopping Center — a place where you'll be able to pick up anything from peanuts to minks with equal ease — opened its sales office here Monday and announced its "World of Shops" would be in business by Nov. 15, 1959.

Palm Beach Financier Joseph Mass, principal investor, said Bazaar International, incorporates the newest concept in modern shopping plus every successful merchandising concept "from the ancient market places in the East, the later day plazas in Europe and finally our own modern markets in the Americas."

The sales office which opened Monday will handle space leases for more than 140 shops and offices planned for Bazaar International. The office is located at the market site on U.S. 1, directly across from the Port of Palm Beach.

About 135,000 square feet of floor space will be leased, including space for a wide line of imported merchandise.

Designed by Alfred Browning Parker of Miami, the Bazaar will feature spacious landscape and shops arranged for buyer convenience. Facilities will be available for parking 1,120 cars.

Mass also announced Monday that James T. Coleman will be manager of Bazaar International. He was formerly with Florida Power and Light Co. and is an Air Force veteran and a graduate of the University of Illinois.

Mass described the Bazaar as a "complete one-stop market." He said it will offer everything from groceries and home services to specialty shops of every category.

"The housewife," he added, "will revel in the continental overtones of imported goods from all over the world such as silks from the Far East, leathers from Italy, ceramics from France, and glass from Denmark."

Mass, owner of Stylon Tile Corp. in Boston, is builder of the plush 10 million dollar Palm Beach Towers and is an associate in Westward Development, a new "City Within a City" of 12,000 homes, which will be completed in 1965.

Car Victims In Critical Condition

Herald Bureau

WEST PALM BEACH — Two of five persons injured Sunday in a four car crash that claimed the lives of three others on State Rd. 80 near Loxahatchee were still listed as in critical condition Monday.

They are Robert Wigley and his nine-year old son, Layton, both of whom are under treatment in Good Samaritan Hospital.

Mrs. Dorothy Wigley, 30, and her eight-year-old daughter Sandra, died in St. Mary's Hospital shortly after they were admitted. Another child, Mark, 4, was removed from Good Samaritan Hospital Monday by relatives. He suffered shock.

The Wigley family came here from Mattituck, N.Y. and had been visiting relatives in Belle Glade.

Jozef Kovacs, 22, Belle Glade, driver of the car which the Florida Highway Patrol said caused the accident when it attempted to pass another machine, was killed.

The bodies of the victims were at the Mizell-Simon Faville Funeral Home pending funeral arrangements.

Wigley suffered a punctured right lung, a fractured right leg and contusions, while the boy, Layton, suffered a possible concussion, a fractured jaw and left arm. Three other persons were treated at the hospital but were not admitted.

The crash was the first fatal auto accident of the new year in Palm Beach County, which closed 1958 with a record traffic death toll of 93, among the highest in the state.

4 Grades at St. Mark's

Boynton Beach Gets First Catholic School

Herald Bureau

BOYNTON BEACH — The first Catholic school in Boynton Beach opened its doors for classes Monday.

A 9 a.m. mass offered by Rev. Gerald J. Manning, pastor of St. Mark's Catholic Church, marked the opening of the two-story eight-classroom school.

Staffed by the Sisters of Charity of Convent Station, N. J., St. Mark's School opened with four grades. In September, the school will add grades five and six as well as a kindergarten. Eventually grades seven and eight will be accommodated.

The fire-proof concrete block structure was designed by Thomas J. Madden, Miami architect. Contractor was Woolbright Construction Co. of Delray Beach.

The school is contemporary Mediterannean in design and has a red-tiled roof. Construction began in early August.

In a brief sermon, Rev. Manning thanked parents and parishioners for their support in making the school possible.

Zoning Proposal Tops Slate

By PETER WEITZEL
WPB Bureau

WEST PALM BEACH — County Commissioners agreed Monday on several bills they will seek approval for at the next legislative session.

The bills, including one setting up a lay zoning board to take zoning functions from the County Commission, will be aired first at upcoming legislative clinics.

The County Commission will also seek legislative bills on:

DESIGNATING 12th St. and Okeechobee Rd. as parts of the state primary road system.

SETTING load limits on county roads.

MAKING any future salary increases of elected officials effective at the beginning of the following fiscal year.

Commissioners discussed at length provisions of the bill providing for a lay Zoning Board. They have acted as the Zoning Board since the Zoning ordinance was adopted in May, 1957.

Commissioner Lake Lytal said he opposed the transfer.

Current chairman of the Zoning Board Kenneth Foster replied, "We've done all we can do as a Zoning Board."

He declared that if the Commission countiues to act as a Zoning Board, "It could become a political football."

Lytal retorted, "I've been on the board for many years. I've never felt it would become a political board, zoning or not."

Under terms of the proposed bill, the zoning members would be appointed for five year terms. They would receive a salary of $100 per year plus mileage expenses and could not be elected officials or state, county or municipal employes.

The county attorney would act as attorney for the Zoning Board.

It is also provided that all expenses incurred by the Zoning Board would have to be approved by the County Commission prior to payment.

The Commission also debated the status of the zoning director and agreed he should be appointed by the County Board but subject to the policy directives of the zoning group.

Court Asked To Drop Suit

Herald Bureau

WEST PALM BEACH — A West Palm Beach attorney Monday filed a motion to dismiss a $750,000 damage suit brought against him, his mother, and a stove manufacturer.

William K. Chester claimed he was not a "proper party defendant" in the suit filed by Josephine B. Morton, a Palm Beach woman who claims she received permanent injuries in a stove explosion and flash fire May 23, 1958, at 328 Australian Ave.

Chester asked that the suit against him be dismissed because he was not the owner or manager of the Australian Street apartment house at the time of the alleged incident.

Also named in the suit are Chester's mother, Lora K. Harris, and Hardwick Stove Co.

Military Academy Barracks Burned

Hollywood Cadets Out Of Building

By RICK TUTTLE
Hollywood Bureau Chief

HOLLYWOOD — A general alarm fire, which roared out of control for two hours, did an estimated $150,000 damage to the main barracks at Riverside Military Academy here Monday.

None of the 750 cadets were in the building when smoke was seen pouring from the north wing roof shortly after 3 p.m. They were on the drill field.

A brisk north wind whipped the blaze over the three-story, stucco and tile structure. A 40-foot section of roof was ablaze by the time Hollywood's six fire fighting units arrived.

No one was injured, officials said.

An investigation will get under way today to determine the cause.

Hollywood Fire Chief H. L. Cook said the fire started in a narrow attic, between the roof and the third floor ceiling. The third floor houses cadet sleeping quarters.

Fire fighting equipment from Hallandale, Dania and West Hollywood were called in when Hollywood firemen realized they could not handle the blaze alone.

Col. Engle C. May, commandant of cadets, said he and three cadet guards raced to the third floor after the fire was reported.

Two fire hoses in the hallway would not reach the fire, he said. They were forced out of the building by dense smoke.

Capt. D. L. Dooley, librarian, was asleep on the second floor when the smell of smoke awoke him.

"By the time I got dressed and out the fire engines had arrived," he said.

A firewall midway of the structure was the only thing that saved the entire third floor, and possibly the building, Chief Cook said.

"If it hadn't been for that old firewall, the whole thing would have gone," he said.

As some firemen fought the fire from the roof top, other crews worked beneath the blaze, on the third floor.

"The men on the third floor took terrific punishment," Chief Cook said. Although most of them wore gas masks, they came to windows frequently for fresh air.

The fire burned gaping holes in the roof within minutes, despite tons of water pouring on the flaming timbers.

"This building isn't fire-proof by any means," said Gen. Sandy Beaver, president of the academy since 1913. Monday was the first day of classes here for the term.

Firemen were hindered by the barracks' design, Chief Cook said. The fire spread between the roof and the third floor ceiling and firemen could not strike the source with the powerful streams of water.

The building, which contained 300 dormitory rooms, administrative offices, kitchen and cafeteria, was built in 1924 as the Hollywood Hills Inn.

The academy has been using it for over 25 years.

Gen. Beaver said the school would possibly have to return to its fall and spring quarters at Gainesville, Ga.

"The replacement value is over a million dollars," Gen. Beaver said. "I guess it is worth $700,000. It is insured for $500,000."

While great clouds of smoke rolled across the nearby drill field, cadets continued their marching. Later, under direction of police, they formed a cordon around the academy grounds to keep back the crowd.

Just as the fire was brought under control at 5:15 p.m., another fire broke out in the downtown area, and equipment was called away. Damage at Gwen-Ellen shop, 1933 Hollywood Blvd., was minor, the clothing store manager said.

During World War II the Riverside buildings were used by the Navy as a flexible gunnery school for training of aircraft gun crews.

Fall and spring sessions of Riverside are held in Georgia with the school holding classes in Hollywood in January, February, and March of each year.

Telephone Office Burns

200 Flee From Tampa Fire

TAMPA —(AP)— Nearly 200 office workers fled Monday when fire broke out in a three-story building in downtown Tampa. Four firemen were overcome by smoke while fighting the blaze.

The windowless building is occupied by administrative offices of the General Telephone Co.

Flames shot through the roof of the structure and a strong wind fanned sparks over the downtown area. Heavy black smoke covered an area of several blocks.

As firemen fought the flames in mid-afternoon, District Fire Chief E. E. Leavine said the fire posed no threat to nearby buildings.

Firefighters were withdrawn from the roof of the building when it threatened to collapse. Minutes later flames roared through the roof.

The firemen overcome by smoke were Capt. Tom Beasley, V. K. Ward, R. B. Mertens and E. J. Jaudon. They were quickly revived and returned to duty.

Telephone company employes, who work on the first and second floors, left the building in orderly fashion when the fire was discovered on the third floor.

Carl D. Brorein, company president, said the third floor is "sort of attic," where air conditioning equipment is installed. He said damage would be slight if the fire is confined to the third floor.

He added there would be little interruption of telephone service because the building houses only administrative offices.

Firemen could give no cause for the fire immediately.

Red Tide Studies Continue

By DOM BONAFEDE
Herald Staff Writer

Florida's "red tide"—the unpredictable scourge of microorganisms which sometimes hits the Gulf Coast—has lost much of its threat as a result of research by a University of Miami professor.

A formula devised by the U-M scientist, which combines sea and weather data, makes it possible to forecast conditions which produce the outbreaks.

Explosive expansion of the microscopic water plants colors the water red, kills millions of fish, and fills the air with an irritating scent.

Dr. F. G. Smith, of U-M's International Oceanographic Foundation, said in a recently published national report that the formula can forecast years when the "red tide" will probably occur and years when it is not likely to show up.

Smith, however, told The Herald that the research was not completely finished and that further experimental work was halted because state funds had been exhausted.

He said there were no plans at the present to ask the incoming Legislature for money to push the research.

"During periods when there is no 'red tide,' nobody is interested. But when it appears, everybody wants you to do something," commented the U-M scientist.

He added that that lack of assurance that the work could be continued "makes it difficult to perform long-term research."

He noted that while the work on the "red tide" up to now was encouraging, "we have just broken the surface."

Appearance of the "red tide" may be predicted by the new formula, which promises to save millions for Florida industries.

Rig Runs Off U.S. 27

Two Killed in Crash Of Tractor-Trailer

Herald Bureau

FORT LAUDERDALE — Two persons died on U.S. 27 early Monday when their tractor-trailer swung out of control and was demolished.

The accident occurred about 5:45 a.m. 12 miles north of State Rd. 84.

The highway patrol said the victims, killed instantly, were:

Dale P. Dickerson, 28, 333 Chestnut St., Asheboro N.C., the driver, and Joe M. Boyd, 25, March Hotel, Lexington, N.C., his passenger.

(The Associated Press reported 11 persons killed in Florida traffic accidents over the first weekend of the New Year. Among the victims were Josef Kovacs, 22, of Belle Glade; Mrs. Dorothy H. Wigley, 30, of Mattituck, N.Y., and her daughter, Sandra, 8, all of whom died in a four-car collision near West Palm Beach Sunday.)

Trooper T. J. Keller reported the rig was going south when it ran off the right side of the road and skidded across to the east side.

The tractor and trailer parted, the trailer turning over. The tractor struck a tree. The bodies of both men were found in the cab. The cause of the accident was unknown.

Two Cuban Planes Reported Seized

By Herald Wire Services

DAYTONA BEACH — Two planes flown here from Cuba have been placed under "constructive seizure" by U.S. Customs officers.

Customs agents said they found eight 50 caliber machine guns, some sidearms and ammunition on one of the planes and that this was being taken to Jacksonville Monday.

News Around Florida

Constructive seizure is made when there has been a violation of the law with no intent to break a law, officials said.

Agents said one plane — a bomber — was flown by Capt. Vasquez Soto and First Lt. Jose Hernandez; the other was a private plane flown by Alberto Mayo, who was accompanied by his wife. Agents said the four fled Thursday because of the revolution.

Customs agents said the four would be permitted to remain in the U.S. under immigration regulations.

Tourists Land

KEY WEST — The last big boatload of American tourists from strife-torn Cuba landed here Monday after spending the night anchored in a ship off the storm-tossed coast.

The SS City of Havana, with 265 passengers, was originally scheduled to dock here Sunday night.

The tourists appeared to be in good spirits after getting their first solid meal in several days aboard the ship Sunday.

Included among the passengers were Felipe de Vosjoli of the French Embassy in Washington and his wife.

Lawyer on Staff

Collins said Peeples, formerly a member of Ausley, Ausley and McMullen, began work Jan. 1 at a salary of $500 a month.

Peeples, 28, was campus manager at the University of Florida of the 1956 Collins for Governor campaign, as well as manager of a campaign speakers bureau for the north-central part of the state.

'Raise Lakes'

TALLAHASSEE — The State Department of Water Resources recommended Monday that the level of Lake Apopka, big sports fishing resort in Orange and Lake Counties, be raised six inches.

A six inch raise in the operating level of Lake Griffin in Lake County also was recommended.

However, Director John Wakefield of the state agency advised water management authorities in the Oklawaha River basin that raising levels of the lakes would require that the capacities of outlets and connecting canals be increased.

Plane Ditched

KEY LARGO — Two Miami pilots escaped unhurt Monday when they belly-landed their twin-engined private plane in 18 inches of water a quarter-mile off Key Largo.

Both were picked up by a Coast Guard helicopter within minutes after the ditching.

The fliers, Jose Bosch and T. J. Kennedy, were returned to Miami. The Coast Guard said the plane's point of origin and destination were not immediately known.

Autopsy Set

JACKSONVILLE — An autopsy was planned Monday to determine if Earl Armstrong, 33, Brunswick, Ga., Negro crewman on a shrimp boat, drowned when he attempted to swim ashore from the disabled vessel.

The Shrimper Morning Star had clutch trouble and drifted onto a sand bar at the entrance to Nassau Sound, north of Jacksonville, Friday. When no help came by Saturday, said Capt. Earl White, Armstrong donned a life jacket and set out for shore.
